THE PRINTERS' PICNIC.

Don't forget the Printers' Picnic, which takes place on Civic Holiday, to Idyl Wyld. Good baseball game, Mark St. Athletic Club vs. the local Printers. Also a good programme of sports. Secure your tickets as early as possible and avoid the rush at the boats, for sale by all printers.

The prizes which are valued at over one hundred dollars will be on exhibition in J. C. T. Lang's window on George street, on Friday and Saturday.

GALLANT MEN!

More Attacks on Laws That Help Women.

Following the gallant and heroic attack of a few miserly profitmongers upon the women's eight-hour law in California, notice has been given by some of the women fighters in Ohio and Missouri that they intend to test the laws enacted in these states recently establishing a maximum of 54 hours per week for female labor.

Although the best medical authorities in the world agree that modern industrial conditions are shattering the health and ruining the lives of countless thousands of the weaker sex and that shorter hours of toil are imperative as a protection to posterity and although I notice that these same greedy employers, who are everlastingly demanding that workingmen obey the laws, studiously avoid placing their own women and children on the treadmill to grind out profits, they are determined that the women and children of the working class shall not escape with an extra hour or two of freedom, so they are going to fight in the courts to quash this "special privilege."

Dog's Eye Grafted on Man's.

That a person totally blind from ophthalmia, even from birth, can be made to see by having a portion of a dog's eye grafted on his own was the startling communication made by Dr. Borsch, an American oculist, in a paper read before the meeting of the French Ophthalmological Society recently.

Dr. Borsch explained that as a result of blindness from ophthalmia, as also from some other causes, the cornea, which is the transparent membrane in front of the eye, becomes opaque, and in such a case the only chance of restoring sight is to replace the defective cornea by a healthy one.

To perform this feat Dr. Borsch first operates on a dog and lays back from its eye the conjunctiva or skin of the eyeball surrounding the cornea. He removes a portion or the latter and places it aside in blood serum. He then performs the same operation on the patient's eye, removing part of the front of the eye of the same size as the cornea taken from the animal.

The dog's cornea is now placed in position on the human eye and secured with stitches of the finest possible silk, the surrounding skin, which had been laid back, being brought into place over the edge of the cornea and also sewn.

The new graft unites with the eye in a few days, aided by a temporary glass cover to keep it in shape and injections of serum to stimulate vitality.

MORE LABOR MEN IN NEXT PARLIAMENT.

Attraction of $2000 Per Annum in Great in Great Britain.

An interesting phase of the British government's proposal to pay salaries to members of parliament in the future at the rate of $2000 per annum is the lamentations of the privileged classes. They say that with salaries about four times greater than the wages they can earn in the shops, factories and mines dangling before their eyes as prizes the labor persons will struggle about ten times harder to be elected to the house of commons.

As the labor party members are all radicals or socialists, the aristocrats, landlords and money lords are complaining that their inherited "rights" will be seriously menaced and that evil days are descending upon their houses. J. Keir Hardie, the socialist leader of the labor party, very politely agrees with the privileged personages for once in his lifetime. Hardie says the number of labor men in the next parliament will be at least doubled and progressive legislation will be put through.

Won the Bet.

They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveller said:—

"Any man, if he has the will-power, can endure pain or fatigue: I know I can."

There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied: —

"I'll wager a dinner you can't hold your foot — boot on — in a bucket of hot water as long as I can."

The offer was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each contestant. Soon the young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water.

"What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket.

"Cork, sir — cork!" was the cool answer, and the other left that he had indeed lost.

Darwin Caught On.

When Charles Darwin was visiting the country house of a friend the two boys of the family thought they would play a joke on the scientist. So they caught a butterfly, a grasshopper a beetle and a centipede, and out of these creatures they made a strange composite insect. They took the centipede's body, the butterfly's wings, the grasshopper's legs and the beetle's head and they glued them together carefully. Then, with their new bug in a box, they knocked at Darwin's door.

"We caught this bug in a field," they said. "Can you tell us what kind of a bug it is, Mr. Darwin?"

Darwin looked at the bug and then he looked at the boys. He smiled slightly.

"Did you notice whether it hummed when you caught it, boys?" he asked.

"Yes," they answered, nudging one another.

"Then," said Darwin, "it is a humbug."

Who May Register.

Persons who are or will be absent from the city, or who are unable through sickness, to attend for registration, may be registered through someone appearing on his behalf. A student cannot register in the city where he is attending school or college, if he is on the voters' list for his home, or could be put on there. If an applicant is refused registration, he may, within 24 hours, serve the registrar with a notice of appeal. If an applicant is wrongly registered, a notice of appeal may, within 24 hours, be served on the applicant and also on the registrar.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognise his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rue along the streams that flow from these ridges: the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and Kishm and founded colonels at Bander Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir. Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities and reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a reblon of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He soaks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

The Best Medium for Reaching Invsters in Eastern Ontario

VOLXXXIV NO. 185 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY AUGUST 12 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31,620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Couldn't Get the Scotchman.

There was an aged Scotchman who by native shrewdness made a fortune, and he did it without the slightest bit of education. One day he and an acquaintance were talking when the latter said to old Duncan: "Say, Duncan, you don't know nough to go in when it rains. Why you can't even spell bird." "B-u-r-d," said Duncan. "I tell you you dont know anything. Why, if you had to spell to make a living you'd have been dead years ago. I'll bet you a hundred you can't spell bird." "I'll tak' ye," quickly replied Duncan. After the money was put up Duncan said "B-i-r-d." "That ain't the way you spelled it the first time." "I wasna bettin' then."

Neglecting His Business.

A country doctor was recently called upon to visit a patient some distance away. Driving to where the invalid tied his horse to a tree and started to walk across the field. It happened that work was in progress on a new well, of which the doctor knew nothing until he found himself sinking into the earth. He fell just far enough to be unable to get out of the hole unassisted, and lustily yelled for help. When he was finally pulled up, the hired man remarked to him:—

"I say, doc, you had no business down there."

"No, I don't think I had," replied the doctor.

"Don't you know," continued the hired man, "you ought to leave the well alone and take care of the sick?"

Not Worth Stopping For.

A party of four gentlemen were driving a motor-car along the road leading from Kilkenny to Clonmel. Seeing a fine stretch of level road in front the car was put at full speed, and they raced along for nearly four miles.

Presently speed was slackened, and the driver turned round to see how his two friends at the back had enjoyed the run. A look of scared astonishment overspread his countenance when he found that only one gentleman was seated there.

"Where's Jack?" he gasped, stopping the car.

"Jack?" replied the other, carelessly. "He blew off at the first milestone."

Fathers Work Too Long.

It is a mistake for fathers to toil all their lives in order that their children may escape toil all theirs. Suppose the calculation correct, and permanent idleness secured for the next generation, what evidence is there that the boys and girls will be happier and better for it? The boys will be exposed to the devices of "sharks," and the girls to those of fortune hunters. Leave something for them also to do.

Men Like Stagnant Ponds.

The great ocean is in a constant state of evaporation. It gives back what it receives, and sends up its waters in mists to gather into clouds, and so there is rain on the field and storm on the mountains, and greenness and beauty everywhere. But there are many men who do not believe in evaporation. They get all they can and keep all they get, and so are not fertilisers, but only stagnant miasmatic ponds.

A Heavy Smoke

The editor of a certain periodical was rash enough to remove a few lines from a poem which he had accepted, whereupon the author wrote him a letter which wound up thus—"And now, O slaughterer, vivisector, mangler, maimer, destroyer, disfigurer, deformer, detractor, crippler mutilator, good-bye! Put this in your pipe and smoke it!"

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last-year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

STRONGER THAN MEAT

A JUDGE'S OPINION OF GRAPE-NUTS.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past 5 years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare.

"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavour has become an indispensable necessity in my family's every-day life.

"It has proved to be the most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully.

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of houses this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills, and kept the doctor's bills small. To-day Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies—scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4398 — From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenaway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. Early Church Wedding.

This morning at 6.45 a very interesting event took place at the George street Methodist church, when Mr. Raymond Best, of the Best Hardware Company, was united in marriage to Miss Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chowen, Stewart street. The Rev. J. G. Brown officiated, and Miss Clarry played the wedding march. The young couple were unattended. After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple left on the 7.40 C.P.R. for Western points.

Campaign Opens.

What will really be the first gun in the West Peterborough campaign, so far as the Liberals are concerned, will be fired on Monday evening when Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., will address a public meeting at Zion Hall, 7th concession of Smith, on Monday evening. He will also speak at the Temperance Hall, 4th line of Smith, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Barnham also has arranged a number of meetings in various parts of the riding.

The Stoney Lake Honored.

The steamer Stoney Lake was the first boat to pass over the Lift Lock by electric light. The same craft carried the Minister of Railways and party at the opening of the lock three years ago, being the first boat to lock through. It likewise had a similar honor on the opening of the Kirkfield lift lock two years ago.

A Large Mouthful.

A lunge weighing about 7 pounds in trying to swallow a three pound bass, in the river at Omemee the other day, found it had undertaken too great a proposition, and so was strangled in the pond. Mr. Jack Murphy easily captured it and soon found he had a lucky catch by having a live bass for dessert. The local fishing sports are having fine success this year.

All Locks to be Lighted.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, the capable Superintendent of the Trent Canal, informed The Times that the Department intends to have all the locks on the waterway, between Peterborough and Lakefield, provided with electric light. This will not only be of great service to navigators, but will have a decidedly pretty effect. To Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., lies the credit of securing the order to have this done.

Our Drinking Water.

Lindsay, like Peterborough secures its drinking water from the river and fearing the pollution of the stream, has sent samples to Toronto for examination. The result is that the water was found to be impure and unsafe to drink. It would be well for our health officials to exercise the same watchfulness, just now, on account of the prevalence of typhoid fever at Lakefield and other places on the waterway from which we obtain our water.

CIVIC HOLIDAY TRIP.

Take in the Regatta at Stoney Lake and the trip with Court Peterborough, C. O. F. Steamer Empress from Wolfe St. Wharf, at 8 a.m., over the Lift Lock and up the river route. No train to bother with. Boat calls at the wharf, East City, and at Warsaw Road Bridge. Return fares:— Adults 60c, children 30c. All come.

Visiting Day.

August 12th will be the Boy Scouts visiting day.

All those taking advantage of this day to visit the Boy Scouts at Bass Rock, Chemong, will see something of the Scout movement and its benefits as the boys are giving a display of scout work and drill under the direction of efficient scout master, W. J. Miller.

Citizens, see this for yourselves, so as to judge if it would not be of great benefit to your boy or the boys of Peterborough.

One Interested in Movement.

A Popular Outing.

The Treasures Seekers Adult Bible Class of St. James' Church are holding an outing to Chemong Park by auto-bus on Civic Holiday, the committee that have this outing in hand are the Social committee and they are doing their best to make the trip an enjoyable one. They have arranged for a large number of sports, for the children and the older ones, and they intend taking along some ice cream to have for sale amongst the class. Everyone bring along their baskets. The busses will leave the church at 8 o'clock, and continue running until all are out at the Park. Arrangements have been made to have all the baskets taken by one load. Mr. Kitney and Mr. Kent have offered to take them all out, and an enjoyable trip is assured.

PUBLIC OPINION

they try to deduce from that fact that therefore it would be a good thing to secure it in 1911. But what might have been beneficial to a country forty years ago is no evidence that it would be good for it to-day.

Forty years ago Canada was a sparsely settled country, and communication between east and west was very difficult, while even the Atlantic service was meagre and expensive. There were no large Canadian industries, and consequently the home market was very limited. It is little wonder that under these conditions at that time the Canadian farmers looked to the opening of the American market with great favor. At the time of the abrogation of the old reciprocity treaty in 1866, the Canadian farmers had become more or less dependent on the American trade, and the hope of the diplomats to the south was that by the abrogation of the treaty the Canadian people would in their extremity be forced into annexation. It is undoubtedly true that for some years after the abrogation of this treaty there was considerable annexation sentiment in this country and this was only counteracted by the influence of the strong leaders who at that period took charge of the affairs of the Dominion. These men bent every energy they could command to carry through the Confederation of the Canadian provinces, and through their success in this direction the abrogation of the old reciprocity treaty proved a blessing in disguise, not only to Canada, but to the British Empire.

The story of the old reciprocity treaty is full of warning to Canada at this time. Take, for example, the effect of the treaty on the business in and out of the port of Montreal. The carrying trade of the St. Lawrence in 1854 was valued at $33,633,126. In the very next year, the first year of the treaty, that trade dropped to $15 208,600, a decline of far more than 50 per cent. in a single year. The ship's tonnage going to sea from Montreal and Quebec decreased from 1,487,097 tons to 870,794 tons, or almost one-half, and the value of exports declined from $42,000,000 to $28,000,000. On the Canadian canals in the first year of the treaty, the tolls fell off by 32 per cent. Now, if that was the effect of the treaty on Canadian ports fifty years ago, what would be the effect on our exporting centres and seaports to-day? Undoubtedly the Atlantic ports of the United States would become the great ports of the Dominion, and the ports of Montreal, St. John and Halifax would be correspondingly ruined.

The reciprocity pact would be a serious menace to the national existence of the Dominion and to all that has been accomplished by Confederation. If the reciprocity deal is suffered to become law, the work of Confederation will, sooner or later, be completely undone. That the people of Canada thoroughly understand the situation, and will take care that President Taft and the scheming politicians of the American Republic are outwitted in their attempt to enlarge the boundaries of the United States, is the one redeeming feature of the crisis that faces Canada at the present time.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I am, &c.

Canadian.

A HUSBAND THAT DRINKS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Could you advise the best way to stop those thousands of married men from drinking all the money they earn? It is morning, noon and night with my husband. He hardly ever draws a sober breath. Could there be a law that would limit them to one drink a day? Could there not be something done to help the poor wives and families that need the money, or would it not be better to have the hell traps closed at a quarter to six at night?

Wife and Mother.

Reply—The law provides a remedy: Have your husband put on the prohibited list. All that is necessary to do this is to call on Mr. Joseph Stewart, License Inspector, and sign a document setting forth the facts that your husband is addicted to drink. This document is kept by the Inspector, who is under a penalty of $50 not to disclose the name of the party making the requisition. The Inspector then, over his own signature, posts a notice in all the hotels of the license district. The penalty for violation of the law is very severe. The blacklister, as he is called, is usually fined $10 for the first offence, and the party who sold the liquor is also subject to a heavy fine and is liable to have his license cancelled. A requisition may be made by wife, father, mother, sister, brother or child, over 21 years of age.—Ed. Times.

THE MUCK RAKE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Examiner in Saturday's issue wielded the mud rake well, and dragged up a lot of rubbish about the family history of Henri Bourassa. It reminded me of the story told of Samuel Johnston who, when proposing to the widow, told her he had a number of relatives transported and imprisoned and a greater number hanged. She answered, "I do not know that I have any relatives hanged but I do know that I have a great many who ought to be."

Conservative.

THE PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see The Times is devoting some attention to the closing of the above bridge, and I must say that I am surprised that objection should be taken to the expenditure for so worthy an object. The closing of this bridge means the cutting off from Peterborough City of a large trade. I do not think that you merchants would stand for this.

Our own county council will hardly care to assume responsibility in regard to the bridge, and I also think that Peterborough county will do much. It therefore remains with the city to make the first move, which I hope they will do as soon as possible,

SOWING HIS WILD OATS

REAPING A HARVEST OF SORROW

How many young men can look back on their early life and regret their misdeeds. "Sowing their wild oats" in various ways. Excesses, violation of nature's laws, "wine, women and song"—all have their victims. You have reformed but what about the seed you have sown—what about the harvest? Don't trust to luck. If you are at present within the clutches of any secret habit which is sapping your life by degrees; if you are suffering from the results of past indiscretions; if your blood has been tainted from any private disease and you dare not marry; if you are married and live in dread of symptoms breaking out and exposing your past; if you are suffering as the result of a misspent life—DRS. K. & K. ARE YOUR REFUGE. Lay your case before them confidentially and they will tell you honestly if you are curable.

VOL XXXIV NO 186 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY AUGUST 14 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

One of the most exciting runaways that has occurred in Peterborough in a long time took place on Saturday afternoon, by which several persons were painfully injured. It appears that Mr. Jones, a farmer residing in Cavan, was in the city, accompanied by Mrs. Jones and three of their family. He drove a spirited pair of horses, and while these were standing in front of the creamery they took fright at a passing auto. Mr. Jones sprang for the rig when the horses began to shy, and caught them by their heads, but they somehow got away and dashed down the street at a furious rate. From what a Times' reporter could gather from those who witnessed the accident, it appears that the neckyoke broke and the tongue of the carriage fell down. This caught against something on the road and the rig was overturned. Mrs. Jones received the greatest injury, being badly cut about the face, and bruised on the body. The spill took place in front of Dr. Greer's, on Aylmer street, and the injured were taken into the surgery. One of the girls had a broken arm and the others escaped with only a few bruises. A young man who saw the accident bravely tried to climb into the rig from the rear and get the reins, but was thrown out when the rig upset, receiving some scratches on neck and side of the face.

After Dr. Greer, who fortunately was in his office at the time, dressed the wounds of the injured, Mrs. Graham was sent to Nicholls Hospital, and the others proceeded home, after having their rig and harness repaired. Mrs. Jones yesterday was doing nicely, no serious results being apprehended.

ANGLICAN ARCHBISHOP ISSUES PRAYERS FOR ELECTION OF UPRIGHT MEN

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The Anglican archbishop of Ottawa has issued the following prayer to be said in all the churches of the diocese of Ottawa during the period for the election of members of parliament:

"Most gracious God, we humbly beseech Thee, as for this Dominion of Canada in general, so especially for all her people, who are at this time engaged in the election of true and upright and faithful men to represent them in parliament.

"Save up from all ignorance, error pride and passion, and lead us all to the exercise of a sound judgment and the maintenance of true principles, so that justice and righteousness and honesty may everywhere prevail amongst us, to Thy honor and glory, and our own everlasting profit, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

CRIMMINALS SURROUNDED

Have Escaped Prisoner and Brother Who Helped Him Pinned in a Deep Wood.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 12.—Two hundred penitentiary guards, peace officers and citizens are surrounding a deep wood near Viola, Ia., where two desperadoes are hiding. The men are Charles Smith, a convict, and his brother a former convict, who helped Charles escape from Guard William Humaker near the State Penitentiary, seriously wounding the guard.

The prisoner was in a quarry near Anamosa, when an order came to bring him to meet a visitor. Humaker started with the convict. When about halfway to the prison, the convict's brother stepped from behind a boulder and ordered the guard to throw up his hands or be shot.

Humaker drew his revolver, as the desperado fired, but he was wounded gagged and tied by the brothers to a tree in the woods nearby while the two escaped in a buggy. Humaker managed to call for help. The bullet has been located in his liver, but he has a chance to live.

Lost Their Fish.

A couple of local disciples of Izaak Walton went up the canal on a fishing jaunt on Saturday and succeeded in catching a nice string of bass. They were on foot and fished from the piers and bank of the waterway. A man approached in a canoe and the two who were better at catching fish than they were at managing a canoe asked to be taken across the stream. They accordingly placed their fish in the boat and proceeded to get in themselves, when by some means the canoe was upset and all three were struggling in the water. They finally succeeded in getting ashore, but minus their fish, which had disappeared down stream.

PRIEST SHOT FOR REVENGE

School Teacher, Whome He Was About to Dismiss Becomes a Murderer.

Paris, Aug. 12.—A Paris priest, the Abbe Henri Garnier, cure of the Church of Sainte Genevieve des Grandes Carrieres, in the Montmartre quarter, was murdered yesterday by a schoolmaster named Joseph Levesques. Levesques has been for three years the teacher of the school dependent on the Church of Ste. Genevieve, but a few days ago he was informed by Abbe Garnier that he was to be dismissed at the end of the term owing to his irratibility and violent character.

Yesterday Levesques called at the vicarage, and was shown into the Abbe's office. After a few minutes' conversation the teacher drew a revolver and fired three times. The murderer on being arrested said he much regretted his act. He said that on his expressing adesire to know the real reasons for his dismissal the abbe insulted him, whereupon he lost control of himself and fired.

Mr. Blewett Leaves To-morrow.

His many friends in Peterborough will sincerely regret his departure and will wish him all kinds of good luck in his new home. The Times joins in wishing him every success.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—In its review of my address to the electors The Examiner alleges that the State Pension system for the old, which I advocate, is in vogue in the Government Annuities. This, of course, is not correct. Annuities are paid for or "bought" by those who enjoy them, whereas state pensions are paid out of a fund established by the state, and each person who arrives at the age of 65 years is entitled to one. The system applies to the poor, and removes from those who have not been able to lay by enough to live upon in their old age the horrible bogey of starvation, or what is to many, the same thing, viz.: charity. The plan has been tried in Germany and Britain and found to be a perfect Godsend. Instead of knocking it, it should be hailed as a piece of "constructive statesmanship" of the truest kind.

J. H. Burnham.

ARE PROTESTANTS IN EARNEST?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Now that Parliament has been dissolved, and an opportunity presents itself for the electors to declare themselves, it is to be hoped that the recent ecclesiastical outrages brought to light by the operation of the Ne Temere decree will not be lost sight of.

Resolutions, letters and editorials have been published, thick as the leaves of autumn, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but not a single reference has been made by either political party to this most important subject, which undermines the social and family life of our people.

The coming battle will be fought on party issues, but the most important of all questions will be relegated to oblivion; and as soon as the elections are over, no matter which party is in power, Rome will carry off the spoils, just as heretofore.

Are we in earnest? Is the English press in earnest? Are the governing bodies of the different Protestant churches in earnest? If so, let them "show their faith by their works, or hereafter forever hold their peace."

I have no desire to stir up religious strife, and under ordinary circumstances would like to see the elections run on the relative merits of each party; but to my mind the sacredness of the marriage tie, surmounts all other issues now before the people.

If in order to place the marriage law under the control of the Dominion Parliament the British North America Act has to be amended, then in Heaven's name let it be amended. Send men to Parliament who will have it amended.

Surely there are thousands in this Dominion who have not yet bowed the knee to Baal. Who will be the man to lead them and make this an issue?

Wm. Galbraith.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Will The Times tell the public, farmers particularly, why President Taft called an extra session of Congress in the hottest of weather, and at hundreds of thousands of dollars expense to his country?

Was it because he loved Canada and its farmers so much he wanted them to get rich at the expense of the farmers of the U. S.?

How, if farmers are to get more for their products under reciprocity, are the rest of the people going to have cheaper food, &c. By what rule can that be worked?

What advantage is it going to be to the farmer to sell his wheat in the U. S., having it ground into flour in the mills at Minneapolis and other large milling centres in the U. S. and then shipped back to Canada, when he will only get the same price for his wheat as the American farmer does? Wheat there is no higher than here.

If Reciprocity is passed will the skilled mechanic get more wages than he does now?

Will property advance in price under Reciprocity?

Will Americans build more factories here and employ more hands?

Will our factories run overtime?

Will more English capital be poured into Canada?

Hoping Mr. Editor you will answer these few questions in your paper

I remain,

One Who Would Like to Know.

BLOODLESS REVOLUTION MAKES RADICAL CHANGE IN BRITISH CONSTITUTION

THE GREAT TWO YEAR FIGHT WHICH BEGAN OVER LLOYD-GEORGE'S FAMOUS BUDGET IN 1909.

Culminates on Legislation Which Makes the British Parliament More Democratic and Representative Than Ever.

London, Aug. 12.—(Special)—The adoption of the veto bill by the house of lords, by the narrow majority of seventeen has ended the epoch-marking constitutional struggle which began two years ago, when the upper house rejected the revolutionary Lloyd-George Budget. For seventy days that financial measure was fought through the house of commons, and the manner of its going was hard, extremely hard. In three weeks the lords had entirely disposed of the result of these months of labor on the part of the commons. Lord Lansdowne, leader of the Unionist peers moved "that this house is not justified in giving its consent to this bill until it has been submitted to the judgement of the country." This motion passed the house of lords by 350 votes to 75 on the 30th November, 1909.

Mr. Asquith acted promptly. Two days later he moved a resolution of protest in the commons and announced that the government intended to ask his Majesty to dissolve parliament as early as possible. The royal proclamation was issued on January 10th, 1910, and polling began on the 14th of the month.

On the part of the Liberals, led by Premier Asquith, the election was fought on two main issues—the Lloyd George Budget and the right of the lords to veto this or any other financial measure put through by the commons.

Mr. Asquith put the case of his party plainly in the first speech of the campaign when he said that the question of the authority of the election was the great point to be decided.

A BUMPER CROP OF APPLES FORECASTED

Detroit, Aug. 12.—According to the official forecast of the International Apple Shippers' Association, which closed its annual convention here yesterday, Canada and the United States will have a bumper apple crop this year, exceeding last year's crop by at least 35 per cent., or 5,500,000 barrels.

The eastern section of Canada shows an increase of at least 100 per cent. The crop is reported to be generally good quality.

The 1912 convention will be held in Chicago.

MINISTERS LEAVE THEIR OFFICES

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The Cabinet has practically separated for the election campaign, though the Premier will not leave here until Monday, when he goes to Toronto, en route for Simcoe.

Hon. L. P. Brodeur is preparing to leave his office, and will step out so soon as his appointment as a Justice of the Supreme Court is approved by the Governor-General.

No date has yet been fixed for the swearing of Dr. H. S. Beland as a member of the Privy Council, but it will probably take place next week at Quebec or Murray Bay, and thus he will participate in the big Laurier meeting at Quebec on the 18th as a Minister.

Sir Allan Aylesworth will continue to act as Minister of Justice, pending the selection of his successor, which may not be until after the elections, though the Premier may make an announcement on the subject at Simcoe on Tuesday next.

There is a possibility that registrations will be ordered in other Ontarian towns whose population has been found by the census to exceed 9,000.

YOUNG MAN SHOT WOMAN

Resentful Young Man Shot Sweetheart and Himself—Girl Will Recover.

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 12.—Because she would not marry him, August McDonald, 21 years of age, a machinist of the city, shot Ethel Hunt, a young woman of his own age, who is employed in the city, three times last night, and then sent two bullets through his own head. He died soon after the shooting, but the young woman is expected to recover. Miss Hunt rejected McDonald's attentions because he drank and smoked cigarettes.

OFFERED THE RECTORSHIP OF SANTA FE.

Rev. Charles Carpenter of St. John's Receives a Call to a Very Important American Living.

Rev. Charles Carpenter of St. John's Church, has been offered the rectorship of Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico. Santa Fe is a famous health resort, specially popular with wealthy Americans. The living is a very important and remunerative one, calling for advanced talents in its incumbent. This call to Mr. Carpenter is a fitting recognition of that admirable aggressive parish work and marked pulpit ability which has endeared him to the congregation of St. John's. The reverend gentleman has not yet decided upon acceptance or refusal of the living, and should his reply be in the affirmative his loss will be deeply regretted not only by the members of St. John's, but also by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances, who, apart from his sacred calling, appreciate in him a very desirable citizen of sterling worth and broad-minded characteristics.

JUNIOR MATRICULATION EXAMS.

The following list contains the names of three classes of candidates, arranged in three separate groups, A, B and C, covering Peterborough City and county.

In group A are given the names of all candidates who have obtained complete junior matriculation by passing on the eleven required examination papers which are as follows: English composition, English literature, history (ancient and British and Canadian), algebra, geometry, Latin authors, Latin composition, together with the four papers in two of the following subjects: Experimental science (physics and chemistry), French (authors and composition), German (authors and composition), Greek (authors and composition).

In group B are given the names of those who have passed in at least eight of the papers required for complete matriculation and have obtained the minimum required on the whole examination. They have, therefore, failed in not more than three of the required papers. The papers in which these candidates have failed will be shown on their certificates. They may complete matriculation by passing in all the remaining papers at one subsequent examination. In this list will be found the names of successful candidates who have written only on those papers required for matriculation into the faculty of applied science.

In group C are given the names of those who have written upon any number of matriculation papers less than the eleven required for complete matriculation, and who have passed on all papers upon which they have written, but who have not obtained partial matriculation as in the case of those in group B. In this list will be found the names of successful candidates who have written only on those papers required for matriculation into the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

Normal entrance candidates, who were also candidates for matriculation, have been considered in the above results. The names of such candidates, if successful in obtaining complete matriculation, are included in group A, and if partial, in group B.

The certificates of the successful candidates and the statements of marks of those who failed, will be sent to the principals of the high schools and collegiate institutes or to the public school inspectors in a few days. Candidates will apply to these officials, not to the department for the reports in detail.

USED INSULTING LANGUAGE AND WAS LYNCHED

Farmersville, Texas, Aug. 12.—Commodore Jones, a negro, who, it is alleged, used insulting language in addressing a young white woman over the telephone, was hanged by a mob early to-day. A crowd of about 75 men and boys gained access to his cell during the night and marching him to the outskirts of the town, compelled him to climb atelephone pole. At the top one of the mob was waiting, a rope was thrown about the negro's neck, and he was forced to jump.

IT IS FOR YOU.
Equally as Good For Old People as Young.
To those who say that the Canadian Government Annuities Scheme is of benefit to those only who can take advantage of it while they are young it may be pointed out that the benefit is equally as great for old people. The following example will illustrate this. A widow 75 years of age who had been spending a portion of her capital each year (which was deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank) as well as the interest, found to her horror that she had but $1,500 left. She was without relatives, and she suddenly realized what her fate would ultimately be if life were spared to her for a few years longer. But when the cloud was darkest, the silver lining appeared. A friend told her of the Canadian Government Annuities Scheme, and her feelings may be imagined when she was informed that her $1,500 would yield her for the remainder of her life no matter how long she might live an income of $225.90 a year.
Full information concerning this great Scheme may be had on application to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa Postage free.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

CURIOSITIES OF THE FISHERIES

Mackerel All But Gone and Nobody Knows Where.

What is the mater with the mackerel? They have all but disappeared and nobody has any idea of what has become of them.

In 1885 mackerel fishery furnished half a million barrels of salted fish. Last year the catch was only about twenty-seven hundred barrels. What has become of this valuable food animal? Certainly it has not been wiped out by overfishing.

At the present time nearly two millions of dollars are invested in the business of hunting for mackerel — an industry prosecuted more in the way of a lottery than anything else, vessels being fitted out every spring in the hope that they will come back in their former abundance. Salted mackerel are now worth forty dollars a barrel.

If the great schools of earlier years have sought feeding grounds elsewhere how precious would be information of their whereabouts!

Dr. Johan Hjort, the Norwegian director of fisheries, says that the production of marine fishes is subject to such mighty influences as to be independent of the interference of man. For illustration, in 1902 and

J. T. McLEAN,
Member of Railway Commission
In his high position Mr. McLean has shown a practical knowledge of science in its relation to railroading.

1903 there was an extraordinary scarcity of fishes of all kinds over the whole North Sea and adjacent waters. Haddock almost disappeared, and such cod as were at hand presented a most miserable and diseased appearance.

At the same time was presented the unique spectacle of a general migration of large polar creatures from the Arctic Ocean southward. Arctic seals and white whales came down as far as the coast of Norway, and even to the Shetlands; and dead seabirds, much emaciated, were washed ashore by thousands along the northern shores of Europe.

Nobody knows what was the cause of these strange phenomena, all of which seemed to be in some way connected; but, two or three years later, the cod, haddock and other fishes were as numerous as ever. The activities of man had nothing to do with reducing their numbers or with the restoration of the finny population. Every year almost every square yard of the bottom of the North Sea, which is the most persistently used fishing ground in the world, is scraped several times by the huge dragnets known as "beam trawls." Yet there is no diminution of the fish supply.

Much influence has recently been used to persuade Congress and various state legislatures to enact laws forbidding the use of beam trawls in our own Atlantic waters, on the ground that they would soon wipe out all the fish. This is a notion disproved by experience in the seas of northern Europe, where such apparatus has long been in use. The Fisheries Bureau, far from believing the beam trawl objectionable, is anxious that it shall be adopted by our fishermen, because it would add enormously to the fish supply of the country.

Extending from Cape Cod all the way to Cape May is an area of ocean bottom, covering several thousand square miles, which is almost literally paved with fishes of a very valuable species, closely related to the celebrated European sole and fully equal to the latter as food. Its mouth is too small for a hook, however, and so not a single pound of this delicious food is brought to our markets in a year. If these fishes were caught with beam trawls they could be taken in practically unlimited numbers, not only to the great profit of the fishermen but to the substantial advantage of multitudes of people who would gladly welcome a new and cheap contribution to their diet.

THE BEST TEMPERATURE

"Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson found, after long experiments and practice," says The Medical Times, "that 4 degrees Fahr. is the best temperature in which to conduct mental labour. If the temperature falls below this the mind becomes drowsy and inactive, and if it rises much above there is a relaxed state of the body and mind which soon leads to fatigue and exhaustion. It is important that the temperature be the same in all parts of the room and that it be steadily maintained."

"Dr. Grenfell, whose 'parish' includes as much of Labrador as he can circumvent, has observed that endemic diseases have up to recent years been practically unknown along that coast. The infections which the natives have contracted have been introduced mostly from regions to the south.."

Gone Trout Fishing.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Law, Dalhousie street, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lehane, 283 Macdonell street, left yesterday on the C. P.R. 4.40 train for Manvers, where they will camp for some time, and engage in trout fishing.

TRYING TO BREAK A RECORD.

Will Use Aeroplanes, Racing Automobiles, Private Racing Yachts, Special Trains and the Fastest Boats.

In an endeavor to lower the world's record for a round-the-world trip Andre Jager Schmit, son of the vice-president of the French Conseil d'Etat, will leave Paris shortly.

Schmit will use aeroplanes, racing automobiles, private racing yachts, special trains, transcontinental expresses and the fastest liners of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The present record is held by an American newspaper man who made the trip in something like 40 days. Schmit expects to do it in 28 days or less.

The Frenchman will journey via Moscow, Vladivostok, Tsuruga, Yokohama, San Francisco (or Vancouver), Chicago, New York, Queenstown (or Liverpool), London to Paris by aeroplane. Where regular fast trains are not to be had special trains or racing autos will be used. In case he touches at Queenstown, Ireland, a racing yacht will take him off the boat and on to Cherbourg, France.

CANADA'S NAVY

How to Tell a Naval Officer's Rank.

Two stripes indicate a lieutenant, an engineer-lieutenant, a surgeon, or a paymaster — always having regard to the gold circle on the uppermost stripe for the lieutenant, or the purple, red, or white cloth between the stripes, and no circle, for the other branches. Three stripes, of which the middle one is only half the thickness of the other two, indicate a senior lieutenant or senior engineer, a staff-surgeon, or a staff-paymaster; while three stripes all of the same thickness denote a commander, a fleet-surgeon, or a fleet-paymaster.

A captain has four stripes. Officers of admiral's rank have always one broad gold stripe nearest the cuff, and from one to four thinner gold stripes above it. Thus, a rear-admiral has the broad stripe and one stripe above it; a vice-admiral has two above, an admiral has three, while an admiral of the fleet — of whom there are only five on the active list, one of whom is King George — has four. An admiral always wears a aiguillettes, as do the officers on his staff, such as his flag-lieutenant or his secretary.

Midshipmen have no stripes, as they are not commissioned officers; but they have a small square of white cloth on the front of the collars of their coats.

Pants and Propriety

The group of statuary before Pennsylvania's $13,000,000 palace of graft at Harrisburg, after having been "draped" to suit the Pennsylvania purists, has been again unveiled. Stone "pants" have been bolted to the statues whose nakedness particularly offended the good folks of the Keystone state. Now they call it the "Pantsylvania group."

The episode has nearly broken the heart of the sculptor, Barnard, and has brought chagrin and shame to all who are seriously interested in the advancement of American art, but the average person can afford to take it for its fun value.

The Best Position.

Prior to the commencement of a boys' cricket-match there were several candidates on the fielding side for the position of long-field.

"Harris had it last week and the week before," complained two or three of the boys to their captain. "It's about time someone else had a turn."

The discussion seemed likely to end in a free fight when the local curate came on the scene and endeavoured to pour oil on the troubled waters.

"You surprise me, boys," he said. "Harris has done especially well in that position, hasn't he?"

"He has so," agreed the malcontents. "If he's had to climb Bliggins's wall after the ball once, he'd had to a dozen times."

"Well?" queried the reverend gentleman.

"That's why we want a chance," snapped a podgy youngster; "Old Bliggins's gooseberries are ripe and his bulldog's dead!"

A Summer Night Hint

When the summer days are blisteringhot, and comfort in sleep is discovered not, don't sit up and blame the weatherman; but follow this cool sprinkling plan:

When getting ready for bed, annex a basin of water and one whisk broom. Carefully sprinkle the top sheet, just as you would do it for ironing, then get right into the bed between the sheets. In this way you will get delightfully cool, and should be able to get to sleep in a few minutes.

Pat had been to the races, and had lost all his cash on "dead certs" which had not "come off." Feeling excessively thirsty, he called upon his native wit to help him, and walked into a hostelry, where he entered into conversation with a gentleman, and inquired his age.

"My age is thirty-seven," answered the stranger. "What's yours?"

"Bedad, ye're a gintleman," replied Pat. "Oi'll just be afther havin' a drop of the cratur."

This Cow An Acterrite.

At the commencement of a Canadian Agricultural college a cow was brought out on the stage to demonstrate butter making. Separators, churns, moids and the like were there and the cow milked in full view of the crowd, the cream was separated and the butter made.

Commend me to men for the foibles supposed to belong exclusively to one sex. Wherever you have two or three gathered together there is vanity, curiosity and uncharitableness in the midst of them.

BUY
ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair broke, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

INVENTOR EDISON WAS FORCED TO BALK.

New York, Aug. 10,—A London cable to the World says:

On reaching London by motor Tuesday evening Thomas A. Edison was met by his European agent, Sir Croydon Marks, M.P., who after dinner escorted him to the House of Commons. By the special order of Speaker Lowther, Mr. Edison occupied a place in the distinguished strangers' gallery, where he witnessed the scene but could not hear the speeches made on the floor. Sir Croydon told the correspondent that the great inventor was intensely curious about the personalities of the leaders on both sides. He declared that Arthur Balfour, the Unionist leader, Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George, and Home Secretary Churchill all have strikingly intellectual heads. He said the whole fight between the two houses is inexplicable to him, and he thought it strange that some sort of arbitration committee or board could not be appointed to settle it. Evidently Mr. Edison is not much of a politician.

He felt the heat greatly in the House, and expressed surprise that some cooling invention has not been applied so that the members may work in comfort. When the cooling system in use was explained—Sprays of ice water are played outside the windows and ice air is forced up through the matting on the floor—Mr. Edison opened his eyes in amazement, exclaiming incredulously:—"Well, do you tell me so? I could not have believed anything so stupid."

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realised within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inquire today about our special offer.

ANIMAL AND RACIAL ODOURS.

How Nationalities Can be Scented

That every human being and every animal possesses an individual odour we know, although generally our own sense of smell cannot distinguish one from another, for the more sensitive scent of the dog does this with ease from the slightest traces. That the personal odour of an entire race has a character of its own we also know. In most cases this odour is displeasing to members of different races. The odour of the negro is often spoken of by white races as offensive, but it will be news to most of us that the odour of Europeans is quite as objectionable to the Japanese. A Japanese physician, Dr. Buntaro Adachi, has recently published some remarkable observations on this subject, from which we quote the following paragraphs:

"This physician states that 'it is certain that the Western peoples possess a natural odour which is not perceived by them, but which is clearly perceptible to the yellow race.' After a certain length of time, however, both Japanese and Chinese who have taken up their residence in Europe become habituated to this odour, it being the experience of these European residents that the odour of Europeans, which at first was intolerable, after several weeks' residence becomes supportable.

"Every living animal possesses in general a characteristic odour—horses, dogs, cats, etc., man himself having an emanation which is a part of the race and which may be individual and variable with age and condition of health. The sudoriferous glands produce the emanation perceived by the sense of smell, although it is true that the Chinese and Japanese have little or no odorous emanation. When these races perspire, their perspiration has no odour, a fact which is doubtless chiefly a question of race, although also probably one of alimentary regime. In the white races observers who possess an acute sense of smell can distinguish solely by this means those persons who follow a vegetarian regime and those who eat meat, at times the difference between these two classes of persons being very pronounced. The individuals who nourish themselves on meat exhale, under the influence of the fermentation of cutaneous secretions, a much stronger odour than vegetarians. Experimenters in ethnography know that there exist provincial odours, the odour of Brunswick being different from that of Bavaria, that of Savoy different from that of Normandy.

"The Japanese are chiefly vegetarians, and for this reason their skin exhales odours which are scarcely perceptible; but here clothing plays its role, for if we superimpose many layers of tissue closely around the body, perspiration is produced, and with it the odour of disassimilation.

SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS COMPARED WITH HUMAN ORGANS.

"The inferiority of the human sense organs to the instruments of science is pointed out by Dr. Carl Snyder. He says that whereas the human eye can see but little more than 2,000 stars in the heavens on the clearest of nights, the photographic plate and the telescope can discover countless millions. It is difficult for the eye to distinguish divisions of the inch if they are smaller than 1-200 of that unit of measure, yet a powerful microscope will make an object 1-10,000 of an inch in diameter look comparatively large. It would be a delicate ear which could hear the tramp of a fly, yet the microphone magnifies this sound until it sounds like the tramp of cavalry. The most sensitive skin cannot detect a change in temperature less than 1-5 of a degree, but the bolometer will register on a scale an increase or decrease of temperature of 1-1,000,000 of a degree, and can easily note the difference in temperature caused in a room when a match is lighted one mile away."

THE NEW "FIRELESS COOKER"

The arrival of the electrical fireless cooker has made another big advance in cooking methods in favor of the housewife. The design worked out by the manufacturers for keeping things hot, or cooking anything requiring long, slow heat, the fireless will now cook anything, baking as well as any oven. The design worked out by manufacturers follows close by on the plan of other cookers, the basic factor being an insulated compartment lined with pure aluminum; in the bottom of this compartment is placed an electric heating disc, the cover to the compartment contains another electric disc, and these discs take the place of the hot plates used in the old fireless cookers. A reinforced cord, four feet long, with suitable attachments, is used to make the electric connection with any base plug or incandescent lamp socket. Temperature can be varied to suit the need, from the low point used in cooking things over night to the high temperature needed for cooking a steak. Foods intended for the electric cooker need not be previously heated, but the cold food may be put into the cooking compartment, the button turned and the cook is free from all care. None of the heat is lost, and the cooking is perfectly done. The same old recipes already in use may be still used, and the greatest achievement of the fireless idea is its ability to improve the flavor of foods. Even the "old-fashioned" fireless cookers, where foods have to be started to cooking for the finish in the chest, are a wonderful help to the housewife wherever used, and there are many successful makes now on the market at reasonable prices.

The eternal sacrifice of youth is one of the most pitiful things in nature — human nature that is. The animals know better.

A MAN OF MANY POSES.

Antonio Corsi a model of 30 years Standing is a Great Traveller.

Next time you're in Paris — or London — or Rome — you may see a small, swarthy man in a black-braided velvet suit and a VERY broad sombrero.

If he has high cheek bones, long, bushy black hair, piercing black eyes and wears an enormous carved coral ring on each finger of his left hand you may identify him at once as Antonio Corsi, the world's best known model.

You're just as apt to meet him in Montreal — or Toronto — or Vancouver — for he travels everywhere that art whispers — if the financial tones are loud enough to equal his chill and fame.

Almost every artist of note during the past 30 years has employed Corsi. The majority of art school students in Europe and America have sketched him.

Corsi is an Italian by birth. He has posed in a dozen lands, for royalty and commoner, as deity and devil, saint and sinner, Indian and courtier. Among his best known poses are those for the Sargent and Abbey pictures in the Boston public library. He posed for 11 of the 16 Sargent "prophets," including the famous "Hosea." The difficult arrangement of Hosea's drapery required the completion of the figure in one pose, said to be the longest on record, lasting three hours and 20 minutes. Sixty-eight of the Abbey figures were posed by Corsi, including allthose of Sir Galahad, except for the features and the color of the hair.

TOOK ONLY HALF AN HOUR TO SHOOT $2,500 WORTH OF IVORY.

W. Buckley, the great English elephant shot, in talking of his favorite game says:

"There are three curious things about the elephant.

"First, although he is the biggest animal in the world, he is the hardest to see, for he is the same color as the forest.

"Second, for all his vast area there is little more than a square foot of him that is vulnerable to a bullet.

"Third, all elephants are "left handed," as is proved by the fact that the left tusk is always shorter, being worn away with work.

"My biggest bag of elephants in one day was ten, but the most profitable was a day when I shot eight, and their tusks weighed 766 pounds. It took me half an hour to shoot them, and the ivory was worth $2,500. Of course that was an exceptionally good day.

"The tusks of the biggest elephant weighed 282 pounds —the right tusk 147 pounds, the left 135 pounds.

"The elephant is a very blind animal. From tests carried out he cannot see further than 370 yards, but he can scent a man for half a mile, and can distinguish between a white man and a black man. When he charges he always makes for the white man."

That Clever German!

A German gentleman wanted to take a day's drive through the country. He applied to a stable for the horse and carriage. The owner, not knowing the German, was slow to give him the team. Finally the German pulled out a roll of banknotes and said: "I will buy your horse and rig, providing you will buy them back at the same price when I return this evening." The dealer, not wishing to offend a probable future customer, consented. When in the evening the German presented himself and expressed his pleasure at the ride, the dealer, according to agreement, paid him back his money, and the customer started to take his leave.

"I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the dealer: "but you have forgotten to pay for the hire, you know."

"Pay for the hire? Why, my dear sir," coolly replied the German, "I fail to see that. If you will exercise your memory a trifle you will agree that I have been driving my own horse and carriage all day, and now you have bought them back they are yours. Good-day, sir!"

And he left the astonished dealer to reflect.

Waiting For It.

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a charwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, "Hallos! Who are you?" and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone-bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear.

"I'm Dobson, from Dublin," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and to his amazement, saw the charwoman holding an empty bucket under the telephone-tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and asked someone to receive it, so I'm a-holdin' this bucket, a-waitin' for it to run through'"

It saves trouble to be conventional, for you are not always explaining things. Most of the startling items we read in the newspapers are serious lapses from conventionality and good manners.

Don't let any one tell you there's any life for a woman in this world apart from a man. There's not. And don't let any one try to convince you that there is any life for a man without a woman by his side. There's not.

The Stoney Lake Honored.

The steamer Stoney Lake was the first boat to pass over the Lift Lock for shipping yesterday. The same craft entered the Basin of Railways and Power at the opening of the lock three years ago, being the first boat to pass through. It likewise had a similar honour on the opening of the Kirkfield Lift Lock four years ago.

DRINKING A GOLD MINE

Whisky is a Great Factor in the Ups-and-Downs of Mining.

In a Western town a stranger recently stood in the hotel parlour and gazed absently out into the street. It was a gloomy day, and as he looked a small funeral procession passed the window. Involuntarily his eyes followed it, and a man sitting near him noticed the movement. "No much of a send-off," he remarked, sociably, "but you will go a long way before you see a better temperance sermon than those two or three carriages"

How is that?" asked the other, dropping into the next chair to listen.

"You know the —— Mine?" asked the resident, naming one of the most famous mines properties in the neighbourhood. The listener nodded.

"Well," he continued, "before that mine ever came into existence the man you've just seen on his way to the cemetery was a poor miner prospecting in the same region. He'd been at it some years, always believing there was something to be got out if he could only locate it, but never finding anything. They were hard-luck years, but one day he found a nugget — no little two-for-a-penny nugget, but the kind of thing that sets men crazy."

"You mean," exclaimed the stranger, in no little surprise, "that the man who opened up that mine has gone through his fortune until only that was left to him?" He nodded towards the poor little funeral train now vanishing round a distant corner.

"He never had any fortune," said the other, "except that nugget. There it was, the thing he'd worked for and the proof that he had a fortune right under his feet. And the man had to 'celebrate!'

"He filled himself with whisky, sir, and went all over the camp showing his nugget. When he'd recovered his senses every available claim had been staked out, and there wasn't a thing left for him but day wages working for the men who had been sober enough to take advantage of his condition."

The man from the East whistled.

"And that's the end of him?"

"That's the end of what might have been one of the richest men in the country. Whisky put him to sleep, and when he woke up the nap had cost him the leading interest in a mining property that has since cleaned up over forty million dollars."

$2,200 FOR ONE FOX SKIN.

More Than Once a Black Fox Skin Has Paid a Farm Mortgage.

The pelt of the pure black fox is the highest priced fur on the market. The sum of $2,200 has been paid a breeder of black foxes in Prince Edward Island for one medium sized, flawless skin of exceptional beauty and lustre. The average prices per pelt, according to color and quality, run from 300 to $500.

The business of domesticating and breeding foxes has been carried on in this island for about twenty years; it is now past the experimental stages and promises to develop into a paying industry. In more than one instance the proceeds of the sale of a pure back fox skin has paid off a farm mortgage.

The black fox is very rare. Its pelt is marketed at London, where the available supply is offered at auction four times a year. At the sale in January 1910, 171 pelts, varying from the silver tinged to the pure black, were offered; this year the number at the midwinter sale was only 64.

The fox reaches full growth in from eight to nine months. The fur it at its best in the months of December, January and February, when the animal is from 2 to 3 years old. The highest degree of care must be exercised in taking off the skin. A drop of blood or the smallest break or defect ruins the fur for commercial purposes. To kill the fox it is smothered or chloroformed while confined in its hut or in a hollow log.

A HOMEGENIOUS CANADA

Will All the Races Gathering in Canada Be Melted in One People?

Will all the races and nationalities gathering in Canada from all around the world be melted into one people, harmonious physically and mentally?

Mayor Taylor, of Vancouver, in an address in Vancouver, asserts that they will, and says that the public schools in Manitoba will be the melting pots.

"In our schools," he said, the children have the same teachers the same books, the same songs, and I have always said that the schools would make us all a unit.

"For my part, it seems to me now that the children of all nations ities in the schools come out with a different kind of face to their forefathers. The noses of some of them are a little shorter and of others a little longer, and the high cheek bones go down a little in others, and an Canadian face is even now coming out of the public schools, because the mind, you know, does affect the body, without any doubt whatever, and in that way also we are getting a sort of uniform mind.

"Surely we are not getting a uniform face without there being a uniform mind with it, and in that way we will become one people. A great many people have misgivings about that. I may say that I have none."

The "New Woman" League is about to inaugurate an energetic campaign against kissing the baby. Cuddling will still be allowed but all osculation is tabooed. Especially are father and grandfather exhorted to spare their kisses, as whiskers, mustaches, — even the fashionable French kind — and unoffensive looking "stubbles" are declared by health authorities to be favorite taunts of disease-germs.

A Large Mouthful.

A lunge weighing about 7 pounds in trying to swallow a three pound bass, in the river at Omemee the other day, found it had undertaken too great a proposition, and so was strangled in the pond. Mr. Jack Murphy easily captured it and soon found he had a lucky catch by having a live bass for dessert. The local fishing sports are having fine success this year.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER
You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

AN INVESTMENT NOT A SPECULATION

What everybody with an ounce of common sense is on the alert for these days is a sound INVESTMENT and there is as much difference between an investment and a speculation as there is between London and Hong-Kong, although we all don't realize this.

• • • •

Consequently when one takes a chance on a speculative proposition, mistaking it as an investment and comes out of the small end of the horn, he becomes pessimistic and with the tightening of his purse strings to extremes to keep the pennies in just naturally shuts the dollars out.

• • • •

Now then if there were no investors there would be no progress, and with no progress the community would mighty soon become stagnant.

• • • •

The foundation of America, was old Christopher Columbus, he had an idea but was short on ready cash, in other words he was what us modern day folks call a promoter. His idea was feasible, he found co-operation, his plans carried and YOU KNOW THE REST.

• • • •

Like Columbus we are all Pioneers. Not out for our health, but to make money. No man ever saved more than a competence on a salary.; few do that. To get a footing on "Easy Street" you have to invest. DOLLARS don't grow in your pockets or in a stocking. They must be put to work. Old Russell Sage said:

"Plant a few in a new country and see how fast they grow."

That's what we are trying to impress on you now and here is the biggest opportunity of this kind that is likely to knock at your door.

• • • •

We are the Pioneers of the fruit and vegetable canning enterprise in the Okanagan Valley and earnestly invite you to co-operate with us.

• • • •

Men at the head of affairs of this corporation are the best known and most highly esteemed gentlemen in British Columbia.

• • • •

Mr. Albert McKillop, our President, has a world wide reputation in the Timber and Timber Land World. (See R. G. Dunn).

• • • •

Mr. Wesley A. Blair, our Secretary and Treasurer, is also Cashier of the Canadian Customs, being the Government's most trusted employee. He handles on an average of $30,000.00 every commercial day of the year, and it was his fertile mind that first saw the possibilities of Canneries on the Coast, in-as-much as tens of thousands of dollars duty pass through his hands for American goods yearly. Bear in mind that there is a 2½c per pound duty on all canned stuff and RECIPROCITY or no RECIPROCITY that will stand.

• • • •

Remember we belong to no combine, have no opposition, and are pioneers in this field.

• • • •

Just think of it, The Dominion Fruit Canners cleared $400,000 last year, approximately 51 per cent. What's going to prevent the Okanagan Canners Ltd., from doing the same.

• • • •

It's a matter of record that the Kelowna district—site of our Cannery—proved positively at all the recent fruit shows that the Okanagan valley is the greatest fruit producing country in the world.

• • • •

Now, then, be up and thinking.

• • • •

We are incorporated for only $100,000.

• • • •

We are only going to let 60,000 shares out of our treasury.

• • • •

Not one of our shares has gone for promotion purposes, every share being represented by its equivalent.

• • • •

We have no salaried officials, in fact no leakages of any kind.

• • • •

A Premium of 25 per cent. will be put on this stock as soon as our cannery at Kelowna is completed, which will be at an early date, as we will handle this year's crop.

• • • •

You undoubtedly have stood silently aside and seen other opportunities vanish that your neighbor has grasped and is now realizing handsomely on and term him lucky.

• • • •

It's not luck, but JUDGMENT when opportunities like this present themselves and one takes advantage of them.

• • • •

Our land is bought and paid for, and we hold a receipt in full for our wharf for Cannery No. 1, which is completed at Kelowna.

• • • •

Although capitalized at $100,000, divided into 100,000 shares at one dollar each, we are going to offer for public subscription but 60,000 shares, and the remainder will positively stay in the treasury.

• • • •

This is a gilt-edge bona fide conservative investment and it is not reasonable to believe will be on the market long, consequently act NOW before it is too late.

• • • •

Terms of purchasing securities are one dollar per share; 25 per cent. cash, balance, two, four and six months without interest.

THE COCKROACH

How To Massacre Him!

Cockroaches are so different from the regular pattern of insect that they are little short of freaks, yet the 13 rings of the larvae are all present. The tibia, the next to the last join of the leg, is provided with teeth to aid in holding its prey; hence the name raportia, or graspers.

A few cockroaches will clear the house of bedbugs as effectually as a weasel would clear it of rats. It is presumed, however, that housekeepers don't need or wish to harbor cockroaches for that purpose, and would like a few pointers on roach extermination, something quicker than pulling their heads off.

There are two convenient and effectual methods of freeing the house of roaches. Roaches are great gluttons, will eat almost anything, and are easy to reach with poison. Spread phosphorus paste on bits of soft bread and lay it near their haunts. Another exterminator is chocolate and borax finely powdered and thoroughly mixed and dusted into the crevices. The roaches are fond of chocolate, and the borax adheres to the chocolate. This must adhere to the chocolate. This mixture has the double advantage of being cheap and non-poisonous to man.

Assisting the Judge.

A case was being tried in the West of England and at its termination the judge adressed the jury, and they retired for consultation. Hour after hour passed and no verdict was brought in.

The judge's dinner hour arrived and he became hungry and impatient.

Upon enquiry he learned that one obstinate juryman was holding out against eleven. This was more than he could endure, so he ordered the twelve men to be brought before him. He told them that in his address to them he had so plainly stated the case and the law that the verdict ought to be unanimous, and the man who permitted his individual opinion to weigh against the judgment of eleven men of wisdom was unfit and disqualified ever again to act in the capacity of jurymen.

At the end of this excited harangue a little squaky voice came from one of the jury. It said:

"Will Your Lordship allow me to say a word?"

Permission being given, the owner of the voice added:

"May it please Your Lordship, I a : the only man on your side!"

The Bread Would Burn.

The error into which King Alfred fell in that famous instance when he let the cakes left in his care burn, is not going to be repeated by the telegraph operator of whom Arthur W. North tells in 'Camp and Camino in Lower California.'

'I learned at this point that for the first 500 miles before me I would require more change than I had on hand, and would pass through no place where cheques could be cashed. Moreover, my drafts were used up

'In this dilemna I wired for money. After four days of exasperating delays, I received this satisfying message from the obliging operator of the wireless office:

"Operators on other coast may be have two messages for some one, but his bread in oven — wife she away — and might burn if he leave it long. After lunch he transmit message."

WISCONSIN TO TRY STATE INSURANCE.

Annuities and Policies from $100 to $3000.—No Paid Agents.

The signing of the Wisconsin life insurance bill by Governor McGovern commits Wisconsin to state insurance. Beginning in 1912 the state will conduct a life and annuity insurance business on its own hook.

The bill provides for the establishment of an insurance department under the management of the state insurance commissioner, to be conducted along the lines of the ordinary mutual insurance corporation. Annuities are to range from $100 to $300 and life policies from $500 to $3000.

The business will all be done through the insurance commissioner's office. There will be no paid agents. The aim is to give insurance at lowest possible rate.

Both Alarmed.

Louis Agassiz, the naturalist, spent the evening of the day he was married in his laboratory as usual. He retired after his newly-found wife was in the realm of dreams, bringing to his bedroom two very choice specimens of the snake family which he had been studying, and was still engrossed in. Forced to part with them for the night, he looked about for a suitable place to leave them, and finally laid hold of his wife's stocking as a convenient receptacle.

The next morning, when Mrs. Agassiz rose, she cried: "Louis, there's a snake in my stocking! What shall I do?"

"A snake!" yelled Agassiz, now fully aroused. "One snake! Heavens where's the other one? I put two in there."

The Town's Dignity.

An Ontario man was one day talking of the style in which his own townspeople were keeping up the council's dignity.

"Why, nobbut just lately, we bought our mayor a new collar an' chain," he said, with pride.

"Han' yo'?" said a man who lived in a new town some distance away. "Why, we letten you beggar of ours run loose."

TIT BIT

They say Jack Johnson weighs 220, is as big as a fourth term alderman around the waist and requires only a week to get ready for Pat Curran, yet is assured $30,000 for his end. Can it be the Britishers are bigger boobs than the Americans?

IN THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD.

A NEW ANESTHETIZER

A Surgeon Has Devised a Method for Taking Gas or Ether Safely.

Two little gas bags, attached to a simple contrivance have robbed ether of its sickening terrors — and its dangers.

The discovery of the anesthetic value of ether was hailed as a wonderful boon to humanity 60 years ago, but it remained a boon of bitter memory to all who took it.

The old way of giving ether is to pour it on a sponge, over the patient's nose. He is half asphyxiated and when he comes to himself he is so sick that he's sorry he ever came to at all. Then follow terrible hours of nausea and thirst. The victim mustn't have water, because water induced vomiting and that sometimes bursts out stitches.

SIR JAMES GRANT, K.C.M.G., M.D., F.R.S.C.
This distinguished scientist has done much for the uplifting of Canada.

Sometimes the patient never does come to. [illegible]

The new way eliminates ether-sickness and the danger of asphyxia. It makes ether as safe as laughing gas and as pleasant, without entailing the enormous expense involved in using that anesthetic for long operations.

Dr. Pyle's anesthetizer is a "mixer" through which the patient can breathe air, vaporized ether (or chloroform), nitrous oxide (laughing gas), or oxygen, either singly or in any desired combination or proportion.

The apparatus consists of a glass globe, or mixing chamber, to which are connected three atomizers and two gas bags, and from the top of which proceeds a rubber hose ending in a face mask equipped with valves. There is a cock for the admission of air to the mixing chamber. In two of the atomizers is ether; in the other chloroform (for emergencies demanding that anesthetic). In one of the gas bags is laughing gas; in the other pure oxygen. Layers of gauze in the mixing chamber insure the perfect mixing of the gases.

Perfume is sprayed on a piece of gauze in the mask before it is strapped on the patient's face. He smells white roses. Presently the odorless laughing gas is turned into the globe. When that subtle anesthetic has done its work ether is substituted. The patient, already happily asleep, breathes the fumes of ether till the operation is over, and never knows the difference. Then he is given pure oxygen till the ether has been driven from his lungs.

This application of concentrated oxygen following ether or chloroform brings the patient out of his sleep free from the dreadful nausea so long the bugbear of surgery.

CURIOUS NATURAL DECEPTIONS

Our senses deceive us curiously at times. A flash of lightning lights up the ground for one-millionth of a second, yet it seems to us to last ever so much longer.

What happens is that the impression remains in the eye or the retina for about one-eighth of a second, or one hundred and twenty-four thousand times as long as the flash lasts. If on a dark night a train speeding at sixty miles an hour is lit up by a lightning-flash, it appears stationary, yet in the eighth of a second during which we seem to see it the train travels eleven feet. But we really only see it during one-millionth of a second, and in that time it travels only one-hundredth of an inch.

We do not actually perceive different distances with the eye, but judge them from various indications. When our judgment is at fault we are deceived. If you see a person in a fog, for instance, he seems to be much bigger than usual. The same thing happens when you see men or cattle on the top of a hill against the horizon in twilight. In both cases you judge them to be farther away than they really are, and consequently they appear uncommonly large.

The Fir Trees of the Pacific

"Next to the big tree of California, or sequoia, as it is termed by the scientists, the fir as found in Washington, Oregon and British Columbia, has the largest diameter of any tree in America, and probably in the world. Some have been cut down which actually measured 15 feet in diameter at the point where the incision was made. As they decay very rapidly after the timber has been removed, usually the interior can be hollowed out with little difficulty. Sometimes they are used for dancing platforms... some being large enough to accommodate four couples."

Stratton, M.P., will address a public meeting at Zion Hall, 7th concession of Smith, on Monday evening. He will also speak at the Temperance Hall, 4th line of Smith, on Tuesday evening. The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

HOW $100 GREW TO $31,620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

A BISHOP'S IMPERIALISM.

So many vicious and discreditable brands of national sentiment are being preached by various classes and in various parts of Canada that it inspires one with fresh courage to hear above the confused babel of petty voices the clear ringing tones of a robust imperialist. When the trumpeter is a Roman Catholic bishop the relief is all the more welcome, says the Ottawa Journal.

A sinister idea has been spread broadcast that the Catholic clergy are in the main, if not entirely, opposed to the aspirations of a closer imperial relation between Britain and the Dominion. How much or how little ground there is for such a grave allegation is not easy to determine. The fact that Mr. Bourassa's propaganda appears to have captured a considerable wing of the French-Canadian church has given color to much more sweeping claims.

In the midst of so much doubt and disquietude, the straight-flung words of Bishop Fallon, of London, should be echoed and re-echoed from one coast to the other. He is not only an imperialist of the Briton-ever school, but he is ardent in his zeal, and equipped with a host of reasons for the faith that is in him.

He is a devoted imperialist, he tells us, "because I firmly believe that England dispenses more freedom more liberty, and more God-fearing justice than any power that ever held the board of history. Fair play is the inheritance of every man who lives beneath the flag."

Bishop Fallon has another reason which he may or may not have added for the benefit of those French-speaking clerics who stand sponsor for the scintillating vagaries of Bourassa's fertile imagination. How any thinking Canadian, so long as he chooses for Canada a decent, let alone an illustrious, future, can regard complacently the shadowy path pointed out by Bourassa—complete independence of all imperial obligations while yet receiving the free blessings of British protection and dignity—how anyone can occupy so equivocal a position taxes ordinary comprehension. And if, as Bourassa boasts, many French-speaking clergy are tainted with his spurious nationalism, let them hearken to the London bishop:

"I am also an imperialist, because I am a Catholic, for nowhere under the sun does the Catholic receive justice as he receives it from England and the United States."

Few are better qualified to express a settled conviction on the prospects and dangers fronting Canada than he, for in every province has he labored, as well as in every state of the union to the south of us. We should expect the voice of the prophet to be heard in a bishop's address. Bishop Fallon's concluding words, as delivered to the Sault Ste. Marie Canadian Club are well worth quoting:

"Bright as is the outlook, Canada with other nations faces a danger. Man dies in his limbs first, and is not dead until his heart ceases to beat. Not so with a nation. It died in its heart first, and the people might continue to imove about in ignorance for years before they realized that death had gripped them. There was danger for the permanence of the empire. England cannot alone much longer carry the burden of empire, and its individual members must carry fire to the furnace if the fires are to be kept alight. If I am receiving benefits from the charter of British citizenship I must make some return for that benefit. That prompts my imperialism. It may be a strange brand, but it is mine.

"It is a benefit to belong to the British Empire, and so I feel that it is my bounden duty to help send the life blood of imperialism bounding from the heart of the nation to its members.

"I want to see Britain as the earth's most powerful political organism, political in the sense which I trust you understand. I want to see it a world force that does no man wrong, that gives all men freedom of thought and conscience. That is my outlook, my hope and the principles that I am ready to stand up for."

All Locks to be Lighted.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, the capable Superintendent of the Trent Canal, informed The Times that the Department intends to have all the locks on the waterway, between Peterborough and Lakefield, provided with electric light. This will not only be of great service to navigators, but will have a decidedly pretty effect. To Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., lies the credit of securing the order to have this done.

Our Drinking Water.

Lindsay, like Peterborough secures its drinking water from the river and fearing the pollution of the stream, has sent samples to Toronto for examination. The result is that the water was found to be impure and unsafe to drink. It would be well for our health officials to exercise the same watchfulness, just now, on account of the prevalence of typhoid fever at Lakefield and other places on the waterway from which we obtain our water.

Italian Fined $22.30.

Tony Rose, the Italian who was arrested last Sunday for interfering with a policeman, was found guilty of the offence at the Police Court yesterday, and fined $10 with $13.30 costs, $23.30 in all. Wm. Burton and John Jackson were each fined $2.00 for being drunk in a public place. L. Mayne was remanded for a week on the same charge.

Given Good Test.

The steam roller, which weighs 15 tons, passed over the Smith street Bridge yesterday in order to test the structure. It stood the weight without visible effect, thus demonstrating the splendid qualities of the bridge.

Big Excursion Yesterday.

A big excursion went through the city yesterday from Cobourg to Lakefield, where the party took the steamer Stoney Lake and Empress for Burleigh, returning in the evening.

Local Man Injured in the West.

The friends of Mr. Matthew Breckenridge, who went to Calgary from Peterborough some months ago, received word that he had met with a painful injury by having his jaw broken by the kick of a horse. He is now in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, and is doing as well as can be expected.

The band concert last night was as usual a great treat for those who were able to attend.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctivsly to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

MOB ATTACKED SOLDIERS CHARGED WITH BAYONETS

LIVERPOOL UNDER ARMS—8,000 TROOPS STATIONED IN THE CITY.

Rioters Were Overawed—Manchester is Within Three Days of Starvation—Strike Fever is Growing Throughout the Country.

London, Aug. 15.—Liverpool, the storm centre of the strike which is menacing the trade of Great Britain was under arms to-day. In addition to her own police and reinforcements from the surrounding cities, 3,000 troops of infantry and cavalry under General MacKinnon Wood were quartered in the city. These troops, as was shown during the riots of the early morning, were prepared to back up the police with force of arms in maintaining order.

MOB ATTACKED SOLDIERS.

The riot in Great Homer street, while not directly connected with the strike, had a good effect in its outcome, as the rowdy element was subdued. The trouble began when a constable arrested a man for having assaulted a woman. Roughs rescued the prisoner from the officer and police reserves, who were hurriedly called, could not control the mob, which vented its fury in wrecking the shops of the neighborhood. Then 200 of the troops were brought to the scene. The soldiers were at once made the targets of bricks, bottles and other missiles hurled from the roofs of the nearby buildings. Several soldiers and police received shocking wounds. A bayonet charge was ordered, and when this failed to clear the streets an order to fire into the air was given. Two volleys were discharged over the heads of the rioters with great moral effect. A number of the rioters were wounded by bayonet charges, but none were hit by bullets. Many of the mob were arrested.

QUIETER IN LONDON.

This forenoon things were somewhat quieter. The response to the midnight appeal by the strike committee for a general strike of all transport workers, including the railway men, was not unanimous, and trucks continued to move in the streets under guard while partial forces were at work on some of the docks. However, the Cunard steamer Caronia, due to sail from Liverpool for New York to-day, with other liners, was still in the stream unable to get away.

There was little change in the situation at London. A few more dock laborers returned to work and the carters employed by one of the big railway lines resumed their duties. The settlement made with these men was not permanent, and a resumption of the general strike, particularly on the docks, was possible at any moment.

The grievances of the men are not serious compared with those upon which they received concessions from their employers, but the men felt that the moment was opportune to get everything they wanted.

The number of railway strikers throughout the country increased to-day and in some places the passenger service was disorganized.

At Manchester the streets were as quiet as were those of London last week, all the carters having gone out. The only success won thus far by the employers was at Glasgow, where the street railway strike has collapsed.

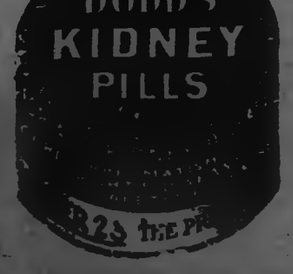
To-day Premier Asquith held a conference at his office with the other Ministers and the Labor Leaders, when the whole question was discussed.

HON. MR. STRATTON OPENS CAMPAIGN IN SMITH TWP.

Hon. J. R. Stratton opened the campaign by a large meeting at North Smith, on Monday evening, when he delivered a spirited address, dealing with the questions of the day, including the proposed reciprocity treaty. Mr. J. H. Garbutt, deputy reeve, occupied the chair, and gave a brief address. He was followed by Mr. W. H. Meldrum who paid particular attention to reciprocity.

Hon. Mr. Stratton followed in which he strongly endorsed the action of the Government in regard to reciprocity. He briefly referred to the clap-trap that was being spread abroad to mislead the electors. He then proceeded to deal with the proposed trade agreement in which he explained how it would benefit the farmer, and through his prosperity, every class of the community. The farmer supplied, through the wealth derived from the sale of his produce, the annual crop of cash capital that kept the whole commercial and industrial world moving. The money provided by the farmer kept every wheel in every factory on the move. The farmer spent his money with the merchant, with merchants of all kinds, this created a demand for manufactured goods. This meant more manufacturing activity, more employment and greater distribution of wages. It was a fact that the capital to operate manufacturing industries were obtained from the banks. Every manufacturing establishment in the country, every day in the year, had to go to the banks for money to keep the enterprise going. Where do the banks get their money? It all came from the farm in the first place. Therefore it was plain that the more the farmer prospered, the better his crops the better his market and the better his prices, the better it was for all the great round of industries and interests depending upon capital for the setam to keep them in operation. In this regard the reciprocity agreement would be a great benedit. Mr. Stratton then went on to show how it would help the farmer, by giving him a larger market and better prices. It would open a profitable market for crops that heretofore it had not been a paying thing to raise. One crop was the barley crop. It was known that the high duty that shut barley out of the United States, had lost to the farmers of Canada a trade of ninety million dollars in barley alone. The reciprocity agreement took the duty off barley and opened a market of ninety millions, a market that would almost double the price of barley. It was argued that barley raising would impoverish the soil to the detriment of the dairying interests. Corn has been on the free list for years, and under the old reciprocity agreement, a farmer could buy two bushels of corn for the price of a bushel of barley. But the farmer could see these things for himself, could see the advantage. Mr. Stratton went on to deal with other advantages of more extended and facilitated trade that would come from the adoption of the trade agreement.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King and Mr. Stratton.



OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. White.

There passed away on Sunday last a highly esteemed citizen in the person of Mrs. John White. The deceased lady had suffered a stroke of paralysis a short time ago, which left her in a very weak condition. Mrs. White's maiden name was Susan Jane Argue. She was born in Cobourg, and was a member of St. Paul's Church. The funeral took place yesterday morning, a large number of citizens paying their last tribute of respect to one who was universally beloved and respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

Death of Dr. McClamus.

A former resident of this city in the person of Dr. Wm. McClamus, passed away in Lindsay on Monday, after a brief illness. He was born in Cavan, where he taught school for some years, after which he took up the study of medicine, graduating about 1872. He practiced in Peterborough for a time, after which he removed to Bobcaygeon. His first wife was a Miss Dixon, sister of Mr. A. E. Dixon, barrister. He again married and leaves a wife, one son William Edward, who is in the civil service at Manilla, Philippine Islands, one brother Thomas, New Liskeard, two sisters, Mrs. Minthorn, Queenston, Miss Mary New Lisheard. The funeral will take place this morning from the late residence, Lindsay, to the 10.30 G.T.R. train, thence to Bobcaygeon for interment.

Died in the West.

The death occurred at Fort Francis on Sunday night last of blood poisoning, of Mr. Thomas H. Burnham son of Mr. Z. Burnham, of Otonabee. Mr. Burnham was popularly known in Peterborough as Tommy Burnham and his demise will be very sincerely felt by a wide circle of friends. For a number of years he was a valued member of the staff of the Peterborough Hardware Company, Limited, and his amiable disposition made him one of Peterborough's most popular young men. About six years ago Mr. Burnham moved to Fort Francis, where he was connected with one of the leading hardware establishments of that district. The deceased was 37 years of age and was unmarried. He leaves to mourn his demise, his father and mother, two brothers, Messrs. Mark of Otonabee and George C., of Toronto, and two sisters. The funeral will take place here, but the particulars have not yet been arranged.

REFUSED TO PAY $500 TAX

Boston, Aug. 15.—Rather than pay the $500 annual tax imposed by the United States Government, Lindsey Loring has directed that his boat, the Felin, be burned at her dock at South Boston. Everything of value has been stripped from the boat, including her 20-ton keel, her mast and rigging.

The Felin was built at Southampton, in 1899, and was brought to this country as a racing boat. She was 90 feet long and valued at about $12,000.

THE CURTAIN RISES AT 12

New York, Aug. 15.—New Yorkers who have no desire to go home until morning have a new way of amusing themselves. At midnight last night the curtain in a local theatre went up on a musical play which extended until one-thirty a.m.

Early morning performances at theatres are fairly common in Berlin and Vienna, but so far as known, they have never before been given in this country.

FIVE CHILDREN MADE MOTHERLESS IN MIDNIGHT TRAGEDY IN TORONTO

EDWARD WILKIE AND NEIGHBOR, FRANK PERRY, IN CUSTODY ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

Terrible Story is Told by Dead Woman's Daughter—It is Claimed the Cruelty Was Continued for Hours Before Neighbors Summoned the Police.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—While she stood with uplifted hand in front of her terrified children denouncing to two policeman her husband as a brute and a drunkard Mrs. Edward Wilkie fell dead in the bedroom of her home at No. 254 Claremont street early this morning as the result of injuries she had received.

The scene was most melodramatic. The police had been called by the neighbors, who for some hours had listened to shrieks and cries coming from the house. As they entered Mrs Wilkie was standing in front of her four weeping and trembling children as if to protect them while her husband was in the act of making a rush at her.

Policeman Smith (86) grappled with the man and took him into custody. As he did his wife threw up her right arm, and in a voice trembling with sobs said: "Take him right away. He is a brute, and a drunkard. I will lay a charge of assault against him."

As she spoke she gave a gasp reeled and fell to the floor. The other officer rushed to her side, and heard her murmur to her daughter Lilly, "Get me a glass of water." These were her last words. With a faint sigh she threw up both arms and died.

Her grief stricken children rushed to their mother's remains and threw themselves upon her white face covering it with sobs, and refused to leave until Mrs. Mary J. Bryant, a roomer, was forced to take them up to her apartments and keep them there.

Meanwhile the husband stood like a man dazed in the custody of the policeman. His face showed no emotion whatever, but now and then he mumbled unintelligible words to himself as if still condemning the woman One constable rushed for a physician. Dr. W. J. Fletcher, of 450 Euclid avenue was secured, but stated that nothing could be done towards reviving Mrs. Wilkie.

Later an Italian named Frank Perry, who lives at No. 252 was also arrested. He was taken into custody on the story told by the children, who say that he also brutally handled their mother.

The children of the unfortunate woman were present, but so great was their fear of their father that they say they were afraid to move from the room and summon help. At last the neighbors could stand the woman's shrieks no longer and the police were notified, but then she was dying.

SAID HE WOULD KILL.

"I think that father intended to kill mother that night," sobbed Lilly to a reporter. "Just before he beat mother so badly for the last time he said 'I'm going to kill you before the night is over.'"

Although the children could give no reason for the crime, their statement made to the police gives cause to believe that it was committed in a drunken frenzy, because the dead woman's sister, Mrs. A. Moore, 8 Trefford place, called, and instead of purchasing steak, the wife in a hurry prepared a meal of potatoes and sausage.

FOUND WOMAN'S BODY MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 15.—The badly decomposed body of a woman probably twenty or thirty years old, was found late yesterday by George French, a fireman on the Toronto steamer Chipewa, in a lonely field, seven miles northeast of here, and just over the line in the Tuscarora reserve. The woman had been dead between two or three months, and there was nothing aside from her clothing that might lead to an identification.

A 32-calibre revolver with two empty shells, and one marked as if it had misued fire, lay in a fold of the coat in such a position that the authorities believe that she was murdered. Death had been caused by a bullet through the right temple. It could not have fallen in the position which she was found. Coroner Harry R. Emes, of Lewiston, declared today.

The body was that of a small-boned woman, 5 feet tall. Her teeth were perfect, the front ones slightly prominent. She wore a white serge tailored suit with black stripes running through it, an embroidered shirt-waist, black stockings and shoes. The dark hair was almost gone, carried away by wild animals, a dark tortoise shell comb and a hair rat were found near the head. A collapsible drinking cup and a white linen handkerchief with lace corner were found at the feet.

WOMAN KILLED BY A CHICKEN

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 14.—Blood poisoning, the result of getting a peck on the hand by a chicken, caused the death of Mrs. Susan Banks, aged 31, at the Hotel Dieu here yesterday. The wound was only a scratch, and nothing serious was thought of it at the time. The arm began to swell, and the patient was removed to the hospital about two weeks ago. The whole arm later became infected with the poison, and death was a welcome release from intense suffering.

ARTHUR SHERIDAN TO BE TRIED FOR MURRER

PRISONER MAKES A STATEMENT IN WHICH HE ACCUSES THE DEAD MAN.

Of Being the Aggressor—Victim Was Stabbed Seven Times—No Corroboration of Prisoner's Story that Ford Struck Him.

Orillia, Aug. 15.—The preliminary hearing in the Ford case started at 8.30 this morning before Police Magistrate Clark. No new matter was brought out and only two or three minor witnesses were called in addition to those heard yesterday at the inquest. The statement that Sheridan got a black eye in a scuffle before the stabbing was not proved. The prisoner was committed for trial. The case will be heard at Barrie.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Orillia, Aug. 15.—(Special).—Interest in the fatal stabbing affray which took place last Wednesday night, when Arthur Sheridan killed Ross Ford, about three miles north of the town, has increased each day, and when the coroner's inquest opened at 1.30 yesterday. The Council Chamber, though packed to the doors, could hold only about half of the crowd gathered. Coroner McLean had had his jury empanelled on Saturday, and they then viewed the body and took the evidence of Chief of Police Reid, and D. Clark, the undertaker.

HAD CALLED SHERIDAN OUT.

People were therefore keen to hear the evidence of the witnesses who were on the scene of the tragedy, as the rumors were contradictory and unsatisfactory. The evidence went to show that Ford Had called at Geo. Ruff's where the dance was being held and had went in word to Sheridan to come out. The two then walked down the road together to where the stabbing occurred. In a written statement made to Chief Reid, Sheridan claims there was a scuffle and James Cable a witness bears him out in this particular. Several witnesses were heard, but Cable's evidence and Ford's statement were the chief evidence.

SAW A SCUFFLE.

James Cable, who was outside of Ruff's house when Sheridan and Ford left it, claims that he saw them scuffling down the road. He went towards them, and Sheridan met him about ten rods from Ford, saying, "Come quick, Jim, I have killed Ford."

The post mortem showed that there were seven knife wounds, five of which were dangerous. The fatal one had cut the pulmonary artery above the heart.

Ford and Sheridan, said the witness, had been friends, and were keeping company with two sisters, the Miss Thorburns.

THE DROUGHT IN INDIA IS CAUSING ANXIETY

London, Aug. 15.—King George, according to the Express, will probably not attend the Delhi Durbar, owing to the unprecedented dry weather which heralds a famine of unexampled severity in India.

CROPLESS AREA.

Simla, British India, Aug 15.—The prolonged drouth is rapidly making Delhi the centre of a huge waterless and cropless area. There is a growing feeling that the great military display planned in connection with the coronation Durbar at Delhi will be impossible under prevailing conditions.

Horse's Leg Swelled

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by Nerviline.

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a five young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore and swollen. I applied Nerviline and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

NERVILINE IS A TRUSTY LINIMENT

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large 25c bottles of Nerviline, five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

A CHAIN OF FOREST FIRES

Halifax, Aug. 15.—Tremedous forest fires are raging on the southwestern shore of Nova Scotia, from Port Clyde, Shelbourne, to within eight miles of the town of Liverpool. The fire has been burning for two or three days, but yesterday and to-day burst out with greater virulence. At Port Clyde 25 buildings were destroyed. The territory between the points mentioned is not all in flames, but there is a continuous chain of fires, which are doing vast damage. The weather has been so dry during the summer that the fire has penetrated two feet into the ground.

It will take an enormous amount of rain to quench the fire, and until the rain does come the conflagration must continue. The Halifax & South western train could not get through to Liverpool, and had to return to Shelbourne.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

A MATTER OF ETIQUETTE

Judge Ruled that Wife Justified in Opening her Husband's Correspondence.

An Austrian judge has ruled that a wife was justified in breaking the law by opening her husband's correspondence, because the letter she opened proved the correctness of her suspicions. In other words, according to this dispenser of justice, the end justified the means. Unfortunately, we are left in doubt as to what would have been the pronouncement had the letter in question proved the suspicion to be unfounded, and yet information on this point would be of far wider interest and importance. In that case, however, it is not probable that the husband would have made the charge against his better half. Altogether an exceptional proceeding, as we began by saying, and yet it is likely to be widely welcomed and quoted as a precedent for a prevalent habit.

Many wives, indeed, will deny that the habit needs any legal sanction. In all good faith they hold that it is a right bestowed upon them by marriage; that a husband's letters, or rather their contents, are part of the worldly goods with which he endows his spouse on their wedding day.

It is, after all, not a question of law or of right, but of private agreement, mostly tacit — at least after more or less argument. The habit is generally established in the golden days of the honeymoon, when the two are one and would have no secrets from each other; when the bridegroom is fondly anxious to let his bride read all that he does not tell her. Sometimes the habit is not established until later in life, when the sons leave home to stand on their own feet at college, or to try the strength of their young wings in the world without. But what there can be of undiminishing interest to a wife in her husband's general correspondence is a puzzle that no man can solve. How many husbands by the way, would have enough curiosity to avail themselves of the privilege of reading their wives' correspondence, or even to ask for it? They are generally quite content with the snatches from it read to them across the breakfast table.

Chinese Puzzles.

Members of the latest Hague peace tribunal are wondering yet whether one of the delegates fr China was having fun with them or really wanted to know when he asked these questions:

"I have listened to your discussion as to what constitutes a state of war Will you learned gentlemen kindly tell me whether you consider a state of war exists when the armies of several foreign countries are landed in another country, march to the capital of that country, climb its walls, enter all its sacred places, and not only kill its inhabitants but loot its palaces and temples?"

While the delegates were considering this question he asked: "What is the situation when one country declares war on another country and the other country won't fight?"

The Bishop Couldn't Swear.

An Eastern bishop decided to take up golf, and as he wished to begin his practice where he was unknown he sought a public links instead of one of the many clubs which would have been joyously opened to him. He provided himself with an outfit and a book of rules, hired a caddie at the links, and proceeded to set up his ball for the first stroke After the usual feinting and limbering process he gave a mighty lunge at the ball and went wildly over the top of it, leaving it reposing on the tee in imperturbable celluloid majesty. "Tut! tut! tut!" exclaimed the bishop, in mild, clerical dismay. "Tut! tut! tut!" Then he tried again, with yet more earnest and vigorous swings, and that time he ploughed a hole in the ground ten inches away from the ball. "Tut! tut! tut!" he reiterated. "Tut! tut! tut!" "Say, mister," warned the caddie nonchalantly, without shifting his gum, "you'll never loin to play golf wid dem words."

PROFESSIONALS BARRED

Students of Cambridge Must Not Take Part With Actresses in Theatricals

In an order issued lately the proctors at Cambridge university have forbidden undergraduates to take part in amateur theatricals with professional actresses. It has long been the custom of the Oxford Amateur Theatrical society to engage the services of professionals for feminine parts. Two years ago Cambridge adopted a similar course and have followed it ever since, but hereafter they will have to abandon it. From now on the dramatic club will have to find some pretty-faced, bright-cheeked undergraduates for the feminine roles. The order is resented, but the proctors are inexorable.

He Knew It.

Manager: "That young woman whom I placed at this counter a year ago already knows more about the business than you do, and I find that I shall have to put her at the head of the department, though I fear it will be rather unpleasant for you to be under her orders."

Clerk: "Oh, no; I am getting used to that. We were married last month."

One Hundred Years Hence.

A somewhat unusual case will shortly engage the attention of the courts. Last year the Republic of Nicafagua sold the entire kinematograph rights in its wars to a well-know New York firm. This firm is now suing the Republic for heavy damages because in a recent Revolution, it is alleged the Government forces, in direct contravention of the agreement, began a battle before the kinematograph apparatus was ready."

FORTIFYING SAMOAN TUNNEL

Italy and Switzerland fortify Simplon Tunnel.

Both Italy and Switzerland are taking measures to fortify the entrances of the Simplon Tunnel, while in the tunnel itself engineers are engaged in constructing mines and strengthening those already in place, in order to be able to blow it up at a moment's notice in the event of war. Near the middle of the tunnel, a few yards from the Swiss frontier, Italian engineers have put in place a double iron door that can resist the rush of an express train travelling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. This iron door is worked by electricity from Iselle, the station at the Italian end of the tunnel, and under ordinary conditions it is hidden in the rocky side of the tunnel. The door is carefully tested once a week. The mines are connected with Brigue and Iselle by electric devices, so that, by the mere pressure of a button, the Simplon Tunnel could be destroyed in a second.

In The Name of Charity.

Nearly all the giddy youth of the neighborhood attended the charity bazaar, and one by one they drifted to a stall where a tiny, shapely, scented, gray kid glove reposed on a satin cushion. Attached to the cushion was a notice written in a delicate feminine hand, which ran:

"The owner of this glove will, at 7:30 this evening, be pleased to kiss any person who purchases a twenty-five cent ticket beforehand."

Tickets were purchased by the score, and at 7:30 a long row of sheepish, not to say doggish, young bloods, assembled outside the stall.

Then, punctual to the moment, old Tom Porson, the local pork-butcher, who weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, and is almost as beautiful as a side of bacon, stepped to the front of the stall.

"Now, young gents," he said, in his best "Buy, buy, buy," tones, "this 'ere glove belongs to me. I boug'it it this morning. Now, I'm ready for you. Come on! Don't be bashful! One at a time!"

But nobody came on.

Pullman Etiquette.

That our system of railroad travel is not perfect is alleged by "An Englishman" in a recent article. "When you travel in England you are master of your time and your baggage," writes this author. Here, the baggage travels several hours behind its owner. But "a Pullman car at night is the most uncivilized thing on the American continent, and one of the most indecent. It quite fascinates my blushes. I sit enthralled as the darky portel strews my seat with other people's belongings, holds a pillow-case in his teeth and squeezes the pillow into it, and hurl sheets and mattresses about, and pulls at chains and sliding-doors and levers and curtains. Personally I have never mastered either the art of the etiquette of a Pullman car. I never know where to put my shoes, and I feel I shall never learn how to take off my trousers while sitting in them.

R. R. Knowles Knew His Congregation

A few weeks ago William Jennings Bryan was lecturing in Galt the home of Robt. E. Knowles, the well known preacher and author. Mr. Bryan was entertained at Knox Manse while in Galt. The attendance at the lecture proved disappointingly small, and the discerning lecturer laid this at the door of the rather large admission fee. As is well known, Galt is the Scotchest town in Canada.

After regaining the manse, a few friends being present, Mr. Bryan turned to his host and asked him why, in his opinion, the audience was so small.

"The thing that spoiled it," replied Mr. Knowles, "was the same thing that disorganized the Democratic party."

"What was that?" enquired the statesman.

"It was the silver question," replied the novelist.

Newspapers in Salonica.

In Salonica, Turkey, there are fifteen newspapers and nine weekly or monthly reviews published, with a total circulation of about 40,000. The newspapers are mostly small two sheet affairs, badly printed on cheap paper. The reading of the newspapers, however, has increased greatly in the last two years and will increase still more when more liberty is given to the press.

Salonica is the meeting-place of the East and West. Nearly all religious in the world have representatives there, and every day of the week is a Sunday to one or other of these religious organizations.

Not So Particular.

——At a dance recently a young gentleman somewhat inferior in social position to most of those present approached an alderman's daughter — "mightily superior" sort — and rather diffidently asked for the favor of a dance.

The girl looked him stonily in the face for a moment, then turned away with the remark:

"I'm sorry but I'm — well, rather particular as to whom I dance with."

"Ah, indeed!" was the quiet retort, "then we differ in that respect. I'm not a bit particular. That was why I asked you!"

Then he left her.

England in 1800.

The British census figures show that at the beginning of this century the population of England and Wales was under nine millions, not very much greater than that of Canada today. In 110 years this population has been quadrupled; a very substantial increase when the smallness of the area is considered, and when account is taken of the large emigration to vaster and more sparsely settled regions.

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Fine New Cars.

Dr. Carmichael has purchased a fine new auto from the Hupmobile Company. It is a four-seated car, and is very handsome. Dr. McClelland has a similar car, having purchased it only a few weeks ago.

Another Blacklister Fined.

At the Police Court yesterday morning, a blacklister was assessed $10, and Hector Davidson, a river driver, who was found drunk was allowed to go as it was his first offence.

Many Attended Regatta.

The regatta at Stoney Lake was largely attended, the Lakefield train and Stoney Lake Navigation Company's steamers had a busy day of it. The events were all very well contested, the whole ending with a dance at night in the pavilion.

The Printers' Picnic.

The printers' picnic on Civic Holiday was as usual a huge success, over 500 having attended. A delightful day was spent at the island, during which a splendid programme of sports was competed for. Too much credit cannot be given the committee who had the picnic in charge, for the very great success which attended their efforts.

Looking for Family.

Chief Thompson received a letter a few days ago from Montreal, enquiring for the family of the late Wm. Blanchard, who resided at Westwood for a time. The letter says that Blanchard had a sister residing in or near Peterborough some years ago. He left some personal property, and his relatives, if he has any, should claim it. Further information may be obtained from Chief Thompson.

A Close Call.

While racing up and down the retaining wall of Inverlea Park on Monday, a little girl slipped and tumbled into the river. She would have assuredly been drowned but for the presence of a gentleman who happened to be near at hand, and plunged into the stream and rescued the child. Parents who permit their children to go into places of such danger are not worthy of the name of parents.

The C.O.F. Excursion.

One of the popular excursions on Civic Holiday was one given by the Catholic Order of Foresters, to Jubilee Point, per steamer Rainbow and palace barge. A pleasant time was spent by everyone and the return trip was made in good time, the boat arriving at the Wolfe street Wharf, about 8.15 o'clock.

Will go to Campbellford.

Rev. Chas. Carpenter, curate of St. John's church received two calls recently—one to Santa Fe, N.M., and the other to Campbellford, Ont. When seen by The Times yesterday Mr. Carpenter had decided to accept the Campbellford call. This will be pleasing news to his many friends in Peterborough, who will be delighted to know that he will not leave the country.

Rural Schools.

We would call the attention of teachers and scholars as well as parents to the fact that The Times Book store has a full line of public school books, including everything required for the pupil. As we manufacture all kinds of dictation books, scribblers, &c., we are in a position to sell cheaper than the cheapest. Call and see for yourselves.

Porter Wanted.

A good steady man wanted as porter. Steady job. Apply at Times' Office for address.

Another Machine to be Installed.

The Times has placed an order for another modern typesetting machine. This will mean a large increase in the amount of news which The Times will be able to give its readers every day. It is our purpose to keep improving the paper until we make it equal to any in the land.

Letters Too Personal.

During the past few days The Times has received a number of letters on political matters for publication. They are mostly of a personal nature and we are therefore obliged, under our rules, to withhold them. We desire the freest and fullest discussion of public questions, consistent with the space which we have at our disposal, but cannot allow the paper to be used for mud-slinging.

Stole From Rob Roy.

Early on Monday morning some evil-disposed person or persons, entered Mr. R. M. Roy's trim little steam launch, the "Rob Roy", and helped themselves to refreshments. Mr. Roy had placed a quantity of provisions on board in order to be ready for an early start to the Stoney Lake regatta yesterday morning, and when he went down in the morning with members of his family and friends, discovered that thieves had paid the boat a visit. This is not the first time a similar thing has happened, and Mr. Roy has placed the matter in the hands of the police. It is to be hoped that if caught, the culprits will be punished.

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

MEXICO FOR THE MEXICANS.

Under New Government English Language to be Eliminated

One cause of the recent uprising in Mexico was found in the extent to which the resources of the country had been exploited by foreigners for the benefit of the foreigners. Under the new government an attempt is apparently to be made to secure a larger share of the profits from these resources for the Mexican people. Among other things railways, which have heretofore been operated largely by men from the United States and Canada, are, if present intentions are carried out, to be operated by natives. As part of this movement a convention of railway men from all parts of Mexico has been called to meet in the City of Mexico next month to devise the most effective plan to abolish the foreign languages on the railroads." When it is remembered that on account of the employment of so many American locomotive engineers and conductors on the National lines and other roads, train orders are given in English, this movement has an ominous look. It is further declared that "the convention will have a political side, and railway men will select their presidential candidate and support him in a body."

Police Rather Than Soldiers.

It has been revaled in the British Parliament how the English avoid the stigma of sending troops to quell rioters. Learning that 500 London policemen had been despatched to Hull to fight off seamen strikers there Keir Hardie asked the Prime Minister by what right such a thing was done, and further asked why the London taxpayers ought to pay the salaries of policemen doing duty in another part of the Kingdom. The answer was a confession. It was to the effect that throughout the British Isles there is a mutual exchange of policemen. Whenever there is a strike on the city affected calls upon one of its neighbors for aid. The Government encourages this and defrays part of the expense. It looks better to send policemen than to send soldiers.

Lord Aberdeen's Saore.

Lord Aberdeen, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and a former Governor-General of Canada, is one of the three or four richest Peers in Great Britain. But he lives unostentatiously and when travelling between London and his Scotch estate he always takes a single berth in an ordinary sleeper. One morning, just as the train was rolling into York, a stranger leaned across a seat back and enquired of Lord Aberdeen:

"May I ask whethre you are Lord Aberdeen?"

"Yes, I am Lord Aberdeen," was the answer.

"You're one of the wealthiest men in England, aren't you?"

"Why," smiled the Peer, I am pretty well off."

"Well, your Lordship," said the stranger, "Permit me to inform you that I slept next to you last night, and, if I had your money and your snore, I'd take a whole car when I wanted to travel at night."

Mohammedanism in the Sudan.

Dr. Karl Kumm, an adventurous missionary explorer, who has lately returned to Johannesburg after a journey across the Sudan from the Niger to the Nile, has created some sensation by a series of lectures on the inreads which Islam is making in the Sudan. He says that a considerable number of Mohammedan students are being sent into the Sudan from Cairo to Islamize the people, who are regarded as the best negro fighting population in the world.

Illustrating his contention that but little is generally known of Sudan affairs Dr. Kumm mentioned the recent liberation of 200,000 slaves in one district alone as the result of the intrusion of European Powers, stating that it was an event which had hitherto not been published.

Dr. Kumm declared that unless counteracting Christianizing influence were forthcoming all over the Sudan Islam must become a great menace to southern as well as to northern Africa.

Gaining Experience.

Before one of the present Bishops was elevated to his see a prominent part of his work was that in connection with the missions, in which Ambulance lessons were held and the members taught to render "first-aid." One day an elderly woman asked him if he could persuade her husband to join the ambulance classes, to keep him out of the public-house.

The reverend gentleman said he would try, and after some trouble he succeeded in persuading the "hubby" in question to join the ambulance class.

Some weeks after the clergyman met the woman, and asked her how her husband liked the classes.

"Oh, he's that keen on it, yer don't know, sir. Why, when there's no class to go to he stays at home and bandages the cat!"

Sabbath Description.

Bishop John L. Nuelsen, in an address in Omaha, said of intolerance: "These intolerant people make me think of young Parson Brownslow. Parson Brownslow, one Sunday morning, was passing a pond when two young skaters went through the ice. The parson, a good swimmer, plunged into the cold, black water promptly, and after a deal of diving and floundering and struggling, he managed to rescue the two boys. He laid their limp forms on the bank side by side and then he began to work their arms vigorously, so as to restore animation, when a deep, reproachful voice cried from the road: "Parson!" He looked up and beheld the frowning visage of Deacon Jones. "Parson," said the deacon, "six days shalt thou labor!"

A Large Mouthful.

A lunge weighing about 7 pounds is trying to swallow a three pound bass, in the river at Omamee the other day, found it had undertaken too great a proposition, and so was strangled in the pond. Mr. Jack Murphy easily captured it and soon found he had a lucky catch by having a fish bass for dessert. The local fishing sports are having fine sport this year.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my head ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair harsh, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many doctors physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inquire today about our special offer.

THE CANADIAN MINT.

One of the Most Interesting Institutions in the Dominion.

The place where money is made or what is perhaps more accurate where it is created has always appealed as most seemingly mysterious things do to the general reader. In Canada the Mint is located in Ottawa. Here are made our gold and silver coins — the real money of the country. The paper medium of exchange is in the hands of the engraving firms and one does not see any trace of it in the Sussex Street establishment.

The Mint is open to visitors after certain formalities have been complied with. The essence of these, with every thing connected with the institution is punctuality.

Unless the workman arrives exactly on time he finds himself locked out. It is necessary for him to telephone in and get a written order, before he is allowed to enter. Prior to the worker beginning his day he must change his clothes, put them in a locker which is locked and doun special garments supplied by the Mint. The employees are not permitted to leave for dinner, therefore each department has a kitchen of its own, which supplies the midday meal to the staff. The metal to be used for the day's work is weighed out in the morning and no employee of the Mint is allowed to leave the building till the weight of the coins made and the material left over tally exactly with the weight of gold and silver handed out in the morning. Aside from all this, each member of the staff is locked in his or her department and is not permitted, even in case of illness to leave without a written permit. Thus, in the Mint chances for dishonesty are reduced to a minimum.

The concluding process of weighing and automatically packing the coins into packages requires the most finely adjusted machinery of all.

In this department is a scale so delicate that it had to be mounted on a concrete pier, sunk in the ground down to bedrock.

This machine automatically weighs the coins, throwing them into three different compartments, to the centre go the perfect ones, those under or overweight are deflected to the other two.

A Rising Financier.

The old man was perched upon a high stool, figuring up the day's sales of dry goods, groceries and hardware, when his son came in with a rush

"Say, pop," exclaimed the young man, "if I can buy a $300 horse for $150 will you take a chattel mortgage on him and help me out with the cash?"

"What kind of a hoss, my son?" enquired the father cautiously.

"Say, four years old, fifteen hands high, weighs a thousand pounds, and sound in wind, limb and bottom."

"That sounds good to me, my son, and I want to do all I can to help you along in the world," and he reached down into the safe for his roll. "How much do you want?"

"A hundred and forty-nine fifty."

The old man gasped and caught hold of the desk.

"What!" he exclaimed.

"A hundred and forty-nine, fifty. I've got half a dollar."

Slowly the old man shoved the roll back into the safe.

"My son," he said softly, "you are wasting time trading hosses. What you ought to do is to go into the loan and trust business."

Cranks and Climate.

Under the title, "An Englishman in America," a writer in the New Age has been writing about things American. His point of view is not always accurate, but he says some interesting things. Among others, in a recent screed on New Thought in America, he condemns many of their "isms," attributing them to "superficial thinking." He says:

There are more "cranks in America than there are in the whole of Europe combined. This is not my opinion; it is a simple fact of arithmetic known to all visitors to America who have given this interesting question any serious consideration. America is the home of the cynic and the sentimentalist, the materialist and the metaphysician, the philosopher and the fanatic. Extremes meet here in society as in the climate. I am convinced that the climate has much to do with all these outbreaks of strange and impossible "isms." The atmosphere being highly electric, imaginative brains become overcharged with thought and an outlet is needed. Mere impressions and whims are mistaken for truth, and the victim begins to write or to preach, to form some small groups and then societies.

Generous London.

A young Spanish gentleman who recently arrived in the metropolis to be trained in the London office of his father's firm, has formed a very flattering opinion of the tradesmen. One day he was requiring a rubber catch for his umbrella, and entered a Bond Street shop for one.

The shopkeeper was very polite, put on the rubber ring, and rolled up the umbrella neatly. "And what am I to pay?" asked the young Spaniard. "Oh, we make no charge for that!" was the reply.

A day or two later, and again in Bond Street, a button had come off one of his boots, so he promptly went into a shop and had a new button fixed. For this the shopman also refused payment.

How Money Wastes in Circulation.

Money, both gold and silver, wears out at a startling rate. It is reckoned that there is usually a hundred million pounds in gold coin in England, a very large proportion of which is locked in the strong rooms of banks. Yet of that which is in active circulation the wastage is so great that during every twelve months seventy thousand pounds ($350,000) worth of gold and silver are rubbed off into fine dust.

WILL CARRY FURTHER THAN MAN CAN SEE.

New Gun With Range of 15 Miles to be Mounted in Battleship Turrets.

A gun that will carry its projectile clear out of sight is the style that is to be placed in the turrets of the new battleship of the New York type. One of these guns has been made at the Washington factory and a dozen others are to follow as rapidly as the great lathes can turn them out. The gun has been tried out at the proving ground and has shown that it is without doubt the most powerful naval weapon in the world. With a muzzle velocity of 2400 feet a second, the shell will have range of about 14 or 15 miles; consequently, it will land far beyond the horizon at extreme elevations. It might hit a ship that the gunners could not see; a friend or an enemy, perhaps. Hence, the ordonance officers will be unusually careful when ships mounting these great guns go out for target practice.

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS?

What becomes of old boots and shoes has hitherto been almost as puzzling a problem as what becomes of all the pins. The solution, however, is given in a trade journal. "Old boots and shoes of leather," the journal says, "are cut up into small pieces, and then are put for two days into chloride of sulfur, the effect of which is to make the leather very hard and brittle. When this is fully effected the material is withdrawn from the action of the chloride of sulfur, washed with water, dried and ground to powder. It is then mixed with some substance that will cause it to adhere together, such as shellac or other resinous material, or even a good glue, and a thick solution of strong gum. It is afterward pressed into moulds to form combs, buttons and a variety of other useful articles.

"Prussiate of potash is also made out of old leather heated with pearlash and old iron hoops in a large pot. The nitrogen and carbon form cyanogen, and then unite with the iron and potassium. The soluble portions are dissolved out, and the resulting salt, added to one of iron, produces the well-known Prussian blue, either for dyeing purposes or for use as a pigment."

FEED THE BRUTE

Are Man's Affections Ruled By His Stomach? Preacher Says "Yes"

Brides must learn to bake if they expect to make their husbands happy, says Rev. John L. Belford, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of the Nativity of Brooklyn, who explains his views this way:

"When a young man vows to love and cherish for better or for worse he never dreams that she will forget the salt in cooking or bake bread that will be soggy in the center and armor plated on the outside.

"It is all right to let looks and dancing and clever talking have a share in the attractions that lea a man to the jewelry store for a ring, but he finds her beauty is somewhat changed without the usual makeup, that dancing is a poor substitute for lunch, and, as for talking, there will come a time when he will set a premium on an hour of perfect quiet."

Jonah on the Run.

A few months ago a Methodist preacher delivered a discourse on "Jonah" at La Center, Ky., in which he is reported to have said: "When Jonah left that fish he hit the ground a-runnin' and started full tilt for Nineveh. One of the sisters looked out of her window and saw a cloud of dust down the road, and after looking intently, said to her husband: 'I believe in my soul, yonder comes Brother Jonah.' She went to the door and hollered, 'Good mornin'.'

"'Good mornin', answered Jonah, without turning his head.

"'Where you goin' so fast, Brother Jonah?'

"'Goin' to Nineveh,' he replied.

"'Well, stop and take dinner with us.'

"'Ain't got time. Three days late now.'

"'Oh, come in and get your dinner, Brother Jonah. We've got fish for dinner.'

"'Don't talk to me about fish,' said Brother Jonah.

"'Well, come in and have a drink of water.'

"'Don't talk to me about water' — and on he went a-clipping toward Nineveh."

Are You Bashful?

Bashful people invariably sit with their toes turned in. Why this should be it is undoubtedly difficult to explain, but there is no doubt about the fact. If the bashfulness runs to great embarrassment, one foot, with the toes still turned in, seeks the consoling influence of the other and poises itself on the ankle of the other foot. If the bashfulness and embarrassment are noticed when the individual is standing, one foot is sure to be placed behind the other and to be lifted up at frequent intervals, while as the embarrassment increases the raised foot rubs up and down the calf of the leg which supports the body.

Feminine Indorsement

She advanced to the paying teller's window, and, handing in a check for $50, stated that it was a birthday present from her husband and asked for payment. The teller informed her that she must first indorse it.

"I don't know what you mean," she said hesitatingly.

"Why, you see," he explained, "you must write your name on the back, so that when we return the check to your husband, he will know we have paid you the money."

"O, is that all?" she said, relieved. One minute elapsed.

Then the indorsement: "Many thanks, dear, I've got the money. Your loving wife, Evelyn."

Feels Like a New Woman

YEARS OF ILL HEALTH CURED

"Like many another woman," writes Mrs. J. H. Hilliard, of Ashland, N. Y., "continued weakness caused by poor stomach and constipation led me to believe I would always be sick. It was Mrs. Ryan, my neighbor, who advised me to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and it was the means of teaching me 'It is never too late to mend.' I am rather a small woman, always pale, except when my skin became a muddy yellow. I never had much of an appetite because my digestion was never very good and still worse my system was seldom regular. Mrs. Ryan had become healthy and well with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and kept telling me that they would fix my system so it would work well too. Certainly Dr. Hamilton's Pills must have made right all that was wrong, because I weigh ten pounds more than ever before and feel fine. If you could see my rosy color, and watch how quickly I do my housework, I am sure you would think just as much of Dr. Hamilton's Pills as I do. They are a real fine medicine for woman and like as not would do a man just as much good too."

There is no remedy for general use in the home to make you well when sick, to keep you from getting sick—no medicine with half the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—see you get nothing else, sold in 25c yellow boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

STREET BOY VIOLINIST MAY BECOME MASTER

David Paget, a London street-boy violinist, has fallen in the way of good fortune. Paget, who is only fourteen years of age, earned a livelihood by playing outside the doors of theatres. Recently he came into prominence by winning first prize in a competition organized among street musicians. Subsequently he secured a position in one of the great London theatres, and then influential people interested themselves in him. On the occasion of the recent visit of Emperor William of Germany to London, through the influence of the wife of a Westminster magistrate, Paget was permitted to play before His Majesty.

The boy's achievements, chronicled in the newspapers, caught the eye of Kubelik, the famous Bohemian violinist, who had just arrived in London, and the famous artist asked that the boy should be presented to him.

To demonstrate his abilities, the lad played the intermezzo from "Cavalleria, Rusticana" so effectively that Kubelik exclaimed: "Bravo, bravo!" Then, handling the boy's poor instrument Kubelik remarked that he must have a proper violin.

First the virtuoso handed to Paget the Emperor violin which is claimed to be the most perfect specimen of the workmanship of Stradivarius, and upon this instrument the boy, at Kubelik's request, gave a further demonstration of his powers. At the end of the performance Kubelik said to Paget, "You must let me give you a violin," and the boy, with eyes filled with tears, nodded his acceptance of the offer.

The little party went to a violin shop and after trying one or two instruments Kubelik selected for his protege one with a strong and beautiful tone, upon which the youth played the intermezzo once again, and again elicited the praises of Kubelik.

Instructions were given that a good supply of requisites should be provided for Paget, and Kubelik ordered that there should be attached to the case a plate bearing the inscription:

"To David Paget, with best wishes for his promising future, from Jan Kubelik, May 25, 1911."

THE DISAPPOINTED PERSON.

The disappointed person may be old or young and of either sex, but in each and every case he or she is an uncomfortable companion. We are all in agreement on that point, yet we are very apt to lose sight of the important fact that we are all liable to fall into the same mental condition. A cherished desire remains unrealized or a plan fails, we feel angry with fate or circumstances, and we refuse to be comforted. When we are talking of somebody else, we like to recall Napoleon saying that we never know when we are beaten, but when our own turn comes the case is different. There is another fact which has its bearing on this question of disappointment; it is that we human beings like to be regarded as martyrs and to attract to ourselves the sympathy of our fellows. Now, if we remain cheerful and spring up quickly after receiving this knockdown blow, how can we expect the sympathy of other people? We may not be conscious of this, but it is true, notwithstanding.

Bohemian Summer Resorts.

According to the latest statistics about $40,045,000 is expended each year by visitors from foreign countries who take the "cure" at the natural mineral spring resorts in western Bohemia, along the Erzebirge (Ore Mountains.)

This does not include the sum spent by foreign transient visitors who stop for less than eight days or by those from the various crown lands. The grand total is at less than $45,000,000 to -50,000,000.

Some idea of the volume of business transacted at the great Bohemian spas may be deduced from the fact that the railroad office in Marienbad, which has a resident population of 6,279, receives from outbound passengers for transportation tickets alone, exclusive of baggage receipts, -400,000 annually.

The post office in the same city turns over to the government after payment of all expenses a net profit of a like amount. These figures can be multiplied by three of Carlsbad. The three resorts depending on their natural mineral springs for cure purposes (Carlsbad, Marienbad and Franzenbad) pay $912,500 annually in direct taxes exclusive of the special assessments.

The Personality of Thackeray

The most notable thing about Thackeray, was his own unique personality. He had a noble physique and a striking appearance. He had hosts of personal friends — among them both Carlyle and Tennyson — and he had no enemies in spite o this penchant for satire and even for burlesque. His visit to America on a lecture tour made a favorable impression on the cultured classes on this continent, who have ever since been his readers and admirers. His versatility is shown by the fact that he combined in himself the roles of novelist, poet, historian, satirist, and cartoonist, and that he was equal to all of them.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER
You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 187 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY AUGUST 15 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31,620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles. whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

DEATH OF FENIAN RECALLS OUTRAGE.

Joe Casey, Center of a Gun Powder Plot, Passes Away in Paris.

Irishmen all over the world have heard of the Clerkenwell explosion that formed the climax of the Fenian outrages of 1867 in London. The story is recalled by the death in Paris of Joe Casey, who was a star actor in the terrible drama.

He and a fellow-Fenian named Burke were locked up in Clerkenwell prison, but the Fenians determined to liberate them. A barrel of gunpowder was placed against the wall of the jail by Michael Barrett, aided by Casey's two brothers, Pat and Andrew.

They planned to blow a hole in the wall at the time the prisoners were exercising and then help the pair to escape in the confusion. But the authorities smelled trouble and shifted the exercise to an inner yard.

Bang went the powder just before 4 in the afternoon, killing six bystanders outright and fatally injuring 11 others, while no less than 102 lost eyes or limbs. It cost $100,000 to repair the surrounding property.

A few weeks later Michael Barrett was denounced by another prisoner named Mullany, arrested and hanged. The Caseys got clear away to France under the name of Potter. Joe Casey and Burke were acquitted at their trial, and Joe joined his brothers in the French capital. They all fought for France in the seige of Paris in 1870 and Joe became almost as Parisian as a Frenchman.

SAFETY ON INDIAN RAILWAYS.

Immunity From Accidents Compares Favourably With English Railways.

Immunity from accidents is the first thing that strikes the reader of the annual statistics of Indian railways just published. They give the number of passengers killed from causes beyond their own control as 0.01 per million of passengers travelling, or an average of 1 in 4,478.28 millions of miles travelled, reassuring figures enough for even the most timid. During 1910 forty people were killed by accidents to trains, rolling-stock, or the permanent way, while 292 were injured. Accidents due to other causes such as carelessness on the part of the travellers, trespassing or the like, swelled the totals of killed and injured to 1,257 and 1,664 respectively. The proportion of killed and injured is striking, but it is rendered more so on looking at the figures which apply to the United Kingdom, where we find that last year there were totals of 1,036 killed and 28,384 injured over a mileage of 23,380. India, with a length of track 10,000 miles more than the United Kingdom can, therefore, legitimately boast of comparative freedom from accident.

A Grand Store.

A Georgia woman who moved to Philadelphia found she could not be contented without the colored mammy who had been her servant for many years. She sent for old mammy, and the servant arrived in due season. It so happened that the Georgia woman had to leave town the very day mammy arrived. Before departing she had just time to explain to mammy the modern conveniences with which her apartment was furnished. The gas stove was the contrivance which interested the colored woman most. After the mistress of the household had lighted the oven, the broiler and the other burners and felt certain the old servant understood its operations, the mistress hurried for her train.

She was absent two weeks and one of her first questions to mammy was how she had worried along.

"De fines' ever," was the reply. "And dat air gas stove — oh my! Why, do you know, Miss Fo'eese, dat fire ain't gon out yit."

Men Shipped to the "Soo."

Mr. Geo. J. Chalmers shipped 25 men to the Soo this week, and will make another shipment this evening.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

FALSE IDEALS

"Graball Too Often the Height of Ambition.

False ideals of happiness haunt the ways of men and lead them on to danger and destruction through the siren song of fantasy. One marks his goal of wealth. He has enough now for all the purposes of refined living; but he wants that extra ,that margin, by which enough may be broadened out into excess, and refinement may be made to include frantic luxury and insolent ostentation. "When I have so much," the [illegible] To [illegible] he sets a hundred thousand pounds, he wants two, if two, three; and so [illegible] which then, when compassed, shall positively be the term and boundary of his desires. But the million spreads out and rolls on, as the hundred thousand had done before it.

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by Nerviline.

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore and swollen. I applied Nerviline and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

NERVILINE IS A TRUSTY LINIMENT

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large 25c bottles of Nerviline, five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Lost Their Fish.

A couple of local disciples of Izaak Walton went up the canal on a fishing jaunt on Saturday and succeeded in catching a nice string of bass. They were on foot and fished from the piers and bank of the waterway. A man approached in a canoe and the two who were better at catching fish than they were at managing a canoe asked to be taken across the stream. They accordingly placed their fish in the boat and proceeded to get in themselves, when by some means the canoe was upset and all three were struggling in the water. They finally

VOL XXXIV NO 189 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY AUGUST 17 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

BRITAIN IN IMMINENT DANGER OF STARVATION DUE TO GIGANTIC STRIKE

LABOR TROUBLES IN ALL PARTS MAY BE AUGMENTED BY A GENERAL WALKOUT OF RAILWAY EMPLOYES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Big Ocean Liners Unable to Dock—Rioting Took Place in Many Centres—Clashes With Police are Numerous.

London, Aug. 16.—There was little, if any, abatement of the strike fever that has spread through Great Britain, to-day. At some points such as the London docks, conditions continued to improve, but this was offset by outbreaks elsewhere.

With the exception of at Liverpool, where there was rioting nearly all last night, the men generally are orderly and beyond picketing and peacefully inducing men to join the unions did not interfere with those desiring to work.

The fighting at Liverpool last night which resulted in the death of two rioters, who were shot by Hussars in defending five prison vans occupied by riot prisoners whom the mob attempted unsuccessfully to release, has not tended thus far to improve the situation, except as it has helped, to keep the peaceably disposed outside the strike area. This enabled the police to more easily handle those who were causing the trouble.

This was particularly noticeable this morning when the streets were quiet the rioters having retired for a much needed rest after the night's battle and also probably to keep out of the way of the strong forces opposed to them, during daylight. The police and soldiers, however, prepared for a renewal of hostilities when night fell.

TEAMS UNMOLESTED TO-DAY.

To-day teams were busy removing goods from the railway stations to business houses. Along the docks, however, work was at a standstill, and the men showed an ugly spirit. The continued rioting on the Mersey port was not calculated to restore confidence elsewhere, and men at other ports were refusing to discharge steamers diverted from Liverpool. Glasgow, for example, which had just disposed of a street railway strike, now has a dock strike as a result of the men declining to remove a cargo of fruit from a steamer sent from the Mersey.

Another ominous sign was the choice by the leaders of the railway workers of Liverpool as the city from which to direct the threatened general strike on the railways which was declared last night by the executives of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, the Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, and the General Railway Workers' Union to become effective within 24 hours unless in the interim the companies express a willingness to negotiate for a settlement of grievances.

Heretofore the railway strikers have been managed usually from London or some central point in the north. The threat to tie up all the railway lines in the United Kingdom caused more uneasiness than all the other strike movements combined, for it was known that if the effort was successful it would completely cut off the food supply from the greater part of the country. The Government exerted every influence to avert such a calamity.

WORKING FOR CONCILIATION.

This forenoon, Sydney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, conferred with the managers of all the railroad lines and in the afternoon he met the leaders of the employes in the hope of bringing about a joint conference. The managers had insisted upon adhering to the system of conciliation boards with which the men are dissatisfied. An arrangement through which the boards would deal more expeditiously with the grievances of the workers might lead to a settlement it was thought, and the members of the Board of Trade worked along these lines.

Should the railway strike take place the managers hope to maintain a partial service on all the lines and for months have been preparing for such an eventuality. They have already made up time tables for a curtailed service with the aid o nonunion workers. The unions have about 170,000 members. The residents of many of the poorer districts already are suffering from prolonged idleness, and in some sections of London and the other large cities where the husbands and wives equally contribute to the support of their homes both are on strike and dependant upon charity for food.

ALL TRADE DISLOCATED.

The trade of Manchester has been completely dislocated by the strike in the transport service. To-day the signalmen joined the strikers, preventing the movement of trains, so even if the teamsters were at work there would be nothing for them to transport.

The striking freight handlers at Birmingham returned to work to-day There appeared to be no danger of a resumption of the dock strike at London. The men were slowly returning to their places and it was expected that normal conditions would prevail to-morrow. Smaller and spasmodic strikes which have broken out in every variety of industry throughout the country have caused the greatest suffering as the poorest class is engaged in these employments and a few days without work means that they must go hungry.

"LABOR GONE MAD."

London, Aug. 16.—All this morning's papers regard the labor crisis as most alarming. The Times heads a leader "Labor agitation gone mad" and says:

"The situation seems to be going hopelessly from bad to worse. The monstrous proposal of a general railway strike is clearly designed to force the companies to recognize the unions, and for this the trades unionists in their crazy fanaticism are prepared to starve the whole population and ruin the country, and leave it defenceless to the world."

WILL REPRESS THE RIOTING

Course of Rigorous Action Decided on by Cabinet, Says Cable Despatch.

London, Aug. 16.—It is stated on highest authority to-night that the Cabinet has decided upon a course of rigorous repression in the event of further rioting. The Home Office, upon the same authority, is said to be despatching orders to this effect to all cities where strikes are in progress.

It has also been practically determined that the Government will temporarily operate the railways if such a course becomes necessary.

A brigade of infantry has been recalled from the manoeuvres and will be stationed at Aldershot ready for any emergency. Officials of the railway companies announced to-day that the Government promised them ample protection in the event of a strike.

The action of the Government is generally taken to mean that all efforts to prevent the most widespread labor revolt have failed, and that the struggle between the workers and their employers will soon be on in all parts of Great Britain.

CIVIL SERVANT SUES BOURASSA

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The St. Hyacinthe political duel of Sunday with its acrimony and verbal extravagance is not without after effects. Alphonse Gervias, K.C., a civil servant of St. Hyacinthe, has brought suit for $350 against Henri Bourassa, alleging insulting remarks. He avers Bourassa referred to him as having been hired by the Liberals to intercept the proceedings.

DROPPED REVOLVER AND WOMAN WAS SHOT DEAD.

Peculiar Accident in New York—The Victim Was Selling Papers.

New York, Aug. 16.—According to witnesses a charge of carrying a concealed weapon is the severest that can be lodged against James Callen Henderson, a lad from San Antonio, Texas, whose revolver shot a woman dead when he dropped it last night on Park Row. Henderson, in jail today awaiting arraignment, showed the most anxiety regarding how the occurrence would be viewed at home To his mother he sent the following telegram:

"Dear Mama,—I have, please remember, unintentionally shot a news woman. Don't get excited."

Henderson who is sixteen years old said he had been saving his money for months to enable him to spend his vacation in New York. "I went over to the woman," he said, "to buy a paper. I was fishing in the side pocket of my coat for a cent and in drawing my hand out, I pulled the revolver out. I tried to catch it, but it fell to the sidewalk and went off."

Mrs. Rose Maloboode, who sells papers at the Brooklyn Bridge entrance received the bullet and died in a few minutes.

FEARS THIRD PARTY MAY HAVE BALANCE OF POWER

London, Aug. 16.—The London Times describing the present campaign in Canada as the keenest since 1891, says it is due chiefly to the reciprocity issue, but also partly to religious sentiment. It says that for the first time in Dominion politics a third party has been entered. This party is led by Henri Bourassa, a former Laurierite, and Mr. Monk, a former Bordenite, and has for its simple objective the weaking of Laurier's power in his own Province. It seems to have no opinion on the question of the day, as Bourassa himself approaches reciprocity with an ambiguity worthy of the darkest of ages. His ruling desire is to recall attention to what he describes as Laurier subservience to Imperialist ideas. Observers in this country may perhaps be allowed to hope that Canadian politics will not reach conditions wherein the balance of power between the two chief parties will be held by a minor sectional party.

ANOTHER TORY VIEW.

The Morning Post eulogizing Borden's imperialistic ideas says it is strange that as the high destiny of the British Empire develops it is necessary to guard the freedom of the peoples who repose under the sway and under the flag of Britain. Canada it says, is rapidly developing into a national unit, its railways and canals linking the east and west.

Canada is learning to work up her raw material into the finished article, and is achieving fiscal independence and doing all this under the shadow of Imperial power by virtue of her Imperial connection. It is against the disappearance of these that Mr. Borden leads his forces with the united power of Canadian nationalism and Imperialism behind him. On the other hand Sir Wilfrid Laurier has the advantage of the great enormous vested interests with which the government has surrounded itself, and it would be a mistake to underate his power. Laurier is a skilful politician, and has great resources but he is faced with ideals and forces truly formidable, the power of united ideals, Canadian nationhood and Imperial ties.

HON. MR. STRATTON HELD BIG MEETING IN SMITH

The second meeting held by Hon. J. R. Stratton, took place in the Temperance Hall, Communication Road, Smith, on Tuesday evening.

The chair was occupied by Mr. T. H. Graham, reeve of the township, who delivered a short address. He was followed by Mr. John Riddell, of South Monaghan, who now resides in Peterborough, who told why he favored reciprocity.

Hon. Mr. Stratton dealt with the question of the action of the Opposition in Parliament with regard to the Pact, and explained the agreement, showing the advantages it would bring to all classes of the community. He showed how it would not injuriously affect, but on the other hand would benefit the manufacturer that it would give greater employment to working men, supplying him with more constant work and better wages, that it would not increase the cost of supplies for his table, and that it would give a wider market to the producer, who would have three markets instead of two.

After thoroughly explaining the agreement, Mr. Stratton took up the question of Mr. Burnham's underground Methods and pointed out what they might expect. He showed that the Ne Temere was a matter that came under the jurisdiction of the Provinces, and that Mr. Whitney and Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Thompson had the power to legislate in the matter if they so desired, but that it was outside the jurisdiction of the House of Commons, and it was only because the Legislature of Ontario failed to act that they were attempting to blame the Government of the Dominion. Mr. Stratton pointed out how Mr. Taylor, Conservative member of Parliament sought, during the past session, to embarrass the Government by demanding that the Government enact legislation to make nugatory the decree, and the speaker showed that the Minister of Justice in reply, pointed out that it was a matter that came within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Government, and that the subject of the solemnization of marriage was still within the exclusive authority of the different legislatures.

The meeting closed with cheers for the King, the chairman and the candidate.

MAY PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW

London, Aug. 16.—The railway men at various centres to-day notified their superiors of their determination not to handle trains employed in conveying soldiers and police through the strike areas.

A report was current this afternoon that the Government was likely to respond to this action of the men, with a proclamation of martial law on all railways and replacing the strikers with men from the Royal Engineers Army Service Corps.

A CHURCH RAFFLE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Will The Times kindly explain why the Roman Catholic Church is permitted to conduct raffles and lotteries at their picnics and other church functions and a poor man or woman who needs money to keep them from starvation, are denied this privilege? I have a neighbor who is ill, and in want. It was suggested that an article which he possessed, and for which he had no use, be raffled. On enquiry, we learned that a raffle was against the law, and the plan was accordingly abandoned. Surely if it is unlawful and wicked for a poor sick man to take this means of providing food for himself and young family, it is no less sinful for a church to do so. There certainly appears to be one law for the poor and another for those who are supposed to be as beacon lights in the world.

To The Times we all now look for light. Turn it on in full force, and let the dark and cankerous spots be exposed.

Equal Rights.

OUR BIG SEWER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that nothing is being done to put a stop to the pollution of the Otonabee River by the city. The river below the Little Lake is nothing but a big sewer. The water is offensive and unfit for any purpose whatever. It is almost unfit to sail on.

It is time that drastic measures were adopted to compel the city authorities to make other arrangements for the disposal of their sewage than dumping it into the river.

I hope the Times will take this matter up in the interests not only of those who live on the banks of the river, but also on account of the people of the city itself, who use the river for pleasure.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am,

Citizen.

Arctic Explorer Is Given Up for Lost

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—A special from Dawson City says that Robert Service, the author, who has arrived there from Fort McPherson, reported that Hubert Darrell, an Arctic explorer, has been missing from Baillee Island, east of the mouth of the Mackenzie River, since last October. He is given up as lost by the traders in that vicinity.

MADE DRINK WHISKEY WANTS $55,000 DAMAGES

Kansas Cityi, Mo., Aug. 16.—Because they say they were forced to drink whiskey at the point of a loaded revolver, Harry J. Begait and J. Laughlin have brought suit against the Missouri Pacific Railway Company for $55,000. They allege that on November 1, 1910, while waiting for a train at Lake City, Mo., the station agent and a porter commanded them to drink some whiskey, and enforced the command with a revolver.

Laughlin, who declares himself a Sunday school teacher, says he never touched whiskey before, and the liquor intoxicated him.

MR. KERR'S CAMPAIGN.

Held Public Meeting in Apsley on Monday Evening.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, the Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, held a public meeting in Apsley on Monday evening, which was largely attended. The campaign is warming up in the East, and promises to become quite lively before polling day.

Addresses were delivered by Mr. Kerr, who made a vigorous speech in favor of reciprocity. Mr. Richardson of Havelock, also spoke, as also did Mr. Ed. Hawthorne, Liberal candidate for the Ontario Legislature.

LOCAL HORSES WINNERS.

Cobourg Horse Show Prizes That Come to Peterborough.

In the runabout class at the Cobourg Horse Show, with eight entries, first prize went to Hon. J. R. Stratton's "Midget" driven by Mr. Breen. Midget is a wonder. When she is in the show ring and going, she is not the same mare she looks on the street. She gets away quickly and very fast.

In the ladies' single turnout "Perfect Dream," driven by Mrs. Ardiel, with the good looking William Hopper as footman, carried off first prize. This year at the Spring Horse Show, "Perfect Dream" has been first at Toronto, first at Ottawa, first at Montreal and now first at Cobourg. This turnout is recognized as being the best ladies' turnout in Canada, and as a matter of fact, harness was never placed on a more perfect lady's mare than "Perfect Dream." Nothing frightens her. Anyone who can hold reins can drive and for a lady's mare none with more perfect action or more ease in driving, was ever harnessed.

Other Peterborough owners made a splendid showing at Cobourg. Mr. Wm. Reid's entry took third place in the district harness class. In the runabout class, won by Mr. Stratton's "Midget," "Dr. Raymond," owned by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, of Peterborough, was third, while in the pony class, "Gladiken" owned by Gladys Graham, of Peterborough, carried off a third prize.

If so, remember these facts—Zam-Buk is by far the most widely used balm in Canada! Why has it become so popular? Because it heals sores, cures skin diseases, and does what is claimed for it. Why not let it heal YOUR sore?

THREE-MONTHS BABY WEIGHS 150 POUNDS.

His Name is Flip-Flop and He is a Walrus in a Zoo.

There is in the New York Zoo an interesting specimen of the Atlantic walrus which was caught in Kane Basin. He is yet a baby only six months old, and for homeliness and comical facial expression he is not to be equalled. For every one but his keeper he has nothing but hatred; but for him he will go anywhere and do anything. His affections began to show itself by his flopping in his awkward way after his keeper every time he moved. For this the keeper called him Flip-flop, and this has been shortened to Flip.

The keeper was anxious to weigh him one day. This would have been something of an undertaking under the circumstances as the weighing machine was some distance away. But the gate was opened, the keeper went out, saying: "Come on, Flip," and out came the young walrus, and followed him not only to the scales, but on the scales, where, by giving him one or two clams, he was kept long enough to be weighed.

Flip weighed at the time of his capture 150 pounds. Since then he has gained enormously, as he has a huge appetite He eats over 30 pounds of fish daily — three meals a day, — in the shape of clams, codfish and butterfish, from which all the bones are first carefully removed. He always seems to be ravenously hungry and eats greedily, with many growls, and flips and sighs.

BURGLAR ALARMS

Every renter has his own idea of what constitutes a desirable neibourhood,' said the renting agent. "A tenant hung back from signing a lease for six hours the other day because I could not tell him whether anybody in the block was taking the fresh-air cure. He was so insistent that I finally made inquiry and learned from the janitor at No. 225 that a man on the third floor of his building sleeps every night with his head stuck out of the window, and then the tenant signed the lease.

"His precaution was due to fear of burglars. He has learned, he says, that the best burglar alarm ever invented is the fresh-air cure. Not even the doctors who advise it know so well as the second-story men how many people sleep with their heads out of the window. They knew because the habit interferes with their business. Whole blocks that used to be profitable hunting grounds for burglars are now so much waste space because two or three persons in the block go to bed with the upper half of the body protruding beyond the window sill. Outdoor sleepers may sleep comfortably, but they sleep lightly. The second-story man cannot make a noise half a block away without waking them and giving the alarm."

PROVED HIS POINT

The reason he wouldn't call up the Connecticut town that night to learn how Aunt Lucinda was, the man said, was because Bill's wife was pretty sure to come to the telephone, and he couldn't stand it to talk to Bill's wife. Wait till morning and he would call Bill up at the office and find out.

"What is the matter with Bill's wife?" asked Aunt Lucinda's New York niece.

"She's a fool," said the man, "especially over the long distance telephone. I telephoned up there once. Bill's wife answered. It cost me $4 for the three-minute conversation, and the only thing I could get out of Bill's wife was, "Hello, hello. Who is this, please?"

"At the very last second she understood and said, 'Oh, it is you, is it?' I call that pretty expensive identification. But I will say this for Bill's wife. She is no worse than other women. The most level-headed of them get flighty when suddenly confronted with a long distance telephone message."

The woman's defense of her sex was cut short by a call to the telephone. She stepped into the hall and closed the door.

"Hello," she said. "Hello. Who is this, please. What's that? Yes, that is the right number. Who are you, please? What's that? I can't make it out."

Seconds ticked away and still she reiterated, "Hello, hello. Who are you, please?" Finally, in desperation the man took the receiver from her hand. He talked for five or ten seconds and then said, "Good-bye."

"That was Bill," he said. "He wanted to tell me something about Aunt Lucinda, but time was up and he didn't get a chance."

JIM'S WIFE.

After the report had been current for a week that Jim's wife, whom Jim had met and married and was still secluding in Chicago, was ugly as sin, a friend who had Jim's interests at heart ran down the author of the rumor with the intention of making her retract.

"How do you know she is ugly?" he asked. "Have you ever seen her?"

"No," said the experienced gossip, "I never have, neither have I seen her picture, nor anybody who has seen either her or her picture, but I know she is ugly, because I had it straight from a person who lives in Chicago that when she ordered a dozen pictures taken just a while before the wedding the photographer made her pay in advance, and a photographer never does that unless the subject is so ugly that she is apt to be discouraged when she sees the pictures and refuses to pay for them on the ground that he hasn't done good work. If you don't believe me ask any photographer."

But Jim's champion let the matter drop.

Such is Fame

It was a Bostonian, according to Rollin Lynde Hart, in an article called "Funny Boston," in the Metropolitan Magazine, who enlivened the Longfellow centenary by blurting, "Say, that guy makes me sick! He'd never 'a' been heard of if he hadn't married Alice Roosevelt."

Ill Health Its Cause

SLUGGISHNESS OF LIVER AND BOWELS.

It took me a long time to learn, and big doctors' bills in the bargain, writes Mr. Ogilby, of Winnipeg, that the disturbance of my system was due simply to liver and bowel inactivity. A sleepiness and languor extinguished my old time ambition. I fear irritability of temper added little to the comfort of my family, yet the headaches, general misery and melancholy forebodings that weighed me down ought to be considered. Tonics, electric treatment and mineral waters in turn failing to cure me, the advertising of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and the testimonials supporting the claim of great medicinal virtue induced me to try them. The result of even the first box made clear that my own body was making its own poison, that by driving it from the system and removing the cause which undoubtedly resided in the liver and bowels, by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, my health would be as good as ever.

It seems certain to me that more than half the sickness we see about us is caused by carelessness in keeping the bowels open and the liver active. Dr. Hamilton's Pills I found do both, and do it better than other remedies. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO LAUGH

Fill the Home with Merry Laughter of Your Children.

Encourage your children to laugh. This may be hard sometimes for children do giggle and simper and shriek with laughter when many grownups can't find a single thing to laugh about, and many and many a time, the laughter of children is shrill [illegible] one's nerves, if one [illegible] oneself to have nerves; but encourage the little ones to laugh any way.

Doctors say that good hearty laughter loosens up the nerve tensions more effectively and desirably than anything inthe world; if laughter is suppressed because, perchance, you don't see anything to laugh about, little by little the nerves grow taut, little faces correspondingly set, and perhaps a long train of nervous ills and misery set in motion.

Let them laugh — make them laugh. It is childhood's birthright.

"LIFE'S LULLABY"

Man is a Hypocrite from Birth to Death.

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contrarines and misunderstandings by the balance of his species. In his infancy he is an angel, in his boyhood he is a devil, in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a damn fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he raises a small cheque he is a thief and then the law raises the devil with him, if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and he has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest but considerd smart; if he is in politics you place him as he is, an undesirable citizen; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner and damned; if he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is stingy and a tight wad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out, they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him, if he lives to a ripe old age he is simply in the way and living to save funeral expenses. This life is a funny road, but we all like to travel it just the same

SHACKLETON'S EMPHATIC STYLE

The great explorer not always choice in his Words.

When Sir Ernest Shackleton was in the depths of the Antarctic regions, on his trip toward the South Pole, he kept a diary describing the adventures he had every day, the kind of country he traversed, the weather, and all the details of the journey. He wrote his notes in a free and emphatic style, using the adjectives and phrases which seemed best suited to impress his meaning on those who might read the volume at a later time.

After he had just missed reaching the pole and had returned to civilization as the man who had gone "farthest south," he was asked to print a book about his experiences. He hurriedly edited his diary and turned it over to the publishers. A few days after the book appeared in the shops he began to get letters from religious folks, upbraiding him for a sentence he had used in describing a certain stretch of country over which he had traveled.

Shackleton looked it up and found he had not edited out all the emphatic language he had used in the original. The sentence, to which objection had been made, read as follows: "The surface of this section plays hell with the feet."

Prince Arthur as Footman.

Prince Arthur of Connaught who will probaly come out to Canada with his father, or "young Arthur," as he is usually known about the Court and to his intimate friends, was once stationed at Aldershot, where some engagement had prevented him from changing into the prescribed uniform before going to a State ball.

Consequently he turned up in a suit of ordinary dress-clothes. One of the ladies — she is fairly well known in society — was departing, when she saw what she took to be one of the Court footmen, and ordered him, in none too polite terms, to find her carriage for her.

His Royal Highness fell into the spirit of the joke, and promptly did as he was told. The lady's carriage was summond, when, to his utter astonishment, she pressed half a sovereign into his palm, remarking, "I know I am quite wrong in doing this, but don't say a word about it; I hope you will shortly improve your position!"

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER
You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Wealth

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realized within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

One Hundred Dollars is enough to insure ease and comfort. Why not inquire today about our special offer.

"INSOLENCE NICOTINA."

A New League Been Organized To Abate Public Smoking.

The "Non-Smokers' Protective League" has been organized with the avowed purpose of abating public smoking as a nuisance.

Of course the bare announcement of the organization of such a league is the cue for all smokers to break into dirisive laughter. The smoking fraternity simply assumes that smoking is here to stay and that the unfortunate non-smoking public must either learn to smoke or grin and bear the fumes of tobacco.

It is true of course, that the smoking public is considerably in the minority, counting men, women and children, and that the folks who smoke in public places do so because they dare to, not because they have any logical right to, but even when cheerfully admitting these truths, the average smoker will keep the even tenor of his way. "What are you going to do about it?" is his only defense, if indeed he thinks it worth while to offer any defense.

This attitude is a manifestation of a peculiar sort of insolence, that, for want of a better term, may be called "insolence nicotina." All smokers have it. Even the most gentle and considerate of them have it. Even those who still go through the form of prefacing their smoking by asking others if smoke annoys them, assume that no non-smoker will be so ungentlemanly as to tell the truth even if smoke does annoy him dreadfully.

It is this calm assumption that the non-smoker has no right at all in the common air that particularly annoys that individual. Smoke is unpleasant, of course, to many non-smokers, but not so unpleasant that they won't choose to bear it rather than make others uncomfortable and anyway by denying them the indulgence of their little vice But when the smoking world calmly exhales its smoke in his face without giving a thought as to whether he likes it or not, he begins to wonder just where patience ceases to be a virtue.

And we dare say that the Non-Smokers' league will accomplish something if the smoking public doesn't curb this insolence and begin to think once in a while of the comfort of those who don't smoke but live in the same world with folks who do.

Nursery Medicine Box

On every nursery wall, out of reach of the little folk, yet readily accessible to the nurse, should hang a wooden box containing the requisites for attending to such simple accidents as may occasionally befall her charges, surmounted by a printed card of directions, of the kind to be produced at most chemists or large stationers.

In addition to a pair of bright, blunt-pointed scissors, a supply of safety and ordinary pins, and two or three needles threaded with white cotton, knotted at the end, and run into a strip of chamois leather to keep them from getting rusty, the contents should comprise some good sticking-plaster for cuts, calendula lotion, Pomade-Divine, or the more homely application of vinegar and brown paper for bruises, linseed oil and lime water shaken together in equal parts for burns and scalds, a bottle of diluted ammonia or a commoner blue-bag for stings, a small tin of mustard, which, once opened, should be relegated to household use, and a new one purchased for medical purposes, a packet of cottonwood, or a roll of lint, and a few bandages of one-inch and one and a half-inch girths, these later items wrapped closely in paper to protect them from dust.

How China was Isolated.

From the beginning until the nineteenth century China was as isolated from the world at large as if located in Mars. On the north were the barren plains of Mongolia and the sandy waste of the Gobi Desert, beyond which stretched the interminable and uninhabited forests of Siberia; on the west the impassable mountains — the Roof of the World; on the south swamps, jungle, and the Indian Ocean; and on the east the Pacific, an impassable barrier.

Thus carefully guarded by nature from the outside world, with a country of many waterways, a climate similar to that of America from Maine to Florida, a rich and varied soil, lending itself kindly to cultivation, with all natural resources in the greatest abundance (iron, coal, gold, silver, copper), it was possible for China to work out her own civilization, laws, governments, literature, economic life. But even under these conditions there was a natural ebb and flow in her national vitality, and dynasties changed, and twice the country has been conquered. The only possible point of attack in the years past has been from the north, the country of cold, deserts, and scanty vegetation.

Fried Onions in War.

During the American invasion of Porto Rico, in the course of the war with Spain, General Tasker H. Bliss, with his troops, was stationed near a village held by an overwhelming force of Spaniards. Orders were to keep his "eye peeled" and, if he heard anything suspicious, to fall back about eight miles. Instead of this, his men turned in one day and captured the village, chasing the Spaniards out. The next day the commander of the American forces came along to find Bliss sitting in front of the home of the chief man of the village. The commander asked him why he had attacked the Spanish force, when he knew that he was outnumbered.

Bliss. "You see, my men have been hungry for some days, and the wind blew toward them from the village, and some squaw was frying onions over there. And so——"

Our Future.

"All men become something incredible to themselves; for they are unwound like a cocoon, and know not which way the thread doth run."

VICTORIA.

The Liberals of Victoria County, met in convention at Lindsay on Saturday and nominated Ex-Mayor Begg of Lindsay, as a candidate to contest the riding against Col. Sam Hughes, the present member. There is no one who believes that Mr. Begg will have any chance against the gallant Colonel. But the motions of holding an election must be gone through with all the same, so that the Tories will not be able to secure the seat by acclamation. Besides, it will have the effect of keeping Col. Hughes busy in his own riding.

Mayor Begg, of Lindsay, has consented to run for Victoria. Some so-called runs are hard to distinguish from a walk.

THE FIRST WORLD EMPIRE

Babylon at one Time Dominated the World.

A correspondent criticizes a statement, contending that Babylon was not the first "world empire." He thinks that Assyria was a prior world empire. We do not know where the critic got this idea of history, unless possibly from Rollins. Later researches put away any possibility of making Assyria a proceeding kingdom or even a universal one.

The facts of history are these: Babylon existed before Assyria. Gen. 10:10. This statement of the Bible puts the matter beyond controversy. History confirms the fact. To quote:

The Babylonians and Assyrians were two very important peoples of remote antiquity, inhabiting the region of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in Southwestern Asia. The Greeks regarded these peoples as constituting one nation, and called their country Mesopotamia — a name that could properly be applied to only a part of their territory. The Babylonians and Assyrians themselves, on the other hand, regarded each other as alien peoples, through both belonged to the same Semitic stock. The Babylonians were the more ancient, and their territory lay to the south.—"The Historians' History of the History of the World," volume 1, page 218.

It is true that there was a brief period when Assyria conquered Babylon, but this lasted but a very brief period. The Babylonians remained distinct as a people in civilization and religion, and under Nebuchadnezzar soon dominated the world. The Lord never calls Assyria a universal empire; but He did speak thus of Babylon. He rebuked the King of Assyria, and prevented his taking Jerusalem; but He gave over Jerusalem and its people to Babylon. In the language of the Bible and prophecy, Babylon is the first world empire.

ASSOCIATIONS OF CHILDHOOD

We could never have loved the earth so well if we had had no childhood in it — if it were not the earth where the same flowers come up again every spring that we used to gather with our tiny fingers as we sat lisping to ourselves on the grass — the same hips and haws on the autumn hedgerow — the same redbreast that we used to call "God's birds," because they did no harm to the precious crops. What novelty is worth that sweet monotony where everything is known, and loved because it is known?

The wood I walk in on this mild day, with the yellow-brown foliage of the oaks between me and the blue sky, the white star-flowers and the blue-eyed speedwell and the ground ivy at my feet — what grove of tropic palms, what strange forms or splendid broadpetalled blossoms, could ever thrill such deep and delicate fibres within me as this home scene? These familiar flowers, these well-remembered bird-notes, this sky, with its fitful brightness, these furrowed and grassy fields, each with a sort of personality given to it by the capricious hedgerows — such things as these are the mother tongue of our imagination, the language that is laden with all the subtle inextricable associations the fleeting hours of our childhood left behind them. Our delight in the sunshine on the deep-bladed grass to-day, might be no more than the faint perception of wearied souls, if it were not for the sunshine and the grass in the far-off years which still live in us, and transform our perception into love.

Objects of Pity.

It is an undiscerning sympathy that reaches only to ills that are felt and confessed. We every day meet men with laughter on their lips, and unclouded brows, who are very nearly the greatest claimants of pity. Pity him who laughs but never thinks. Pity the men and women who fritter away the days in busy idleness, calling it society, when they might read a book. Pity those who, without evil intent, are making great mistakes, who live as though life had no purpose or end, who gratify a present desire unmindful of future pain. Pity parents who have not learned how to rear and train their children; pity the children so reared as that, they go unto life with undermined health and weakened nerves prematurely weaned of society, lawless in their dispositions, rude and inconsiderate in their manners, stamped with the impress of chance associations and unregulated pleasures. No, it is not pain that is to be pitied so much as mistake, not conscious sufferings but courses that breed future suffering.

Where Thackeray Studied.

The lover of Thackeray who makes a pilgrimage to the temple must not confine his attention to Brick court, for that was only one of the novelist's temple homes. In 1831, when Thackeray became a member of the temple, he commenced his studies at 1 Hare court, by reading with William Taprell, and in 1848, when he was finally called to the bar he took chambers in Crown Office row, sharing them, it is said, with Thomas Taylor, of Punch. His Crown Office row chambers have disappeared, but Hare court, in which a disastrous fire was once extinguished with beer because the Thames water was frozen, still stands.

Gives Great Satisfaction.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—The announcement that the Western Provinces will be given control of their natural resources is naturally received with much interest. It is not overstating the case to say that Westerners, irrespective of party, have felt that they were not fairly treated in this matter. The announcement is too new to say how it will be viewed by public men, but it will certainly be a great advantage to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to have control of their natural resources.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

GREAT RAILWAY MAGNATES

The men who have been instrumental in building the great railways of Canada which stretch from ocean to ocean across a continent, uniting the people of a large country, have performed a work which cannot be overestimated. First among these is Baron Mount Stephen, G.C.V.O., D.L. He was born in Scotland in 1829, and twenty years later came to settle in Canada. He was for some years connected with the Bank of Montreal, and later became President of the St. Paul, Minn., and Manitoba Railway. His chief work was in connection with the C. P. R., and it was largely through his efforts that this railway was built. It was for his services in this connection that he was created Baronet in 1886, and Baron in 1891. His generous donation towards founding the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is well known.

Sir William Cornelius Van Horne was given the title of K.C.M.G., in 1894. He was born and educated in the United States. At the age of fourteen he entered the railway office of his native town and steadily worked his way up through the various stages of railway service, until in 1874 he became General Manager of the Southern Minnesota Railway. For many years he filled supervising and managing positions on various railroads of the United States. Then, in 1881, he came to Canada and became General Manager of the C. P. R. Later he was made Vice-President of that Company, and in turn, President and Chairman of the Board of Directors, from which latter position he recently resigned. He has been connected with the C. P. R. since 1882. His thorough knowledge of railroad affairs is evidenced by the fact that he occupies positions of trust with several other railways. He is a Knight of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

SIR ALAN BRISTOL AYLESWORTH

Between Edward Arthur Lancaster and Sir Alan Bristol Aylesworth there is a feud of long standing. Years before the Minister of Justice was tapped on the shoulder and told to "rise Sir Alan," the energetic lawyer from St Catharines was camping on his trail, and the mutual dislike sprang from the somewhat contemptuous treatment which the head of the country's legal department meted out to Mr. Lancaster's efforts to bring the railways to time in respect to the level crossing evil. It was under the circumstances a matter of astonishment to the House when Mr. Lancaster for the first time on record, agreed with the views of Sir Alan on the merits of a certain divorce bill discussed recently. The Minister of Justice had delivered a ponderous argument against granting relief to husband and wife on mere heresay evidence, and after he was through, Mr. Lancaster rose and supported the contentions made by his old time enemy. Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, who acts as reporter for the Minister of Justice when his desk mate, George Graham, is not there, leaned over and in a stage whisper said:

"Lancaster is agreeing with you."

Quick as a flash came the return whisper of Sir Alan, loud enough to be heard all over the House, "In that case I must be wrong!"

Chatham, Aug. 15.—Harvey Garbutt, a well-to-do farmer, aged about 40 years, who lived near Jeannette's Creek, committed suicide by throwing himself into the creek a mile above the iron bridge. Garbutt was temporarily demented, it is believed.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

REV. C. W. GORDON

Rev. Charles William Gordon, B.A., D.D., L.L.D., F.R.S.C., or as he is more widely known, Ralph Connor, was born in the country and it was his early training in the Indian Lands, Glengarry Co., Ont., which we see reproduced in the broad manly atmosphere of Ralph Connor's books. No city bred man would possibly warm the imagination, and make the reader yearn for the broad open country, the home of better things as does he.

The future Ralph Connor received his first smatterings of education at the Public School of Athol, Ont. One imagines however, that it was the careful tuition of his father, the Rev. Daniel Gordon which made him yearn to taste more of the fruit of education, rather than the village school. Still the impressions of his early days have always remained with him and we find them brought vividly before us in some of his masterpieces. After public school he was sent to the High School of St. Mary's, Ontario. From there he matriculated into the University of Toronto, graduating with the class of 1883. After taking his Arts course, the future author applied himself to the study of theology at Knox College. In order to obtain a broader and wider outlook on life Ralph Connor crossed the water, and studied at New College, Edinburgh for a year.

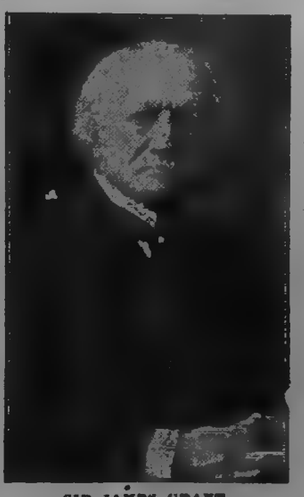
Before returning to take up his life work in Canada, he made, in company with five friends, a bicycle tour of the continent.

Upon his return to the Dominion he took up his task with grim determination to succeed. The now Rev. Mr. Gordon was sent as a missionary to the Rocky Mountains. He did his work thoroughly and labored for the spiritual good of the region with all his indomitable energy. The Rockies were inhabited by a rough and ready lot, yet the youthful divinity graduate shouldered his task and came out with flying colours.

The impressions he received were indelibly stamped on his mind and they make some of the most thrilling passages in his books. Since 1894 the Rev. Dr. Gordon has been in charge of St. Stephen's Church Winnipeg.

He has labored not alone for the moral betterment of his own congregation, but for the whole West. Dr. Gordon takes a vital interest in the improvement and purification of municipal politics and in the lot of the working man. On this account he was chosen as a member of the Coal Striker's Arbitration Board. Above all Ralph Connor's influence has been felt from Coast to Coast through the medium of such books as the "Man from Glengarry" the Prospector, etc. Canada needs more men of his stamp and more books of the same calibre as his. They have a farther reaching effect towards moral upliftment than any amount of sermons against the prevalent vices.



SIR JAMES GRANT

Sir James Alexander Grant, K.C.M.G., M.D., F.R.S.C., who while in politics introduced the Pacific Railway Bill, is principally distinguished for his medical and scientific work. He has published works on Organic Heart Disease, and numerous essays on various medical and scientific subjects. He was President of the Royal Society of Canada in 1903.

Sir James was born in Inverness, Scotland, in 1831 and received his education at Queen's College, Kingston, Ont., London and Edinburgh. He first entered parliament as member for Co. of Russell in 1863.

Inconsistency goes as far towards making life attractive as its pleasures do towards spoiling it.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

SIR DONALD MANN

The world respects a self-made man. It still more honours and venerates a generous one of this type, one who uses his dollars not alone for selfish accumulative purposes but expends them for the betterment of his country and its people. In the end he shares more largely in the prosperity he has created than anyone else. Sir Donald Mann is Canada's foremost example of such a man. His upward career has been meteoric and reads like fiction. He has had a life full of adventure. His activities had their origins in places where a man was what he was and where no weakling could prosper. It was an indomitable energy and a fixedness of purpose which brought Sir Donald Mann to the top of the ladder. His early training moulded the character of the future Railway King. The place of his birth, Acton, Ont., was but a small village. His boyhood days made the man, who has done things. He soon found farming did not offer enough scope to his latent abilities and transferred his energies to the lumber business. A man of his stamp could not be a failure. At the age of 21, the then plain Donald Mann had already risen to the position of foreman.

The West was at this time making its appeal for men of the right sort. Its lure seized Sir Donald and in 1879 he went to Winnipeg. This made him. By 1880 he was a contractor building portions of the C. P. R. contracts between Whitemouth, east of Winnipeg and the Selkirk Mountains, which occupied him till 1885. It was shortly after this date that the famous partnership of Mackenzie and Mann was formed. Amongst many other important works this Company built the Calgary and Edmonton, the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railways, as well as the C. P. short line through Maine. By 1889 the firm had become so eminent and well known that it was offered railway contracts in Panama, Ecuador, Peru and Chili as well as in China. Sir Donald Mann after visiting and carefully examining all these places decided to decline all the above projects.

It was then that Sir Donald began his now great railway system. He formed its nucleus by purchasing the charter of the Lake Manitoba Railway and Canal Company. From this had grown The Canadian Northern Railway system embracing upwards of 5,000 miles of line through the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Quebec and Ontario. Today Sir Donald Mann is Vice-President of the Canadian Northern, the Canadian Northern Ontario and the Halifax and Southwestern Railways. All of which have reached their present high standing through his energy and genius.

Sir Donald Mann's work has chiefly consisted in directing construction. In this branch he has achieved an unsurpassed reputation for speed, efficiency and economy. Perhaps even more important has been his success in convincing public opinion that legislative aid to his projects would be for the public benefit. It is through this diplomacy and tact that his great systems have achieved their remarkable success. Canada has and will prosper still more through the efforts of Sir Donald Mann's fertile mind.

A Popular Judge.

In a popularity contest somewhere near the top would be found Mr. Justice Teetzel. He was born "Teetzel," and christened "James V."

"Most of us called him 'Jim' before he was elevated to the high court bench in 1903," recalls one barrister, "and, between you and me, he hasn't changed much since his promotion. His exalted position has failed to rob him of his individuality."

He was born on March 6, 1853, educated at Woodstock College, Galt, and Toronto, and was called to the Bar in 1877. Made a Q.C. in 1889, he was elected a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada in 1891, 1896, and 1901. He was made Doctor of Law by McMaster University in 1907.

His Lordship belonged to Hamilton before the high court plucked him away from mountain and mountaineers. He was mayor of the Ambitious Centre in 1899 and 1900, and in the latter year he contested a Federal seat there in the Liberal interest.

Mr. Justice Teetzel plays golf and rides a horse. He is a member of the Toronto Club, the Hamilton Club, and the Toronto Golf Club.

There comes a time in a woman's life when all her pet theories fall flat and useless and when every idol she has worshipped is demolished.

IN COMMERCIAL LIFE

The Exaltation of the Trust at the Expense of the Individual is the Principle Today.

In commercial life, perhaps as nowhere else, in these rushing, strenuous times, when all sorts of get-rich-quick schemes are swallowed with avidity in all circles where wealth is worshipped, do we see the abasement and elimination of the individual and the exaltation of the firm, the combine, the trust, the union, the league, the association. Small dealers are unmercifully frozen out by the trust, without any consideration of personal rights; and the same principles are followed in the labor organizations toward the individual worker who may choose to retain his manhood and his God-given independence. The history of the Standard Oil Company, and others in other fields, in heaping up riches, is a constant march over the wrecks of humbler fortunes, the subversion of personal rights, and the ruin of human lives. "To live and to let live" has yielded to "to get by any means, fair or foul," only so it is within the pale of a possible perversion of the law.

Queen Mary's Pantry

Queen Mary's pantry at Windsor is said to contain the most valuable collection of tableware in the world. Every reign since Queen Elizabeth's has contributed to the collection, which is stored in two rooms. The walls are lined with cases made of plate glass and mahogany, with similar cases occupying the centre of each room. The most imposing feature of these two rooms is the dinner service of solid gold used only for dinners of the highest state. There is a table of solid silver three feet in length. A rosewater fountain of silver has a home supported on the columns around which are groomed horses and hounds. A silver gilt flagon almost a yard high is said to have been saved from the Armada. A pair of bellows mounted in silver and gold was once the property of Nell Gwyn. There is a massive pair of firedogs in solid silver made for Charles II, and a huge punch bowl was contributed by George IV.

Legislative "Howlers."

According to the official records, the Arizona Legislature recently passed a measure establishing a Horticultural Commission with powers "to employ an etymologist." Whereupon an American Journal aptly remarks that, in view of the wording of the bill itself, an etymologist would not be a bad catch after all. The journal has collected a few more curiosities of the same type. One of them is also from Arizona, which has made it a misdemeanor to pluck an ostrich feather or plume "without the consent of the possessor." The Kentucky statutes forbid 'the discharge at random' of any "deadly weapon, whether said weapon be loaded or unloaded;" and a Missouri enactment, in prescribing the ingredients which may lawfully be used in the manufacture of liquors, omits any mention of water. But is it not in Missouri that your tailor asks you what size you will have your hip pockets—pints or quarts?

HIDDEN VALUES

The most undesirable and unattractive work will develop charm if one puts his whole heart into it and endeavors to do it better than it has been done before.

The most commonplace lives have about them possibilities of romance, tragedy, and humor that discover themselves to the one who ministers to these lives with a brave and resolute heart.

Browning's masterpiece, one of the very greatest poems that was ever written, "The Ring and the Book," sprang out of the manuscript report of a law case found in an old curiosity shop in Florence and purchased for 16c. To most people that old document would be worth no more than its value as waste paper and of as little interest as the dead leaves that the wind scatters over the fields.

So in the midst of the most unpromising conditions, if one puts his whole soul into his work and looks for its hidden values he may find it invested with a beauty and a delight that were quite unsuspected.

Novel Funeral Service.

In the cranberry belt of Plymouth County, music by phonograph at a funeral has just been introduced with great success. The first funeral to mark the introduction of the phonograph was that of Ralph U. Graffum. The Rev. W. W. Dornan officiated.

Arrangements had been made for the assistance of a quartette from Plymouth. At the last minute the singers sent word that on account of the excessive heat they would have to be excused. There was great disappointment until the time came for the singing of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

At just the right time a quartette was singing the exquisite old hymn so beautifully that nobody missed the Plymouth singers.

One of the neighbors, witnessing the disappointment of the mourners at the news from Plymouth, had quietly slipped out, got into her buggy and drove home for the family phonograph. When she came back she brought several records, among them "Rock of Ages," "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me."

Polite Children

A child should be drilled to be scrupulously polite to every person he comes in contact with, to the members of his family, to the employes in the kitchen or chamber, and to the guest within his father's gates.

Children who are not obliged to be polite to their elders and to one another will not suddenly become well bred when strangers are present. They should not take the most comfortable seats or the most advantageous positions, but be observing and offer such attentions to their elders, and the boys to their sisters.

Self shatters sympathy, and sympathy casts out self.

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

The Best Medium for Reaching Invsters in Eastern Ontario

HOW $100 GREW TO $31,620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE SPIDER'S SECRET

A Great Scientist Says It Would Take Four Million Completed Threads To Make a Silk Thread The Size of a Hair.

For a long time the web of the spider was supposed to be a simple strand of wavy silk, but later it was found that such was far from being the case.

Under the microscope we can get at the secret of the spinning very nicely. We see that there are either four or six teats on the spider near the lower part of the abdomen, almost exactly similar to the teats of a cow. From these issue four or six strands as the case may be, but these strands themselves are not simple, but are composed of at least a thousand fibers each, for it has been proven that in each teat there is a sieve of at least a thousand holes through which the silky matter is strained. Thus we see that this web is a spider's web it is yet composed of from four to six thousand fibers. Leeuwenhoek states that it would take at least four million of these plated threads to make a thread as strong as a silk thread of the size of a hair.

Moreover, there are some tropical spiders that spin threads known to be very strong; so strong, in fact, as to be able to catch and hold hummingbirds.

As to the color of the thread, our ordinary spiders spin that of a spiders gray color; but in the tropical regions there are found spiders that spin vari-colored webs. One particularly produces red, yellow, and black threads which it binds together with a pleasing color effect.

In the thread of the spider lies dormant a great industry once it is properly studied. Numerous attempts have been made to utilize the threads for cloth to make clothes, etc. All have been so far doomed to failure — anyhow, as a financial proposition. It is related that Louis XIV had a dress made from spiders' web, but which was so fragile that he became disgusted with it. The entomologist D'Orbigny had made for himself a pair of trousers from the webs of tropical spiders which lasted for a long time.

It would seem that even if the web was too fragile to make the fabric entirely from, it could be mixed with silk or something equally strong and produce a new and gorgeous material for our present-day goddesses.

A Contest of Wits.

"Goethe was so often intruded upon by the curious in his house in Weimar that one day, made impatient by the determination of an unknown Englishman to force an entrance, he suddenly ordered his servant to show him in. The Englishman entered. Goethe planted himself erect in the centre of the room, his arms crossed, his eyes on the ceiling, motionless like a statue. Surprised for the moment the stranger soon comprehended the situation, and, without being in the least discomcerted, he put on his glasses, walked slowly around Goethe, inspected him from head to foot, and went out."

The Indian.

That the Indian marries more often for love than the white man; that the only difference between so-called civilized men and the so-called uncivilized is a difference in their explanations; that Indian women as a whole are better treated than the white women, and that the wife of a college professor has a harder time than an Indian squaw; that no woman reaches the pinacle of her art until she has married and borne a child; that to be an Indian maid is infinitely better than to be a wage slave in the inferno of commercialism — these and other things are the ideas of Mrs. Henry Hunter Austin who has spent a number of years amongst the Indians Reserves in Canada.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

THE REVIVAL OF THE CAMEO

Antique Shops of Europe Doing Good Business.

An early Victorian fashion revival in the cameo, which is being worn on hats or for clasping the belt at the waist or even at the wrist. The antique shops of Paris and London are being ransacked for cameos. The pink and creamy tints of these ornaments are considered wonderfully becoming and as the finishing touch to white evening gowns they are looked upon as indispensable at the present moment.

Jade, too, which has been out of favor for years, has come back into fashion and is to be seen ranging in and from darkest green to pure white Jade of a delicate bright green is the most popular and is used in necklaces of rounded bead scarefully matched. Drops, ear-rings and embochons inverted in various ways alone or with pearls and diamonds.

Deathly Cramps, Stomach was Bloated

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. R. Emerson, of Guys Hill P. O. "I was doubled up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet. I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—one million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large 25c bottles, five for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

PRISONER ESCAPED

St. Thomas, Aug. 15.—Edward Jessop, who conducted a restaurant at Port Stanley, was arrested on Saturday night on a charge of receiving stolen goods, and placed in the Port Stanley lock-up. Yesterday when the constable entered the lock-up, Jessop had disappeared, and the mystery of his escape is not yet known. It is believed that some party secured a key to the lock-up and cells and let Jessop out.

KILLED ON CROSSING

London, Ont., Aug. 15.—Edward Ings, a drayman, of 797 Adelaide street, was struck by the International Limited, and almost instantly killed while driving over the Adelaide street crossing of the Grand Trunk here last evening. The excursion yesterday from Belleville, under the auspices of the Holloway Methodist church, was largely patronized. The party arrived in Peterborough about 9.45 a.m., returning in the evening. At 10.15 another, partly jointly from Napanee, Marysville and Madoc Junction, numbering about 400 also arrived.

Backed Through the Wall.

He pleaded not guilty, and elected to be tried by jury. Some evidence was taken, in order that he might be sent up for trial, but there was not sufficient, so the case was adjourned for eight days till Aug. 24th.

Forgot His Basket.

A citizen, carrying a basket of fruit, which he had purchased, became involved in a political discussion and laid his basket down on the pavement in front of The Times' building, and walked off without it. A friend of the owner came along soon after and secured the fruit, which he subsequently delivered. There are a whole bunch of reasons which might be adduced against mixing up too strenuously in heated political discussions.

Modern Flats.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum, with his characteristic enterprise, has fitted up four handsome residences on Water-street. The "flats" are complete in every detail, being finished in first-class manner, with hardwood floors, steam heated, and electric lighted throughout. Each suite has a bath-room with hot and cold water. In fact the homes are modern in every respect, and should command good rents.

The Power Question.

The power question in Lindsay has become a live one, as it also is in Peterborough. A public meeting will be held this evening in Lindsay, to consider it, when the matter of the water supply at Fenelon Falls will have attention. We are so much engrossed in Peterborough just now with election matters that the important subject of power will probably remain over till things quiet down.

Lindsay Excursion.

The Stoney Lake Navigation Company have arranged to run an excursion over the popular water route between Peterborough and Lindsay, on Wednesday, August 23, on the commodious steamer "Stoney Lake," leaving the Wolfe street wharf at 7.30 o'clock. This excursion affords a splendid trip through the Kawartha Lakes, the steamer going over the lift lock and up the canal, then through the Lake Katchewanooka, Clear Lake, Stoney Lake, Lovesick Lake, Deer Bay, Buckhorn Lake, Pigeon Lake, Sturgeon Lake and the Scugog river to Lindsay, the excursionists returning on the G.T.R. to Peterborough.

Prominent Chicagoans Here.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Sheehy and little son are visiting relatives in this city. Mr. Sheehy is a native of Peterborough, having left here about 17 years ago for the American metropolis of the west, where he went into the publishing business. He makes it a point to visit the old town every summer in order to visit his many friends. "Jimmy", as his old friends call him, was a famous lacrosse player, being a member of the old original "Peterborough Lacrosse Club," He had for associate members such men as the late Dr. Yelland, the late "Billy" Sanderson, the late "Paddy" (afterwards Rev. Father) Rudkins, and Messrs. Carene LeBrun, "Dod" Fortye, Harry Phelan, M. Halpin and others.

CHESTERFIELD AND ORATORY

"Lord Chesterfield's letters are, I will venture to say, masterpieces of good taste, good writing and good sense."

Oratory and Hard Work:—Demosthenes, the celebrated Greek orator, thought it so absolutely necessary to speak well, that though he naturally stuttered, and had weak lungs, he resolved, by application and care, to get the better of those disadvantages. Accordingly, he cured his stammering by putting small pebbles into his mouth; and strengthened his lungs gradually, by using himself every day to speak aloud and distinctingly for a considerable time. He likewise went often to the seashore, in stormy weather, when the sea made most noise, and there spoke as loud as he could, in order to use himself to the noise and murmurs of the popular assemblies of the Athenians, before whom he was to speak. By such care, joined to the constant study of the best authors, he became at last the greatest orator of his own or any other age or country, though he was born without any one natural talent for it. Adieu! Copy Demosthenes.

CARNEGIE AND DRINK

Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose own experience fits him to speak with authority as to the elements that make for a successful business career, says in his book "The Empire of Business":

The first and most seductive peril, and the destroyer of most young men, is the drinking of liquor. I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him and I say to you that you are more likely to fail in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor, than from any or all the other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to almost any other temptation and reform — may brace up, and if not recover lost ground, at least remain in the race, and secure and maintain a respectable position. But from the insane thirst for liquor, escape is almost impossible. I have known but few exceptions to this rule.

As a Pearl of Great Price

There is no power of love so hard to get and keep as a kind voice. A kind hand is deaf and dumb. It may be rough in flesh and blood, yet do the work of a soft heart, and do it with a soft touch. But there is no one thing that love so much needs as a sweet voice to tell what it means and feels; and it is hard to get and keep it in the right tone.

One must start in youth, and be on the watch night and day, at work and play, to get and keep a voice that shall speak at all times the thoughts of a kind heart. It is often in youth that one gets a voice or tone that is sharp, and which sticks to him through life, and stirs up ill-will and griefs, and falls like a drop of gall on the sweet joys of home. Watch it day by day, as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice is to the heart what light is to the eye. It is a light that sings as well as shines.

Not Your Own Face

"My boy," said a wise father who knew how to play and be a "chum" with his twelve-year-old lad, "my boy, you do not own your own face." The boy looked puzzled. He had come to the breakfast table with a frowning, clouded countenance, and had started moodily to eat his food. Everybody felt the shadow of his ill spirits, evident in his looks. His father's unexpected words brought him back to life, and he looked up with a half-guilty expression, but did not understand what was meant. "You do not own your face," his father repeated. "Do not forget that it belongs to other people. They, not you, have to look at it. You have no right to compel them to look at a sour, gloomy and crabbed face."

Shoe Shops of Japan.

Writing about the shops of Japan a visitor to that country says that the typical shoe store makes a strange impression on the foreign visitor. "All the footwear of the little brown men are here in view. The funny wooden clogs and straw sandals are indeed a fanciful exhibition. They line the benches, the floors, the shelves. They hang from above, and seemingly are everywhere, allowing the seller just about enough room to squat on his mat. The newcomer is at once startled at the immense quantity of this simple footwear and the many places where it is sold, but he soon finds a solution to his query when he hears that a Japanese man annually makes away with from eight to ten pairs."

Logical Reasoning.

"It's difficult to understand the peculiar mental processes of the relatives of some of the offenders who appear before me," said Justice Wilkin, as a starter for his story.

"Only yesterday a boy was charged with stealing coal. He simply had been told in his home to go out and get some coal. He did, and was arrested. I had to adjourn his case, and asked his sister, who was with him, to appear at the second hearing.

"'What! Do I have to come down here again?' she asked.

"'You'd better,' said I, 'for your brother may be sent away for a long time.'

"'But who's going to pay the car fare?' she said.

"'Why, I suppose yourself! Whom do you expect to pay it?'

"'Why, the coal dealer who had Jimmy arrested!" said she.

"'Why the coal dealer?' I asked.

"'Because he has more money than we have,' she replied."

Let no man who only pays regard to the fruits of success think that he can bring forth the fruits of the Spirit.

If you love a bad man he will soon hate some of his badness.

LATEST FROM APSLEY

Miss Simpson, who has been the guest of Miss Hattie Eastland at the Lodge, Loon Lake, has returned to her cottage, Stoney Lake.

Our old friend Robert Howden is again in this section, buying cattle and sheep. Bob is always able to get his compliment as he is a reliable buyer and a general favorite with the farmers in the north.

Miss Maggie McIlvena spent a very pleasant week at the Lodge, Loon Lake, the guest of her friend Miss Katie Eastland.

Mr. Charles Simmons of Peterborough, has been up visiting friends at Chandos for a couple of weeks.

The lure of the west is calling Mr. Wm. James, Hubert James, E. Phillips, and his two nephews left Tuesday morning for Saskatchewan, on one of the harvest excursions, intending, if the country suits, to homestead. Others are going later.

A party of Americans from Buffalo, went through Apsley last week en route to Loon Lake, guests of M. Kennedy and spent a few days fishing and had a good time, were well pleased with their outing and report the fishing excellent. They left for home Saturday. Two other parties from Pittsburg, are camped at Jacks Lake salmon and bass fishing, for which that lake is famous, and are having the best of sport.

It is a significant fact that though early in the season for chicken roast, we notice that owners of fowls have been very particular about locking up their hen houses during the past week. Bob is fond of chicken soup. Billy is the proud possessor of a freak hen. She not only contributes an egg per day towards housekeeping, but wakens him each morning with her lusty crowing. She is under lock and key every night. Billy takes no chances on that hen.

Dr. Bell is down at Stoney Lake and will take in the regatta Monday.

Mr. Wm. W. Smith of Clanricarde, has sold his farm and is going back to Brantford to live. Mr. Smith came from Brantford 33 years ago and settled on a bush farm in the northern part of Anstruther where he has resided ever since, and during his long residence there made many friends who regret his departure. He was a good neighbor and always ready to assist anyone. He served honorably in the Crimea and held the rank of Corporal when wounded and invalided home to England and is in receipt of a pension from the British government. Though quite a few years past the allotted space of three score and ten, is still hale and vigorous. He will be missed greatly here and we all wish him many happy years in his old home city of Brantford.

Anvil Jim has been giving his opinion about cows and pigs for some time and now has another kick coming. Jim has a cat and it is a noted hunter, bringing in almost every day mice, rabbits, birds, snakes and frogs. Everything is game to that cat. But she struck the limit Saturday night when she caught a large rabbit, and the sitting room window being open, as the night was warm, jumped in and called her offspring to a sumptuous feast on the carpet. Now you can perhaps imagine the remarks Jim would make when his better half called his attention to the state of the room next morning—it was an awful cat-astrophy.

There was an emergency meeting called at the hall of wisdom Friday night to notify all members that no more meetings would be held until after the 21st of September, as all the members would be busy electioneering and would be unable to attend. The president delivered a short address on the evils of bribery and notified those present that any one convicted of bribery during the campaign would be expelled and black listed.

VOL XXXIV NO 190 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY AUGUST 18 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

STRANGLED TWO CHILDREN THEN HANGED HERSELF

MRS. THOMAS PETTIGREW, CRAZED BY SICKNESS, COMBITTED TRIPLE CRIME.

Hanged the Children, then Put Them Side by Side in Bed—Rope Put Through a Stovepipe Hole.

Lion's Head, Ont., Aug. 17.—Years of sickness culminated in a tragedy here during the night that is without parallel, when Mrs. Thomas Pettigrew strangled her two children to death, and then placed them side by side in bed, she hanged herself.

The three dead bodies were discovered this morning when neighbors, noticing no life around the house, broke in the back door. In the kitchen they were confronted with the body of the woman suspended in midair. Upstairs in a bed were the two children cold in death, pieces of rope still tied around their necks.

AGED TEN AND TWELVE.

The children were a boy and girl, James and Hazel, aged 10 and 12 years. From the condition of the house it was evident they were able to put up some sort of a struggle for their lives, but the frantic woman finally overcame them, and by tieing pieces of thin rope around their necks they were slowly strangled to death.

After undressing them and placing them side by side in bed, the woman then tied a piece of rope to the bottom of a bed in another room. The end of it was out through a stovepipe hole in the floor. Coming down stairs the woman then tied the loose end around her throat, mounted a table, and then jumped off.

HUSBAND WAS AWAY.

There is no doubt as to the woman's insanity, but she was clearheaded enough to make sure that no stop would be put to her plans. For some time a girl of fifteen, Clara Lamkie, has been stopping with her, but last evening early she was sent home. The husband, who is a carpenter, was away from home, being engaged on a house some miles north of this town.

It is thought that the children were killed about midnight, as at that time a neighbor heard cries coaming time a neighbor heard cries coming from the Pettigrew home. They did not continue long however, and supposing that it was only a case of sickness, no attention was paid to them.

FOUND AT ELEVwN O'CLOCK.

It was not till eleven o'clock this morning that the tragedy was discovered. At that time one of the neighbors remarked to another that she did not see the Pettigrew children playing around as usual. An examination was made of the house, and it was found that all the blinds were down and all the doors locked.

Several men were summoned, and a door was broken in. The woman's feet were within a couple of feet of the floor. It is not known whether the nrop from the table caused death or whether it was acase of strangulation. Upstairs there were evidences of a struggle, indicating that the two children had put up some sort of resistance.

It is thought that an attack was made upon the boy as he slept, and that his cries awoke his sister, who went to his aid. Whatever transpired will never be known, for beyond the cries heard by the neighbors there are but few evidences to show how long the struggle lasted.

The family have lived in the village for a number of years and are known all over the countryside. Mrs. Pettigrew had acted queerly for some time and was generally considered to be odd. It appears that she had made some sort of threats to take her own life not long ago, and it was then that the husband got one of the neighbor's girls to stop at his home whenever he was called away.

The children were bright and well-developed for their ages, and it seems remarkable that the mother was able to kill both of them without one of them being able to raise an alarm.

The husband was told of the tragedy over the phone, but as yet has not arrived here.

Lion's Head is a small village 20 miles north of Wiarton.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS STARTED $100,000 FIRE IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—A fire occurred here last night with losses estimated at $100,000.

Two boys smoking cigarettes while attending a team of horses, set fire to the warehouse of Provost & Allard wholesale grocers, and did $20,000 damage there. The flames then caught to Chevrier's Hotel on Murray street, which was completely gutted, and some of the shantyman therein had to be carried out by firemen, owing to being under the influence of drink.

The fire scorched many nearby houses and between the fire and water cost some $100,000 damage ere it was over.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

A MASTERLY EXPOSURE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—"The Toronto News' masterly exposure of the Dominion Government's last surrender to the Church of Rome must create general alarm throughout Canada. The Government has actually declared that it has no power to validate, or, in other words, control, the law of marriage. The News shows that in case of bigamy and criminal matters affecting marriage, it certainly has.

This furnishes at once an answer that makes the Government appear ridiculous and cowardly. No one denies the Minister of Justice's statement that the Provinces alone have the right to say who can "solemnize" marriage in the provinces. But what about all the rest of it? Solemnizing matrimony is but a small part of the whole affair. Who has the power to take up a case of marriage where the "solemnizer" has erred or been a crook? The provinces have no power in that case. It is the Dominion only, and everybody who ever read the B. N. A. Act knows that this is laid down beyond the possibility of mistake.

But here is where the Church of Rome steps in. She says that she alone possesses the power to really marry people or to validate or invalidate a marriage. And the Dominion Government, when asked upon the point, fails utterly to assert the supremacy of the State in respect to this matter! It has quailed before the Church of Rome and its claims. The Church says we may contract, but not marry, and that the Church alone can administer this sacrament. The question, then, at once arises: Are we as the Church of Rome says, or are we not? Are we really married or are we not?

And in this most vital point of life, liberty and virtue the Laurier Government has quailed before the church and left the people to fight their battles for freedom all over again.

Never mind. We will do it. Let the Church govern herself, and let the State govern itself. The State does not interfere with the Church, and I am persuaded that the people will see that the Church shall not interfere with the State.

It is all so new that the people have not yet digested the Pope's recent decrees, but when they do it will be found that they will allow no government, Grit or Tory, to surrender their liberties to party exigencies.

What, pray, is there to prevent a government's saying that it will take instant steps to remove its doubts of control in so vital an affair as marriage, if it were not afraid to raise the very question of secular control itself, in the face of the Church's protest? Will the provinces sidestep their little part also?

MUSIC FOR THE PATIENTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I make bold to suggest, through the columns of your bright and newsy paper, that it would be a nice treat if the bands would occasionally render a programme of music in the hospital grounds, where the sick could hear the sweet sounds and be benefitted. It is said by eminent medical men that music is very helpful to the sick. It cheers and brightens them up. I am sure, Mr. Editor that the two fine bands which we have will each do their part in the line indicated.

An Industrial War in Britain Involving Over 620,000 Men

THE CONFERENCES BETWEEN PREMIER ASQUITH AND BOTH SIDES DID NOT AVAIL

FACTS ABOUT STRIKE.

NUMBER OF RAILWAY COMPANIES—41.
MILEAGE—23,290.
MEN EMPLOYED—621,341.
DEMANDS OF MEN—A general increase in wages of 50 cents a week, a work-week of 54 hours, and the recognition of the unions.
CAPITAL OF RAILWAYS—$6,500,000,000.

London, Aug. 17.—An industrial war has been declared, and the employes on the railway lines of the United Kingdom will be called out at once.

ASQUITH WARNS THEM.

London, Aug. 17.—At six o'clock to-night the officials of the Railway Employes' Association telegraphed orders for an immediate strike to all local unions throughout the United Kingdom.

At the last moment Premier Asquith warned the labor leaders that the Government would not permit compl te railway paralysis.

The all-day long conferences at the Board of Trade proved fruitless. The representatives of the unions were irremovable from their standpoint that the managers of the railroads had broken the letter and violated the spirit of the conciliation agreement.

"We have unanimously come to the conclusion," they told Sydney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, "that the only way that will now be an effective road to peace is that the companies shall consent to meet us."

It was at this point that Premier Asquith interviewed and offered to appoint immediately a Royal Commission which should investigate and report what amendments if any, were desireable, for the conciliation plan.

A ROYAL COMMISSION.

London, Aug. 17.—The Government has promised a Royal Commission to investigate the railway men's grievances. The railroad companies offer this plan their fullest support.

The refusal of the railroad men to accept the Government's proposition for the appointment of a Royal Commission to settle the dispute was due to the obstinacy of the companies in refusing to recognize the representatives of the men.

GLOBE GIRDER AHEAD OF TIME

French Journalist Reaches Montreal To-day En route to Paris—He Is Twenty-four Hours Ahead of His Schedule.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Jagerschmidt, the Paris journalist, who is girdling the earth in an effort to set a new time record, will arrive in Montreal late this afternoon. The traveller is nearly twenty-four hours ahead of his schedule.

Jagerschmidt will arrive at seven o'clock this evening on train No. 6 from Winnipeg. He will sail for France at 7.30 o'clock to-morrow morning by the Allan Liner Victorian instead of going via New York as had been expected.

He plans on completing the dash around the earth in forty days, thereby cutting in half the time required by Jules Verne's character, Phineas Fogg, who accomplished the journey in eighty days. He expects to reach Paris on August 26th.

PLANNED A DASH TO LINER.

New York, Aug. 17.—A powerful touring car throbbed at the curb outside the Grand Central station for two hours to-day and a speedy tug boat stood ready to cast off in a moment from her pier in the North River, awaiting the arrival here of Andre Jagerschmidt, the French globe-girdler. Jagerschmidt was expected to arrive here at 10.20 o'clock from Montreal. After the following train more than an hour later had failed to land him here, chauffuer and pilot were notified of the change in his plans.

The French liner LaLorraine crept at asnail's pace down the harbor and past quarantine, under orders to go slowly so that Jagerschmidt might overtake her in the tug. Because LaLorraine is a mail boat her sailings could not be delayed, but officers of the line were prepared to help him to the extent of their ability.

THOMAS A. EDISON PREFERS SMALL FAMILIES

New York, Aug. 17.—A Paris cable to The World, says: Thomas A. Edison arrived in Paris late last night, coming from Tours in his motor. In an interview he said: "I don't sympathize much with Roosevelt in his laudation of numerous progeny. The French are wiser, I think, in contenting themselves with fewer children and being able to provide them with proper scope for earning their livelihood. I don't believe in the agency of war in keeping down population.

"Leonardo Da Vinci I consider as great an inventive genius as ever lived; he left very little for others to originate.

"I've had ebough electricity for the present."

Why Many a Man Makes a Failure of Life

Not Because He Lacks Brains or Ability, But Because His Liver Is Slow

An inactive lazy liver makes plenty of men and women seem intellectually dull. They really have the "go," but are weighed down, pulled down by a sluggish condition of the system In consequence lots of good chances are lost, enjoyment missed and pleasures refused—all because of a poor working stomach and a disordered liver.

Men and women, wake up your livers, give relief to sluggish kidneys they are working hard, but can't keep on forever doing duty for both the kidneys and liver.

Pratley—Cooper.

Wednesday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, a pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cooper, 121 Margueretta street when their eldest daughter, Edith J. was united in marriage with Geoffrey G. Pratley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pratley, of Peterborough. Rev. F. C. Keam, of King, performed the ceremony in the presence of about forty guests. The bride was given away by her father, and entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Ethel J. McCullough, cousin of the bride, and was prettily gowned in ivory satin with pearls and lace trimmings, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses. Miss Melia A. Cooper, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was becomingly gowned in pink silk muslin, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Harry Potter of Woodstock supported the groom.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

SIR HENRY M. PELLATT

Imperialism has been the key to all Sir Henry M. Pellatt's public activities. He is an ardent believer in the connection of Canada and the Mother Country being as close as possible. It was an act of splendid patriotism for him to take over his regiment the Queen's Own Rifles from Toronto to England. Nothing could have created a more friendly feeling. The regiment was a means of fostering better relations between the great mass of the people of Great Britain and those of Canada. An appeal to these is much stronger than to the cold minds of lawyers and parliamentarians. It is from the middle and lower classes in England, that Canada draws her best class of settlers. The way to get them into the Dominion is to interest them in Canadians and Canadian Institutions. There is no stronger means of attracting notice than by means of soldiery. Sir Henry Pellatt realized this. He has aided Canada more than if he had personally brought over a thousand of the most desirable of British settlers. To-day he is Commandant of his regiment after having successively passed through each of the commissioned ranks. There is no stronger supporter of the militia in Canada than Sir Henry Pellatt. He has always shown a keen interst in all their activities. In 1897 he went over to England as Major of the Queen Victoria's Jubilee Contingent and acted as Commander of the Canadian Contingent at the Coronation of the late King. At this period he took over with him to the Old Country the Bugle Band of the Queen's Own at his own expense.

It is stated that Sir Henry will be the next Canadian High Commissioner in London, — a post for which he is highly fitted.

Col. Sir Henry Pellatt was born in Toronto in 1860. He attended Upper Canada College in that city. A professional life did not appeal to him. Therefore at fifteen years of age he entered the employment of his father. Later he formed a partnership with him, the firm name being Pellatt & Pellatt. Sir Henry has always interested himself largely in financial and industrial corporations. At present he is the executive of many large companies including the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company the Dominion Iron & Steel Co., Toronto Electric Light Co., etc.

SIR SANFORD FLEMING

Sir Sanford Fleming, K.C.M.G., LL. D., M.I.C.E., and Chancellor of Queen's University, has achieved fame as an engineer. He constructed the Intercolonial Railway through the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Quebec, and was for some years Engineer-in-Chief of the C. P. R. He has taken a special interest in the movement for establishing the Pacific Cable, and a Pan-Britanic Telegraph Service. He has published several articles on The New Time Reckoning.

Dr. Grenfell's Appointment.

Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell has been appointed medical adviser to the Hudson Bay Company. This is taken to mean that in future the Northern fishermen are to be treated more fairly in their trade relations. Dr. Grenfell has now brought his co-operative stores into touch with English business houses, so that goods for his people in Labrador will be brought at a saving of middleman's profits, and English fish merchants are to take their supplies direct.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Canadian Nationality In Double Harness

By ARTHUR HAMPS

You cannot wisely consider Canadian nationality without keeping in the front of your mind the division of Canadians into those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could—the native-born and the immigrant.

Don't be scared by the immigrant. It is bad for you and worse for him. And don't think you know all about the immigrant host and their country just because you hired a green Englishman from a city, who didn't know how to put a collar on a horse.

Perhaps you never saw a Doukhobor, or a Galician, or a Buckowinian, or a Rutherian. Thousands of these people, scattered over the prairies are Canadian citizens just as much as you are, you lucky great-grandson or great-granddaughter of a United Empire Loyalist.

They will vote on Reciprocity two thousand miles from where you are. One of these days a full-blooded Doukhobor will sit in the House of Commons. I have an excellent friend in the Saskatchewan Legislature—a Ruthenian—who couldn't speak a word of English a few years ago. It isn't far, you know, from the Assembly to the Commons. The Chairman of the Licensing Commission of the Province of Saskatchewan is a German who came from the Fatherland to Minnesota, was naturalized and elected a senator, left Minnesota for Saskatchewan, and was naturalized again.

The largest place of public assembly in Port Arthur is owned by Icelanders. In Vancouver I could take you to a Chinese theatre where two performances daily are given. The Jap is almost as numerous as the Chinaman in the salmon fisheries of British Columbia. The Hindoo's turban has become a commonplace on the Pacific Coast.

Down in Nova Scotia travellers not infrequently hear people speak of going to Canada, when they mean another province in the confederation of which Nova Scotia has been a constituent for forty years. On the prairies you will find a foreign flag exalted, I had almost said worshipped, in uncounted homes. At Red Deer, in deference to foreign sentiment, they stopped singing songs in harmony with the flag that has these thousand years braved the battle and the breeze. Canadian nationality is marching in double harness, with these imported elements in the team.

I tell you Canada is infinitely more than an Ontario concession line, a little red school house and a Loyal Orange Lodge. What is to be done about the amazing medley of kindreds and tribes and tongues which I have hinted at, and for which the Bible Society prints the Scriptures in seventy different languages?

And, mind you, there is more than the differences of race and language between you and your fellow-citizen from the South of Europe who flourishes alongside the South Saskatchewan. He comes from a country you never saw to a country you have never seen, and he knows nothing of the distinctions of the country you inhabit. The prairie country and the mountains are apt to produce people different in their make-up from the dwellers in the east.

A high railway official who came east two years ago, had never seen apples growing on the trees. The non-English speaking people who have come to the country where he was born are twice as unfamiliar with the east as he was. It is something of a job in Canadian development to get all these people up there to live like you live, think like you think, and see things as you see them. And they are Canadians with full rights—citizens. Their children are the native-born, even as your children are. What do you think about it?

What ground can we line them up on so that they will stand where we stand, and be governed by the same well-springs of patriotism that move us? You perceive it must be broad ground on which to stand, and a big, high ideal at which to look. And don't forget this—the imagination of their children must be nurtured. How can anyting be accomplished in face of the tremendous differences between them and us?

Somehow, soon, we have got to get all Canadian citizens thinking about the same thing. We have got to have a common ideal about our country—their country, speakers of broken-English; owners, absolute owners of Canadian soil, that they are. They must be helped to become good Canadians.

But what is a good Canadian? Answer me this—What do you mean when you stand up and sing "God save the King"? The King is on the other side of the ocean, and you perhaps are a thousand miles from salt water. On the other side of the world people are singing "God save the King" exactly as you sing it. What have you to do with them? What have they to do with your Buckowinian fellow-citizen over on the Saskatchewan?

It is a mighty curious thing this Canadian nationality in the progress of which you have harnessed yourself with the crowd of aliens to your ideas who have come to the Dominion from all the corners of the earth. You are sure about your own Canadianism. But what about theirs? It is up to you; for you asked them to come in, you know.

Suppose you talk it over with those Scotch and English fellows of your acquaintance. And ask your Irish friend to talk about it.

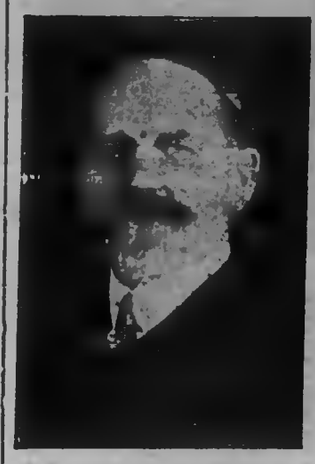
SIR WILLIAM MACKENZIE

When William Mackenzie first saw the light in the little village of Kirkfield, Ont., in 1849, his proud mother in her wildest dreams about her boy's future could not foresee the great career that William planned out for himself.

On finishing his education at the



SIR WILLIAM MACKENZIE

Lindsay Grammar School he commenced life as a school teacher, then kept a store, and contracted on the G. T. R.; went West and became a contractor on the C. P. R., doing much work in the Rocky Mountains. He really commenced doing things with the formation in 1886 of the firm of Mackenzie, Mann & Co. Ltd. They built a number of railroads before building for themselves, — bit by bit as money came in that marvellous network of railroads — the Canadian Northern System, — remarkable in two ways — that the Great Northern is probably the only large railroad system in the world controlled only by two men, and that Sir William obtained the money in London at the lowest rates ever paid by a railway

STEPHEN LEACOCK

Prof. Stephen Leacock, B.A. Ph d is a man of complex accomplishments. His gifts are very varied and in each he excels. His realm of thought embraces topics ranging from the serious to the humorous. Prof. Leacock can write with equal facility and success an article on the most obscure point in Political Science or a humorous essay on some trivial subject of the day. Nor does he only interest himself in academic and literary pursuits. He uses his talents towards the development of his country, by means of direct personal appeals to the people. Dr. Leacock is a real orator. His personality is magnetic and this coupled with his fine, clear, voice, his flow of English, and his logic, combine to make his speeches convincing even to the skeptic and to rouse his own adherents to enthusiasm.

It is as a Professor that he is best known. His students are all enthusiastic. He is able by means of his humour to infuse life into and to make interesting even the dry elements of Economics as they were explained by John Stuart Mill. It is in Political Science, however that the professor really excels. Here he is on his own ground and it indeed needs an erudite opponent to question or argue a point with him on this, his hobby subject. He is the author of an invaluable little book on the subject entitled, "Elements of Political Science." So lucidly is it written, that even the layman, through its perusal, may get a comprehensive grasp of the more salient points of the subject.

In 1907 Dr. Leacock was chosen by the Cecil Rhodes Trust to tour the British Empire, delivering lectures on Imperial Problems. He was everywhere received with much enthusiasm and accomplished his mission with signal success.

Dr. Stephen Butler Leacock was born at Swanmoor, Hant, Eng., in 1869. He came to Canada in 1876. He received his primary education at Upper Canada College and from there entered Toronto University. After receiving his degree Dr. Leacock taught at his old school, Upper Canada College. He then took his Ph. D. at the graduate school of Chicago University, receiving it in 1903.

CANADA'S SONS

CANADA'S GRAND OLD MAN

It takes a big man to command interest from the whole nation fifteen years after retiring from active political life. That is Sir Charles Tupper's record. Although he now spends most of his time in England, no one follows the trend of political affairs in Canada with a keener eye. At ninety years of age his occasional contributions to the press show the same fire which enlivened politics in the early nineties. "Age cannot dim," as one man lately discovered when the doughty Knight corrected the Finance Minister's memory on several points.

Recently an event of special interest took place in London when a tablet was unveiled to commemorate where the articles of Confederation were drawn up. It was Sir Charles Tupper's day. The gallant old man with his unabated willingness to take any adversary spoke vigorously, and well. He is the last survivor of the Fifteen of Confederation. It was a great thing to see him standing there and to hear him speak. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tribute addressed to him of "Well done, good and faithful servant" was hailed as one of the Canadian Premier's happy inspirations. He had said the right thing at the right time.

SIR CHAS. TUPPER, Bart.

HON. WALTER SCOTT.

Walter Scott, printer's devil, compositor, publisher, politician and premier of his province. It is not an exceptional story for Canada offers to every youth the opportunity to ascend. Mr. Scott, who was recently elected for a second term to the highest office in the gift of the people of Saskatchewan, can review a career that is an inspiration to any young man of ambition. To find the secret of his success one must know the man. If asked to name the qualities which led to the distinction, enjoyed so early in life, his friends would say that courage and stick-to-itiveness combined with an affable disposition were the predominant characteristics. It is not every boy who serves as an apprentice at a trade who has the determination to soar beyond the calling he had selected for life. No one would have dreamed that back in the early days of Regina, when it was a small town, its only claim to note being the headquarters of the Territorial Government, that the boy sweeping the office, pulling proofs and doing other chores in connection with a country weekly, would reach the honor of being the chief adviser of His Majesty in one of the principal provinces of this great common wealth. In political warfare Mr. Scott is a hard hitter. He wouldn't thrive in the West unless he were. He never strikes below the belt but when it is necessary to make a charge he does it without resort to suggestion, or surmise. When Walter Scott says anything unpleasant it's generally uncomfortably definite. As a speaker, he cannot be classed as an orator. He is not prosaic, however, and is pleasing to listen to. He has a free, easy, conversational style and holds his audience without difficulty. He is not a man to trifle with as many an interrupter has learned to his chagrin.

HON. WILLIAM SCOTT
Premier of Saskatchewan.

Walter Scott was born in Ontario in 1867.

It's as hard for a girl to keep a secret as it is for her to keep her mouth closed over a new gown.

The Personality of Thackeray

The most notable thing about Thackeray, was his own unique personality. He had a noble physique and a striking appearance. He had hosts of personal friends — among them both Carlyle and Tennyson — and he had no enemies in spite o fhis penchent for satire and even for burlesque. His visit to America on a lecture tour made a favorable impression on the cultured classes on this continent, who have ever since been his readers and admirers. His versatility is shown by the fact that he combined in himself the roles of novelist, poet, historian, satirist, and cartoonist, and that he was equal to all of them.

THE FLEA.

How to Knock the Gizzards Out of Him.

Fleas are wingless flies, and they are supposed to have lost their wings through long disuse, living as they do among the hair, wool or clothing of other animals. As in all other flies, the mouth is formed for sucking, and has no teeth. How does a flea bite? The feet are furnished with long double claws, sharper than needles, and mounted in such a way as to be just right for digging. When his fleaship desires a feast he selects a spot on the bare skin, sits down on his haunches like a dog digging for a rat, and deliberately burrows a hole into his victim. Having penetrated to the vein, he drops his proboscis into the cavity and sucks up the precious blood, much after the fashion of an elephant drinking from a trough.

While digging, the claws are manipulated so rapidly as to feel to the victim like one continuous push of a tooth.

Besides losing their wings their bodies have become flattened transversely from living in close quarters, and they have become possessed of exceedingly stiff bristles or hairs, all pointing backward, so that in struggling every movement pushes them forward. That is why it is so difficult to catch them even when there is no room for them to jump. "When you put your finger on him, he isn't there."

When a house become infested with fleas the family dog or cat should be washed every other day with carbolic soap to kill the adult fleas, and if the animals are allowed to run about the house, they will in a few days attract all the fleas to themselves, where they can be destroyed as above indicated. If dogs or cats are not available as traps, gasoline should be applied after a thorough cleaning of the invested quarters. Pour the gasoline into cracks in the floor and along the baseboards, etc., taking care not to pour it near a fire. Gasoline will kill both larvae and adults as soon as it touches them.

Russian Up-to-date.

A special despatch from St. Petersburg gives the following account of the meeting between the Czar and the newly-appointed Ambassador to the Court of Russia: —

The Ambassador (with a courtly bow): "Howdidoski?"

H. I. M. the Czar (most graciously extending his hand): "Fineski. And youski?"

The Ambassador (seizing the hand warmly): "Greatski!"

H. I. M. the Czar (waving his hand towards the Imperial sideboard): "Havanipski?"

The Ambassador (a pleased smile wreathing his face): "Don'tcareifidoski."

H. I. M. the Czar (inspecting the supply): "What'llitbeski?"

The Ambassador (contentedly): "Sameoidthingski."

H. I. M. the Czar (inquiringly): "What'sthatski? Danvilliski?"

The Ambassador (shaking his head): "Nitski. Scotchwhiski."

When Is a Man Old.

Very amusing replies have been elicited as the result of a competition promoted by a Madrid newspaper on the subject, "Until what age can a man be called young?"

The readers of the journal were the judges, and 28,256 votes were given to the competitor who sent in this reply, which won the prize: —

"A man is young so long as he can make women jealous."

Another competitor thought that a man was old when he could no longer stoop down and tie a beautiful woman contended that all men were young until they thought of marriage.

"The man is old," wrote another competitor, "when a young woman kisses him with cold lips"; and it was the opinion of a newly-married man that a man began to age a week after marriage.

FORESTRY IN JAPAN.

Authorities Believe in Conservation—Been planting for 1200 years.

Japan has longer than any other country practiced technical forestry. With extraordinary skill and absolute success the authorities have for 1,200 years planted and cared for the forest trees. "The results," writes a correspondent, "have been really wonderful, for through the extremely sedulous management and the knowledge of skill by degrees attained the financial gains have been very large, indeed. Not a twig is ever wasted. The trees are regarded as almost sacred property, and not a particle of any one of them is regarded as rubbish, so close is the utilization. Thinning and all departments of arboreal culture are very carefully conducted. At the end of 13 years from planting a wood lot is thinned by experts, and then every five years the process is repeated for 120 years, the average period of the cultivation of a set of trees.

Pneumonia Serum Found by Savant

The germ of pneumonia is vanquished, according to Dr. Preston Kyes of the University of Chicago, who has published the results of a series of experiment in the Journal of the American Medical association. Chickens were inoculated with germs from a human victim of pneumonia, and serums prepared. The results obtained were surprising. Dr. Kyes tabulated his experiments, showing that mice, poisoned with pneumonia germs and then treated with the serum, showed immediate improvement, and in proportion as the serum was injected with greater frequency, recovered.

Horse Has Mustache.

W. A. Tuck, a Canadian farmer, has a family horse with a mustache. The hirsute adornment is fully developed, three inches long and very thick.

Noble Living.

We live by admiration, hope, and love, Wordsworth tells us—not, therefore, by contempt, despondency, and hatred. These contract and narrow the soul, as the others enlarge it. The more a man heartily admires, the more he takes into his nature the goodness and beauty which excite his admiration. His being grows up toward what thus evokes his enthusiasm. And the habit of admiration is the outcome of a moral discipline which represses peevish and faultfinding dispositions, and seeks the admirable in every situation and every person that life brings to us. "Be ye enlarged" implies "learn to admire and to praise."

BUY
ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER
You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.
The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS?

What becomes of old boots and shoes has hitherto been almost as puzzling a problem as what becomes of all the pins. The solution, however, is given in a trade journal. "Old boots and shoes of leather," the journal says, "are cut up into small pieces, and then are put for two days into chloride of sulfur, the effect of which is to make the leather very hard and brittle. When this is fully effected the material is withdrawn from the action of the chloride of sulfur, washed with water, dried and ground to powder. It is then mixed with some substance that will cause it to adhere together, such as shellac or other resinous material, or even a good glue, and a thick solution of strong gum. It is afterward pressed into moulds to form combs, buttons and a variety of other useful articles.

"Prussiate of potash is also made out of old leather heated with pearlash and old iron hoops in a large pot. The nitrogen and carbon form cyanogen, and then unite with the iron and potassium. The soluble portions are dissolved out, and the resulting salt, added to one of iron, produces the well-known Prussian blue, either for dyeing purposes or for use as a pigment."

FEED THE BRUTE

Are Man's Affections Ruled By His Stomach? Preacher Says "Yes"

Brides must learn to bake if they expect to make their husbands happy, says Rev. John L. Belford, pastor of the Roman Catholic church of the Nativity of Brooklyn, who explains his views this way:

"When a young man vows to love and cherish for better or for worse he never dreams that she will forget the salt in cooking or bake bread that will be soggy in the center and armor plated on the outside.

"It is all right to let looks and dancing and clever talking have a share in the attractions that lea a man to the jewelry store for a ring, but he finds her beauty is somewhat changed without the usual makeup, that dancing is a poor substitute for lunch, and, as for talking, there will come a time when he will set a premimum on an hour of perfect quiet."

Jonah on the Run.

A few months ago a Methodist preacher delivered a discourse on "Jonah" at La Center, Ky., in which he is reported to have said: "When Jonah left that fish he hit the ground a-runnin' and started full tilt for Nineveh. One of the sisters looked out of her window and saw a cloud of dust down the road, and after looking intently, said to her husband: 'I believe in my soul, yonder comes Brother Jonah.' She went to the door and hollered, 'Good mornin'.'

"'Good mornin', answered Jonah, without turning his head.

"'Where you goin' so fast, Brother Jonah?'

"'Goin' to Nineveh,' he replied.

"'Well, stop and take dinner with us.'

"'Ain't got time. Three days late now.'

"'Oh, come in and get your dinner, Brother Jonah. We've got fish for dinner.'

"'Don't talk to me about fish,' said Brother Jonah.

"'Well, come in and have a drink of water.'

"'Don't talk to me about water' — and on he went a-clipping toward Nineveh."

Are You Bashful?

Bashful people invariably sit with their toes turned in. Why this should be it is undoubtedly difficult to explain, but there is no doubt about the fact. If the bashfulness runs to great embarrassment, one foot, with the toes still turned in, seeks the consoling influence of the other and poises itself on the ankle of the other foot. If the bashfulness and embarrassment are noticed when the individual is standing, one foot is sure to be placed behind the other and to be lifted up at frequent intervals, while as the embarrassment increases the raised foot rubs up and down the calf of the leg which supports the body.

Feminine Indorsement

She advanced to the paying teller's window, and, handing in a check for $50, stated that it was a birthday present from her husband and asked for payment. The teller informed her that she must first indorse it.

"I don't know what you mean," she said hesitatingly.

"Why, you see," he explained, "you must write your name on the back, so that when we return the check to your husband, he will know we have paid you the money."

"O, is that all?" she said, relieved. One minute elapsed.

Thus the indorsement: "Many thanks, dear, I've got the money. Your loving wife, Evelyn."

STREET BOY VIOLINIST MAY BECOME MASTER

David Paget, a London street-boy violinist, has fallen in the way of good fortune. Paget, who is only fourteen years of age, earned a livelihood by playing outside the doors of theatres. Recently he came into prominence by winning first prize in a competition organized among street musicians. Subsequently he secured a position in one of the great London theatres, and then influential people interested themselves in him. On the occasion of the recent visit of Emperor William of Germany to London, through the influence of the wife of a Westminster magistrate, Paget was permitted to play before His Majesty.

The boy's achievements, chronicled in the newspapers, caught the eye of Kubelik, the famous Bohemian violinist, who had just arrived in London, and the famous artist asked that the toy should be presented to him.

To demonstrate his abilities, the lad played the intermezzo from "Cavalleria, Rusticana" so effectively that Kubelik exclaimed: "Bravo, bravo!" Then, handling the boy's poor instrument Kubelik remarked that he must have a proper violin.

First the virtuoso handed to Paget the Emperor violin which is claimed to be the most perfect specimen of the workmanship of Stradivarius, and upon this instrument the boy, at Kubelik's request, gave a further demonstration of his powers. At the end of the performance Kubelik said to Paget, "You must let me give you a violin," and the boy, with eyes filled with tears, nodded his acceptance of the offer.

The little party went to a violin shop and after trying one or two instruments Kubelik selected for his protege one with a strong and beautiful tone, upon which the youth played the Hungarian once again, and again elicited the praises of Kubelik.

Instructions were given that a good supply of requisites should be provided for Paget, and Kubelik ordered that there should be attached to the case a plate bearing the inscription:

"To David Paget, with best wishes for his promising future, from Jan Kubelik, May 25, 1911."

THE DISAPPOINTED PERSON.

The disappointed person may be old or young and of either sex, but in each and every case he or she is an uncomfortable companion. We are all in agreement on that point, yet we are very apt to lose sight of the important fact that we are all liable to fall into the same mental condition. A cherished desire remains unrealised or a plan fails, we feel angry with fate or circumstances, and we refuse to be comforted. When we are talking of somebody else, we like to recall Napoleon saying that we never know when we are beaten, but when our own turn comes the case is different. There is another fact which has its bearing on this question of disappointment; it is that we human beings like to be regarded as martyrs and to attract to ourselves the sympathy of our fellows. Now, if we remain cheerful and spring up quickly after receiving this knockdown blow, how can we expect the sympathy of other people? We may not be conscious of this, but it is true, notwithstanding.

Bohemian Summer Resorts.

According to the latest statistics about $40,045,000 is expended each year by visitors from foreign countries who take the "cure" at the natural mineral spring resorts in western Bohemia, along the Erzebirge (Ore Mountains.)

This does not include the sum spent by foreign transient visitors who stop for less than eight days or by those from the various crown lands. The grand total isn ot less than $45,000,000 to -50,000,000.

Some idea of the volume of business transacted at the great Bohemian spas may be deduced from the fact that the railroad office in Marienbad, which has a resident population of 6,279, receives from outbound passengers for transportation tickets alone, exclusive of baggage receipts, -400,000 annually.

The post office in the same city turns over to the government after payment of all expenses a net profit of a like amount. These figures can be multiplied by three of Carlshad. The three resorts depending on their natural mineral springs for cure purposes (Carlshad, Marienbad and Franzenbad) pay $913,500 annually in direct taxes exclusive of the special assessments

We could never have loved the earth so well if we had had no childhood in it — if it were not the earth where the same flowers come up again every spring that we used to gather with our tiny fingers as we sat lisping to ourselves on the grass — the same hips and haws on the autumn hedgerow — the same redbreast that we used to call "God's birds," because they did no harm to the precious crops. What novelty is worth that sweet monotony where everything is known, and loved because it is known?

The wood I walk in on this mild day, with the yellow-brown foliage of the oaks between me and the blue sky, the white star-flowers and the blue-eyed speedwell and the ground ivy at my feet — what grove of tropic palms, what strange ferns or splendid broadpetalled blossoms, could ever thrill such deep and delicate fibres within me as this home scene? These familiar flowers, these well-remembered bird-notes, this sky, with its fitful brightness, these furrowed and grassy fields, each with a sort of personality given to it by the capricious hedgerows — such things as these are the mother tongue of our imagination, the language that is laden with all the subtle inextricable associations the fleeting hours of our childhood left behind them. Our delight in the sunshine on the deep-bladed grass to-day, might be no more than the faint perception of wearied souls, if it were not for the sunshine and the grass in the far-off years which still live in us, and transform our perception into love.

Objects of Pity.

It is an undiscerning sympathy that reaches only to ills that are felt and confessed. We every day meet men with laughter on their lips, and unclouded brows, who are very nearly the greatest claimants of pity. Pity him who laughs but never thinks. Pity the men and women who fritter away the days in busy idleness, calling it society, when they might read a book. Pity those who, without evil intent, are making great mistakes, who live as though life had no purpose or end, who gratify a present desire unmindful of future pain. Pity parents who have not learned how to rear and train their children; pity the children so reared as that they go unto life with undermined health and weakened nerves prematurely weaned of society, lawless in their dispositions, rude and inconsiderate in their manners, stamped with the impress of chance associations and unregulated pleasures. No, it is not pain that is to be pitied so much as mistake, not conscious sufferings but courses that breed future suffering.

Where Thackeray Studied.

The lover of Thackeray who makes a pilgrimage to the temple must not confine his attention to Brick court, for that was only one of the novelist's temple homes. In 1831, when Thackeray became a member of the temple, he commenced his studies at 1 Hare court, by reading with William Taprell, and in 1848, when he was finally called to the bar he took chambers in Crown Office row, sharing them, it is said, with Thomas Taylor, of Punch. His Crown Office row chambers have disappeared, but Hare court, in which a disastrous fire was once extinguished with beer because the Thames water was frozen, still stands.

Aged Farmer Drops Dead in Field.

Smith's Falls, Aug. 17.—Wm. McGillivray, one of the best known farmers of this district, dropped dead in a field near his home this morning. He had gone out to catch horses and immediately after getting on the halter he expired. Deceased was ninety-one years of age, but was wonderfully active for his age. He had lived his whole life on the farm where he died.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

WHY GO TO ALASKA TO INVEST IN OIL?

During the past month we have beenpresenting to the readers of The Morning Times, and the public in general, an offer which for SAFETY and CERTAINTY OF RESULTS in the form of DIVIDENDS and ENORMOUS PROFITS is well nigh UNPRECEDENTED.

In Southwest Colorado, in Mountezuma County, near Mancos, nature has placed RICH OIL FIELDS which promise to be the cause of the MOST STUPENDOUS BOOM COLORADO HAS HAD SINCE THE EARLY GOLD DAYS.

We own and control 8,500 acres of land in this section which experts assure us are positively gusher producing properties,

We have bought and paid for all the machinery necessary for drilling. We do not owe one cent. If you invest with us you have behind your investment not only enormous land values but machinery the value of which is fully $8,000.

For the ordinary investor this would be security enough but we have made the safest investment proposition that ever was offered, for, besides these rich Mancos Oil Fields we also own 2,560 acres in the proven oil field of San Juan, Utah; also 1,920 acres in the Great Montezuma District of Colorado, and fifty acres of rich mining ground in the La Plata District, for which we have been offered Ten Thousand Dollars spot cash.

Investments in the stock of our Company participate in the profits of all these properties. The Mancos Oil and Development Company promises to and will give the public a "square deal." Every acre of oil land and mining property which it owns or will acquire belongs to its stockholders.

MR. BURT H. MASON, the president and organizer of the Company, is a mining engineer of enviable reputation the officers of the Company are well-known business men and bankers of Southwestern Colorado. If any misrepresentation has been made we guarantee to return every dollar you pay us and all expenses to which you may have been put for investigation.

The price of stock is Twenty-five Cents a share, which can be paid on monthly installments if desired. If further information be desired it will be cheerfully given.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but tru

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realised within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

Antonio Corsi a model of 30 years Standing is a Great Traveller.

Next time you're in Paris — or London — or Rome — you may see a small, swarthy man in a black-braided velvet suit and a VERY broad sombrero.

If he has high cheek bones, long, bushy black hair, piercing black eyes and wears an enormous carved coral ring on each finger of his left hand you may identify him at once as Antonio Corsi, the world's best known model.

You're just as apt to meet him in Montreal — or Toronto — or Vancouver — for he travels everywhere that art whispers — if the financial tones are loud enough to equal his skill and fame.

Almost every artist of note during the past 30 years has employed Corsi. The majority of art school students in Europe and America have sketched him.

Corsi is an Italian by birth. He has posed in a dozen lands, for royalty and commoner, as deity and devil, saint and sinner, Indian and courtier. Among his best known poses are those for the Sargent and Abbey pictures in the Boston public library. He posed for 11 of the 16 Sargent "prophets," including the famous "Hosea." The difficult arrangement of Hosea's drapery required the completion of the figure in one pose, said to be the longest on record, lasting three hours and 20 minutes. Sixty-eight of the Abbey figures were posed by Corsi, including allthose of Sir Galahad, except for the features and the color of the hair.

TOOK ONLY HALF AN HOUR TO SHOOT $2,500 WORTH OF IVORY.

W. Buckley, the great English elephant shot, in talking of his favorite game says:

"There are three curious things about the elephant.

"First, although he is the biggest animal in the world, he is the hardest to see, for he is the same color as the forest.

"Second, for all his vast area there is little more than a square foot of him that is vulnerable to a bullet.

"Third, all elephants are "left handed," as is proved by the fact that the left tusk is always shorter, being worn away with work.

"My biggest bag of elephants in one day was ten, but the most profitable was a day when I shot eight, and their tusks weighed 766 pounds. It took me half an hour to shoot them, and the ivory was worth $2,500. Of course that was an exceptionally good day.

"The tusks of the biggest elephant weighed 282 pounds —the right tusk 147 pounds, the left 135 pounds.

"The elephant is a very blind animal. From tests carried out he cannot see further than 170 yards, but he can scent a man for half a mile, and can distinguish between a white man and a black man. When he charges he always makes for the white man."

That Clever German!

A German gentleman wanted to take a day's drive through the country. He applied to a stable for the horse and carriage. The owner, not knowing the German, was slow to give him the team. Finally the German pulled out a roll of banknotes and said: "I will buy your horse and rig, providing you will buy them back at the same price when I return this evening." The dealer, not wishing to offend a probable future customer, consented. When in the evening the German presented himself and expressed his pleasure at the ride, the dealer, according to agreement, paid him back his money, and the customer started to take his leave.

"I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the dealer: "but you have forgotten to pay for the hire, you know."

"Pay for the hire? Why, my dear sir," coolly replied the German, "I fail to see that. If you will exercise your memory a trifle you will agree that I have been driving my own horse and carriage all day, and now you have bought them back they are yours. Good-day, sir!"

And he left the astonished dealer to reflect.

Waiting For It.

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a charwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, "Hallos! Who are you?' and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone-bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear.

"I'm Dobson, from Dublin," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and to his amazement, saw the charwoman holding an empty bucket under the telephone-tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and asked someone to receive it, so I'm a-holdin' this bucket, a-waitin' for it to run through!"

It saves trouble to be conventional, for you are not always explaining things. Most of the startling items we read in the newspapers are serious lapses from conventionality and good manners.

Don't let any one tell you there's any life for a woman in this world apart from a man. There's not. And don't let any one try to convince you there is any life for a man without a woman by his side. There's not.

His Wife's Tact.

"I'll give my wife credit for not causing me to be swamped by big hat bills of hers," declared the husband boastfully, in the presence of his wife's lady guests. "All the hat bills I get are small ones, which, however, come in very, very often, although I haven't observed a new bonnet on her since Easter."

"I'm so glad you're pleased," rejoined his wife, coming unexpectedly into the room. "The fact is, you're still paying for that last Easter bonnet, the bill for which the milliner is sending to you in instalments."

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 190 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY AUGUST 18 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU ? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500 ?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

We Eat Too Much

Canadian men and women eat and drink too much. I see nightly men and women drinking fiery liquors and eating great quantities of rich food for dinner. And after the show I see them eating and drinking as heartily as if they had had not a bite all day. Is it any wonder that your men and women of wealth are so gross of figure and so heavy of feature?" — Mlle Marthe Lenglnd, Parisian star.

Butler Will Try For Diamond Sculls

Butler, the crack Toronto Argonaut sculler, will compete in the Diamond Sculls at the Henley regatta, and so good an authority as "Joe" Wright says he has an excellent chance of winning Butler sailed in June from Quebec. The Ottawa eight sail by the same boat.

Butler has a new cedar shell, which was built by Sims, the famous English boat builder. It weighs 24 pounds, and Butler is delighted with it. He is having another shell built by Sims, which will be ready for use on arrival at Henley.

A Well-Protected Wedding

A GREAT CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY

Words of Louis Stevenson Form the Keynote of Great Career.

"To travel hopefully is better than to arrive and the true success is labor." These words, once written by Robert Louis Stevenson, hang above the desk of Mr. H Gordon Selfridge, the head of the enormous store in Oxford street, London, who was recently the victim in a motor smash. They provide the keynote of the character of the man who, starting life as a shop-sweeper, made such good use of his opportunities that, by the time he was thirty, he was a partner in the Marshall Field store in Chicago—a store which has earned joint fortunes for its owners amount to over $500,000,000. Mr. Selfridge had retired from business, when, growing tired of a life of idleness, he turned his eyes towards London and ultimately founded the huge business in Oxford street

OLDEST RULER OF EUROPE

Prince Regent of Bavari aNinety years of age.

The oldest ruler in Europe is the Prince Regent of Bavaria, upon whom on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday, recently, King George conferred the Order of the Garter. He has had the unique experience of acting as regent of that country during the insanity of two kings Twenty-five years ago the Prince Regent's nephew, King Louis II. of Bavaria, was declared insane, and the Prince was proclaimed regent. Three days later the king committed suicide, and was succeeded by King Otto, who is now sixty-three years of age, and who has been insane since 1876. The Prince is extremely popular in Bavaria on account of his sporting proclivities.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Thub Americans Don't Care for Pantomine.

A story from the Folies Bergere has to do with Sig. Curti, the imported ballet master, who spent half an hour trying to drill into the walnut head of a chorus man a bit of pantomine. At last the chorus man said: "Aw, what's the odds? Thub Americans don't care for Pantomine, anyhow." "It makes me think," said Curti, "of the old tenor. Broke, down and out, he had been sleeping in the livery stable for three months, when he suddenly got a chance to sing the role in which he had once been famous. La Scala at Milan was packed that night. He sang — most painfully — before that vast audience. At the end the audience hissed with drilled unanimity. 'Ahh!' said the old tenor, in the wings. 'Ees eet not painful? Zee Italian people, say no longer care for Verdi.'"

"Nerviline" Cures Rheumtism

And Here is the Proof—A Solemn Statement From a Four-Years' Cripple, Who Says "Nerviline" Did it.

"If I had lived through my sufferings another year it would have been a miracle." This is the opening sentence of the declaration made by Mr. T. Eccles Squires, member of one of the best-known families for twenty miles round Sydney. "My hands were drawn out of shape, even my fingers were gnarled and crooked — my lameness, stiffness and inability to get about all showed the havoc Rheumatism made with my health. CURED 4½ YEARS The blessing of it all is that I have heard of Nerviline, and now I am able to tell and advise others how they may get well, too. My system was so weakened that I had to build up with a good tonic, so I took Ferrozone at meals. But I never stopped rubbing on Nerviline—it had a magic influence on my stiff, painful joints, and bottle after bottle was rubbed on the painful parts. Nerviline cured me. I am well to-day—have been well for 4½ years."

You also can cure rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints—to do so use Nerviline. Don't let your druggist substitute. Get Nerviline only: large bottles 25c., or five for $1.00: sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston Ont.

An Immaculate Servant

He was an immaculate servant. To watch him serve a salad was to watch an artist at work. To hear his subdued accents was a lesson in the art of voice-production. He never slipped, he never smiled, and his mutton-chop whiskers marked him as one of the old and faithful stock. But one evening, to the surpise of his master, he showed unaccountable signs of nervousness. When the chicken came on he confused it with the pheasant. He served everything in the wrong order, made blunder after blunder, and put a final touch to his shame by upsetting salt over the only superstitious member of the party. Then at last, when the ladies had retired to the drawing-room, he touched his master on the shoulder. "I beg your pardon, sir," he said in a respectful undertone, "but could you manage to spare me now? — my house is on fire."

Mr. Srigley Honored.

Mr. E. C. Srigley, who has done much for the Poultry Association of this city, was presented by the directors with a handsome watch guard, on Wednesday night. The presentation took place at the store of Mr. J. T. C. Lang. Mr. Srigley acknowledged the honor done him in a few suitable words.

A Peterborough Boy's Success.

The news has been received in town to the effect that Mr. Holden Blackwell, son of Mr. Wm. Blackwell, of this city, has been appointed resident engineer on the C.P.R., between Sudbury and Port Arthur. Mr. Blackwell is an old Peterborough boy, having received his preliminary training in the Collegiate Institute. The Times tenders its congratulations.

Miss Mamie V. McDougall, of Lakefield, has been successful in winning a scholarship at Queen's University, Kingston. In junior matriculation scholarships, Miss McDougall won the McDowell scholarship of $125 for general proficiency. Her many friends are tendering congratulations.

Back With a Bride.

On Saturday last, Mr. Robert Ross manager of the wholesale grocery of Messrs. T. Kinnear & Co., returned from a trip to England, the land of his birth, bringing with him a bride from the Emerald Isle. The wedding was solemnized at Killykeigh, County Down, Ireland, on July 26th, 1911. The bride was Miss Josephine Morrow. The happy couple left Liverpool for Canada on August 5th, and landed in Montreal the following Saturday, August 12. The Times tenders its hearty congratulations.

The Work Progressing.

Mr. Parker Davis, Bobcaygeon, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Heeley's Falls. He says work on the canal at that point and at Campbellford is progressing splendidly. Two locks are being built of 26 feet lift each, and two further down of 20 feet each. These four locks will overcome a grade of 92 feet—thirty feet more than our lift lock. When the section between Hastings and Trenton is completed, Peterborough should be able to secure cheaper coal.

A Fine Muskilonge.

While trolling on the river below the Little Lake Mr. John Mayo, a resident of Lindsay, hooked a fine lunge that tipped the scales at 23½ pounds. This is, we believe, the largest fish caught in these waters for some years. Mr. Mayo, who dropped into The Times yesterday and gave us the above information, is quite proud of his capture.

50th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Sutherland, 323 George street, are receiving the hearty congratulations of their many friends on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of their marriage, which took place on Wednesday evening. They were wedded at Aberdeen, Scotland, by the Rev. Chas. Skene, minister of the John Knox Established Presbyterian Church, and they came to Canada, landing at Quebec, on May 29th, 1868, and after a few days came up to Peterborough, where they have since resided. The Times joins in wishing them continued happiness.

Excursion to Peterborough.

Lindsay Post: On Wednesday, August 30th, the C.M.B.A. will run what will be the last excursion by water route to Peterborough this season. The Str. Stoney Lake has been engaged for the trip and no doubt the excursion will be largely patronized. The Kawartha Lakes during August are particularly attractive and a trip over the route at this season is a rare treat.

Hotels All Busy.

The local hotels are all doing a thriving business this season. The matter of further hotel accommodation will doubtless receive early attention, as more will be required to keep pace with the growth of the city. The license regulations not only provide for certain equipment, but what is of even greater importance is that the proprietors should be men of good character. Profane men, who use vile and obscene language, regardless of who may be within hearing, should not be entrusted with a license. Unfortunately we have one at least who easily comes within this category.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Death of Mr. W. Henderson.

The sad news reached this city yesterday of the death of Mr. Wilson Henderson, Superintendent of the Peterborough Water Works, which occurred yesterday morning on board the steamer City of Hamilton. Mr. Henderson was returning with his daughter, from a cruise on the lakes, undertaken for the benefit of his health. The steamer had carried Mr. Henderson and his family, by easy stages, from Toronto to Fort William. The voyage did not have the beneficial effects expected. On the return his condition became more serious and death took place as above, on board the steamer between Hamilton and Toronto. The remains were removed to Oshawa where interment will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

The late Mr. Henderson, who was born in Westmorland, England, coming to Canada in his early youth, celebrated his 66th birthday a few weeks ago. He spent his earlier years in Canada in railway employment, and later was connected with the Joseph Hall Works, Ottawa, where he gained the mechanical skill that was one of the factors of his efficiency as superintendent of the Water Works, with which he became connected in 1884. He was a loyal and faithful official and a man of sterling integrity. He was married during his residence in Oshawa, and Mrs. Henderson, with three daughters Miss Henderson, Miss Mya and Miss Bessie, survives him.

GALLANT MEN.

More Attacks on Laws That Help Women.

Following the gallant and heroic attack of a few miserly profiteers upon the women's eight-hour law in California, notice has been given by some of the women fighters in Ohio and Missouri that they intend to test the laws enacted in those states recently establishing a maximum of 54 hours per week for female labor.

Although the best medical authorities in the world agree that modern industrial conditions are shattering the health and ruining the lives of countless thousands of the weaker sex and that shorter hours of toil are imperative as a protection to posterity and although I notice that these same greedy employers, who are everlastingly demanding that workingmen obey the laws, studiously avoid placing their own women and children on the treadmill to grind out profits, they are determined that the women and children of the working class shall not escape with an extra hour or two of freedom, so they are going to fight in the courts to quash this "special privilege."

Dog's Eye Grafted on Man's.

That a person totally blind from ophthalmia, even from birth, can be made to see by having a portion of a dog's eye grafted on his own was the startling communication made by Dr. Borsch, an American oculist, in a paper read before the meeting of the French Ophthalmological Society recently.

Dr. Borsch explained that as a result of blindness from ophthalmia, as also from some other causes, the cornea, which is the transparent membrane in front of the eye, becomes opaque, and in such a case the only chance of restoring sight is to replace the defective cornea by a healthy one.

To perform this feat Dr. Borsch first operates on a dog and lays back from its eye the conjunctiva or skin of the eyeball surrounding the cornea. He removes a portion or the latter and places it aside in blood serum. He then performs the same operation on the patient's eye, removing part of the front of the yee of the same size as the cornea taken from the animal.

The dog's cornea is now placed in position on the human eye and secured with stitches of the finest possible silk, the surrounding skin, which had been laid back, being brought into place over the edge of the cornea and also sewn.

The new graft unites with the eye in a few days, aided by a temporary glass cover to keep it in shape and injections of serum to stimulate vitality.

MORE LABOR MEN IN NEXT PARLIAMENT.

Attraction of $2000 Per Annum is Great in Great Britain.

An interesting phase of the British government's proposal to pay salaries to members of parliament in the future at the rate of $2000 per annum is the lamentations of the privileged classes. They say that with salaries about four times greater than the wages they can earn in the shops, factories and mines dangling before their eyes as prizes the labor persons will struggle about ten times harder to be elected to the house of commons.

As the labor party members are all radicals or socialists, the aristocrats, landlords and money lords are complaining that their inherited "rights" will be seriously menaced and that evil days are descending upon their houses. J. Keir Hardie, the socialist leader of the labor party, very politely agrees with the privileged personages for once in his lifetime. Hardie says the number of labor men in the next parliament will be at least doubled and progressive legislation will be put through.

Won the Bet.

They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveller said:—

"Any man, if he has the will-power, can endure pain or fatigue: I know I can."

There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied:

"I'll wager a dinner you can't hold your foot — boot on — in a bucket of hot water as long as I can."

The offer was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each contestant. Soon the young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water.

"What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket.

"Cork, sir — cork!" was the cool answer, and the other left that be had indeed lost.

Darwin Caught On.

When Charles Darwin was visiting the country house of a friend the two boys of the family thought they would play a joke on the scientist. So they caught a butterfly, a grasshopper a beetle and a centipede, and out of these creatures they made a strange composite insect. They took the centipede's body, the butterfly's wings, the grasshopper's legs and the beetle's head and they glued them together carefully. Then, with their new bug in a box, they knocked at Darwin's door.

"We caught this bug in a field," they said. "Can you tell us what kind of a bug it is, Mr. Darwin?"

Darwin looked at the bug and then he looked at the boys. He smiled slightly.

"Did you notice whether it hummed when you caught it, boys?" he asked.

"Yes," they answered, nudging one another.

"Then," said Darwin, "it is a humbug."

VOL XXXIV NO 191 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURAY AUGUST 19 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

MR. GEO. W. HATTON GETS $13,000 FOR HIS PROPERTY

Mr. George W. Hatton, the well known barrister, has been awarded $13,000 by the arbitrators for the property on the Water front, situated immediately south of the George Matthews Company's packing house, on George street. For some time the efforts of Hon. J. R. Stratton, member for West Peterborough, has been directed towards obtaining a grant sufficient to build a much needed wharf at this point. He succeeded in securing a grant of $30,000, which will be the first instalment of about a total of $100,000, which the wharf will cost. Negotiations were at once opened up with Mr. Hatton for the purchase of the above property. Mr. Hatton asked $16,000, which the Government would not pay. Finally, at Mr. Stratton's suggestion, it was submitted to arbitration, the arbitrators being Judge Hoyche and Messrs. J. H. McClellan and W. Langford. The award was made some time ago, and yesterday Mr. Hatton was officially notified that the award was satisfactory to the Government.

Work will be begun at once on the wharf, and will be continued through the winter. The Government has certainly done the right thing, and the city is to be congratulated on the outcome.

LOST $140,000 IN AN ATLANTIC CITY GAME

New York, Aug. 17.—The story of an Atlantic City gambling game, in which an unnamed "steel king" lost $140,000 in one lump, is told by Mrs. Ann Betts in connection with her suit here against her husband, Louis L. Betts, for a separation and $25,000 a year alimony. The statement is made by friends of Mrs. Betts' that the man who lost the $140,000 is assisting the District Attorney at Atlantic City in his efforts to eliminate gambling from the resort. This man charges that he was robbed of the $140,000 by electrical devices which manipulated a roulette wheel.

Mrs. Betts says in her suit that her husband owns property in New York City, Richmond, Va., and Florida. She estimates his income at $100,000 a year.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

MR. BURNHAM'S REJOINDER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Examiner's comment upon my letter in its issue of yesterday contains the information that I belong to a society whose members would not vote for a Catholic. Let me give this the fullest and flattest contradiction. Moreover, I know of no such society. Furthermore, I value the liberties and friendship of Roman Catholics just as much as I do those of Protestants and would vote for one just as quick. But the momentous question which we are discussing refers wholly to the uncompromising attack of the Pope on Protestants, in his late decrees. The Pope takes the position that he is really the successor of Christ and master of the situation and that therefore he must "restore all things in Christ" i. e. himself, and no longer delay in hurling back the democracy which has been having its way too long in defiance of the Church. Moreover, he claims to say what liberty is to be allowed to mankind and what is not. He has established in every diocese or Secret Council of Vigilance to carry out the work. Why "secret"? Believe me the trouble is just beginning. There is no course for Protestants but to resist with all their might. But their resistance has no reference to individual Catholics. When Cardinal Vannetelli said at Montreal at the height of the celebration "Oh! This is indeed like a day in the Middle Ages," he knew quite well what he meant. Are the people then to be driven back to those days of subserviency and class rule? Now let me close by quoting the Catholic Register's idea of what the Church wants and its idea of liberal thought and open-mindedness. The Register says:—

"The "liberal Catholic," said Pius IX., is a worse enemy of religion than even the infidel or the heretic. And years ago, Brownson, in his Quarterly Review, declared that it is the liberalism which has penetrated the Catholic camp that renders Catholics throughout Europe so imbecile in the defence of the rights and interests of their religion, and enables the enemies of God and society to usurp the government of once Catholic nations. It is accursed liberalism, so seductive in its tones, so sweet to the taste, yet so fatal in its effects on the system, that has brought the Catholic population of Europe into their present deplorable condition. . . . It is all the work of liberal Catholics, without whom Protestants and infidels would be reduced to impotency and become the laughing stock of the world."

Yours, &c.,

J. H. Burnham.

IS NOT A CANAL EMPLOYEE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—On my return to town to-day I noticed a paragraph in a local paper, stating that Mr. W. H. Meldrum was an employee of the Trent Canal. Mr. Meldrum doubtless did not think it worth his while to reply. I, however, have decided to do so, and would say that the statement is untrue. Mr. Meldrum is doing what each and every British subject has a right to do: To support who he likes. Thank God, we do not live in Russia, where evidently the writer belongs, if he got into his proper class. The public has too high a regard for Mr. Meldrum to believe slanderous stories such as the writer referred to would have them believe.

Mr. Meldrum, like a large majority of the people of West Peterborough, believes that it would be unwise and foolish, not to say ungrateful, for him not to support Hon. J. R. Stratton, who has done, and is doing so much for the riding which he has so ably represented.

A True Conservative.

A POLITICAL MIX-UP.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Good Book says that a house that is divided against itself must fall. How then can the firm of Peck & Kerr hope to succeed? The former is a Tory candidate and the latter a Grit would-be M. P. Just fancy how the chips will fly when they get busy reciting their speeches. The atmosphere of their law office would be hot enough to start a conflagration. If each member of the firm believes what he professes, he will hardly have much use for the other. Will Mr. Peck vote against his partner in the east? And will Mr. Kerr retaliate by acting similarly in the West?

Politics is a queer game, without a doubt, and may be hard to understand.

DEMOCRACY AND THE PRIEST.

Editor Morning Times.

He's true to God, who's true to man
Wherever wrong is done.
To the humblest and the weakest,
'Neath the all beholding sun.—Lowell

Sir,—In The Times of Saturday last appeared a letter from Mr. J. H. Burnham, setting forth his answer to the Catholic Herald on the attitude of the Church towards democracy. Let us examine the claim of the Catholic Church as set forth by the Herald, regarding the liberty of democracy. This is an old, old controversy and the R. C. Church has always striven for and maintained its claim to be above the people—above their rights and above individual conscience. The fight for liberty between mankind and the Church has been fought for years, and always the Church has done all in its power, by all means, (and history tells us how cruel some of these means were), to have and to hold the ruling power over the people, over the liberty of our fellow men and women. In its fight for the mastery over our ideals, our ambitions and our consciences, in the past, our father's blood was shed by the Church, our mothers and our sisters were driven from home and suffered persecutions—all in defence of their claim to be allowed to be free to work in the path their conscience

THE BOY SCOUTS BACK FROM CAMP

(Contributed).

The following is a little account of their doings, and the improvements made in their Scout work:

August 1st, was the day of departure from Peterborough, with their efficient Scoutmaster, W. J. Miller, Cecil Richardson, adjutant. Mr. McClaren acted as troop chaplain and proved himself very capable of looking after the spiritual welfare of the whole company.

This is, without doubt, something new in Peterborough and worthy of every live and half dead citizen's interest and support, and when one comes to think of the work, time, trouble and brains it takes to get these boys to their present state of efficiency in scout work, which is a credit to Peterborough, and of which the citizens will have a chance of seeing later on, who did not visit the camp on Saturday, August 12th when a good display was put on, consisting of bridge building, open camp scene, passing of the flag, at which the boys sung "The Maple Leaf," accompanied by cornet; after which flag was raised, the boys saluting, then while God Save the King was played, the boys presented staves, followed by three cheers for the Union Jack; the boys were then dismissed and five minutes later, they lined up for the semaphore signalling drill which was gone through in alphabetical order to the tune of the Merry Widow, played on cornet by the Scoutmaster.

First Aid, this in particular being carried out well; boys left camp acting as despatch bearers, and returned later wounded, the ambulance taking them in charge. It was very interesting to watch the boys go through the work of bandaging the supposed sufferers. This was gone through twice by request of the visitors, who numbered about 50.

Next came rescuing from drowning, three boys going out some distance in a punt, then falling in, three more swimming after them and bringing them safe to land. This was repeated and proved a scout boy's ability to do a good turn in saving life.

Next came the parade, which was smartly done.

Telegraph operations were gone through and a boy walked over the bridge, the construction of this was a splendid piece of work. The programme was brought to a close by singing God Save the King. Every other day was spent just as profitable as this. The discipline and order of the boys in camp was splendid, and great praise is due Mr. Miller and his staff for results obtained and the condition he returned the boys in to their homes, all looking healthy and bright and feeling sorry that the camp was brought to a close.

I, along with other citizens would like to see our boys do as well at Toronto Exhibition as they did last year. They being the star company out of 2000 boys.

Are our other scoutmasters preparing for this? If so, our boys may be able to score again and what we want is that the Peterborough Boy Scouts may come out at the top again and so add another good point to the achievements of Peterborough.

Trusting that this will be taken up at once, if it is not already in hand.

The Campaign Throughout The Country is Now in Full Swing

HUNDREDS OF MEETINGS BEING HELD ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

(Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The campaign is becoming hot all over the Dominion, the pace evidently having been set by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. R. L. Borden, the two great leaders, both of whom are addressing thousands daily. There is just a clear month now until polling day, so that each party is making the best of the short time at their disposal.

Hamilton Liberals.

Messrs. John I. McLaren, ex-Mayor and John Peebles, ex-Alderman have accepted the nomination for West and East Hamilton respectively. The Liberals believe they have two strong men in and will rally to their support.

Muskoka Nomisations.

Bracebridge, Aug. 18.—Muskoka Liberals met in convention here and nominated Mr. G. H. R. Thomas, of Bracebridge, as their candidate for the House of Commons. Nine other men were nominated, but all withdrew in Mr. Thomas' favor. Mr. Thomas has resided in Bracebridge for over a quarter of a century. He controls the Bracebridge Gazette and the Gravenhurst Banner.

Edmund Bristol the Choice.

Mr. Edmund Bristol will again be the candidate of the Liberal-Conservatives of Toronto. The enthusiasm displayed at the nomination showed the confidence of his friends that he can hold this close riding.

To Oppose W. H. Germain.

William Munro of Thorold was chosen by the Conservative Association of Welland County to contest the seat in the Dominion elections. By a vote of 107 to 52 the decision was finally reached to have a candidate against Mr. Germain.

East Algoma Liberals.

East Algoma Liberals have nominated their standard bearer, Mr. J. L. Regan, manager of the Midland Lumber Company, Limited.

IN QUEBEC.

To Oppose Ames.

Dr. Milton Hersey was chosen last night as Liberal candidate in St. Antoine Division, Montreal, to oppose Mr. Herbert B. Ames.

Meigs Retires.

At the Liberal convention for the County of Missisquoi a large number of delegates from different parts of the country were present. The nomination was tendered Mr. D. B. Meigs the present member, but he declined to accept and a ballot was then taken with the result that Mr. F. W. Kay, of Phillipsburg, received 61 out of 70 votes cast. The choice was then made unanimous.

MANY KILLED AND INJURED BY WIND AND CLOUDBURST

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 18.—Damage estimated at $300,000 was caused by a cloudburst and "twister" that swept over Winkhelman and Hayden Wednesday night, according to reports received here. One woman was killed and her son injured by falling timbers. The dead body of a Mexican child was found in a wrecked house. At Winkhelman nearly 200 buildings were blown down. The Mexican quarter at Hayden was destroyed, and many are reported injured there.

THEATRES CLOSED DOWN HOTELS SHUT AT 2 P. M.

London, Aug. 17.—The Union leaders this afternoon expressed themselves as satisfied with the response to the strike order. They claimed that 200,000 men had quit work.

James Henry Thomas, labor member of Parliament for Derby, and assistant secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, issued a statement in which he asserted that the strikers had almost paralyzed the whole railway system of the United Kingdom.

The Government's proposal for a Royal Commission was considered by a joint committee of the railway societies during the forenoon, but the men did not change or alter their position that the managers must deal directly with them, in the slightest degree.

An interesting incident was noticed at Euston Station where the police were seen escorting boxes containing strike pay from the station to the officers of the union.

All the theatres in Liverpool have been closed down, and the hotels have been forced to close at 2 p.m.

SITUATION IN BRITAIN IS VERY MUCH LIKE CIVIL WAR

London, Aug. 17.—Here are some press comments on the British strike:

The Daily Telegraph: "Troops are in motion and cruisers have appeared in the Mersey. It would not be a strike, but something perilously like civil war."

The Daily Graphic: "We have had a sudden revelation of unsuspected danger to the very existence of the nation. Our criminal courts ought to be empowered to deal with such a conspiracy. The nation must defend itself against its enemies, whether they be hired under a foreign banner or in our midst."

Daily Mail: "The strike is against the public and the public have victory in their hands if they have the courage of their convictions, and a sense of their own danger. The public can end the strike and make its repetition impossible."

HOUSE ALARMED AT STRIKE REMAINED IN SESSION

London, Aug. 18.—So critical does the Government regard the strike situation and so urgent may be the need of instant legislation, that the Cabinet suddenly decided this afternoon that Parliament should not adjourn to-day as had been arranged.

Chancellor David Lloyd-George, who was leading the Government forces in the House of Commons in the absence of Premier Asquith, made the announcement just before the lower chamber's session was suspended for luncheon. He stated "In view of the very troubled and critical situation in the industrial world, it will be very inadvisable for this House to separate at any rate for a few days until we realize better what the possibilities there are of effecting some settlement."

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

Charges Against Chief.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Two officials of the Fire Department has signed depositions to submit to the board of control, charging Chief Tremblay, head of the Fire Department, with a species of maladministration.

It is charged in the depositions that Chief Tremblay has used firemen in his department to make a motor for a boat he owns, and that firemen have been working at Mr. Tremblay's house at Valois.

Offensive Letters.

We are constantly receiving letters for publication of an abusive type. These letters are mostly on political subjects, and publishing them would do no good, but on the contrary, would tend to stir up ill-will. The Times' columns are open to those who desire to discuss public and not personal matters. We ask our correspondents to kindly remember this in future.

ARE YOU IN DANGER?

You May be Neglecting a Small Ailment and Thereby Inviting Serious Disease.

That little maladies grow into serious diseases we all know. Upon the stomach, liver and kidneys rest mainly the work of maintaining health. Most of your little sicknesses come from derangement of these organs. Experience proves they are very frequently out of order, not badly perhaps, but even if only slightly out of order, it acts upon the mind and the spirits and upon the strength and regularity of the system.

It won't pay you to neglect your health; at the first sign of headache or languor take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and note how bright you feel next morning. You'll have a grand appetite, enjoy your breakfast and feel full of energy to go to work upon.

Your food soon tastes so good that you eat more than ever before and, of course, you grow stronger, ruddy, vivacious and sparkling with energy and good health.

Soon your friends will notice the improvement, and by continuing to tone up your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills you lay the sound foundation of permanent good health.

There is no medicine better for men, women or children, nothing for family use half so beneficial as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. To look well, keep well, and feel well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

MORE THAN EVER

Increased Capacity for Mental Labor Since Leaving Off Tea and Coffee.

Many former tea and coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform, day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of tea or coffee. An Illinois woman writes:

"I had drank coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left, had kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

"I am steadily gaining in physical strength and brain power. I formerly did mental work and had to give it up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing hard mental labor with less fatigue than ever before."

THE DISAPPOINTED PERSON.

The disappointed person may be old or young and of either sex, but in each and every case he or she is an uncomfortable companion. We are all in agreement on that point, yet we are very apt to lose sight of the important fact that we are all liable to fall into the same mental condition. A cherished desire remains unrealized or a plan fails, we feel angry with fate or circumstances, and we refuse to be comforted. When we are talking of somebody else, we like to recall Napoleon saying that we never know when we are beaten, but when our own turn comes the case is different. There is another fact which has its bearing on this question of disappointment; it is that we human beings like to be regarded as martyrs and to attract to ourselves the sympathy of our fellows. Now, if we remain cheerful and spring up quickly after receiving this knockdown blow, how can we expect the sympathy of other people? We may not be conscious of this, but it is true, notwithstanding.

Bohemian Summer Resorts.

According to the latest statistics about $40,645,000 is expended each year by visitors from foreign countries who take the "cure" at the natural mineral spring resorts in western Bohemia, along the Erzebirge (Ore Mountains.)

This does not include the sum spent by foreign transient visitors who stop for less than eight days or by those from the various crown lands. The grand total isn ot less than $45,000,000 to -50,000,000.

Some idea of the volume of business transacted at the great Bohemian spas may be deduced from the fact that the railroad office in Marienbad, which has a resident population of 6,279, receives from outbound passengers for transportation tickets alone, exclusive of baggage receipts, 400,000 annually.

The post office in the same city turns over to the government after payment of all expenses a net profit of a like amount. Those figures can be multiplied by three of Carlsbad. The three resorts depending on their natural mineral springs for cure purposes (Carlsbad, Marienbad and Franzensbad) pay $913,500 annually in direct taxes exclusive of the special assessments

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Why I Am A Canadian
By ARTHUR HAWK.

Did it ever occur to you that there are two classes of Canadians—those who couldn't help being Canadians and those who could. I would be very proud to belong to the couldn't-help-it class. But I belong to the other, and I would like to tell you why. I am a curiosity in patriotism. There are tens of thousands like me, most of them unrecognized. I want to find them, so that they may be encouraged to find themselves.

Patriotism? Yes, sir, Patriotism is "Home Sweet Home" on a grand scale. Listen:—

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
This is my own, my native land!"

Listen again:—

The centurion told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest, for this man is a Roman.

Then the chief captain came and said unto him Tell me, are thou a Roman? He said I am.

And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, BUT I WAS FREE BORN.

There is a glory of the native born—the thrill that passes through your heart and down your spine when the sacramental element of your nativity makes its subtle, compelling appeal to your mind. I know what it is; but not in Canada. If you have it, cherish it; be exceeding glad when it comes to you. Pass it on.

To us who enjoy only the blessing of adoption, who have given our native land a second place in our affections, is there even a glory for us in Canada? Can you—the native born—tell what it is? You can't, because you haven't had our experience.

We need not envy you, the native born; you need not envy us, the British-born. We are meet for one another, to conspire to make Canada as great in reputation as she is great in extent. And so it becomes you to inquire why I am a Canadian, and to think well upon my two answers.

One.—Because you asked me to be a Canadian.

I hope to be quite humble in expanding this answer, because I've had worthy people come to me and say, "We have found that British people are not welcomed here," and because I want to speak the truth in love. Personally I have never felt the slightest sense of not being welcome in Canada. Many years ago I moved from the South to the North of England, and I felt ever so much more a stranger north of the Trent than I have ever felt north of the St. Lawrence. Very thankfully I testify that never since I landed at Quebec, twenty-six years ago, have I said a word against conditions in Canada. Never a word has been said to me personally that I could resent. But there are others.

I know a man who has become as keen a Canadian as I have, who, with his wife, began life in Ontario on a farm. They are good people, who do good to others and who are already better off than they ever hoped to be in England. They left the farm because they were continually subjected to nagging about their nationality. For the sins of others they were called "chirpers" and other names.

You asked us to come. The Government has spent millions and millions of dollars in inducing British-born people to forsake friends and homes and traditions and places consecrated by sacred dust, and help to build up Canada. The Dominion has become prosperous because the immigrant, the chirper, as well as the capitalist, has arrived. Never forget, brother, that he was besought to come by you, through such people as Lord Strathcona and Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These great men have looked for assets for Canada; for an impetus to your prosperity. Be gentle in your attitude to the people who come from the same land that your ancestors came from. Let patience have her perfect work in you, in them. Ask yourself how you would get along if you were dumped into a Yorkshire manufacturing town and sent to work in a mill, and expected to become a Yorkshireman in five or six days.

Two.—I am a Canadian because I know Canada.

They know not England who only England know. They know not Canada who only their province know. The Englishman who finds himself, say, in Southern Saskatchewan, for a year or two, and who visits the Old Country, says, "In Canada they do this and that." He will describe an ox harness, for instance. He does not know that in Nova Scotia they strap a yoke tight to the oxen's horns; and they also shoe each ox with eight iron shoes. To him the little bit of Canada he has seen is the whole of Canada.

Will you forgive me if I state the simple truth that a great deal of Canadian pride is nourished on a little knowledge of Canada. We can't all know the country, because if everybody travelled all the time there would be a standstill to industries on which the country prospers. That means that there is something of a responsibility upon those who have seen much of the country to help the less fortunate to realize what a noble country it is, and what a wonderful future it may make its own.

It was by a fortune I never deserved, that I went through the mill of pioneering in the West between 1885 and 1891, and that, after fourteen years' absence I came back, journeyed for three months all over the country, and finally settled in Toronto; and that in six years I have travelled a hundred and forty thousand miles between Halifax and Victoria.

Of deliberate choice, then, I brought my family to Canada. They do not want to go back to the land of their birth. We do not speak of England as "home." This is our home. We want no other. Our settlement has been consecrated by the advent of a little Canadian-born girl, who began life sturdier in body than either of her sisters. She will be able to sing of Canada as her native land. I am glad of it. You see, we combine: the British-born and the Native-born.

And behold it is good—very good.

A Boon To Stock-Raisers

To Know How to Cure Colic, Distemper, Colds, Swellings, Etc. —Saves Thousands Each Year.

It is a matter of vital importance to every farmer, horse-owner and stock-raiser to know exactly what to do when one of his animals is taken suddenly sick.

The letter of Mr. Frank F. Fullerton, which we print below, gives information of inestimable value, and tells of his experience in curing ailing stock during the past thirty-eight years:

SAVED $1,000 BY NERVILINE

"Several years ago when my horses took colic I used to give them Cayenne Pepper in hot milk, but in a few cases only did it help, and because I had no proper means at hand I lost several valuable animals. Some one told me of the success Mr. Wendling, of Brockville, Ont., had in his racing stables with "Nerviline," so I laid in a supply. It wasn't very long before Nerviline saved the life of a valuable stallion of mine, which was worth at least $1,000.00. This horse was taken with the colic, and would have died, had it not been for Nerviline. I have used Nerviline for reducing swellings, for taking out distemper lumps, and easing a bad cough, and always found it worked well. I recommend every man who owns horses or cattle to keep Nerviline on hand.

Mr. Fullerton is one of the best known residents of Stormont, and his recommendation as an experienced and practical horseman proved beyond question how valuable Nerviline really is.

Give Nerviline a trial. It's good for man or beast, internally or externally. 25c per bottle or five for $1.00. At all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

REGISTER!

The registration of voters under the Manhood Suffrage Act of Ontario opens on Tuesday in Peterborough. Those young men who have strong political convictions or pronounced partisan leanings will register without any outside pressure.

But it is still more desirable that the independent young man have himself enrolled. Large numbers who have made no study of the questions confronting our country regarding the whole political economy as the concern of petty minds, with which for their part they will have nothing whatever to do.

This is an all-advised position. Government by the people imposes a serious responsibility on every citizen If the eligible voter refuses to take any interest in the elections on the ground that one party is no better than another he is gravely at fault. It is his duty to make himself acquainted with the issues at stake in order to be qualified to deliver a sound opinion upon them. To withdraw from the arena is only to throw the greater power in the hands of those who do not vote according to the dictates of conscience or reason, but whichever way prejudice or whim happens to sway them.

The qualifications necessary are simplicity itself. The young man must be a British subject over twenty-one years, who has resided twelve months in Canada and three months in Peterborough. Let every eligible person register in order that as complete a record of public sentiment as possible may be obtained.

pointed out was the right way. This right the Church denied them and wants to deny us, in these days when we enjoy the liberty our fathers fought for, were tortured for and died for. Remember that the blood, the tears of orphans and the homeless, the sufferings of the tortured, brought us this right, and still today the Church boldly and brazenly, declares itself possessed of this right. Let us see what there is in the Herald's statement, and when you once see what it means I have no fear whatever what your answer to its demands will be. Only remember this that when you feel indignant and justly so, at the monstrous claims of the R. C. Church; when you realize the tyranny it is striving to wield over our hearts and consciences, over our ideals and our lives, remember (and this is important), remember I say, that a vote given to Liberalism, a vote given in favor of a Roman Catholic premier, is a vote in favor of the R. C. Church and its unjust and tyrannical claims of power over us, and our conscience.

Now as to the claims of the Church as given us by the Herald. Read carefully the statement of the Catholic Herald in last Saturday's Times, and you will see it stated the Church is in favor of a right democracy, but there is a democracy it will not have, and adds, such a democracy is a tyranny. There is a law of right and justice and when democracy clashes with that law, then is the Church opposed to it. This latter statement is very good in its way, but who is to decide and to determine this law of right and justice? What will happen when the people acting according to their consciences put one interpretation on this law and the Church puts another? Then the Herald says the Church will oppose it. That is, I would like to remind the Herald, if we give it the power to oppose it. And now what will happen when the Church itself violates the eternal law of right and justice? Who will oppose the Church if we place in its hands the power it is striving for? What form would the opposition of the Church take, to democracy, when the Church decides it clashes with this eternal law? Read your history and you will see what form the opposition of the Church took. IT WENT JUST AS FAR AS THE POWER IT WIELDED, ALLOWED IT TO GO, and here I want you to halt and take a mental review of the situation to-day and see how this claiming of power by the Church over you and your fellowmen affects us now and will affect us in the future, if we give the Church the power it is striving for. Remember the way the Church used its power when it had it, remember the lives laid down, the sufferings, and the tortures heroically endured by our fathers in their fight against the Church, when they secured for us the right to liberty we enjoy to-day and remember the Church although beaten by the bravery of our fathers, has never admitted defeat, but always it has striven and to-day it is striving to regain the power over us, our fathers died to purchase for us. No sane person wishes to clash, or disobey the eternal laws of right and justice, but I deny strongly the right of the Church to put its own interpretation on these laws, especially when my history books show me how brazenly and how often the R. C. Church itself has broken those very laws. When it burned at the stake, because our fathers worshipped God according to their conscience, was the Church upholding or breaking the eternal laws of right and justice? Do you believe that the eternal laws of right and justice permit the Church to separate husband from wife and children from their parents and most cruel of all, to brand the poor innocent children as illegitimate, because one of their parents did not belong to its Church and the marriage ceremony was performed by someone who was not a priest of the R.C. Church. Is that according to the laws of right and justice think you. The eternal laws of right and justice truly are above all and superior truly to the will of the people and I maintain superior also even to the Roman Catholic Church itself. Right and justice are above even the R. C. Church and that is the bottom of the whole matter. I claim the right to mould my own life according to the dictates of my conscience and I claim this right for my fellow men and women, and I deny the right of the R. C. Church to oppose me or my fellowmen and women in any way so long as we obey the commands of our consciences. I WILL DO RIGHT AS I SEE IT AND NOT AS THE R. C. CHURCH SEES IT, and I deny their right to come between me and my conscience, between me and my ideals and because of this, I will vote Conservative. No Liberal Government, with a servant of the R. C. Church at its head will receive any support from me. Let not the sacrifices of our fathers be in vain, fight for the liberty they bought for us with their blood and lives, and remember in this coming election, the R. C. Church is doing all it can, is using all its influence to return Sir Wilfred Laurier to power. Remember how dearly our liberty was bought, and defend it now, not by fighting as in the days of old, but by the more peaceful way of the ballot. Remember, in conclusion, every vote given to the Liberals means the strengthening of power to the R. C. Church and vote Conservative and for liberty.

A LIVE REPRESENTATIVE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I am one of those who believe in letting well enough alone. We are well governed, the country is exceedingly prosperous and we have a representative in the person of the Hon. J. R. Stratton that we have no reason to be ashamed of. He is a worker from the word "go," and, I venture to say, has done more for Peterborough during his short term than any other man that ever went to Ottawa from this county. Let us be fair then, and reward him by placing him at the head of the poll by at least 1000 majority. I would say not one word against his opponent. It is not necessary to do so. All that we need do is consider what our present member has done and is capable of doing for the riding. He is the one citizen of Peterborough who spends his own money like water for the benefit of everybody—Grit and Tory alike. Therefore, I hope to see him returned by a larger majority than ever.

THE WORLD'S PEACE DEPENDS ON NAVIES.

And Not Upon Sentiment, Declares Lord Charles—Silent on Reciprocity.

New York, Aug. 17.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford left New York early to-day for a cruise up the great lakes to Fort William, and across Canada to Vancouver. He arrived in New York yesterday on the Olympic. His cruise will be made aboard the Duke of Sutherland's yacht Catania, which will carry him up the New England coast to St. Andrew's N.B., Quebec, Montreal, and thence westward.

Before leaving New York the admiral said: "The English speaking nations should organize to maintain the peace of the world. You cannot afford to try to maintain peace on sentimental grounds. The peace of Europe depends on British fleets sufficient and efficient. There should be no arrogance about it, but a nation must be strong to be respected. No weak thing ever is respected."

The subject of reciprocity between Canada and the United States was a tabooed matter with him.

In speaking of the agitation with respect to the House of Lords, Lord Beresford said:

"There has been a very great constitutional change in England. We shall have to reform the House of Lords and make it more suitable for our requirements.

"I am not a peer. I am the son of a peer and a member of the House of Commons."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The figures are startling but tru

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realised within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

W. E. FUD

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

HOW WE HEAR OUR OWN VOICES.

A Man May Recognize His Friend's Voice But Not His Own.

That a man does not hear his own voice as all the rest of the world hears it is shown by an interesting experiment described by Dr. L. Laloy in La Nature (Paris). Says this writer:

"If a person records on a phonograph a few sentences pronounced by himself, together with others by his friends, and causes the machine to reproduce these at the end of a brief period, it generally happens that he easily recognizes his friends' voices, but not his own. On the other hand, the friends recognize his voice perfectly. This singular fact proves that every one hears his own voice differently from others

"As is remarked by Professor Exner, the difference must lie in the quality of tone. It must be remembered that one hears his own voice not only through the air, as do his auditors, but across the solid parts situated between the organs of speech and those of hearing. The sound thus produced has a different timbre from that conducted to the ear by air alone.

"We may show this as follows: Take the end of a wooden rod between the teeth and pronounce a vowel continuously. Let the other end be alternately taken between the teeth and released by another person, who at the same time stops his ears. The latter will find that every time he seizes the rod in his teeth the sound becomes stronger than when it reaches his ear through air alone, and has a different quality. The experiment may be varied by applying a wooden rod to the larynx of the person observed and touching it, from time to time, to the observer's own larynx. As in the preceding case, it will be found that its passage through a solid body augments the intensity of the sound and modifies its quality.

A LAND MYSTERY

The building of a railroad by the British from Persia to Karachi across Mekran may not of itself, as a traveller says, be a project of importance. Europe has offered little opposition, and engineers say the route presents few serious obstacles; but it brings the rest of the world into contact with some of the earliest scenes of Eastern history and opens a land of mystery of which there have been only glimpses about every thousand years.

Mekran is the coastal region of Baluchistan and extends from India to the Persian Gulf. Sailors before and since the voyage of Alexander's Admiral, Nearchus, have coasted along its white shores and found themselves surrounded by spouting whales such as the first map makers delighted to picture. High pooped native crafts like ancient galleys carrying pirate slave traders and gun runners dodge into its shallow harbors. British steamships sometimes stop at one of its ports for a cargo of dates or rice for the Indian trade. But sailors never penetrate into the range of yellow hills or cross the sterile plain, "the hottest land of all Asia," where the sand rolls in waves and floats in stifling clouds. Oases are rare along the streams that flow from these ridges; the country is dry, weather worn, desolate, shunned by man.

The few inhabitants are the flotsam and jetsam of the civilization that have passed over it. They are the wreckage that drifted into this obscure world from the earliest movements into and from India to the first search of Europe for Eastern empires. The Portuguese that conquered Muscat and captured the islands of Ormus and Kishm and founded colonels at Bunder Abbas and Gwadur left their tribute of adventures, as did the Dutch, French and English that came after them. These found here older people of whose origin all trace was lost, colonies of half bred Arabs left by the decline of the Arab dynasty at Sind, Mongols from the time of Genghis Khan, negroes, descended from mediaeval slaves, and stragglers from every central Asian tribe.

Yet Mekran cannot always have been such a dry, desolate land. Buried in the sands beneath some of the little towns are the ruins of cities. At one place an explorer found the walls of six towns that must at some time have been places of some importance. In the hills above Gwadur are the remains of a great reservoir. Tombs with fragments of pottery that no one seems able to identify are often uncovered; many of the hills are closely covered with stone houses with dome shaped interiors. There are remains of works of masonry that were great dams for catching the waters of the river at flood time. In arid deserts explorers have found forests of dead trees that have stood stark for centuries, and on some of the hills terraces that must some time have been in a high state of cultivation. No one apparently is able to tell who built these cities add reservoirs, cultivated the terraced hills, or were buried in the tombs. The very reason why this land to-day is only a reblon of great heat, thirst and death is one of the secrets of nature.

FLY WORSE THAN TIGER.

The house-fly is born in offal — no where else. The manure pile and the cesspool are his home. It is from these haunts that he comes to visit the kitchen, the dining-room, and the nursery. He drags his filthy feet across the bread, dips them in the butter, wipes them on the meat, and bathes in the milk. He seeks out the sickroom and sips the delicious excretions of the consumptive, the typhoid fever patient, and the child with summer complaint.

There is plenty of discouragement in the world, handed out free of charge, without paying people to bring it into the house when you are ill.

The Reason.

Benevolent Old Gantleman: "Johnny, why was Damocles afraid to eat his dinner when the sword was suspended over his head by a single hair?"

Johnny (who does not like being patronized): I s'pose he was afraid the hair would fall into his soup."

A Progressive.

"Madame, dot girl of yours make great progress mit her mooste Before she was always two or dree notes behint me, and now she is always two or dree octs ahead."

CHESTERFIELD AND ORATORY

"Lord Chesterfield's letters are, I will venture to say, masterpieces of good taste, good writing and good sense."

Oratory and Hard Work:—Demosthenes, the celebrated Greek orator, thought it so absolutely necessary to speak well, that though he naturally stuttered, and had weak lungs, he resolved, by application and care, to get the better of those disadvantages. Accordingly, he cured his stammering by putting small pebbles into his mouth; and strengthened his lungs gradually, by using himself every day to speak aloud and distinctingly for a considerable time. He likewise went often to the seashore, in stormy weather, when the sea made most noise, and there spoke as loud as he could, in order to use himself to the noise and murmurs of the popular assemblies of the Athenians, before whom he was to speak. By such care, joined to the constant study of the best authors, he became at last the greatest orator of his own or any other age or country, though he was born without any one natural talent for it. Adieu! Copy Demosthenes.

CARNEGIE AND DRINK

Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose own experience fits him to speak with authority as to the elements that make for a successful business career, says in his book "The Empire of Business":

The first and most seductive peril, and the destroyer of most young men, is the drinking of liquor I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him and I say to you that you are more likel, to fail in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor, than from any or all the other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to almost any other temptation and reform — may brace up, and if not recover lost ground, at least remain in the race, and secure and maintain a respectable position. But from the insane thirst for liquor, escape is almost impossible. I have known but few exceptions to this rule.

As a Pearl of Great Price

There is no power of love so hard to get and keep as a kind voice A kind hand is deaf and dumb. It may be rough in flesh and blood, yet do the work of a soft heart, and do it with a soft touch. But there is no one thing that love so much needs as a sweet voice to tell what it means and feels; and it is hard to get and keep it in the right tone.

One must start in youth, and be on the watch night and day, at work and play, to get and keep a voice that shall speak at all times the thoughts of a kind heart. It is often in youth that one gets a voice or tone that is sharp, and which sticks to him through life, and stirs up ill-will and griefs, and falls like a drop of gall on the sweet joys of home. Watch it day by day, as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice is to the heart what light is to the eye. It is a light that sings as well as shines.

Not Your Own Face

"My boy," said a wise father who knew how to play and be a "chum" with his twelve-year-old lad, "my boy, you do not own your own face." The boy looked puzzled. He had come to the breakfast table with a frowning, clouded countenance, and had started moodily to eat his food. Everybody felt the shadow of his ill spirits, evident in his books. His father's unexpected words brought him back to life, and he looked up with a half-guilty expression, but did not understand what was meant. "You do not own your face," his father repeated. "Do not forget that it belongs to other people. They, not you, have to look at it. You have no right to compel them to look at a sour, gloomy and crabbed face."

Shoe Shops of Japan.

Writing about the shops of Japan a visitor to that country says that the typical shoe store makes a strange impression on the foreign visitor. "All the footwear of the little brown men are here in view. The funny wooden clogs and straw sandals are indeed a fanciful exhibition. They line the benches the floors, the shelves. They hang from above, and seemingly are everywhere, allowing the seller just about enough room to squat on his mat. The newcomer is at once startled at the immense quantity of this simple footwear and the many places where it is sold, but he soon finds a solution to his query when he hears that a Japanese man annually makes away with from eight to ten pairs."

Logical Reasoning.

"It's difficult to understand the peculiar mental processes of the relatives of some of the offenders who appear before me," said Justice Wilkin, as a starter for his story.

"Only yesterday a boy was charged with stealing coal. He simply had been told in his home to go out and get some coal. He did, and was arrested. I had to adjourn his case, and asked his sister, who was with him, to appear at the second hearing.

"'What! Do I have to come down here again?' she asked.

"'You'd better,' said I, 'for your brother may be sent away for a long time.'

"'But who's going to pay the car fare?' she said.

"'Why, I suppose yourself! Whom do you expect to pay it?'

"'Why, the coal dealer who had Jimmy arrested!' said she.

"'Why the coal dealer?' I asked.

"'Because he has more money than we have,' she replied."

If you love a bad man he will soon hate some of his badness.

"Are you at the head of your class in school?"

"Not exactly," answered the sturdy youngster, "but the boy that is at the head of my class in school isn't in my class in football."

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

A Trick of the Sun.

Upon a mountain in Andalusia quaint spectral forms are frequently seen. Whenever there is a heavy mist and persons are ascending the mountain they appear in all their ghostly splendor and sometimes so suddenly as to strike dismay into the hearts of those who see them for the first time. Of course it is all a trick played by the sun. When a mist partially shrouds the mountain the sun is naturally obscured, and then he reveals himself by projecting the shadow of any person who is ascending the mountain until it assumes the form of a gigantic spectre.

A pedigree hog was killed by an American railroad and a jury awarded $10,000 damages. And you could get that for ten dead section men.

The schottische was introduced 40 years ago in Germany.

A REVIVAL

William A. Sunday, quondam professional revivalist, closed the evangelistic season of 1910-11 the other day with $70,507.77 to the good as a result of his year's work "winning souls to Christ."

This return for about ten months' work, more than the president of the United States has drawn for the same time, is evidence that from a monetary standpoint evangelistic work is more profitable than playing professional baseball. The Rev. Mr. Sunday recently refused an offer to go back to the "majors" once more. The inducement was but $500 a month.

Seven thousand a month looks better to Billy. Besides he thinks he can do more good in the world preaching than playing ball!

During the past season Billy Sunday broke all evangelistic records for money earned.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

EARTHQUAKE TREMORS LASTED FOR TWO HOURS.

Recorded by Seismographs at Georgetown University and Manila.

Washington, Aug. 17.—An earthquake of violence, lasting one hour and forty-eight minutes, was recorded by the seismograph at Georgetown University last evening, beginning at 5.48 o'clock. The record was found when the instrument was read this morning. The observer estimated that the disturbance had occurred abroad, probably in Europe.

Reply to Mr. Stratton

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. Stratton has begun the campaign by making an issue of the papal decrees. I had not intended to refer to them on the political platform but now must of necessity do so. Three-fourths of the Examiner's report of Mr. Stratton's speech at 4th line Smith, is devoted to Ne Temere. He scoffs at Ne Temere. He jeers at the synods, presbyteries, conferences, &c., for knocking at the wrong door when they look to the Dominion Government for redress. He falls back upon the Minister of Justice's evasion of the issue and seeks to put responsibility on the provinces. But that the issue lies with the Dominion Government and with it alone in the matter, is plain. Nothing is plainer. Bigamy is a charge that a man or woman has been married twice, illegally. It is a charge that like all other criminal charges can be tried by the criminal (federal) law of Canada only, and the provinces have no say in it whatever. The validity of a marriage therefore rests with the Dominion Government alone, and it knows it. A province can direct the mere form of marriage but nothing more. The whole question is precisely like that of the franchise. The provinces say who may vote in this election but the Dominion Government regulates and rules everything with reference to it but that. Ne Temere, however, ignores all Governments. But Ne Temere is only a straw. The real decree is the one against Protestantism. Modernism and Protestantism are the same thing, and the Pope has condemned them both to utter extermination. There is no evading that fact. So much in reply to Mr. Stratton on the religious question. I will now reply to what he has to say on Reciprocity, leaving the Farmer's Bank for some other occasion. I will reply, however, not in my own words, but in the words of President Taft himself, and in them alone. I believe that reciprocity will wreck our home market, but if any man can go and vote for reciprocity in the face of these words of President Taft, then let him do so. I can say no more. These are President Taft's words:—

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."—(From the speech of President Taft at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association held in New York on April 27th, 1911.)

And here follow President Taft's own words from the article on reciprocity written by him in Leslie's (New York) Weekly of August 10th, 1911, (a copy of which is in my possession):—

"The United States exports to Canada a great many more horses than she imports from Canada. She sends to Canada a much larger amount of potatoes than she receives from her. The United States exports to Canada about fifteen times as much of meat and dairy products as Canada exports to the United States.

"The only real importation of agricultural products that we may expect from Canada of any considerable amount will consist of wheat, barley, rye, and oats. The world price of these four cereals is fixed abroad, where the surplus from the producing countries is disposed of, and is little affected by the place from which the supply is derived."

"A very material benefit to all the farmers of the country, especially the stock and cattle raisers and the dairy farmers, will be the by-products of bran and shorts from the flour mills likely to follow the free export of wheat from Canada to those mills. These by-products are now so scarce that many farmers are unable to procure them. What is true of wheat is true of the other cereals."

Yours, &c.,
J. H. BURNHAM.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

VOL XXXIV NO 192 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY AUGUST 21 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

WOMEN'S FEET GROWING LARGER, SHOE MEN DECLARE

AND SIZES ARE ALTERED ACCORDINGLY—NUMBER TWO OF TO-DAY IS NUMBER THREE OF YESTERDAY.

Lawyer Says City is Responsible for Local Crime—Coming Elections and Effect on Trade.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Women's feet are growing larger. It may not be a nice thing to say, but it is the truth. It is a cold, scientific fact.

It might have been better to have broken the news a little more gently, rather than giving one a shock such as the little meter on the taxi gives after the first half hour. But had the introduction been softened, some might have taken it for a sign of weakness and scornfully muttered, "Cold feet."

It was not without an investigation of somewhat a searching nature that a reporter was convinced. It was not until he had visited almost every shoe store of any dimension that he accepted the verdict of the shoe-dealers. No room was left for doubt. The dainty Trilby of a few years ago has developed into a broader, slightly longer, heavier foot.

"Size three a few years ago would have mated well with a size two of to-day," said one shoe-man.

Foxy manufacturers. They would not change nature's course. They adapted their sizes to the foot, rather than adapting the foot to the size They made the last longer. Of course, that did not make the shoe last longer.

Perhaps it was wrong to deceive the women so. But it is understood that the shoe merchants of the country demanded it. It meant the loss of many customers to have to say, after a hard tussle with a wobbly boot:

"I'm afraid that the three is too small."

And so the two was called the three.

But there is still another fact, even more startling.

Men's feet are growing smaller. Not so many shoe-dealers would admit this, but there are those who state that it is true, that it is undoubtedly a fact.

"Just as the three of a few years ago in women's shoes is equal to the two of to-day, so is the eight of to-day in men's shoes equal to the seven of that same previous period," said one. They have simply shifted the numbers up instead of down. I can't account for it."

A New Theory.

"The first duty of the corporation of Montreal, is to protect its citizens I mean to protect their bodies against any violence and possible aggression. Therefore, when the Board of Control is advised by the chief of police that the municipal force is not in sufficient numbers to give adequate protection to the citizens, I think that the city is responsible for any damage resulting from its negligence in not complying with the recommendation of the chief of police." Such is the theory of Mr. Allan Germain, the lawyer who wrote to the Board of Control to inform the controllers that he would hold the city responsible for any assault or burglary in the future that could be prevented by a stronger police force.

Mr. Germain said that the time had come when he thought each citizen ought to make his own fight for his own interest and security. He concludes that if the city is responsible for the damages due to the deficiencies of the fire protection service it should also be responsible for all damages due to lack of police protection.

The lack of money for a stronger police organization was no excuse, because money could be found for many other purposes. Before spending millions of dollars in public works, Mr. Germain thought that there should have been more invested in police. He sees no use in nicely paved streets bordered by houses insufficiently protected against burglars.

"The first of all comforts," said Mr. Germain, "is an intimate feeling of security, and this can be attained only by more police protection. There are too many burglaries and assaults of all kinds in Montreal. The citizens are not given the protection they are entitled to and for which they pay. Our force is not one half of what it should be, and more than one half of it is permanently engaged in the enforcement of provincial and municipal by-laws. Mr. Germain concluded by saying that he hoped to see in the near future a test case entered against the city.

Trade and the Elections.

As a rule, when a Federal election campaign opens, trade slackens perceptibly, particularly in the money market, and Montreal's bourse, Lattenall's, Wall Street, are places where people gather to trade, barter and exchange, are dull places indeed during the days that the politicians are on the hustings.

But this election the exception is proving the rule. Although the politicians are hard at it all over the Province of Quebec the residents of the Province have, apparently, not yet become so immersed in the questions of the moment as to forget to attend to business.

McCuaig Brothers & Company who do a large out of town as well as local trade through their head office here, and who have branch offices in Sherbrooke, Granby, Sorel, Ottawa and several other towns, besides having travellers on the road constantly, report that, despite all the electioneering, business is commencing to get very brisk after the summer slackness and they are looking for an extremely busy autumn no matter which side carries the day. Money is easy, they say, times are prosperous, and their experience lately in selling securities has been most satisfactory. The Canadian Locomotive Co. bond issue, of which Messrs. McCuaig handled the Quebec end, was largely oversubscribed and other older issues which they are interested in are being taken up in first class order. Thus it may be seen that, in this part of the country, investors are thinking little either of reciprocity or anti-reciprocity.

FEMALE POLICE FOR BERLIN

Part of Their Work Will Be the Care of Infants.

Berlin, Aug. 19.—A body of women police has been mustered in Berlin. One section will devote their attention to ordinary police work, and to the other portion will be entrusted the care of infants. It is essential that the guardians of the children possess a knowledge of medicine. The women constables will be armed with revolvers, so that they will be able to protect themselves if necessary when entering houses in the lower quarter of the city where they have a suspicion that children are being ill-treated. Thirty women will be engaged at the start.

TWO RIOTERS SHOT DEAD TWO MORTALLY WOUNDED

SCENE OF EXCEPTIONAL VIOLENCE ACCOMPANIES THE STRIKE IN WALES.

Mob Refuse to Disperse When Ordered and is Fired on by the Soldiers With Fatal Results.

Llanley, Wales, Aug. 19.—Four rioters were shot down by the troops this afternoon, two being instantly killed, and the other two mortally wounded.

This part of Wales has been the scene of exceptional violence since the railway strike was declared. There has been a succession of conflicts with the police.

To-day a mob attempted to stop an incoming train, and the police were unable to disperse the angry men. The riot act was read by a magistrate, but it had no effect. The strikers continued their attack on the train and mounted the locomotive. A military officer discharged his revolver in the air, but still the mob refused to quit.

Finally the troops who had been stationed in the vicinity to protect the depot and other railroad property, were ordered to shoot. They fired three volleys. At this the mob broke and fled, leaving four men stretched on the ground. Two were dead when picked up, and others were dying.

London, Aug. 19.—Ireland, Scotland, Wales and the Midlands of England are absolutely cut off from railway communication with the capital of the empire. There are famine and rioting in such great industrial centres as Birmingham, Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, Sheffield, Bradford and Glasgow. The Irish railroads are tied up and Dublin is threatened by a mob. The strike fever is spreading in all lines of industry. The collieries are closed, and despite the conclusion of the minor dockers' strike, which was settled to-night, London, with its seven millions of people already cut off from its main sources of food supplies, is now threatened with paralysis of its own internal system of transportation and possible starvation.

There has been serious street fighting at Llanley, in Wales. Two men were shot dead and one other injured.

This is the situation at the end of the first two days of the most spectacular uprising of labor in British history.

The great industrial strike is spreading hourly. Violence is increasing throughout the United Kingdom. Thousands of railroad employes joined the strike during the night. Officials of the union of railway men say to-day that at least 300,000 were out.

LONDON ISOLATED.

London is practically isolated, although the companies tried hard to maintain restricted service. Industries are shutting down because their products cannot be moved, and they cannot get fuel. Business is stagnant, traffic is paralyzed. The 6,500,000 toilers of the United Kingdom may all feel the effects of the strike before peace is declared.

The government is making every effort to have both sides consent to the appointment of a royal commission for a settlement of the disputes, but negotiations reached a deadlock to-day. Neither side would bulge an inch.

Leaders of the strike threatened to tie up the 24,000 miles of railroads in the United Kingdom, unless there was a complete surrender of the companies. They boasted that there would not be a wheel turning on any of the twenty-seven companies of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales unless they were granted a "living wage."

WEALTHY BRITISH PEERS ARE INVESTING IN LANDS IN THE CANADIAN WEST

New York, Aug. 19.—The Duke of Sutherland, Scotland's wealthiest landlord, has sailed for Montreal aboard the steam yacht "Datania." He will inspect and add to the immense farming properties which he has already acquired in the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and in British Columbia.

Through the legislation of the Liberal Government against the large landlords Britain may lose a great number of her best and most thrifty agriculturists. The duke and other wealthy land owners have resolved to transfer their tenant farms to Canada, and their intention has the hearty approval of the Canadian Government, which welcomes the settlement of Canadian lands by the best farmers Great Britain can produce.

OWNS HUGE AREAS.

Besides owning 1,500,000 acres of land, which comprise nearly the whole of the county of Sutherland in Scotland, the duke has other large estates there. These he has already leased for shooting, many of his new tenants being American millionaires.

His other property he is gradually getting rid of and investing more money every year in Canada.

With the Duke on the "Catania" are Lord Desborough and Hon. Arthur Stanley, both owners of large estates in England, who have announced their intention of purchasing land adjoining the duke's properties. Lord Charles Beresford is also a believer in this policy, and as soon as he has disposed of his property in Mexico he will join the Canadian party and add his wealth to the already immense capital that the British nobles have invested in Canada.

MODEL LANDLORD.

Col. Robt. M. Thompson will join the party in Montreal, and yesterday he said that his friend the Duke of Sutherland, has always been regarded as the most generous and model landlord in England and Scotland.

"It remains to be seen," said the colonel, "how the imported farmers, whose families have, in some cases, been tenants of the earls and dukes of Sutherland for generations will remain proof against the temptations of independence from landlords resulting from the influences of their new environment in Canada. The duke, however, is convinced that they will be as loyal to him in the new world as in the old country."

From Montreal, the party will journey up the St. Lawrence river, and through the Great Lakes, as far as Fort William, whence the trip will be continued by rail to the Pacific coast.

At Fort William the party will be met by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

WILL FOUND AFTER LONG SEARCH DISPOSES OF ESTATE OF $60,000

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 19.—(Special)—The report that the will of the late Joseph George had been found at his old home, which is undergoing repairs, by some plumbers, is confirmed. The document is now in the hands of Macdonnell & Farrell, solicitors for parties who are suing the widow of the deceased for legacies they allege were promised to them and actually made. The will which was made in 1906, has been identified by the witnesses thereto. When the case comes up for trial in the fall, there promises to be a very interesting time.

All along the claimants on the estate declared that the will was in existence and that it would come to light some day. The parties interested never stopped searching.

The amount left the widow is not nearly as large as she would have received had no will been made. The estate is valued at between $40,000 and $60,000.

SAYS ASQUITH IS BLAMEABLE FOR THE STRIKE

London, Aug. 19.—The Nation, a weekly Radical organ, in its issue of to-day, roundly blames Premier Asquith for the railway strike. It says the premier's abilities do not include the gift of insight into situations where strong human passions are stirred. To men sick of delay, The Nation says, he offered more delay, namely, a royal commission, without any suggestion that it would differ from the usual commission. When his offer was rejected the proposal was reconstructed by Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George, and had Mr. Lloyd-George's plan been submitted at first it is conceivable that the strike would have been averted.

According to The Morning Post, Chancellor Lloyd-George has submitted fresh proposals to the striking railwaymen, which are now under consideration and which it is expected will be found acceptable to them.

The Times and other papers confirm The Nation's statement that Premier Asquith's first proposal only implied an ordinary royal commission, and that before Mr. Lloyd-George was able to submit the revised proposal the hat for the strike had gone forth and the leaders were unable to withdraw it without being misunderstood.

The Times believes that when parliament reassembles next Tuesday, unless peace is secured meantime, the government will propose special legislation to deal with the strike.

Reports from the London railway terminals this morning state that in most cases mail trains have been despatched, some of them, however, greatly delayed.

A GREAT CROP IS PROMISED FOR WESTERN CANADA

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—(Special)—With fine weather, hot and clear, still in evidence the crop prospects are encouraging. Of course the crop is late but every warm sunshiny day is bringing it near to maturity. The western country is so big now that conditions vary greatly, according to locality. For instance, while threshing started to-day on the Portage plains, there are many districts where wheat cutting will not be in progress for a week or more. A farmer near Portage la Prairie started threshing his barley to-day, but threshing in that district as a whole will not be general for ten days.

In the country north of Neepawa cutting is well under way now and in various parts of Southern Manitoba. In fact, this province as a whole is very likely to see its crop harvested well ahead of the frost. In parts of the western provinces the growth has been very rank and strong and harvest will be later.

It is possible that the frost may hold off even from these late fields, but there is a probability that some wheat will be nipped.

Taken all round, the west has a very heavy crop. In parts of southern and west central Manitoba drought affected the grain and yields will be light. In other parts the rainfall was moderate and crops are from fair to very heavy. In a few districts there was too much rain.

Rust is doing some damage, especially where it has been wet, but it is still a matter of debate as to the damage. The percentage of loss in some particular districts will be heavy, but will hardly materially depreciate the wgole western crop.

Taking everything into consideration, danger of frost, rust, drought, and damage from hail and too much rain, the yield is pretty sure to be enormous. The cash returns will be great but even slightly frosted wheat if there is any, will have a pretty poor market value.

Every warm, sunny day makes the late crop, which is, perhaps the bigger portion, more secure and dependable and consequently high hopes are entertained for a remarkably good harvest and season.

GREAT REJOICING IN PORTUGAL

National Assembly Completes and Signs the Constitution of the Republic.

Lisbon, Aug. 19.—The National Assembly completed and signed the constitution of the Republic of Portugal at 1.35 o'clock this morning. The constitution outlined by the Cabinet several weeks ago, and since discussed by the elected representatives of the people, was adopted amid scenes of great enthusiasm. Great crowds surrounded the building where the assembly met and waited for hours for the expected announcement. When this was received there were joyful demonstrations.

Women take delight in conquest. So do men. It is a deep seated instinct in all animate beings.

WILL NEED 30,000 HARVESTERS FOR BUMPER WESTERN CROP

(Special to The Times.)

Duluth, Aug. 19.—There is a pressing need for harvesters in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Canadian farmers from all over the west are complaining of a shortage of labor in handling the bumper crop, which is now ready for cutting.

The experts who have looked over the Canadian wheat country have estimated a total of 217,000,000 bushels for the three provinces, a record crop.

During the last week the railroads have sent 2000 men into Manitoba, where cutting has already begun, and the Canadian Northern men here estimate that 30,000 more will be needed before a sufficient force is in hand to handle the immense crop.

Of these it is thought that 20,000 can be enlisted from Eastern Canada, leaving 10,000 to be secured along the American border.

PARDONABLE QUACKERY

How a Physician Had to Fake to Cure

As a doctor, one of the English heroes who assisted in the defence of Kars, had special opportunities of studying the habits and character of the degraded races of Asia Minor. He found it necessary to be more of a quack than a physician among them. "As my patients became numerous, and pestered me at all hours, I fitted up," he tells us, "a spare tent to serve as my dispensary, and gave out that I received at the time of afternoon prayer (Asser). I took my seat at the door of my tent, and soon had a crowd around me, many suffering from real diseases, many from imaginary ones, and many bringing for my inspection the effects of diseases such as palsied limbs and stiff joints." One of his patients was an old woman, who came forward, and taking hold of the corner of his cloak, kissed it, and then, kneeling before him, began, in a very wheedling manner, to call his attention to her case. "She went on to describe the most anomalous symptoms, affecting her eyes, ears, limbs, and sometimes every part of her. On further inquiry, she confessed to me quite well at that moment; but a year ago, having had these strange complaints, she dreaded the same thing would invade her this year. I then promised to give her strong medicine, but ordered the crowd to stand at a short distance from us. A space is cleared, and all wait in silent admiration for my remedy. I slowly draw forth a bottle of strong liquor of ammonia, or smelling-salts, from my medicine-chest, and, holding it before my patients eyes, tell her to draw in a strong breath when I put it to her nose. I accordingly first hold her nostrils, then, having removed the stopper, I apply the mouth of the bottle to the nose, the fingers are removed, a long sniff is taken, followed by a sort of spasm, and she falls to the ground. A hum of horror runs through the crowd; the patient, after a short interval, rises, her eyes streaming with tears; and then breaks from the crowd, 'La ilaha illa 'llahu Mahommed rasulu 'llah!' — 'There is no God but the God, and Mahomed is the Apostle of God!'"

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

What We Can Teach the Americans

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Can you teach your grandmother to suck eggs? Sometimes; for grandmothers aren't always clever.

"I'm very sorry, Mr. Blaffit," said an eminent judge to a lawyer who had argued with him instead of arguing before him, "but I can't teach you any law."

"That is so, my lord," dryly replied the lawyer, and sat down.

The Americans are more willing to be taught than we suppose. They have more to learn then they suppose. Not many of them think they can learn anything from Canada or Canadians. To them the idea of learning from us is about as sensible as the idea of an elephant teaching a gress-hopper to hop.

A while ago a party of United States editors was travelling to Winnipeg from Chicago. The talk turned to Canadian affairs and presently to elections. Said one from Kansas:

"But they don't have elections in Canada. Their public officials are appointed from England, aren't they?"

The Kansas editor's idea was a little too typical. His countrymen regarded us, I was going to say, as a poor relation, but we were scarcely in that class. The notion was pretty well expressed six months ago by the Washington Star, which said, "The native Canadian . . . . is merely a dispised colonist, a species of political outcast, like the man without a country."

This kind of talk represents a traditional habit of despising the state of Canada, and of expecting that the country would come to the United States like a pile of filings to a magnet. Our neighbors could not understand how any white people could want to remain outside their political fence. At first when we declined to join them they were amused, then they were amazed. Then they were displeased, and they put up a tariff wall that was intended to starve us into a political marriage with them.

That was when Canada of the St. Lawrence valley had no winter access to Europe except through American ports; and when only a few men of the long vision saw a prosperous, populated Canada; the acknowledged leader of the younger commonwealths of the British Empire.

They thought we must come in. I have often been asked, in the United States, before the present revival of Reciprocity was put on the boards, whether I didn't think Canada was bound to come into the Union.

And now that Reciprocity has come to serve the very policy for which the United States denied it in the years ago—I mean the aggrandizement of the United States—it is taken for granted by our neighbors that union is bound to follow. The new phrase among the foreign diplomats at Washington is truthfully reported to be, "From the Pole to Panama."

Now, what is the answer of our Neverlooks to this dominant temper in the United States? It is that if they want union, we don't. The fool that rocks the boat always forgets that there is a great deal more water than boat. The little fellow who is told that he must choose whether he will travel his own way, or with the big fellow who personally did all he could to thwart his business ambitions; and who chooses the big fellow in the belief that he is serving his own permanent interests—well; it doesn't seem much use telling him he is at the parting of the ways.

The American says, "Train with me. Come my way. Never mind the plans you have been making for yourself."

What will you reply? Can you teach him anything? You can. If you were Canada's spokesman this is about what you would say:

"Permit me to offer you the lesson you taught me. When I was a national infant I thought I needed your help, and that without it I could not attain the stature of a man. I wanted to sell my goods to you. You turned your back on me. You did it many times. You showed me how to rely on myself and my kinsmen across the seas. I did not know what I could do till I tried.

"The last time I sent my representative to you he came back with the story of your own hardness, and with the news of the sure foundation on which my prosperity could rest. His name was Laurier, and he informed you, he informed the rest of the world, that I had turned my back on the hopes that had centred in you; and had turned my face to British business, and was building railways to make secure and permanent that same business.

"The difference between what I thought I needed, a long time ago, and what I now know I can do without, is the difference between a poor, timid farmer looking for a loan and that same farmer turned bank director.

"I admire you. Your business ability is marvellous. You have a perfect genius for obtaining control.

"I have discovered that linked with the mere buying and selling across a counter, and with the hauling of wheat in a box-car, there are deep and strong tides of national life. You don't hesitate to tell me you want to control my trade. I don't intend to have it controlled. You had your chance when I was young and green. I've got a country that hasn't all the advantages of climate and variety of resources that yours has. But it is one of a world-wide cluster of countries that have the greatest possible part to play in the world's history. It reaches out to the Old World from its Eastern courts. It touches all the wealth of Asia and the Islands of the Sea, from its shores on the Pacific. I have an asset in the Old Land that you have forfeited. I have a stake in the Orient that you cannot hope to emulate. I have a destiny, which a course, unfettered by entanglements with you, will help to make glorious. You tell me that I am at the parting ways. So let it be. You go your way; I'll go mine."

And the American will learn a whole lot when you talk to him like that.

CUSTOM IN SPAIN

And How Saltshakers Were Introduced.

One thing specially is vital in Spain: 'Custombre,' they say ('It is the cutom'). It explains commercial honor to-day for the Spanish business man to keep his word and pay his bills; exactly as it is equally customary for him to lack what we call 'honor' in some other departments of life. It is customary to do or not to do, to like or not to like, a thousand things. Why? 'Custombre' is the only reply. It is customary, moreover, not to yield readily to an improvement or a luxury, even as it is again equally customary, once the Spaniard has yielded to a given thing, to hold to it like adamant.

Until a few years ago no Spaniard had on his dining table any other receptacle for salt than the old-style open cellar. An enterprising Briton saw this, noted that the salt was always dirty and gummy, and determined to introduce a certain famous salt-shaker, from which clean salt would run freely in the dampest weather. Bravely he started to tour Spain for the company.

'No, senor; no est custombre usar mas que este' ('No, sir; it's not customary to use more than that' — the old cellar), was the answer of every dealer to whom he presented the novelty. Again and again he was rebuffed. He began to despair when, standing one day gazing into a jeweller's window, a brilliant idea struck him. He entered. Realizing the child-like curiosity and impressionable character of his quarry, he persuaded the jeweller to display a shaker in his window, and coached him about selling it. A Spaniard came along, looked in the window, saw the curious object, investigated.

'It is very pretty for the toilet table,' he remarked, after prolonged scrutiny; 'perhaps useful for the children. What goes in it—perfume?'

Indifferently the jeweller glanced up from some scribbling. 'No, sir; only salt.'

'Man, salt!'

'Yes. Possibly I could get you a little — the kind that doesn't get sticky — to try. But I don't know.'

The simple gentleman was amazed, angry, affronted by the novelty, but he took it and an ounce or two of the suecial salt home with him. The jeweller ordered another shaker and more samples of salt. By and by the gentleman had used all his salt and wanted more of the same kind. The business of that company to-day is worth many figures in Spain every year, and, more than that, as it is 'costumbre' now to use that particular sort of shaker and brand of salt, there is virtually no competition.

GOSSIP NECESSARY TO BOTH SEXES.

But Should Not Be Overdone.

Somebody has thought it worth while to say that gossip is as necessary to a woman as food and drink. Why the matter of sex should be dragged in is a mystery. Everybody knows that old women belong to both sexes.

The creature who simply lives for gossip is as likely to be found in breeches as petticoats. We all know men whose flow of tittle tattle is not to be surpassed by any feminine ingenuity or industry. Such people, who make an occupation of what ought to be an amusement, are, fortunately, the exceptions to ordinary existence. But in a decent and modest way we all love gossip.

Why not? "The proper study of mankind is man"—to take the first of a dozen much-worn quotations that fly to the pen. A taste for gossip means nothing more than an interest in humanity.

To like to know what other folks are doing and saying and thinking is not malicious or undignified. It is merely a proof that you are healthily alive. Of course, you can overdo it. You can be too greedy in the matter of gossip, as with other good and stimulating things. But a modest portion serves to keep you in good spirits. To live for it is as contemptible as to be a drunkard.

Unconventionalities.

"I'd enjoy your conversation a great deal more, Weerius, if I didn't have to listen to it."

"The reason I dont' ask you whether or not this is all-wood goods, Mr. Sellers, is that I want to save you from lying about it."

"Yes, we like our new cook very much. Mrs. Ipdyke: she has told us ever so many funny things that happened when she was working for you."

"I know, of course, old chap, that you're fishing for an invitation to go with us on our yachting trip, but it wont' do you any good."

"From the way your curtains smell, Mrs. Whackster, I judge that your husband smokes rather cheap cigars."

"I've often wondered, Throggins, how you ever managed to smuggle yourself into good society."

What Makes a Bee Hum?

You have never heard a bee hum when it was crawling. This tells us what we might have guessed, that the bee's humming is made by the movement of its wings when it flies. The noise is not made by its voice-box, as when you sing, for the bee has not a voicebox. But its wings move very quickly — a bird would "hum" when flying if its wings moved quickly enough — and as they move to and fro they set the air moving, and, as you know, we would not be able to hear anything but for the vibration, or waves, in the air.

If the waves are too slow, as when you wave a stick in the air, or when a bird flaps its wings, we hear nothing. But the vibrations in the air made by the bee's wings are of a rate that is within the range of our hearing — if the bee is near enough — and so we hear a humming.

"Judge," said Mrs. Starvem to the justice who had recently come to board with her, "I am particularly anxious to have you try this chicken I up." "I have tried it," replied the dge, "and my decision is that the chicken has proved an alibi."

HAPPIEST GIRL IN LINCOLN.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and got better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." THE PURITANS

An Appreciation by Lord Macaulay

The Puritan was made up of two different men, the one all self-abasement, penitence, gratitude, passion; the other proud, calm, inflexible, sagacious. He prostrated himself in the dust before his Maker; but he set his foot on the neck of his king.

In his devotional retirement, he prayed with convulsions, and groans, and tears. He was half-maddened by glorious or terrible illusions. He heard the lyres of angels, or the tempting whispers of fiends. He caught a gleam of the Beatific Vision, or woke screaming from the dreams of everlasting fire. Like Vane, he thought himself entrusted with the scepter of the millennial year. Like Fleetwood, he cried in the bitterness of his soul that God had hid His face from him.

But when he took his seat in the council or girt on his sword for war, these tempestuous workings of the soul had left no perceptible trace behind them. People who saw nothing of the godly but their uncouth visages, and heard nothing from them but their groans and their whining hymns, might laugh at them. But those had little reason to laugh who encountered them in the hall of debate, or on the field of battle.

These fanatics brought to civil and military affairs a coolness of judgment and an immutability of purpose which some writers have thought inconsistent with their religious zeal, but which were in fact the necessary effects of it. The intensity of their feelings on one subject made them tranquil on every other. One overpowering sentiment had subjected to itself pity and hatred, ambition and fear. Death had lost its terrors and pleasure its charms. They had their smiles and their tears, their raptures and their sorrows, but not for the things of this world. Enthusiasm had made them Stoics, had cleared their minds from every vulgar passion and prejudice, and raised them above the influence of danger and of corruption. It sometimes might lead them to pursue unwise ends, but never to choose unwise means.

They went through the world like Sir Artegal's iron man Talus with his flail, crushing and trampling down oppressors, mingling with human beings, but having neither part nor lot in human infirmities; insensible to fatigue, to pleasure, and to pain; not to be pierced by any weapon, not to be withstood by any barrier.

Such we believe to have been the character of the Puritans.

MILITARISM IN JAPAN

People Are Getting Tired of Heavy Taxes.

In Japan, the newest of the military powers, the spirit of spurious patriotism, as exemplified by militarism, is also losing force, but for a different reason.

The masses in Japan have witnessed, since the close of the war with Russia, the creation of a system under which the rich have grown richer and the poor poorer. Taxes increased from $43,000,000 in 1903 to $244,500,000 in 1910. The cost of rice, the chief article of diet among the poorer classes of Japan, has risen in the same time by from 20 per cent. to 100 per cent., depending on the crop, while salaries and wages have remained well nigh stationary. Hunger and want have driven many of the poorer classes into acts of violence, and as a result the number of convictions for crime increased from 53,000 in 1905 to 73,300 in 1910. With all this there has been a growing popular protest against that vast increase in expenditure on armaments wherein is found the main cause of the poverty of the masses.

Decay of Militarism in Germany

The most hopeful report that comes from Germany tells of the decay of the spirit of militarism among the masses of that country. Col. Gaedke, an eminent military expert, says that after forty years of peace the German army does not attract either by its pay or prestige the young men who possess ability. The American ideal of intense activity, he says, has permeated the German mind, and so long as this practical and economic enthusiasm continues the army will be tabooed as a profession. The young German who has to make his living prefers to be an engineer, bank clerk, or merchant, rather than a unit in the military organization of the Empire.

A Doctor's Advice

"Avoid all introspection: Physically don't look at your tongue (I haven't seen mine for years); for it has been well said that whereas in childhood tongues should be seen and not heard, with adults they should be heard and not seen. Do not inspect your face — (I know a lady who always carries a glass about to see if she looks ill) — or take your temperature, a most pernicious habit — (I know a talented man who once found his temperature rose nearly a degree after a meal and was miserable ever afterwards)." — Dr. A. T. Schofield.

THE WORLD'S PEACE DEPENDS ON NAVIES.

New York, Aug. 17.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford left New York early to-day for a cruise up the great lakes to Fort William, and across Canada to Vancouver. He arrived in New York yesterday on the Olympic. His cruise will be made aboard the Duke of Sutherland's yacht Catania, which will carry him up the New England coast to St. Andrew's N.B., Quebec, Montreal, and thence westward.

Before leaving New York the admiral said: "The English speaking nations should organize to maintain the peace of the world. You cannot afford to try to maintain peace on sentimental grounds. The peace of Europe depends on British fleets sufficient and efficient. There should be no arrogance about it, but a nation must be strong to be respected. No weak thing ever is respected."

The subject of reciprocity between Canada and the United States was a tabooed matter with him.

In speaking of the agitation with respect to the House of Lords, Lord Beresford said:

"There has been a very great constitutional change in England. We shall have to reform the House of Lords and make it more suitable for our requirements.

..."I am not a peer. I am the son of a peer and a member of the House of Commons."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimoniale.

Cuba's Grape Fruit Garden of Health

Will provide you with an income that will make you independent for life.

Begin right now---do something for yourself. Provide for a time when your earning capacity will be reduced to a minimum. You can make a start by purchasing one or two shares.

Our booklet beautifully illustrated, tells the story--contains interesting facts regarding the Grape Fruit Industry.

The figures are startling but true

When three years old grape-fruit trees begin to bear, the crop continues to increase until the seventh year when the average amounts to between seven and twenty boxes of fruit. Grape-Fruit is usually sold on the trees at a price ranging not less than $1.00 per box. On the Manhattan Estates we will have a grove of over 40,000 trees, and our yearly crop, once maturity is reached, should average 280,000 crates annually. Between the trees we intend cultivating tobacco and pineapples from which a substantial profit will be realised within one year from the time of planting. The British-owned Western Railways run through the Estates, insuring splendid shipping facilities. The officers and directors of this company have implicit faith in this enterprise, and have agreed that no one shall receive one cent of salary until after 25 per cent. dividends have been earned and declared. They are quite willing to wait for their dividends, knowing that their investments will amply repay them.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

PRESIDENT:

GER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

W. E. FUD

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

A MAN OF MANY POSES.

Antonio Corsi a model of 30 years' Standing is a Great Traveller.

Next time you're in Paris — or London — or Rome — you may see a small, swarthy man in a black-braided velvet suit and a VERY broad sombrero.

If he has high cheek bones, long, bushy black hair, piercing black eyes and wears an enormous carved coral ring on each finger of his left hand you may identify him at once as Antonio Corsi, the world's best known model.

You're just as apt to meet him in Montreal — or Toronto — or Vancouver — for he travels everywhere that art whispers — if the financial tones are loud enough to equal his skill and fame.

Almost every artist of note during the past 30 years has employed Corsi. The majority of art school students in Europe and America have sketched him.

Corsi is an Italian by birth. He has posed in a dozen lands, for royalty and commoner, as deity and devil, saint and sinner, Indian and courtier. Among his best known poses are those for the Sargent and Abbey pictures in the Boston public library. He posed for 11 of the 16 Sargent "prophets," including the famous "Hosea." The difficult arrangement of Hosea's drapery required the completion of the figure in one pose, said to be the longest on record, lasting three hours and 20 minutes. Sixty-eight of the Abbey figures were posed by Corsi, including allthose of Sir Galahad, except for the features and the color of the hair.

TOOK ONLY HALF AN HOUR TO SHOOT $2,600 WORTH OF IVORY.

W. Buckley, the great English elephant shot, in talking of his favorite game says:

"There are three curious things about the elephant.

"First, although he is the biggest animal in the world, he is the hardest to see, for he is the same color as the forest.

"Second, for all his vast area there is little more than a square foot of him that is vulnerable to a bullet.

"Third, all elephants are "left handed," as is proved by the fact that the left tusk is always shorter, being worn away with work.

"My biggest bag of elephants in one day was ten, but the most profitable was a day when I shot eight, and their tusks weighed 764 pounds. It took me half an hour to shoot them, and the ivory was worth $2,600. Of course that was an exceptionally good day.

"The tusks of the biggest elephant weighed 282 pounds —the right tusk 147 pounds, the left 135 pounds.

"The elephant is a very blind animal. From tests carried out he cannot see further than 170 yards, but he can scent a man for half a mile, and can distinguish between a white man and a black man. When he charges he always makes for the white man."

That Clever German!

A German gentleman wanted to take a day's drive through the country. He applied to a stable for the horse and carriage. The owner, not knowing the German, was slow to give him the team. Finally the German pulled out a roll of banknotes and said: "I will buy your horse and rig, providing you will buy them back at the same price when I return this evening." The dealer, not wishing to offend a probable future customer, consented. When in the evening the German presented himself and expressed his pleasure at the ride, the dealer, according to agreement, paid him back his money, and the customer started to take his leave.

"I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the dealer: "but you have forgotten to pay for the hire, you know."

"Pay for the hire? Why, my dear sir," coolly replied the German, "I fail to see that. If you will exercise your memory a trifle you will agree that I have been driving my own horse and carriage all day, and now you have bought them back they are yours. Good-day, sir!"

And he left the astonished dealer to reflect.

Waiting For It.

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a charwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, "Hallos! Who are you?" and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone-bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear.

"I'm Dobson, from Dublin," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and to his amazement, saw the charwoman holding an empty bucket under the telephone-tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and asked someone to receive it, so I'm a-holdin' this bucket, a-waitin' for it to run through!"

It saves trouble to be conventional, for you are not always explaining things. Most of the startling items we read in the newspapers are serious lapses from conventionality and good manners.

Don't let any one tell you there's any life for a woman in this world apart from a man. There's not. And don't let any one try to convince you there is any life for a man without a woman by his side. There's not.

THE FLEA.

How to Knock the Gizzards Out of Him.

Fleas are wingless flies, and they are supposed to have lost their wings through long disuse, living as they do among the hair, wool or clothing of other animals. As in all other flies, the mouth is formed for sucking, and has no teeth. How does a flea bite? The feet are furnished with long double claws, sharper than needles, and mounted in such a way as to be just right for digging. When his fleaship desires a feast he selects a spot on the bare skin, sits down on his haunches like a dog digging for a rat, and deliberately burrows a hole into his victim. Having penetrated to the vein, he drops his proboscis into the cavity and sucks up the precious blood, much after the fashion of an elephant drinking from a trough.

While digging, the claws are manipulated so rapidly as to feel to the victim like one continuous push of a tooth.

Besides losing their wings their bodies have become flattened transversely from living in close quarters, and they have become possessed of exceedingly stiff bristles or hairs, all pointing backward, so that in struggling every movement pushes them forward. That is why it is so difficult to catch them even when there is no room for them to jump. "When you put your finger on him, he isn't there."

When a house become infested with fleas the family dog or cat should be washed every other day with carbolic soap to kill the adult fleas, and if the animals are allowed to run about the house, they will in a few days attract all the fleas to themselves, where they can be destroyed as above indicated. If dogs or cats are not available as traps, gasoline should be applied after a thorough cleaning of the infested quarters. Pour the gasoline into cracks in the floor and along the baseboards, etc., taking care not to pour it near a fire. Gasoline will kill both larvae and adults as soon as it touches them.

A special despatch from St. Petersburg gives the following account of the meeting between the Czar and the newly-appointed Ambassador to the Court of Russia: —

When Is a Man Old.

Very amusing replies have been elicited as the result of a competition promoted by a Madrid newspaper on the subject, "Until what age can a man be called young?"

The readers of the journal were the judges, and 28,256 votes were given to the competitor who sent in this reply, which won the prize: —

"A man is young so long as he can make women jealous."

Another competitor thought that a man was old when he could no longer stoop down and tie a beautiful woman contended that all men were young until they thought of marriage.

"The man is old," wrote another competitor, "when a young woman kisses him with cold lips"; and it was the opinion of a newly-married man that a man began to age a week after marriage.

FORESTRY IN JAPAN.

Authorities Believe in Conservation—Been planting for 1200 years.

Japan has longer than any other country practiced technical forestry. With extraordinary skill and absolute success the authorities have for 1,200 years planted and cared for the forest trees. "The results," writes a correspondent, "have been really wonderful, for through the extremely sedulous management and the knowledge of skill by degrees attained the financial gains have been very large, indeed. Not a twig is ever wasted. The trees are regarded as almost sacred property, and not a particle of any one of them is regarded as rubbish, so close is the utilization. Thinning and all departments of arboreal culture are very carefully conducted. At the end of 13 years from planting a wood lot is thinned by experts, and then every five years the process is repeated for 120 years, the average period of the cultivation of a set of trees.

Pneumonia Serum Found by Savant

The germ of pneumonia is vanquished, according to Dr. Preston Kyes of the University of Chicago, who has published the results of a series of experiment in the Journal of the American Medical association. Chickens were inoculated with germs from a human victim of pneumonia, and serums prepared. The results obtained were surprising. Dr. Kyes tabulated his experiments, showing that mice, poisoned with pneumonia germs, and then treated with the serum, showed immediate improvement, and in proportion as the serum was injected with greater frequency, recovered.

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 : par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

VOL XXXIV NO 192 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY AUGUST 21 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Dying of Cholera

Local Physician Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you "Nerviline." Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain-relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the aches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago, there was never a time that our house was without 'Nerviline.' In the summer time, when the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact, so indispensable around the home as 'Nerviline.'

LETTER NO. 4672

This letter, written by Mrs. N. C. Butcher, a well-known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion entertained of Nerviline by those who have used it constantly for nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it to-day, keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline. 25c per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

For summer diarrhoea in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, and a speedy cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all dealers.

INWARD CLEANING

ASSURES OUTWARD BEAUTY.

No greater mistake than to imagine that regularity is a sign of good health—it is an advantage, but if your skin is murky and your spirits dull, it is the surest sign that nature is lagging a little. Now by lagging is meant that the liver is a little lazy—the kidneys weak—the stomach failing just a little in its work. It may be a little of all three.

Just one remedy—inward cleansing with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. This removes, so to speak, a cobweb here and there, a visible sign of careless inward house-cleaning.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills insure beauty, give a dainty complexion, act upon the skin, upon your spirits. Some will ask, How do Dr. Hamilton's Pills act? Why mildly, of course, but very effectively upon that great trio of health, the stomach, liver and kidneys.

To get that robust, hearty health, to have the sparkle of vigor, to look and feel always at your best, tone and regulate your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Thousands find this advice good—so will you—refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

He was brought to the city on the 11.40 train on Saturday, and will appear in the Police Court to-day.

A Painful Death.

Mrs. Wm. Madill, of this city, received a few days ago word from her niece, Mrs. Somerville, of Chicago, giving particulars of a shocking accident resulting in the death of the latter's three-year-old son, by falling into a tub of boiling water last Thursday in Chicago. Mrs. Somerville was formerly organist in the Murray street Baptist church in this city. Her many friends here will deeply sympathize with her in her terrible bereavement.

Deer at Fraserville.

Mr. James Latimer, who lives near Frazerville, about seven miles south of Peterborough, a few days ago was surprised to observe a couple of deer quietly walking across his farm. They passed the night in the woods close by, and in the morning had disappeared. The junior reporter of this great family journal ventures the opinion that the animals probably came from Lindsay, where a porcupine was recently killed on one of the streets of the village.

A Handsome Car.

Mrs. A. G. Gough and family, who are visiting here, motored down from Toronto a few days ago in their handsome auto. This beautiful car is built to carry seven or eight persons and cost over $9,000. It is absolutely noiseless, and there is no jar or discomfort when in rapid motion. Mr. Gough, as most of our readers are aware, was formerly a resident of Peterborough, where he conducted a large clothing and boot and shoe business. He with his brother, Mr. Richard, moved to Toronto some years ago, where there was a greater field for the development of their marvellous business abilities. They are now classed among the prince merchants of the Queen city.

The Late Thomas Jamieson.

Mr. Thomas Jamieson, an old citizen of Peterborough, passed away on Friday evening at the residence of his son, Mr. Matthew Jamieson, 252 London street, at the ripe old age of 88 years. The deceased was an Irishman by birth, and came to Peterborough 41 years ago. He was a Conservative in politics, a worthy and esteemed member of St. John's church and a staunch Orangeman. He is survived by a sorrowing wife and two sons, Matthew of Peterborough, and Robert in the West; and four daughters, Mrs. Tennyson, Mrs. Craig both of Toronto, Mrs. Mein of Picton and Mrs. John Keenan of Peterborough. He has also sixteen grandchildren and seven great grand children. The funeral will take place to Little Lake cemetery this afternoon at 2.30.

MR. DILLON'S CHALLENGE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Examiner has seen fit to features with large headlines a challenge to me from a Mr. Dillon. Thus possibly it is necessary to take some notice of it. I will comply with Mr. Dillon's demands when he names two of the four clergymen to whom I will submit the evidence.

RECIPROCITY WILL INJURE THE WORKING MAN.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I am somewhat puzzled to find out how, if we get reciprocity with the United States, it is going to enrich the Canadian farmer and at the same time benefit the consumer. At the present time the consumer in Peterborough is paying for food about as much as he can well afford to pay. The housewife complains that $2.00 now will only go as far as $1.00 went in buying food a few years since.

The price of food supplies in Detroit to-day is very much dearer than it is in Peterborough. Bread is almost double the price it is here; for a 26 oz. loaf they pay 9 cents, while we pay 5 cents, for 24 oz. Butter, again is 31 cents per lb. Liver must be considered a luxury in Detroit for they charge 15 cents per lb. for it.

I think I have quoted prices sufficient to show that we are much better off as we are. It may be all right to experiment in some things, but when it comes down to our daily bread and butter, we don't want any guess work about it.

Some of our farmers, thinking to get a little higher price for their wheat, will vote for the reciprocity deal, unmindful of the mechanic and bread winner. The farmer doesn't care, as long as it will bring in a few dimes more per bushel on his wheat whether it is going to make it hard for the working man or not.

I want to say, Mr. Editor, that we, the consumers, have more to do with reciprocity than the farmer has, and when September 21 comes around we will show him by our votes that prices in Peterborough are plenty high enough, and that to become a nation within the British Empire is plenty good enough for us.

THE FLYING OF THE FLAG.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Here is a list of the days at which the Union Jack is to be flown from the public buildings of Canada:

March 1st—St. David's Day.
March 17—St. Patrick's Day.
April 23—St. George's Day.
May 24—Victoria Day.
May 26—Queen's Birthday.
June 3—King's Birthday.
June 23—Prince of Wales' Birthday.
June 24—St. Jean de Baptiste's Day.
July 1—Dominion Day.
Nov. 30—St. Andrew's Day.

It will be noticed from the above list that while the flag is to be flown on St. Patrick's Day, a day dear to the heart of every Irish Roman Catholic, the same treatment is not to be meted out to the Protestant by flying the flag on the 12th of July, a day equally dear to every Orangeman.

Is it to be assumed that while thousands gather all over the Dominion on the 12th of July to celebrate a great event, it has not yet attained to such a position of importance as to warrant recognition by flying the flag on that date.

The answer to that I presume would be that outside of the usual Government holidays, the flag is to be flown only on the days observed by the English, Irish, Scotch and French in honor of their patron saints. Nevertheless none of the days observed have the same religious significance that has the 17th of March.

The grand old flag that has so long braved the battle and the breeze has been enabled to do so by the strong firm and willing heart of the Protestant, in common with his Roman Catholic brothers. One wonders, then, why any distinction should be made in the days held dear by both.

Might it not be well for the Orangemen to choose a patron saint of their own, and thus be enabled to have the 12th of July recognized as a day worthy of the Union Jack.

W. R. Henry.

THE PROPER COURSE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I heartily commend the position taken by The Times in opening its columns to the free use of the public in regard to the questions at issue between the political parties. I therefore, take advantage of this to say a few words. I would say, in the first place that all parties, friendly and otherwise, should unite in according a hearty welcome to Mr. Borden next Thursday. Let us all recognize the high and responsible position which he holds as leader of His Majesty's Opposition in the Parliament of Canada. Next to the Premier, he is the most important man in the political world of Canada. Therefore, let Liberal and Conservative unite in giving him a hearty welcome.

It is said that Sir Wilfrid may also come to Peterborough, and should he do so, I am sure a hearty welcome also awaits him. His position entitles him to a high place in our regard.

Now, Mr. Editor, I would say one word more: Let personalities, both on the platform and in the press be avoided. Strong language only embitters, and makes no friends. I am sure the candidates recognize this. Let us try and be friends as we fight for our opinions, and refuse to enter into controversies that only lead to trouble.

I am a Liberal myself, And believe in the views of Sir Wilfrid regarding the issues before the people. I do not for a moment deny the right of my neighbor to view this matter from a totally different standpoint. We cannot all see the same, and it is a good thing we cannot, or the world would not move only one way, we would not have the bright, comprehensive vision that we now enjoy if we were all narrowed down to one way of thinking.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

A SPIRITED ADDRESS GIVEN BY MR. STRATTON

On Saturday evening the Liberal committee rooms on George street, were filled to overflowing with supporters and friends of the candidate, when the Hon. Mr. Stratton delivered a spirited address. He stated that from every quarter came the most encouraging reports of the progress of the campaign. He believed that the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier would sweep the country, as it had done before. In both East and West Peterborough the outlook was more than promising. Many conservatives had come to him and assured him of their support. Notwithstanding this he believed in thorough organization in order to get the vote out.

On the conclusion of Mr. Stratton's address, hearty and prolonged applause followed.

Short addresses were also given by leading citizens.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

Why have glasses that are AWKWARD TO WEAR and that give an UNNECESSARILY "OLD APPEARANCE"? WHY DUCK AND PEER OVER YOUR READING GLASSES to see objects at a distance? VOL XXXIV NO 193 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY AUGUST 22 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

CITY WILL PROBABLY COMPLETE SOUTH CITY SEWERAGE SYSTEM

THE CONTRACTORS CONROY AND BOGUE GIVEN A DAY IN WHICH TO SUBMIT SOME SORT OF PROPOSITION.

Will Ask C.P.R. For Permission to Erect Footway Across Their Railway Bridge—Negotiations Under Way for a Roadway Across the Auburn Company's New Dam.

The City Fathers met in special session last night, mainly with the object of devising ways and means of completing the south city sewer.

All the members were present, except Ald. Brown, who is visiting in the Northwest.

J. H. Bell, offered to sell 30 acres of land for exhibition purposes. A copy of his proposition will be forwarded to the Industrial Exhibition Society.

The Industrial Exhibition people were granted permission to hang signs across the streets as in former years.

The township of South Monaghan wrote asking what the city propose doing regarding sedimentation treatment of sewage before same is emptied into the river.

In this connection it is understood that the gas company has been restrained from polluting the river with oil as requested by the city.

The company will again be notified to abate the nuisance.

At the September of meeting of the Council, Medical Health Officer McPherson will report on the results of his analysis of the waters of the Otonabee to a distance of six miles below the city.

The whole question of pollution of the Otonabee waters will be thoroughly gone into at next meeting.

A Cobourg citizen wrote asking how excursionists can be expected to find their way about the city, when the names of streets are not in evidence at the street corners.—Received.

The tax collector's report of the proportion of taxes collected this year on the instalment principle is phenomenally satisfactory.

The chairmas of the Board of Works and Alderman Anderson were named a committee to meet a deputation from the Peterborough County Council and the Victoria County Council re the betterment of conditions in connection with the Ligton Creek bridge, for the maintenance of which the city is jointly responsible with the counties named.

The Ancient Order of Foresters wrote asking for a civic reception to the delegates to the convention to meet in this city the week commencing August 22nd.—Received.

Subsequently, His Worship and Ald. Graham, chairman Reception Committee were deputed to see that the visitors are fittingly received and an address of welcome read them. They will also be escorted over the lift lock by the City Fathers.

W. H. Meldrum's communication re his application for appointment to the office of Industrial Commissioner was received.

A grant of $50 was voted the 57th Regiment to cover the city's share of the expenses connected with Coronation Day celebration.

B. F. Ackerman Sons, Limited, wrote threatening suit against the city unless immediate action is taken to prevent the frequent flooding of their cellar during rain storms. Referred to the Board of Works.

SOUTH CITY SEWER MUDDLE.

The question of prosecuting the work of constructing the South City sewerage system here, came up. Both contractors Conroy and Bogue evidently do not intend to complete the task under contract.

Mr. Chipman reported that practically no work had been done on the Romaine street sewer the past three months, and unless some change occurs it will take years to complete this south city sewerage system. There is no reason he offered why the work should not be completed.

Chairman Ald. Metheral of the Board of Works contended that the work had been started wrong, hence the present trouble.

Mr. W. H. Moore was present in Mr. Conroy's interests and Mr. G. N. Gordon represented Mr. Bogue.

Mr. Gordon argued that his client is not recognized in the matter and therefore cannot be held responsible. Apart from this, however, the use of the pit of the pumping station as a reservoir, as originally understood, had been prohibited by the associated engineer—Mr. Perdue—and the machinery installed. This has created a problem difficult to overcome. Then Mr. Bogue contends that the work, under existing conditions, is an engineering impossibility.

Mr. W. H. Moore argued that Mr. Conroy was not responsible for the work as the contract had been assigned to Mr. Bogue with Council's consent. He (Mr. Moore) is given to understand that the initial depth of 10 feet below street grade engenders an engineering problem impossible to overcome. Were this depth raised a couple of feet the work might be readily gone on with.

Mr. Chipman, the engineer responsible for this work, contended that the contract specifically states that the contractor shall use his own machinery for pumping. He might have used the south well of the pumping station, but this objection was not raised until recently. Then the trench dug by Mr. Bogue is too narrow, and the sheeting in use not fit to put into a ditch. Had a proper trench been dug and steel sheet piling used the work could have been completed by now. Reducing the depth of the sewer would call for the construction of another pumping station. Rather than consent to this he would advise that the city share with the contractor the cost of steel sheeting—$500. This sheeting could be used for other work.

The city looks to Mr. Conroy to complete the work, but Mr. Conroy, who was present, had no proposition to make.

Mr. Gordon offered that Messrs. Conroy and Bogue complete the work as servants of the city under instructions from Mr. Chipman.

The Council here gave Messrs. Conroy and Bogue an opportunity to consult together, with their solicitors and make some sort of a proposition.

The gentlemen here withdrew but not putting in an appearance by 10.30 Council decided that unless a proposition that can be entertained is submitted to the authorities to-day, the city will proceed with the work and charge cost of same up to Mr. Conroy, the original contractor.

POWER COMPANY REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn reported that no action be taken to reaffirm the resolution of the Council asking the Department of Railways and Canals to lease dam No. 4 to the Otonabee Power Co. This report was adopted as read.

HAS NO FUNDS.

A by-law to authorize the expenditure of the sum of not exceeding $5,000 on repairs and additions to the Police Station passed its several readings.

The Council expects the City Trust Commissioners to prosecute the work this fall; but Mr. W. H. Moore advised that as all the city's money in trust with the commissioners has been handed over to the Council for debentures it is not likely that the repairs and additions will be gone on with for some time.

Moved by Ald. Edgar, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That Ald. Brown, who has gone to the Northwest, be given two months' leave of absence.—Carried.

TO PAY THOS. RUTHERFORD.

Moved by Ald. Buller, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That Mr. Rutherford be paid the $300 held in hand pending reconstruction of the crooked columns at entrance to Public Library.—Carried.

Ald. Buller offered that Mr. Rutherford was not responsible for the faulty work having been forced to use brick not suitable for columns.

Ald. Metheral—"If any one is to blame it is the architects."

FOOTWAY WANTED.

On motion of Ald. Anderson, the C.P.R. Co. will be asked permission for the construction of a footway across their railway bridge.

ROADWAY AT AUBURN.

Re the construction of a roadway across the new dam at Auburn. His Worship reported that Mr. Larmonth estimates the cost of such work at $15,000. The Auburn Power Company intends building this dam this fall, and Mr. Larmonth will submit a detailed report as to several propositions for a roadway across it.

WAS BURNED TO DEATH

Smith's Falls, Aug. 21.—A little five year old daughter of Mr. Stephen Ferguson, of Osgoode Station, lighted some matches to look for her picture books, and in doing so her clothing took fire. She ran screaming to the yard, where her father was, and hastily plunged her into a barrel of water, he endeavored to quench the flames. His efforts to save her were without avail, however, as the little girl was so badly burned that she died a few hours later.

ARMED TO THE TEETH

Waupun, Wis., Aug. 21.—A raid was made yesterday on the cells of all the prisoners in the State Penitentiary, after the authorities had received a hint of a coming wholesale rising of prisoners to free everyone in the prison.

The raid disclosed about 250 weapons of various descriptions, including about 150 knives. The prisoners were held in the chapel while the search was made. A negro murderer had eight broad bladed knives in his cell, fashioned from saws.

MILL BURNED AT FENELON FALLS

Lindsay, Aug. 21.—A disastrous fire occurred at Fenelon Falls Saturday night, when the large saw mill belonging to Thomas & Connell was completely destroyed, as well as a large shingle mill, and as a result some forty hands will be out of employment. A million and a half of shingles, the main mill and lime kiln were consumed. The cause is unknown.

FINE THE SELLERS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—How is it that we see so many fines registered against blacklisters, and none against those who sell the liquor? Who is to blame for this lack of administering the law?

Enquirer.

MR. DILLON REPLIES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. J. H. Burnham in The Times yesterday, says he is willing to comply with my request, when I name two of four clergymen to whom he will submit the evidence. Why does he want clerbymen, or why choose four? Four might cause a deadlock. I suggest a much simpler arrangement. This is not a question of theology, but a question of fact. Let us then choose a man who is accustomed to silt evidence, and an expert in arriving at facts. I therefore agree to let His Honor Judge Huycke decide the case for us. Mr. Burnham can have no objection to him, and I am perfectly satisfied to abide by his decision. So now, Mr. J. H. Burnham deposit your $100.00 with any Bank Manager in this city. You make the choice, my money is ready. Just go right ahead and submit your evidence. It will be an excellent opportunity of showing the public what unreliable statements you are accustomed to make.

WHAT MR. STRATTON HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir.—I would like to call the attention of the electors to the fact that it pays to have a good, live representative at Ottawa. Look at what our present member has done for his constituents in the short period which he has sat in the House. We have works of all kinds being undertaken—new wharves, post office improvements, rural mail routes, &c. The new docks which are to be built in the south end, will cost, I believe, about $100,000. Surely Mr. Stratton cannot be accused of lack of diligence.

Let us be fair to him and also to ourselves, and if we are we cannot fail to support the man who has done so well.

Elector.

THE WEATHER.

Mostly fair with thunder showers during evening.

EXCAVATING ROADS TWO WEEKS AFTER MADE IS WHAT ALD. BRADBURN WON'T STAND FOR

At last night's meeting of the City Fathers, Ald. Bradburn scored the engineering department for allowing the P.L. & P. Co. to dig up Aylmer street, north of Brock, two weeks after the road had been newly made. They also intend to make connections across the road. He had yet to see them dig up a street and put it into as good a condition again as found. But the company last May got permission to do this work, and surely the impairing of this newly made road could have been avoided by the exercise of a little judgment.

Ald. Buller offered that a resolution is on the books calling for all applications for the laying of gas mains to be in hand early in the spring as a preventative against what is complained of by Ald. Bradburn.

Ald. Bradburn—"I do not blame the Board of Works, but the engineering department."

Ald. Buller—"Yes, that is where the laxity lies."

The engineer was instructed to guard against such a procedure in future.

WON A THREE HUNDRED DOLLAR WAGER BY WALKING TO CANADA

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Their parents having wagered $300 that they could not do the stunt, David Kennensohn and Arthur Brooks, students at Connecticut State University, started from their home in Norwich, Conn., two weeks ago to walk to Montreal, earning their living by the way.

By their wager they had three weeks to do the 450 miles. They reached here yesterday, having taken just two weeks and twelve hours and with thirteen cents surplus capital.

13,000 BOXES NEEDED TO RECEIVE BALLOTS

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—It will take 13,000 ballot boxes to receive the votes which will be cast on September 21. This is an increase of 1,500 over the last general election.

There are certain to be three deferred elections—Those in Gaspe, Chicoutimi and Saguenay and Comox-Atlin.

Two other deferred elections may result from later decisions, namely, at Prince Albert and Yale-Cariboo.

FIVE KILLED AND ONE HUNDRED INJURED IN A TORNADO

Minot, N.D., Aug. 21.—Five dead, 125 injured, and $150,000 property damage is the result of a tornado which yesterday caused devastation northeast of this city.

The heaviest losses were caused at West Hope, Antler, Souris, Sherwood and the vicinity of Mohall and Lorraine.

The dead are reported as follows: Antler 1, Souris 1, Sherwood 1, Mohall 2.

Over a hundred persons were injured at West Hope, and of this number a dozen were hurt dangerously.

At Antler a party of pleasure seekers, who were holding a picnic, were picked up by the tornado and scattered hundreds of feet distant.

PARROT GAVE FIRE ALARM SAVED LIVES OF TWENTY

New York, Aug. 21.—A talented green parrot gave an alarm of fire in a ten storey Madison avenue apartment house early to-day and saved the lives of twenty persons who would otherwise have been suffocated by the dense smoke which filled the upper floors of the building.

The parrot noticed the smoke shortly after midnight and roused its master by calling repeatedly "come on Harry, come on, come on." The fire was in the apartment just above. Mr. Dearborn, the owner of the bird, wakened his family and ran with the parrot's cage under his arm to the street where he found a policeman. The bluecoat manned the elevator and rushed through the upper floors of the building, rousing all the occupants.

The blaze was confined to two apartments, causing a loss of $50,000.

Crewless Ship Adrift.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 21.—The British schooner, Minnie, laden with coal from Elizabethport, N.J., for Halifax, N.S., was picked up abandoned near Cohasset Life Saving Station, near Nantucket, Mass., by the cutter Acushnet, in a southeast gale last night. There were no signs of her crew of five men. The ship was sinking.

Shot Three Policemen.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—Two policemen were shot and probably fatally wounded, and a third was seriously hurt when they attempted to arrest Gilbert Bond, 28 years old, of Westmont, N.J., in a Chinese restaurant in the Tenderloin of this city to-day.

TWO INSTANTLY KILLED, AUTO TURNED TURTLE

CLYDE BIRCH, A CHAUFFEUR, AND EDNA KOEHN MET AN AWFUL DEATH WHEN MACHINE WAS WRECKED NEAR DIXIE.

Were Travelling at an Excessive rate of Speed When a Tire Burst—Both Bodies Badly Crushed.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—When the big touring car owned by Mr. William Robertson, of the Robertson Candy works, turned turtle last night about 11.30, two and a half miles east of Cooksville, while it was being driven towards Toronto at a furious pace, two people, a man and a woman, were instantly killed. The man was the chauffeur in the employ of Mr. Robertson. He is Clyde Birch, a young man 22 years of age, who came to this city several months ago, direct from San Francisco. The woman was Edna Koehn, of 3 Sheridan avenue. She has been rooming at the above address since May 23, and her parents live at 79 Weber street, Berlin. It has been ascertained that she left the above city address at 7.40 last night, in company with Birch, in the auto which was wrecked later. She was a girl between 17 and 18 years of age, and was employed as a saleslady in a large departmental store.

HAPPENED NEAR MIDNIGHT.

The details of the accident were not given to the authorities very fully. Cooksville was alarmed shortly before midnight by the information that there had been a serious auto accident about a mile east of Dixey. Melville Watson, driving along the road, had been passed by the machine, which was heading for Toronto, and he describes the pace which it was making as something terrific. It was going so fast he turned around to watch, and though he was not very close at the time, he saw the big auto careen to one side suddenly, then turn a complete revolution in the air, heel over two or three times on one side and finally collapse in the ditch by the side of the road, facing directly opposite to the direction it was running. This morning the road was gouged up and there were other indications that the car had rolled over two or three times before it finally came to a stop, in its wrecked condition and facing wheels upward.

WERE KILLED INSTANTLY.

The two occupants must have been killed instantly as by the time the county constable could arrive they were passed all help, and their bodies were so badly broken that they could not have lived for any length of time. The girl's skull was broken open and she was lying in the centre of the road, where the machine had probably crushed her when it struck the ground the first time. The man was lying a few feet distant, and his chest was terribly crushed and mangled, as though some heavy part of the auto had caught him in its fall and pinned him to the ground. The machine was in a badly disabled condition.

The information which came to the city was very meagre and unsatisfactory, as all that could be learned at first was the number of the car. By comparing this with the registered numbers it was found that the car belonged to Mr. Robertson and there was alarm for fear that some of his family had been in the wreck. His brother, Alexander Robertson, was called up by the police authorities, and the information he gave was that to the best of his knowledge the machine was in the garage. Later, however, they were able to locate the owner and he stated that he had given his chauffeur, Birch, permission to take the car out. Birch had told him that he had a young lady who was soon leaving the city and his employer gave consent that the car might be used. As to who the young lady might be, Mr. Robertson had no knowledge.

Birch, since coming to Toronto in January, had been living at 540 Church street, and it was young Campland, a son of the landlady, who was able to give the information as to the identity of the young lady. He stated that early last evening he rode down as far as Queen street in the auto with Birch, who was on his way to the west end to pick up the girl for their trip. When asked as to Birch's driving he replied that he would not ride any distance with him. His employers, however, have given him a reputation as being a very careful, steady driver when he was taking any of them out.

All appear to agree that it was excessive speed which the machine was making that caused the accident. Mr. Robertson motored out to Cooksville this morning and identified the body of the man as that of his driver, and stated that judging from the condition of the car and the appearance of the road they must have been making a very immoderate rate.

EMERGENCY BRAKE WAS ON.

Though nobody will ever be able to give an exact account of what led up to the double tragedy, the details could be fairly well read from the traces which were left behind. One of the front tires had blown out, and the emergency brake was on full. Experienced autoists agree that the only one thing that could have happened, following a blow-out or a puncture. Birch, realizing the danger at once applied the emergency brake while the car was still tearing along the road. The shock was too much for it, and it heeled straight into the air, turned turtle, crushed the occupants beneath it, and then rolled off into the ditch where the motor was still humming when the only witness arrived.

ONLY ONE WITNESSED IT.

This was the man Melville Watson who had been so frightened by its speed when the car passed him that he turned about in his buggy to watch the course it was taking. The crash came on a level stretch of the road while Watson was still looking. He drove back as quickly as possible and asked:

"Is anybody hurt?"

There was no answer. A moment later, Mr. I. E. Shaver, who lives in a farm house just opposite the scene came out and repeated the same question.

END OF RAILWAY STRIKE, MOST OF STRIKERS RETURN

JOINT COMMITTEE BEING APPOINTED TO CONSIDER THE GRIEVANCES.

Companies Recognize Unions and Promise to Accept Award—Most of the Strikers Return, But Some Stay out.

Liverpool, Aug. 21.—The settlement reached by the Board of Trade and the strikers' representatives at midnight on Saturday provides that the men return to work, that the employers recognize the unions, that boards of conciliation consider the men's grievances, and give awards, that all men on strike or locked out be reinstated, that disputes not before the conciliation boards be submitted to representatives of the companies and unions, and in event of disagreement to arbitration pending the report of the commission on the best means of settling disputes.

A COMMISSION WILL ALSO ACT.

The agreement signed by representatives of the companies and the unions, and a Government commission of five members will be appointed by the Government to investigate into the workings of the present conciliation and arbitration scheme, and report desirable changes.

News of the agreement was received with great satisfaction in some centres, but in Manchester the strikers declare they have been betrayed in London.

A big demonstration of railway men here celebrated the recognition of the collective bargaining as a significant victory for railway employees and their previously ignored unions.

DOCKERS STILL OUT AT LIVERPOOL.

In Liverpool, railway men are satisfied, but the dockers refuse to return to work until assurances are given by the Shipping Federation that their grievances will be considered. A conference is now being held by the Federation and union representatives.

Strike leaders are enthusiastic over the loyalty of trades unionists in the most important strike in the United Kingdom, but denounce strongly the use of the militia to protect property of employers who refuse to meet union representatives.

In Liverpool and nearly all important strike centres conditions have assumed a normal state. The civic authorities are busy clearing the filthy streets, and restoring order everywhere.

CHARACTER IN HAIR.

Red Haired People Considered Smart

Men with fine, light hair are smart, consulted, and, if they do not marry until late in life, are apt to grow cross and selfish. If a girl wishes to select a husband, she should learn to read his disposition by his hair. Men with fine brown hair, light or dark, make the best husbands; they are quick, thoughtful, and less apt to be selfish than the very light-haired, or very dark-haired brothers. Those whose hair turns gray prematurely are nearly always good fellows; are a little nervous, but brainy, sympathetic, and very honorable. A prematurely gray-haired person is generally very scrupulous in money matters and in friendships, and very tolerant of one's shortcomings. Nearly all red-haired persons are smart, whether the hair is coarse or fine, but the finer the hair the finer the smartness. Pale, blond-haired women, of the colorless, ashen kind, are impulsive, loving, and ticklet; apt to be depended upon, but usually good company while they like you. Women with very dark brown hair are loyal, sympathetic, and usually of tireless patience where they love; they are full of sentiment, emotional, enjoy keenly and suffer in like proportion, are easily touched by the woes of others, and are to be trusted. Women with fine black hair, touched with brown, are high-strung, loyal, and brainy. Those with very black hair, if it is coarse, are usually mean and suspicious. All women with very dark hair are quick tempered, and where dark eyes and dark complexions go with the dark hair, they have strong feeling. The dark-haired women are more faithful than the light-haired, and if finely organized, just bubble over with sentiment.

WORKING TO KEEP YOUNG

When a Busy Man Retires He Soon Leaves This Old Earth.

Friends of J. P. Morgan who keep in close touch with him assert that although he goes to Europe primarily for rest he works harder during his absence than the average man works when at his desk. Between his visits to art galleries and connoisseurs, to kings and other rulers, he contrives to attend to a vast amount of business. The cables between the house at the corner of Wall and Broad streets and the foreign offices of Morgan & Company are kept busy every day. Not only so, but Mr. Morgan always has a secretary along with him to assist in the transaction of his huge affairs, a position that is by no means a sinecure.

Mr. Morgan, it is said, has no intention of retiring completely from active business life. In this connection it may be interesting to narrate a conversation that took place some time ago. A middle aged friend of Mr. Morgan said to him: "Why don't you retire, Mr. Morgan? You have already done a big life's work."

"Umph, when did your father retire?" came the quick reply.

"In————"

"And when did he die?"

"Oh, he died about a year later."

"Just so ;if he had continued in business he would have been alive still," was the rejoinder that closed the conversation. This is Mr. Morgan's theory.

And there are others who share the old belief that a man is only as old as he feels.

Her Church Testimony

If brevity is the soul of wit, one of the wittiest speeches on record was made by a woman. Mrs. Briggs lived in the northern part of Indiana, a long distance from any village. Hearing that Rev. Mr. Goodwin was to preach in a township some twenty miles distant, she resolved to be present, and as no other way offered, she walked the twenty miles.

The pastor heard of this, and was so pleased at the appreciation which it showed that at the close of the sermon he mentioned the fact to the congregation and called upon Mrs. Briggs to tell them how she came.

Rising slowly, she looked over the audience with great solemnity and said:

"I hoofed it."

Then she sat down again.

Turn About is Fair Play

A young married woman recently had a novel experience when she engaged her first Chinese cook.

"What's your name?" she asked when the preliminaries had been settled.

"My name Hong Long Loo," said the Celestial with much gravity.

"And I am Mrs. Harrington Richard Buckingham," said his new employer. "I am afraid I shall never be able to remember your name — it's so long. I shall call you John."

"All light," returned the Chinese with a suspicion of a smle. "Your namee too long too, I callee you Charley."

His Money's Worth.

The Stumper Stumped

A political speaker, while making a speech paused in the midst of it and exclaimed, "Now, gentlemen, what do [illegible]"

A man rose in the assembly, and with one eye partially closed, modestly, with a strong Scotch brogue, replied, "I think, sir, I do, indeed sir — I think if you and I were to go up the country together we would tell more lies than any other two men in the country, sir, and I'd not [illegible] myself during the whole time."

Why Irish Millionnaires Are Scarce

In a classification of millionnaires by nationalities it will be found that Irishmen are very far down on the list. Why this should be so may seem hard to understand at first. The Irishman, generally speaking, possess more than average intelligence.

He is an excellent workman and a capable business man. But the fact remains that he rarely becomes a millionaire.

The Rev. Francis X. McCabe, President of a great university, has offered an interesting solution. He says the fault, if it can be called a fault, is in the Irishman's heart, not in his brain or business acumen. The Irishman is so generous toward his fellow man that he has little chance to accumulate millions for himself

'Irish generosity is a bar rto the 'rish millionnaire' is the way that President McCabe puts it. That is why there are not nearly so many millionnaire Irishmen as there are millionnaires of other individual nationalities.

"The Irish are always looking on the bright side of things to come, not only for themselves but for others as well. They have carried with them always a spirit of optimism. They are, moreover ,a people of deep religious convictions and faith. They have done an important work in the building up of the civilization of the world."

And, after all has been said and done, this may be better than becoming more millionnaires.

Verdi Played Many Hours

It is related of Verdi that in early youth he went to the instrument at all hours, early and late, playing scales and discovering chords and harmonious combinations. Sometimes he would forget or lose one of his favourite chords, and then there was an outburst of genuine native passion which was quite contrary to his usually quiet demeanor. Once, when labouring under one of these fits of temper, he seized a hammer and began to hit the keyboard with it. His father, attracted by the noise, rushed in and by administering prompt chastisement, stopped further efforts of a similar [illegible] in the direction of piano hammering.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try A KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

MARJORY MACMURCHY, Toronto.

There may be much discussion as to whether journalists are born or made in these days of mechanical productions — editorially mechanical — but there can only be one opinion of Marjory MacMurchy — for she is born and made. With an individuality all her own she infuses into her work that indefineability called life and her experience has given her an insight into humanity that has already made her a power in the Press. A series of articles from her pen on the Coronation, when she represented the Publishers Press, brought out these qualities well, particularly her descriptive work.

Marjory MacMurchy is fortunate in having a clever father and a clever elder sister and there is no doubt her early training, artistic and scholarly environments, had much in the making of the writer we know. Born in Toronto, Miss MacMurchy was educated at Jarvis St. College and Toronto University. Entered journalism early in life. Now literary editor of a Toronto daily, and contributes to many of the Magazines.

Mr. JUSTICE BRODEUR

The Hon. Louis Philippe Brodeur, K.C., LL.D., late Minister of Marine and Fisheries, comes of one of the best known French-Canadian families. A comparatively young man as politicians go — his nativity only dates from 1862 — he has made rapid strides in offices of state since his first election to Parliament in 1891. When the Laurier Government went into power five years later, Mr. Brodeur was made Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons and Chairman of Committees. After the election of HON. L. P. BRODEUR. Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

1906 he became Speaker of the House, and in 1904 entered the Cabinet with the portfolio of Minister of Inland Revenue. Two years later he became Minister of Marine and Fisheries and held that office till August 1911, when he resigned to become a Supreme Court Judge. Hon. Mr. Brodeur accompanied Sir Wilfrid Laurier to England as a delegate to the Imperial Conference of 1907 and was a delegate to the Imperial Defence Conference of 1909. By profession he is a lawyer, having been called to the Bar in 1884 after graduating from Laval University. Beloeil, P.Q., is his birth place and his early education was received at St. Hyacinthe College.

Schoolboy "Howlers."

Some amusing schoolboy "howlers" were recounted by Mr. W. Elwyn Fiske, headmaster of the Elm House School, Surbiton, at the Christmas prize distribution. In the general papers worked by the students one boy described "coup d'etat" as a French dish played in musichalls as a voluntary.

Credit, said another boy, signifies "a person who gets nice things said behind his back." A third boy illustrated the meaning of gender by explaining that a camel is masculine and a dromedary feminine.

Asked to quote some exceptions to the rule "Ladies first," a boy wrote, "When you are going to be hung." "Ladies first except for votes" and "Ladies always first except when the door is too small" were other replies. The boys were also asked what they would wish for if they were granted five wishes. Among the replies were "To be able to eat anything" and "To be a porcupine, because I could prick people."

How strange it is that life must be to live.

Invaluable to Every Farmer

Its Wonderful Power in Curing Sick Cattle and Colicky Horses Makes "Nerviline" Worth Its Weight in Gold.

The stockman or farmer that doesn't know of the thousand and one uses of "Nerviline" around the stable has a great deal to learn. "Why, I wouldnat think of locking my stable door at night without knowing I had a supply of 'Nerviline' on hand. I always het a dozen bottles at a time from my druggist.

NERVILINE CURES COLICKY HORSES

"To cure colic, indigestion and bad stomach in a horse or cow there is no remedy on earth in the same class as 'Nerviline.' Last summer I had a $250 horse that got the scours, and I would have lost him if I hadn't been able to give him Nerviline. I poured a full bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water down his throat and saved his life. I knew of neighbors who have saved many heads of valuable stock, stricken with colic, just by using Nerviline. It is equally good as a rub-on liniment, and I know from my experience that for man or beast, internally or externally, 'Nerviline' is worth a dollar a drop."

You will not regret using Nerviline—but see you get it and nit something else, 25c per bottle, or five for $1 00, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

MINING TIMBERS USED IN CANADA, 1910.

Mines to the number of 136 use considerable quantities of timber annually in their operations. Statistics of the amount used have been collected by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. Round (unsawn) timber was used to the extent of 52,848,000 lineal feet and cost an average of $9.90 per thousand. 22,-305,000 board feet of sawn lumber and timber were used worth $13.63 per thousand. The total quantity of timber used cost $827,337. The round timbers varied in diameter from three to thirty-six inches and were used mostly underground as mine supports to give artificial support for insecure roofs and walls and to protect shafts, drifts and gangways. Ordinary lumber constituted most of the sawn timber and was used above ground for buildings, breakers, tipples, washers and trestles. Below ground the sawn timber enters into the ventilator shafts and sets. 13 different species of wood were reported from the mining industries. Mines use species of wood which are abundant, cheap and easily obtained from nearby localities. Thus, in each province certain species were used to the exclusion of all others. British Columbia used all the fir; Nova Scotia used all the spruce, balsam and hemlock; Alberta used all the jack-pine, larch and poplar. These three provinces contain the principal coal mines and consume over 95 per cent. of Canadian mining timbers. The ore mines of Ontario, although many in number, used only one per cent. of the total. These mines are small, shallow and in the solid rock so that little timber was required for supports.

A RATHER POOR ARGUMENT.

The Lindsay Post finds fault with Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., for doing little for the riding he represents. Our contemporary evidently forgets that a member who sits and votes with the Opposition in Parliament can do little, and that little is sure to be of a nature that is not likely to benefit the general elector. This is the game of politics, as it is played in Canada. What is said of Col. Hughes may also be said of every Opposition member in the House.

Col. Hughes, were his friends occupying the treasury benches, would doubtless make things hum in Victoria. Our contemporary is hardly fair or reasonable in its deductions.

HUDSON'S BAY AND WESTERN PROSPECTS.

Ancient Corporation's Big Increase in Profits.

Some very interesting information regarding western Canadian conditions was given by Lord Strathcona when presiding over the annual meeting of the Hudson's Bay company, held in Lonodon recently. After reviewing the excellent reports which had been in the hands of the shareholders for some time, his lordship referred to the conditions which obtain at the present time. He quoted from a cablegram received from the stores commissioner, Mr. Burbidge, at Winnipeg, which stated that the volume of sales for the first five months of the current year had increased $500,000. This is at the rate of $100,000 per month. The cable messages read by his lordship were as follows: —

From Land Commissioner

"From personal observation, which corresponds with reports from the company's surveyor and other authoritative sources, the larger acreage in crop, seeded under ideal conditions, was followed by exceptionally favorable growing weather, and with present season the crop promises to be very considerably larger than any previous harvest yield in western Canada. This will no doubt stimulate the demand for agricultural lands from prospective occupants, and have an invigorating effect on growing cities and towns in the several districts."

From Fur Trade Commissioner.

"Compared with last year the fur catch has declined in British Columbia, Manitoba and Keewatin. An increase has occurred in Saswatchewan, Lake Superior, Lake Huron, St. Lawrence. There is no change worthy of mention in Athabasca. No advice to hand from James Bay, Labrador, Mackensie river ,but it is very probable volume has declined owing to unfavorable winter and scarcity of periodical furs. Adequate supplies have been forwarded districts. Transport service is well organised for efficiency and economy. The prospects are encouraging."

From the Stores Commissioner.

"The volume of sale shop trade for first five months of current year shows increase of over five hundred thousand dollars. Prospects during remainder of sale shop year are excellent, the outlook for a record crop being very favorable."

CALAGARY STREET RAILWAY HAS GOOD HALF-YEAR.

The net profits from the operation of the Calgary street railway system for the first six months of the present year were almost three times as great as for the corresponding half year in 1910.

The comparative statements of the receipts, expenses and profits of the system prepared and submitted to the city commissioners by Superintendent McCauley shows a wonderful growth of the city and increasing patronage of the system.

After deducting five per cent of the gross receipts and paying a percentage of the interest and sinking fund, the net profits for the six months of the year amonuted to $49,-705.81. For the half year in 1910 the profits amounted to $17,061.

The total revenue for the first half of 1911 amounted to $149,437.57. After deducting the total operated expenses of $75,964.90, five per cent of the gross receipts amounting to $7,471.96 and $16,295.28 for interest and sinking fund, a net profit of $49,705.51 was left.

Spanish 5 and 10 Cent Stores

Spanish newspapers are commenting on the new system of merchandising just introduced into Spain through the opening in Madrid of two bazaars along lines corresponding to the American 5 and 10 cent store. The Madrid bazaars have been started with a stock of toys, cheap jewellery, notions, perfumery, underwear, collars and cuffs, neckties, caps, chinaware, fans, handkerchiefs, belts, brushes, purses, small hardware and other articles priced to sell at 65 centimes, an equivalent of about 13 cents American money.

The American 5 and 10 cent store idea has not been developed in Spain to any extent ,although the two bazaars recently established approach the system, at least in the range of articles carried, more closely than anything heretofore attempted.

Bazaars carrying articles offered within a certain price range have been operated in the larger Spanish cities for some time — Malaga has had such a store for over twenty years, prices varying from two to nine cents — but the limited variety of goods obtained and sold at these prices did not strongly attract the public.

Had a Prejudice.

Captain Hardress Lloyd, the English polo player, was talking about international marriages. "Really, you know," he said, "it isn't true that all the titled husbands of American girls are scoundrels. I sometimes think that you Americans, especially those of you who hail from Chicago, are too hard on our poor marquises and earls. A Chicagoian, I understand, was being shown through a New York picture gallery by his nephew. He paused before a striking portrait. 'That, Uncle Cochon,' the nephew explained, 'is a portrait of Napoleon Bonaparte—the man the Duke of Wellington got the best of.' The uncle frowned and said angrily, 'Durn them foreign noblemen — how much did he lend him?'"

The Russias Are Taxed.

According to the Cri de Paris Emperor William II, of Germany has laid a special tax on all cats in Berlin. The mayor has had made a number of little medals which the cats whose tax has been paid wear about their neck. Those found without the medal are sent remorselessly to the pound.

A Bit of English Humor.

CENTURY OF PEACE CELEBRATION 1914-1915

London, Aug. 19.—To celebrate the centenary of peace among English-speaking peoples, as marked by the signing of the peace treaty between England and America in 1815, an important scheme for a permanent memorial is being discussed in England by representative men of both nations. Andrew Carnegie is chairman of the American committee with Col. Theodore Roosevelt as honorary chairman and the governors of 46 states of the union as honorary vice-presidents.

The celebration will take place in 1914-15, and will most probably take the form of either (1) purchasing Sulgrave Manor, Northamptonshire, the ancestral seat of the Washington family, as a lasting memorial of the peace and a centre of interest for all the Anglo-Saxon race; (2) on the building of a bridge across the Niagara Falls, connecting British and American territory, to be toll-free to citizens of both nations. Possibly, if funds permit, both schemes may be realized, so that each country will possess a peace memorial.

FORM OF MEMORIAL.

William B. Howland, chairman of the international organization committee, now in London, said to a reporter: "A decision will be arrived at probably before the end of the year. We have approached the owner of the Sulgrave estate with a view to securing an option on reasonable terms. I think the idea would be to devote the house to the purpose of a museum for the housing of objects and documents indicating the close and peaceful relations between the two countries, and to lay out the 200 acres of land, or part of it, as an international park.

"The proposed bridge across Niagara Falls would be a grand connecting link between the two shores. The new structure would be free to all passengers, and as there are thousands of British visitors during the year, this form of memorial would be of some benefit to them. We shall seek to get in touch with British people who are willing to co-operate in the celebration, and it is likely that a British committee will be formed in connection with the large project.

TO START THIS FALL.

"There will be a series of public gatherings in America, England Canada and Australia. An influential committee will be organized in Canada and Australia and probably in all the British colonies. A conference of all interested will most likely be convened in New York in the autumn.

"There has been no hostility along the three thousand miles of American Canadian border during the last hundred years, so that the celebration will assuredly evoke widespread interest. It has also been suggested that a history of the period might profitably be written for the special benefit of school children in the various countries. They would thus have an opportunity, which has never before been afforded them, of studying a history which would not include any record of war!

TO THE ELECTORS
—OF—
EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject —After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

A PEER FOR A MINUTE

How An Actor Won a Bet of $250

On one occasion a gentlemanly appearing individual walked boldly up the steps of St. Stephen's, passed the various officials, turned into the House of Lords passage and, says The Strand, in a self-possessed manner entered the robing room.

"Lord Normanby's robes."

The attendant looked surprised.

"But, my lord——" he began.

"I know it's absurd," said the stranger, "but my tailor cannot finish my robes in time and I must attend this sitting. Lord Normanby was so kind as to offer—You understand?"

"Oh, certainly, my lord," responded the rober.

The crimson and ermine was produced and donned and the pseudo peer strolled into the House, where a few peers were waiting, administered a series of affable nods right and left and finally took his place on the woolsack.

For full thirty seconds he sat there while those present tried to collect their faculties. Then he slowly arose and, remarking to the clerk "How stupid of me! I now remember I have an appointment elsewhere," retired from the chamber. In the robing room he remarked "Thank Lord Normanby and tell his lordship I have just recalled a pressing appointment with the King."

"Yes, my lord. What name?"

"What name?" echoed the other, in assumed astonishment "What name? Really, my good fellow, you must be careful—very careful. It does not do to forget yourself in this assembly. But I will overlook your slip this time. Good morning."

That evening it was known at the Beefsteak Club that Banister, the actor, had won a bet of $250.

CATS IN JAPAN

At One Time Puss Was a God

According to the Japanese ,the domestic cat appeared in their country at a relatively recent epoch, having traveled from China with the missionaries of Buddhism. In the middle of the sixth century of the Christian era, says Our Dumb Animals, sacrifices were offered to the cat, which was known by all as "the guardian of the manuscript."

"The guardian of the manuscripts" kept away the mice, which otherwise would have eaten the precious papyrus. In some instances placards were set in conspicuous places among manuscripts as a warning to the mice: "Beware! The cat is here. She drives the mice." Portraits of cats were also placed in parts frequented by mice.

The cats were revered. For a long time they were kept in the temples. But their beauty, their general desirability and the charm of their grace, affection for man, and adaptability to human conditions so appealed to the layman that one by one very gradually their kittens were permitted to leave the temples and to become the pets of the nobility. After entering the families of the high officials of the Empire they won their way into humbler households.

Nothing Too Good for the Future

Vice is an ugly word. In the process of time it has come to have a significance that fastens it on to courses of wrong-doing that are unspeakably vile, yet at the same time terribly destructive of the best things in manhood and womanhood. We turn instinctively from any contemplation of the so-called social evil of our day, but that doesn't do even the least little thing to help to take it out of the way. It is there. Let us at least look at that fact, even if we haven't the courage to contemplate the thing itself. Will it always be there? Some folk say it will, but we haven't any sympathy whatever with that fantastic doctrine. There is a power operative in the world and moving among men to-day that is going to make clean and sweet and wholesome a multitude of things that sin has made loathsome and pestilential. We look at many things as we see them to-day, and though we shudder at the sight yet we look beyond them to the time when the prospect will be infinitely more fair. There is nothing too great and glorious for the future to accomplish; nothing too good, too pure, too holy for human nature some day to attain unto. The man who believes that, is the only man who has the courage and the faith to face vice as it ought to be faced and throttle it in its lair.

Goats and Their Value.

The United States Government is doing much to encourage the goat industry in that country and to make the poor man's cow" better known and appreciated. Goat's milk is much better than cow's milk for invalids and children, for cookery and for nearly every other purpose. It is richer in albumen, has greater nutritive value and is more digestible. It is absolutely free from tuberculosis germs. It costs almost nothing to feed a goat, and anyone with a backyard can easily supply a family with milk at a low cost. In Europe the goat is appreciated, and Uncle Sam hopes to elevate him to his proper place in America. The milch goat industry in Germany is estimated to be worth £7,800,000 annually. Switzerland has more goats than sheep, and the milk produced annually at 10 cents per quart would come to £1,600,000. A good milch goat will yield an average of three quarts per day.

THE POOR POETS

William Butler Yeats, the greatest of all the younger poets writing in English, and Joseph Conrad, perhaps the most gifted of English writers of romance, have been put on the British pension list. Both are poor enough to find the government pittance acceptable. Obviously being a REAL poet or a REAL romancer isn't much more profitable today than it was in the days when Milton sold Paradise Lost for ten pounds.

A LEGEND OF OLD QUEBEC

The Chien D'or

On the Rue Bunde, a street commemorative of the gallant Frontenac — says Kirby, in his "Romance of the Days of Louis Quinze in Quebec" — stood the large imposing edifice newly built by the Bourgeois Philibert, as the people of the colony fondly called Nicholas Jaquin Philibert, the great and wealthy merchant of Quebec, and their champion against the odious monopolies of the Grand Company favored by the Intendant. The edifice was of stone, spacious and lofty; it comprised the city residence of the Bourgeois, as well as suites of offices and ware-rooms connected with his immense business. On its façade, blazing in the sun, was the gilded sculpture that so much piqued the curiosity of every seigniory in the land. The tablet of the Chien d'Or — the Golden Dog — with its enigmatical inscription, looked down defiantly upon the busy street beneath, where it is still to be seen, perplexing the beholder to guess its meaning, and exciting our deepest sympathies over the tragedy of which it remains the sole, sad memorial.

Above and beneath the figure of a couchant dog, gnawing the thigh bone of a man is graven the weird inscription, cut deeply in the stone, as if for all future generations to read and ponder over its meaning.—

Je suis un chien qui ronge l'os,
En le rongeant je prends mon repos;
Un temps viendra qui n'est pas venu,
Que je mordrai qui m'aura mordu.
1736.

Or in English.—

I am a dog that gnaws a bone,
I couch and gnaw it all alone;
A time will come, which is not yet,
When I'll bite him by whom I'm bit.
1736.

170 New Towns in Canada

It seem to be pretty well assured now that by the end of the year there will be at least one hundred and seventy new towns in Canada, not taking into account those which come into existence gradually and in the natural course of evolution from clusters of houses into hamlets, and then into towns. These new towns will all be in the west. They will spring into being, with all modern improvements, — a small railway station, a mile or so of siding, with vast fertile lands about them, as their assets for the future.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will be responsible for fifty of them, the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific for the remainder. It is a fair supposition that all of them will prove permanent, because of the fostering care of the railways, and that most of them will prosper because the time has come for towns to succeed farms at selected locations on the prairies, and the railways are in a better position to do the selecting that any other instrumentality, except land companies.

"Trimblin' for the Inimy."

A detachment of British soldiers was about to attack a band of rebel Indian tribesmen, who awaited them drawn up in battle order. A seasoned old sergeant noticed a young soldier, fresh from home, visibly affected by the nearness of the coming fight. His face was pale, his teeth chattered, and his knees tried hard to knock each other out. It was sheer nervousness, but the sergeant thought it was downright funk. "Callaghan," he whispered, "is it trimblin' ye are for yer own dirty skin?" "N-no, sergint," replied Callaghan, making a brave attempt to still his shaking limbs, "Oi'm trimblin' for the inimy. They don't know Callaghan's here."

Polly Was a Tell-Tale

All is not paradise aboard ship, first because nobody is armorplate proof against seasickness; old sea captains have been known to succumb to a cross sea in Biscay Bay. There is a malicious story of a captain who brought home a parrot as a gift to a lady friend, who complained that the bird knew nothing but the phrases of the forecastle. The captain promised to bring, on his next voyage, a bird which had never been allowed to go outside his own cabin. Polly, however, proved very reserved, and never said a word, until one day when the lady was giving a lunch party, and the soup was served, there descended from the cage of the bird the agonised remark, "Steward, bring me a basin!"

Women and Sarcasm.

A Milwaukee man tells of a recent experience while motoring, illustrating the sarcasm which a woman is capable of when occasion demands. "We were going along at an awful speed," he said. "I didn't see the dog, but I heard his 'ki-yi,' so I ordered the chauffeur to stop. Going back, we found an irate lady standing over her dead dog — one of the ugliest dogs you ever saw. She met us with a tirade of remarks telling us in no uncertain terms what she thought of us and automobilists in general, finishing up by calling us the murderers of her dog. It was then that I thought I would pacify her. 'Madam,' I said, 'I will replace your dog.' 'Sir,' she said, in a freezing tone of voice, 'you flatter yourself.'"

A New View of an Old Play

Uncle Tom got his usual severe flogging on the platform here on Friday evening last, when a goodly crowd turned out to Uncle Tom's Cabin, to see Legree larrup the old nigger. The picture of that brute with a whip in his hand beating the negro, caused the most terrible war in the history of the world. Three millions of men flew at each other's throats and for four years fought like demons. A million men and six billions of dollars worth of property were destroyed. Although peace has long since been declared and slavery abolished, yet they are still licking the old nigger on the various stages in the country and in between times Little Eva is being sent to Heaven. The company came here in their own private car, and we understand the proceeds of the evening amounted to about $70.00.

ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.
(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? ...ouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Dying of Cholera

Local Physician Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you "Nerviline." Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain-relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the aches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago, there was never a time that our house was LETTER NO. 4672 without 'Nerviline.' In the summer time, when the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact, so indispensable around the home as 'Nerviline.'

This letter, written by Mrs. N. C. Butcher, a well-known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion entertained of Nerviline by those who have used it constantly for nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it to-day, keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline. 25c per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

For summer diarrhoea in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, and a speedy cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all dealers.

Sour Risings from Stomach

Those Who Experience Fullness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

Refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, sold in yellow boxes, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

Arrested in Lindsay.

Lindsay Post: Chief of Police Chilton received a telephone message from Chief of Police Thompson to arrest a thief on the arrival of the 7.55 G. T. R. train from Peterboro Saturday. The Chief went through the train but on seeing a man get off without a coat or hat on and go into the ticket office, the Chief also got off and followed him. He proved to be the right man, so the Chief arrested him and got his coat and hat. It was a clever arrest and the Chief deserves credit as the man described to him over the telephone had a coat and hat on. The man whose name is Herbert Hughes, is accused of stealing a gold watch and fob and $19.00. The watch and fob and $7.50 were found on him. He was taken to Peterborough.

NATIONAL FINANCE CO., LTD.

Splendid Position of the Company—Company is Making Rapid Progress.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the National Finance Co. Ltd. Vancouver, B. C., at which the half yearly report was read, has just been held. The directors expressed themselves as being well pleased with the manner in which the company has been handled, during the first six months of this year. The net profit being over $60,000. The assets now stand at $2,029,682 as against $1,779,692 as at December 31st, 1910. The company has been making rapid progress and great advances have been made in the Trust department, including the securing of many new estates, handling of properties, trusteeships and guarantees.

The company has just moved into its handsome new office at the corner of Pender and Hamilton Streets. These offices are well equipped in every detail, and no expense has been spared on the part of the management to make them bright and attractive, both for the working force and for clients. The woodwork is all quarter cut oak, and a large oak counter encircles the very roomy lobby, the floor of which is of Terazzo. The walls are burlapped in green about seven feet high. In the private offices carpets have been laid, while a cork flooring is laid on the floor of the general office.

Since obtaining these splendid offices, it has been very gratifying to the management, to note that a large number of new clients are daily putting their funds into the hands of the company for investment. It might be mentioned that the company's facilities in this department are of the best. Its collection and trust departments have lately been inaugurated and already a large volume of business has been received. So far the results from the Brokerage Department have been eminently satisfactory. The dividend earnings of the company have been most encouraging.

OL XXXIV NO 194 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY AUGUST 23 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE 18TH SESSION OF THE HIGH COURT OF FORESTERS

The 18th session of the high court of the Ancient Order of Foresters was opened in due form by the High Chief Ranger, Bro. John Young, of Hamilton, in the Collegiate Institute, at 10.15 a.m.

Credentials from 101 members were received.

After the formal opening proceedings, the delegates got down to business without further delay.

The High Chief Ranger, read his report which showed a most substantial increase both financially and numerically. Twenty-eight new courts have been instituted and an increase of 1,200 members is reported. The various funds of the order are in a prosperous condition and show gratifying increases, savings in the management expenses alone amounting to $12,000.00.

The report of the High Court Medical Examiner, Dr. L. Secord, Brantford, was a most interesting document and a complete analysis of the work of his department. Applications for membership numbering 5,703 had been approved. The average age of the accepted candidates was 26 years. During the last two years 203 members died.

Extended sick pay amounting to $10,884, had been paid to 167 members for 5048 weeks sickness, an increase of 20 per cent. on the last two years.

Bro. W. Williams, permanent secretary, Toronto, presented his report. Referring to the Beneficiary Fund, it showed that since Jan. 9,-004,753 policies amounting to $5,000,-000 had been issued, and the present cash assets are $232,590.00. Sick and funeral receipts for the last term were $61,860.00, and expenditure $40,-000. The present membership is 15,563.

An invitation from Court Stanley was tendered to the delegates to participate in a visit to the Lift Lock, at 3 p.m., and was cordially accepted.

The report of Bro. F. G. Batt, the Superintendent of Organization was distributed among the delegates and will come up for consideration at a later session.

The headquarters of the Executive Council are at the Hotel National.

A CIVIC WELCOME GIVEN HIGH COURT OF FORESTERS

Immediately after the adjournment of the High Court of Ancient Order of Foresters yesterday at noon, His Worship, Mayor Morrow and Ald. Graham entered the assembly hall at the Collegiate Institute and extended an official welcome to the 200 odd delegates on behalf of the city. The Mayor first addressed the meeting, and was followed by Ald. Graham.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., came in just in time to endorse the hearty welcome given by the Mayor and Ald. Graham.

Chief Ranger Young, thanked the Mayor and the others for their very great kindness. He said amongst other things that the High Court had never been treated more kindly than in Peterborough. The beautiful hall, which had been placed at their disposal was admirably adapted for the purpose. Every delegate appreciated what had been done by the city and also by Court Stanley.

Over the Lift Lock.

Shortly before three o'clock the members marched in a body from the hall to the Wolfe street wharf, where they took asteamer in waiting, for a trip over the Lift Lock, the guests of the local Court. This trip was very much enjoyed.

In the evening Court Stanley also entertained the High Court to a moonlight down the river.

A Fire Demonstration.

At 1.45 o'clock this afternoon the fire department will turn out in force and proceed to Central Park where some manoeuvres will be gone through for the delegates. All the apparatus, including the engine and extra hose wagon, will be used in the display.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents . . . . . .

SHOULD BE STOPPED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would enter a strong protest against the habit of fruit stores in leaving fruit exposed to the contamination of dust, dirt and flies. Is there no law to stop this sort of thing? If there is not there surely should be.

In Toronto, I see by the Telegram, of a few days ago, that Dr. Hastings the city's Medical Health Officer, is taking action along this line. He told the Telegram to give it to them good and strong for allowing the fruit to be thus exposed. He said: "If they will not obey my order, I'll give them a chance to disobey the order of the magistrate. I have been generous with them and have given them lots of time. The magistrate will have to be called on now. Make the warning as strong as you like, too, against citizens' purchasing fruit, pastry and confectionery, or anything of that kind, that is exposed to contamination, as such exposure is unquestionably prejudicial to the public health, and is more or less a danger to the consumer."

What is our own Medical Health Officer doing? Is his position a sinecure, or will he get busy?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, and wishing The Times continued success, &c.

Anti-Filth.

Reply—Upon enquiry at the City Clerk's office we find there is such a by-law.—Ed. Times.

LOVE OF COUNTRY COMES FIRST.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—One month from to-day, the political turmoil in this country will be laid at rest for awhile. An impartial onlooker cannot fail to see that the government candidate needs an unusual amount of political ingenuity, and some veracity, to make his arguments appear plausible, to the free and independent electorate of this young and prosperous dominion of Canada. For instance, when the politician tells us that the farmer is sure to gain on his farm produce through reciprocity, he knows well, that every consumer in this country, who is not a farmer, will lose precisely as much as the farmer is supposed to gain. For the farmer is not likely to sell his produce to the consumer for less money than he could get in any other market. Again, the government candidate, who favors reciprocity in this election, has to meet and overcome that love of country, and that noble patriotism which every man, worthy of the name of a man, holds dearer than life itself.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my native land."

It was a fatal error—it was a national mistake to send to Washington, two harmless old chaps, with swelled heads, to barter away this young country, with the shrewdest of people, for a bag of oats, or a small pig We have not one word to say against our cousins south of the line. We are all of the same old stock, and our ancestors, in days of yore, carried the same old flag that braved for a thousand years the battle and the breeze. But we think it best, that without any entanglements of reciprocity, both nations should press on, as at present, to that bright destiny which lies before us. We will add this much, that if our friends to the south should ever get into trouble with any heathen nation, we will send to assist them, a part of Laurier's fresh water navy, and when that navy gets towed into action, we guarantee that the heatens would soon leave for home.

Onlooker.

TO PREVENT TYPHOID FEVER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—We hear of new cases of typhoid fever occurring almost daily, and I would like to enquire the cause. Is our drinking water pure? It is said that over 95 per cent. of typhoid cases are due to bacteria in the water. If this is true, let us boil all water used in our homes for cooking or drinking. I trust our Medical Health Officer will look into this matter at once. If there happens to be an outbreak of the dread disease, he cannot plead ignorance, as your paper has frequently called attention to the danger of using water from the river when there is so much typhoid in Lakefield and elsewhere up stream.

One Who Knows.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 22.—"To show the general public which does not take advantage of other opportunities, just how a boxing bout is staged and how the blows are struck," is the purpose of the members of the United Methodist Church, as expressed in a petition to-day to the Superintendent of Police for permission to give two contests by professional pugilists next Thursday night. Permission was granted.

"Young" Sweeney and Stewart Donnelly, lightweights, and Jack Morran and George Koerner, middleweights, have been engaged for the bouts which will be features of a carnival for the benefit of the church funds.

COMMISSIONERS NAMED TO SETTLE LABOR DISPUTES

PREMIER ASQUITH ANNOUNCES THE PERSONNEL OF COMMISSION RESULTING FROM THE GREAT RAILWAY STRIKE.

Thirty Injured in Monmouthshire Riots—Men Out at Other Places—"Diabolical" Part Played by Churchill is Denounced by Ramsay Macdonald.

London, Aug. 22.—The commission appointed to inquire into the troubles between the railways of Great Britain and their employes, which led to the recent strike was announced by the Government in the House of Commons to-day.

The chairman is Sir David Harrel, who was under-secretary for Ireland in 1893-1902.

The railroads are represented by Sir Thomas R. Ellis, secretary of the Mine Owners' Association, and Sir Chas. G. Beale, vice-chancellor of the University of Birmingham.

The representatives of the men are Arthur Henderson, labor member of Parliament for the Barnard Castle Division of Durham, and John Burnett, chief labor correspondent of the Board of Trade.

In naming the commissioners Premier Asquith briefly congratulated the country that the cloud had lifted, adding, amid cheers, that the fewer words said in regard to the past, at the present moment, the better.

RAILWAY STRIKE ABOLISHED.

James Ramsay Macdonald, chairman of the labor party, who took a prominent part in the negotiations for a settlement, was optimistic, and told the House that if the spirit shown on both sides during the negotiations prevailed in future relations the country had heard the last of railway strikes in this day and generation. However, he was unable to resist making a heated denunciation of Home Secretary Churchill, and the employment of soldiers during the strike. He declared that the department that had played the most diabolical part during the whole unrest was the Home Office. Mr. Churchill's bulletins on the situation he said were "Mischievious and inaccurate, and the expressions of opinion therein were not sensible, and the effect was to make men more desirous of continuing the fighting than coming to settlement. I hope that we have heard the last of these fussy interferences by persons who do not understand the nature of the circumstances with which they are dealing, but who desires to find themselves in the newspapers day by day."

Mr. Macdonald complained bitterly of what described a reckless display of military force. Parliament adjourned to October 24.

Liverpool, Aug. 22.—The transport workers of Liverpool are still on strike, pending the reinstatement of 250 union tramway employes. A conference is being held between the strike leaders and the Tramway Committee with hopes of settlement.

The Allan Liner Virginian did not sail to-day owing to the striking transport workers, and other steamers are held up.

The Board of Trade is dealing with bodies of striking railway men in other cities, and settlements are being reached.

The Home Secretary assures the Liverpool authorities that the militia will not be withdrawn till all danger of riot is removed. The differences between the dockers and the shipping federation are settled, and only the tramways' difficulty remains to be adjusted.

LIGHTNING FUSED STEEL IN MAN'S HIP POCKET

Mansfield Centre, Conn., Aug. 22.—A bolt of lightning threw itself into the hip pocket of Joseph Barrow, a farmer as he was sitting in the kitchen of his home here last night. The bolt came into the house via the stove pipe and was attracted to Barrow's hip pocket by the presence there of an iron monkey wrench and a big jack knife. It passed down his leg, burning him severely and then careened over the floor, upsetting a tub of water, and splitting a huge chopping block. In Barrow's pocket the end of the wrench and blade of his knife were fused into a solid piece of steel.

FRANCE FIRM WITH GERMANY

LAYS DOWN TWO CONDITIONS WHICH GERMANY MUST OBSERVE.

Hope for Agreement—German Aggression in French Congo Must be Curtailed—Goverament Statement To-day.

Paris, Aug. 22.—A cautious and firm semi-official note was issued by the Government this afternoon relative to the negotiations with Germany, saying:

"Ambassador Cambon will return to Berlin toward the end of August, probably about the 28th. Meantime he will have in Paris several conferences with the Premier, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of the Colonies, concerning the subjects of his conversations with Herr Von Kiderlen Waechter (the German Minister of Foreign Affairs).

"Without endeavoring to prejudge the precise results it is believed that the difficulties will find a solution. It will depend upon two conditions: first, that the rights of France in Morocco be recognized without diminution, on the part of Germany and regulated definitely in a manner to avoid all future complications; and second, that Germany reduce her territorial desires in French Congo, which appear to be manifestly excessive."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

8,000 MILL HANDS IDLE

Beaumont, Texas, Aug. 22.—Twenty-two saw mills in Louisiana and two in Texas have been closed down and 8,000 men are idle, a move, it is said, in the fight by saw mill operators against the unionizing of their employes by the Brotherhood of Timber Workers.

The wholesale suspension is credited as an outcome of a recent conference of members of the Southern Sawmill Operators' Association held at Chicago.

WAS FINED FOR BEATING PIG

Windsor, Aug. 22.—Magistrate Leggatt fined Mrs. Lucy Strong, of Belle River, $5 for having beaten one of her neighbor's pigs to death. Mrs. Strong's defence was that the swine of her neighbor, Mrs. Ovilla Ladouceur had annoyed her, and that she had merely driven the animal out of her yard, but the magistrate allowed the fine to stand, giving the woman the option of ten days in jail.

GAVE WINE TALK IN VANCOUVER

Bremerton, Wash., Aug. 22.—Formally charged with intoxication while on duty, Lieutenant Commander Leland James, executive officer of the United States cruiser West Virginia, was placed on trial before a general court-martial at the Puget Sound Navy Yard.

The charge against Lieut. James is declared to involve flagrant violation of the etiquette demanded of a naval officer while he is in a foreign country. He visited Vancouver, B.C., in July, and it is said, seriously impairing friendly international spirit by remarks at a dinner where he and other officers were being entertained by Canadian officers.

POPE SUFFERED SLIGHT RELAPSE

Rome, Aug. 21.—Pope Pius suffered a slight relapse to-day and was unable to leave his room. Over-exertion yesterday during the intense heat is given as the cause. His condition is not regarded as critical, but his complete recovery has been retarded by his eagerness to resume his usual duties.

The physicians say that only through complete rest and a continued withdrawal from the affairs of the Church and their attendant worries, can the Pope regain his health and strength.

MERRY WAR IN MAINE OVER REPEAL OF LOCAL OPTION

CLERGYMEN, POLITICIANS, LEADERS OF WOMEN'S MOVEMENTS AND EVEN CHILDREN ARE TAKING PART.

Opposing Forces Lined Up and Whole of America is Interested in Outcome—People Have Final Say.

Portland, Me., Aug. 22.—With September 11 about a month away, the eyes of prohibitionists of this and other countries are focussed on Maine the mother state of prohibition, for on that date for the first time since the prohibition law was enacted, sixty years ago, the new generation of Maine voters will have opportunity to express by vote whether they approve of or reject prohibition through the submission of the fifth amendment of the constitution.

The fifth amendment is as follows: "The manufacture of intoxicating liquors, not including cider and the sale and keeping for sale of intoxicating liquors, are and shall be forever prohibited. Except, however, that the sale and keeping for sale of such liquors for medicinal and mechanical purposes and the arts, and the sale and keeping for sale of cider may be permitted under such regulations as the Legislature may provide. The Legislature shall enact laws with suitable penalties for the suppression of the manufacture, sale, and keeping for sale of intoxicating liquors, with the exceptions herein specified."

WHOLE WORLD INTERESTED.

Although New Hampshire and Vermont, which has State-wide prohibition of the Maine style, for many years have adopted local option, and Maine is the only New England State to retain the prohibitory law, there is a divided opinion as to the result of the September election, and the greatest battle in the world's history for the cause of prohibitioft is being watched by the people of seven or eight prohibition States in this country and by foreign nations, who have sent petitions here in support of the retention of constitutional prohibition in Maine.

It is estimated that $500,000 will have been spent by both sides in the campaign of literature and oratory in the fight. The National Christian Women's Temperance Union leads in the fight for prohibition, through Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, of this city, national president of that organization, which has over a quarter of a million members. Allied with the W.C.T.U. are numerous separate bodies—the Maine No-License League, composed of leading business men of the State; the Christian Civic League, and this week a large corps of Anti-Saloon League workers from all parts of the United States have entered the field. Miss Anna Gordon, vice president of the W.C.T.U., has organized twenty thousand young campaigners, boys and girls, who march in parades, sing songs, and wave flags to arouse the enthusiasm of the people. Leading prohibition workers from Canada and the United States to the number of one hundred and fifty are now preaching against the repeal of the constitutional amendment, warning the people that its repeal means the coming of the licensed saloon. High-salaried orators, ex-Governors of States, educators, ministers, men and women orators from many States are waging war against the repeal of the constitutional amendment, and in every town, city and hamlet meetings are being held, and the Sunday preceding election day it is planned to deliver a composite blow against repeal from 1,000 pulpits of Maine.

ON THE PROHIBITION SIDE.

The Maine Self-Government Local Option Non-Partisan League is the body leading in the fight for the repeal of the constitutional amendment. It is composed of leading Democrats and Republicans, and has conducted a splendid campaign of literature, and on Monday will be inaugurated a whirlwind speaking campaign of three weeks, with Maine men as speakers, as contrasted with the out-of-State talent on the opposite side. Charges are freely made that the campaign for repeal is being financed from all the way from thousands to millions of dollars by American and Canadian distillers and Brewers. The prohibition side asserts that their funds come from voluntary contributions. Among the speakers on the prohibition side are Hobson, the hero of the Merimac, and his wife, ex-Governor Hanley of Indiana, ex-Governor Glenn of North Carolina, ex-Congressman Littlefield, a host of out-of-State ministers of various creeds, doctors, publicists, lawyers, judges, etc., while there are a score of women from Kansas, Massachusetts, and other States aiding the prohibition side. Among the novel features was what was known as the Boston auto party, with leading men and women prohibitionists, who made a speaking tour of Maine in an auto.

The prohibition side has not a corner on the pulpit by any means in the fight, for their are numerous ministers who declare that prohibition in Maine is a farce, as shown by the persistent and accumulating violations of the law, increase in drunkenness, and in academic discussions. The antis print hundreds of statements from President Taft down against prohibition as an inefficient legal method of handling the liquor evil, which is backed up by the quotations from a majority of the leading bishops of the country and eminent divines. Cartoons and caricatures flood the newspapers, long lists of statements of men who favor or disfavor prohibition are printed daily, prohibition arguments supplant the talk of crops, politics, wars and strikes from the cross roads stores to the financial centres. The one word on every lip in Maine to-day is rum.

Canadian Gazette Showed Bank Sound.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Col. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, referring to the Provincial deposit with the Farmers' Bank said this morning that he had never asked Mr. Travers or any other bank manager to advance money to anybody, nor had he made such action the condition of a deposit He had never, he said, seen any such letter of Travers' as referred to by The Globe.

The deposit of the Province with the bank according to the Provincial Treasurer, was not made till the bank had been doing business for two years, and then only as the Canadian Gazette showed the bank to be in sufficiently secure position to warrant the making of the deposit.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 22.—Samuel Fowler, of the editorial staff of the Standard, died in the General Hospital on Sunday as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was 62 years of age, and a son of the late John Fowler, of Cobourg. He had been in the journalistic profession since 1899, being with The Brockville Times and the Kingston Standard.

TWO IRISHMEN TAKE THE PLACE OF FRENCHMEN ON BOARD.

And as a Result There is a Faction Fight in the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—A serious breach is threatened between the Catholic order of Foresters and the 22,-000 Quebec French-Canadians belonging to the organization as a result of the replacing of two French Canadians in the Supreme Council of the order by two Irishmen at the International Convention, which was held at Cleveland, Ohio, last month. The local French-Canadian Foresters are greatly worked up over the matter, and claim that the action was taken because their delegation, with the exception of four or five, refused to sanction the increase on the insurance rates which had been made by the order.

What The Americans Can Teach Us

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

Next to being born a Canadian, I rather think I would like to be born in the United States. It is a wonderful country. It carries a wonderful people. They are an example to us in many things; a warning in others. Wherever they are admirable they are often excessive—it is a natural defect of possessing immense productive territory, vast populations, and a rather short political past. They can teach us very very much that we ought to know. Take four of their splendid characteristics:

One. Their love of country.

Heavens! How they boast; how they wave their flag. They insist on carrying it,—flaunting it, if you like—in every foreign country; and they get touchy as a bear with a sore head if you show your flag on their soil. They believe in their country; in its institutions. The flag is the symbol of all their strength, ambition, glory. There is a reason.

Millions of people have come from all the ends of the earth to the United States. They know little or nothing of the liberty and opportunity of which the States are full. They come to better their conditions; to place their children where they can grow into prosperous citizens. The flag has been made the emblem of all their hopes. It flies from every schoolhouse. The sight of it engenders a flood of patriotism in the native-born and the alien-born.

The American can teach us here. Our flag has flown a thousand years. His is a product of the day before yesterday. We have a tremendous variety of alien blood and alien speech in our midst. We impress too little upon them the magnificence of the things the flag has stood for and stands for, and will stand for. We are apt to forget that in patriotism.

Those who come to us have to be born again. If ever there was a country in which patriotism should burn with a vehement flame, it is Canada. Look to it.

Two. Their willingness to adapt themselves to changed circumstances.

Tradition is splendid, within limits. "As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be" is not an infallible political principle, for this is a progressive world.

There is danger, too, of falling into the habit of the fellow who said, "These are my sentiments; if you don't like 'em I'll change 'em." The wise man often changes his mind, the fool never; but the wise man does not change merely to suit somebody else.

The American is pre-eminent in the world for his readiness to change his method of regarding questions of trade and of politics. He thought he could freeze Canada to himself by a high tariff. It didn't work, so he tries Reciprocity—which we asked for long, long ago.

If we go back to it we show that we don't adapt ourselves to changing conditions. We have outgrown our notions of commercial dependence on the American. We must not be cajoled into going back forty years for our ideas. Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaps backwards over 1907, 1903, 1901 and 1897—years in which he emphatically repudiated reciprocity. He is like a venerable man who goes out to meet an old sweetheart and expects to find her young and blooming as she was forty years ago.

Three. Their unbounded faith in the future.

Sir Wilfrid has had his spells of this splendid quality. He once said, "The Twentieth Century belongs to Canada." In conformity with this he said, "The best and most effective way to maintain friendship with our American neighbors is to be absolutely independent of them." Last winter President Taft said, "Canada is at the parting of the ways." Canada is expected to make reply, "Thy way, not mine, O Taft."

On the reciprocity question Sir Wilfrid spoke again, only four years ago he declared to the Imperial Conference, "There was a time when we wanted Reciprocity with the United States . . . We have said good-bye to that trade and we now put all our hopes upon the British trade."

The future was to be as the past had been—a development of commerce, of social and national sentiment, east and west, and not predominantly north and south. We expressed our confidence in the future. Nothing was to draw us into the seductive embraces of the United States. We began a new transcontinental railway that will cost three times as much as was intended as a proof of our distinctiveness from the big neighbor. And then we began to play his game. From turning our back upon him we began to turn our back upon ourselves. When you become afraid of your Future, good-bye to your Future.

Four. Their determination to Hoe their own Row.

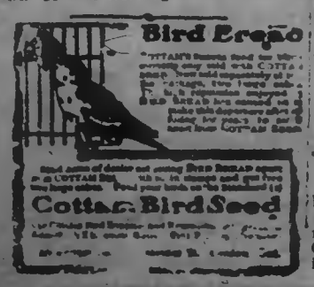
I never heard of a man who chose hoeing as a holiday occupation. I never liked it when I was on the farm. But you can't have a garden without plentiful use of this familiar companion of the backache. It's the hoe that puts potatoes and beets, carrots and beans, and all the vegetable luxuries on the table.

What was the hoe in the national development of the United States?

It was protection of young industries. The United States decided to make the most of their own resources by helping industrial expansion with a tariff. They became the greatest manufacturing country in the world. They have done it by hoeing their own row.

Canada took a leaf out of their book. She could not have had her big industrial cities any other way. Her home market would have been a negligible quantity if she had been content to be merely a getter of raw material for somebody else.

The Americans want her raw material. Let her learn of them and make the most of her own raw material. It will be wise learning.



ARE THE MEN THE WEAKER SEX?

Women Gaining Muscular Supremacy.

A college professor expresses the conviction that women are gaining the muscular supremacy over men. He attributes this to their taking a more active interest in outdoor sports, while the men are becoming indolent in that respect, and prefer being spectators to participants in athletic exercises. With their admitted superiority in all the arts and graces, including fluency of expression, and to add to this physical predominance, there seems to be little left for mere man but to plod unostentatiously along in the ranks of the producers, and continue to pass up his gross earnings to his mental and physical superior every Saturday.

MAKING OF CARPETS.

They Were First Used in Europe to Cover Tables.

The primary use of carpets in Europe was to cover tables. The first of these so-called carpets were embroidered—not woven—fabrics, and were made in French cloisters, about 1,000 years ago. The manufacture of carpets in Europe did not begin until the reign of Henry IV. of France. In England the industry was established about 1750 by a French artisan, who, being at odds with his own country, fled thither.

Carpet-making, as a modern industry, was first developed in France. That country had large factories and a monopoly in Europe of the art of carpet-weaving when a rush-strewn floor was the rule even in the royal palaces of Britain. But the edict of Nantes, that great dispenser of French artisans and artistry, caused many of the carpet craftsmen to cross the channel. They settled at Bristol, Axminster and other places in the southwest of England. From there the secrets of the industry spread to Glasgow, Kidderminster and the towns of Yorkshire. These places are still the great carpet-weaving centres of Great Britain.

Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. ENGLAND IMPORTS LESS EGGS AND PAYS MORE.
Increased German Demand.

England is face to face with an egg famine, and prices are expected to reach very shortly a figure absolutely unparalleled.

Since 1900 the selling figure in England has increased by 20 per cent., but according to Mr. Edward Brown, Hon. Secretary of the National Poultry Organisation Society, Ltd., this is nothing compared to what will inevitably follow unless England increases her egg output.

Mr. Brown after an exhaustive tour through Germany, during which he thoroughly investigated the conditions of the egg industry, said:

"I found that the egg was entering more largely than ever into the everyday food of the German, owing very largely to the increase in meat prices.

"During last year we received 200,000,000 fewer eggs than in 1908, at the same time paying £40,000 more for them. Since 1907 the Italian egg supply to England has diminished by one-half, as have also the egg imports to this country from Austria and Hungary. France, too, is in the same boat, the sum of £1,500,000, our average annual egg payment to her, having declined last year to £600,000.

"It is only a question of time before Germany absorbs the great bulk of the egg supplies from those countries touching her own borders which have hitherto sent their produce to Great Britain. Unless there is a great egg development in the United Kingdom a shortage of an alarming extent is inevitable. The opportunity for poultry-keepers at home is apparent."

DIET IN HOT WEATHER

In the matter of diet in hot weather there is a tendency to change one's plan of daily eating and drinking too drastically. For a carnivorous citizen to convert himself into a vegetarian or 'fruitarian' is worse than foolishness. By far the best course is to keep to one's customary food, but to eat less of it. The consumption of large quantities of uncooked fruit instead of the ration of flesh to which one is accustomed does not make for physical coolness, and is apt to put the digestion out of order. And it should go without saying that all fruit should be cooked. Summer is the happy heyday of all infinitesimal parasites; whosoever has not realized this fact let him make the dreadful experiment of placing a handful of, say, raspberries on a very hot plate and studying the outcome with or even without a microscope.

As regards drinking, thirst may be avoided by refusing to indulge it; so say the medical moralists who despise the weaknesses of the flesh which provide them with incomes. But thirst is a healthy thing, so others opine, and may be cultivated and gratified within reasonable limits. Provided the metabolism of the body is not impaired by diabetes or some other chronic disease, the liberal consumption of harmless drinks — the 'John Collins' is as good as any and better than more fantastical American concoctions — in hot weather flushes out the system and probably does more good than harm. It is really refreshing to know that the most enlightened medical opinion does not forbid healthy persons to 'raise a thirst' (even if they do not live east of Suez) and make their pain a vehicle of pleasure. A carnal pleasure! But why not make our miserable bodies happy from time to time?

But after all, the sine qua non of physical comfort in hot weather is mental coolness.

The Telephone Pest

Today we discuss briefly one of the most common household pests — the telephone hog. They are found chiefly on party lines and they operate at the most inconvenient time. When you wish to telephone your grocery order wait 30 minutes till Mrs. Gadabout tells her friend all about last night's party. It is also annoying, when you are in the midst of telling Mrs. Stepanfetchit how to make quince preserves to have a neighbor butt in on the line eight or nine times with: "You goin' to use this phone all summer?" These pests are not all bad. By listening when they're on the line you can get a lot of neighborhood gossip.

ITALIAN EMIGRATION TO SOUTH AMERICA.
Restrictions are Unpopular

The decree issued by the Italian government which forbids Italian emigration to Argentina and Uruguay and places restrictions on the exodus to Brazil, has aroused laborers throughout the country. A series of anti-government meetings have been held in town halls in many Italian cities. The prohibition of emigration to Argentina is based on the sanitary restrictions of the latter country, whichthe Italian government maintains work injustice to Italian interests. Advice from Buenos Ayres, however, state that the Argentine Government does not intend to modify its restrictions, even in the face of the stoppage of Italian immigration.

He Saw Two.

"The constable seems wonderfully certain about the details of my case," said the defendant, with a sneer; "but how is it he doesn't call his fellow-officer to prove what he says?"

"There's only one constable stationed in the village, sir," explained the policeman. "But I saw two last night." "Exactly," the policeman rejoined, smiling with satisfaction, "that's just the charge against you!"

The Only Way

Mayor Crump at a banquet at Memphis said of a political turncoat—

"He is as inconsistent in politics as man is in love.

"Man's inconsistency in love is, you know, proverbial. The average man, as soon as he wins a woman, tires of her. The advice I'd give to every girl is this—

"There is only one way to keep a man's love, and that is never to return it."

Chest Inflamation

Suffered from a Heavy Cold. Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co. Kingston, Ont.

The Morning Times

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1911.

AN INTOLERABLE ATTITUDE.

Why the Protestants feel acutely the attitude of the Church of Rome on the marriage question is made plain by the following answer of the Catholic Register to a question asked:—

"If a Catholic and a Protestant get married outside the Church and afterwards the Catholic wants to return to the Church, but the other will not come to receive the Sacrament of Matrimony, how can the Catholic party receive Holy Communion?

Answer—The Catholic party may not go to Holy Communion in the case stated. There is no remedy except receiving the Sacrament of Matrimony through the Church."

The above is taken from the Question Box of the Catholic Register of August 17th, 1911.

When Is a Man Old.

Very amusing replies have been elicited as the result of a competition promoted by a Madrid newspaper on the subject, "Until what age can a man be called young?"

The readers of the journal were the judges, and 28,256 votes were given to the competitor who sent in this reply, which won the prize: —

"A man is young so long as he can make women jealous."

Another competitor thought that a man was old when he could no longer stoop down and tie a beautiful woman contended that all men were young until they thought of marriage.

"The man is old," wrote another competitor, "when a young woman kisses him with cold lips"; and it was the opinion of a newly-married man that a man began to age a week after marriage.

FORESTRY IN JAPAN.

Authorities Believe in Conservation—Been planting for 1200 years.

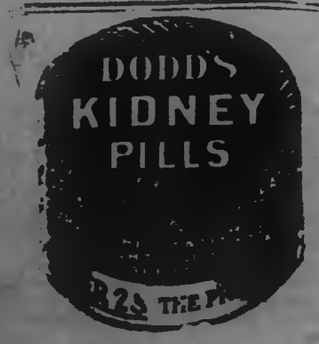
Japan has longer than any other country practiced technical forestry. With extraordinary skill and absolute success the authorities have for 1,200 years planted and cared for the forest trees. "The results," writes a correspondent, "have been really wonderful, for through the extremely sedulous management and the knowledge of skill by degrees attained the financial gains have been very large, indeed. Not a twig is ever wasted. The trees are regarded as almost sacred property, and not a particle of any one of them is regarded as rubbish, so close is the utilization. Thinning and all departments of arboreal culture are very carefully conducted. At the end of 13 years from planting a wood lot is thinned by experts, and then every five years the process is repeated for 120 years, the average period of the cultivation of a set of trees.

Pneumonia Serum Found by Savant

The germ of pneumonia is vanquished, according to Dr. Preston Kyes of the University of Chicago, who has published the results of a series of experiment in the Journal of the American Medical association. Chickens were inoculated with germs from a human victim of pneumonia, and serums prepared. The results obtained were surprising. Dr. Kyes tabulated his experiments, showing that mice, poisoned with pneumonia germs and then treated with the serum, showed immediate improvement, and in proportion as the serum was injected with greater frequency, recovered.

Horse Has Mustache.

W. A. Tuck, a Canadian farmer, has a family horse with a mustache. The hirsute adornment is fully developed, three inches long and very thick.



A MAN OF MANY POSES.

Antonio Corsi a model of 30 years Standing is a Great Traveller.

Next time you're in Paris — or London — or Rome — you may see a small, swarthy man in a black-braided velvet suit and a VERY broad sombrero.

If he has high cheek bones, long, bushy black hair, piercing black eyes and wears an enormous carved coral ring on each finger of his left hand you may identify him at once as Antonio Corsi, the world's best known model.

You're just as apt to meet him in Montreal — or Toronto — or Vancouver — for he travels everywhere that art whispers — if the financial tones are loud enough to equal his skill and fame.

Almost every artist of note during the past 30 years has employed Corsi. The majority of art school students in Europe and America have sketched him.

Corsi is an Italian by birth. He has posed in a dozen lands, for royalty and commoner, as deity and devil, saint and sinner, Indian and courtier. Among his best known poses are those for the Sargent and Abbey pictures in the Boston public library. He posed for 11 of the 16 Sargent "prophets," including the famous "Hosea." The difficult arrangement of Hosea's drapery required the completion of the figure in one pose, said to be the longest on record, lasting three hours and 20 minutes. Sixty-eight of the Abbey figures were posed by Corsi, including allthose of Sir Galahad, except for the features and the color of the hair.

TOOK ONLY HALF AN HOUR TO SHOOT $2,500 WORTH OF IVORY.

W. Buckley, the great English elephant shot, in talking of his favorite game says:

"There are three curious things about the elephant.

"First, although he is the biggest animal in the world, he is the hardest to see, for he is the same color as the forest.

"Second, for all his vast area there is little more than a square foot of him that is vulnerable to a bullet.

"Third, all elephants are "left handed," as is proved by the fact that the left tusk is always shorter, being worn away with work.

"My biggest bag of elephants in one day was ten, but the most profitable was a day when I shot eight, and their tusks weighed 764 pounds. It took me half an hour to shoot them, and the ivory was worth $2,500. Of course that was an exceptionally good day.

"The tusks of the biggest elephant weighed 282 pounds —the right tusk 147 pounds, the left 135 pounds.

"The elephant is a very blind animal. From tests carried out he cannot see further than 170 yards, but he can scent a man for half a mile, and can distinguish between a white man and a black man. When he charges he always makes for the white man."

That Clever German!

A German gentleman wanted to take a day's drive through the country. He applied to a stable for the horse and carriage. The owner, not knowing the German, was slow to give him the team. Finally the German pulled out a roll of banknotes and said: "I will buy your horse and rig, providing you will buy them back at the same price when I return this evening." The dealer, not wishing to offend a probable future customer, consented. When in the evening the German presented himself and expressed his pleasure at the ride, the dealer, according to agreement, paid him back his money, and the customer started to take his leave.

"I beg your pardon, sir!" exclaimed the dealer: "but you have forgotten to pay for the hire, you know."

"Pay for the hire? Why, my dear sir," coolly replied the German, "I fail to see that. If you will exercise your memory a trifle you will agree that I have been driving my own horse and carriage all day, and now you have bought them back they are yours. Good-day, sir!"

And he left the astonished dealer to reflect.

Waiting For It.

Having a pressing engagement with a good client, an oil merchant was obliged to leave his office in sole charge of a charwoman.

"Now, my good woman," he said, indicating the telephone, "when you hear the bell ring attached to that little box, just go to the tube and shout, "Hallos! Who are you?' and wait for a reply."

The merchant had been gone about half an hour when the telephone-bell rang furiously. The woman rushed to the tube, shouted out the necessary query, and put the receiver to her ear.

"I'm Dobson, from Dublin," came the answer. "Got a lot of oil for you, and wish to send it on at once. Be ready to receive it."

Presently the merchant returned, and to his amazement, saw the charwoman holding an empty bucket under the telephone-tube.

"What on earth are you doing with that pail?" he asked.

"Well, sir," she replied, "as soon as you was gone a man shouted through the tube that he was sending a large supply of oil, and asked someone to receive it, so I'm a-holdin' this bucket, a-waitin' for it to run through!"

It saves trouble to be conventional, for you are not always explaining things. Most of the startling items we read in the newspapers are serious lapses from conventionality and good manners.

Don't let any one tell you there's any life for a woman in this world apart from a man. There's not. And don't let any one try to convince you there is any life for a man without a woman by his side. There's not.

Col. Hughes Again Nominated.

The Liberal-Conservative Convention for North Victoria and Haliburton took place in Lindsay on Saturday, when Col. Sam Hughes, M. P., was again nominated. There was much enthusiasm amongst the delegates, who say that the Colonel's majority will be increased over what it was on the last occasion.

The G.T.R. is planning to equip its entire system with telephones, for train despatching, during the next three years.

OWNERS OF FAMOUS JEWELS

Valuable Stones Not Always Kept In Bank.

Only those who own historic and other jewels of great value realise the absolute torture which the responsibility of their possession often means. Mrs. Perry Belmont, the Duchess of Marlborough's mother, who has some of the finest historic gems in the world, has been known to exclaim, "I wish from the depths of my heart they were all at the bottom of the sea," when, having taken them from her bank or safe for some great occasion, they have perhaps been mislaid for a moment or two.

Mrs. Belmont owns no gem which has not a history. She has a necklace of sapphires which belonged to Marie Antoinette and a string of pearls which the late Empress of Austria once had lashed to a rock underneath the sea to bring back their color. So precious are these pearls to their present owner, that she always wears them beneath her gown lest by any possibility they might be lost or stolen.

The Duchess of Westminster, Portland, and Marlborough, who possess some of the most amazing jewels in England, never place them in a bank. In each of their town mansions is a strong room with an immense fireproof safe fitted with electric bells and watched day and night. Private detectives keep an eye on these houses allthe year round, especially on Grosvenor and Sunderland Houses, as, apart from the jewels of these two Duchesses, the pictures, plate, and other possessions are of fabulous value. Indeed, it is said that the Duchess of Marlborough spends something like a couple of thousands pounds a year on the protection of her London house.

NEW STEAMER FOR AUSTRALIAN TRADE.

The twin-screw steamer "Zealandic" has been successfully launched at Belfast by Harland and Wolff, Ltd. The new vessel which has been built for the White Star Line, for the Australian and New Zealand service, is 477 ft. long by 62 ft. 9 in. beam, and about 8,000 tons gross register, and has been specially designed for the trade. She will have very large cargo capacity in six holds, two for general cargo and four holds insulated for carrying frozen cargo. The deck machinery and alliances for working ship and cargo are of the most complete and approved type, there being, in addition to the steam windlass, 19 steam winches and 21 derricks. The steering gear is of Harland and Wolff's well-known make, and is capable of being worked by telemotor from the flying bridge. The refrigerating machinery is placed at the after end of the engine-room. The vessel is lighted throughout with electric light, and is fitted with electric bells in saloon, staterooms, captain's room, smokeroom and chartroom. There will be accommodation for a number of first-class passengers, with a comfortable saloon, smokerooms, and staterooms; and a feature of the ship will be the accommodation specially arranged for over 1,100 third-class passengers in enclosed rooms, with space on shelter deck arranged for third-class smokeroom and dining-room, and also a third-class ladies' room, a provision that will doubtless be much appreciated. The propelling machinery consists of two sets of quadrupled expansion engines on the "balanced" principle.

Painting the Red Sea

Hogarth was once applied to by a miserly old nobleman to paint on his staircase a representation of the destruction of Pharaoh's hosts in the Red sea. In attempting to fix upon the price, Hogarth became quite dissatisfied. The miser was unwilling to give more than half the real value of the picture. At last Hogarth, out of all patience, agreed to his patron's terms.

Within a day or two the picture was ready. The nobleman was surprised at such expedition, and immediately called to examine it. The canvas was painted all over red.

"Zounds!" the purchaser said, "What have you here? I ordered a scene of the Red Sea."

"The Red Sea you have," Hogarth said, still smarting to have his talents undervalued.

"But where are the Israelites?"

"They are all gone over."

"And where are the Egyptians?"

"They are all drowned."

The miser's confusion could only be equaled by the haste with which he paid his bill.

TO THE ELECTORS

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

Reply to Mr. Stratton

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. Stratton has begun the campaign by making an issue of the papal decrees. I had not intended to refer to them on the political platform but now must of necessity do so. Three-fourths of the Examiner's report of Mr. Stratton's speech at 4th line Smith, is devoted to Ne Temere. He scoffs at Ne Temere. He jeers at the synods, presbyteries, conferences, &c., for knocking at the wrong door when they look to the Dominion Government for redress. He falls back upon the Minister of Justice's evasion of the issue and seeks to put responsibility on the provinces. But that the issue lies with the Dominion Government and with it alone in the matter, is plain. Nothing is plainer. Bigamy is a charge that a man or woman has been married twice, illegally. It is a charge that like all other criminal charges can be tried by the criminal (federal) law of Canada only, and the provinces have no say in it whatever. The validity of a marriage therefore rests with the Dominion Government alone, and it knows it. A province can direct the mere form of marriage but nothing more. The whole question is precisely like that of the franchise. The provinces say who may vote in this election but the Dominion Government regulates and rules everything with reference to it but that. Ne Temere, however, ignores all Governments. But Ne Temere is only a straw. The real decree is the one against Protestantism. Modernism and Protestantism are the same thing, and the Pope has condemned them both to utter extermination. There is no evading that fact. So much in reply to Mr. Stratton on the religious question. I will now reply to what he has to say on Reciprocity, leaving the Farmer's Bank for some other occasion. I will reply, however, not in my own words, but in the words of President Taft himself, and in them alone. I believe that reciprocity will wreck our home market, but if any man can go and vote for reciprocity in the face of these words of President Taft, then let him do so. I can say no more. These are President Taft's words :—

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."—(From the speech of President Taft at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association held in New York on April 27th, 1911.)

And here follow President Taft's own words from the article on reciprocity written by him in Leslie's (New York) Weekly of August 10th, 1911, (a copy of which is in my possession) :—

"The United States exports to Canada a great many more horses than she imports from Canada. She sends to Canada a much larger amount of potatoes than she receives from her. The United States exports to Canada about fifteen times as much of meat and dairy products as Canada exports to the United States.

"The only real importation of agricultural products that we may expect from Canada of any considerable amount will consist of wheat, barley, rye, and oats. The world price of these four cereals is fixed abroad, where the surplus from the producing countries is disposed of, and is little affected by the place from which the supply is derived."

"A very material benefit to all the farmers of the country, especially the stock and cattle raisers and the dairy farmers, will be the by-products of bran and shorts from the flour mills likely to follow the free export of wheat from Canada to those mills. These by-products are now so scarce that many farmers are unable to procure them. What is true of wheat is true of the other cereals."

Yours, &c.,

J. H. BURNHAM.

MAKE YOUR CHILDREN HAPPY

Girls and Boys Should Be Frisky, Gay Little Animals.

Mothers, would you make your children really and truly happy and give them the firmly grounded belief that the world — strange old, wonderful world into which they have been dropped from they know not why — then learn to "frivol." Don't take things — any thing — too seriously. There is nothing in the world so wholly pitiful as a too serious, sober faced little child. Children were meant to be frisky, gay little animals; allow them the privilege of fulfilling their rightful mission of childhood. Don't lay burdens of seriousness on their little shoulders.

Soon enough there will be burdens all their own, and if these small shoulders are strengthened and reinforced by childhood years of irresponsible joyousness, they will be ever so much better able and willing to bear burdens all their own!

Coops in Fields for Babies.

That necessity is the mother of invention is shown by the hundreds of little buildings resembling chicken coops which are scattered over the wheat fields of Weld county to provide daytime homes for the babies of the Russians who work in the wheat fields.

The Russian mothers are obliged to take their babies to the fields and have built these little structures of wood, covering them wih canvas. At noon and once in the morning and in the afternoon the mothers visit their children, leaving them alone for the remainder of the day.

The youngsters are apparently contented and remain in their little coops without a cry, gazing through the slats at the passerby.

When they begin to study elocution they're never happy until they learn to recite, "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight."

The man who gets away with it is the man who lies clumsily to his wife about little things. She never suspects him of the big ones.

THE CANADIAN PAC. RY.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, the following dividends were declared :

On the Preference Stock two per cent. for the half year ended 30th June last.

On the Common Stock two and one half per cent. for the quarter ended 30th June last, being at the rate of seven per cent. per annum from revenue and three per cent. per annum from interest on the proceeds of land sales and from other extraneous assets.

Both dividends will be paid on September 30th to shareholders of record at the closing of the books in Montreal, New York and London, at 3 p. m., on Friday, 1st September next.

All books will be re-opened on Thursday, October 5th next.

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest moneymakers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investers in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 194 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY AUGUST 23 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Invaluable to Every Farmer

Its Wonderful Power in Curing Sick Cattle and Colicky Horses Makes "Nerviline" Worth Its Weight in Gold.

The stockman or farmer that doesn't know of the thousand and one uses of "Nerviline" around the stable has a great deal to learn. "Why, I wouldn't think of locking my stable door at night without knowing I had a supply of 'Nerviline' on hand. I always bet a dozen bottles at a time from my druggist.

NERVILINE CURES COLICKY HORSES

"To cure colic, indigestion and bad stomach in a horse or cow there is no remedy on earth in the same class as 'Nerviline.' Last summer I had a $250 horse that got the scours, and I would have lost him if I hadn't been able to give him Nerviline. I poured a full bottle of Nerviline in a pint of water down his throat and saved his life. I know of neighbors who have saved many heads of valuable stock, stricken with colic, just by using Nerviline. It is equally good as a rub-on liniment, and I know from my experience that for man or beast, internally or externally, 'Nerviline' is worth a dollar a drop."

James E. McCullough.
Stock Breeder, etc.

You will not regret using Nerviline—but see you get it and not something else. 25c per bottle, or five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

SEEMED TO GIVE HIM A NEW STOMACH.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sail by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

For summer diarrhoea in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, and a speedy cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all dealers.

70 Years Old

GRATEFUL FOR MEDICAL AID.

"Though I had passed by seventieth birthday," writes R. A. Silvera from Duncan P.O., "I am painfully aware that one of the penalties of old age is the slowing down of the activities of the system. One of the most dangerous conditions of old age is constipation, an indirect cause of many sudden deaths. I have used many medicines, but none so suited to old age as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are wonderful regulators—keep the stomach and bowels in perfect condition, prevent indigestion, biliousness, liver complaint and constipation. I recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they never gripe nor cause distress—just a mild tonic laxative."

By using Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly you have a guarantee of good health. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Good Fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Towns and party, of Rochester, N.Y., returned from a fishing trip to Balsam Lake, where they had splendid luck. Mrs. Towns succeeded in landing a 33 pound 'lunge, while trawling in Sturgeon Lake.

A Small Blaze.

A small blaze at the Peterborough Machine Company's premises gave the Fire Department a run yesterday morning. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

Many Typhoid Cases.

The fact that typhoid fever prevails to an alarming extent at Lakefield and other points on the waters above, should warn us to beware of contamination. Typhoid germs are not easily destroyed, and they unfortunately thrive in water. There are also a number of cases in this city, evidently caused by germs probably taken into the system in drinking water. People would be comparatively safe if they boiled their drinking water.

A Footway over C.P.R.

The resolution of Ald. Anderson, regarding a footway over the C. P. R. bridge is a move in the right direction. If the Company will agree to allow one to be built, it will be of great service to hundreds who reside on the east side of the river. The council is doing the right thing if they can secure the consent of the railway to the erection of a footway on one side of the track, outside the high girders, so that there would be absolutely no risk to pedestrians by passing trains.

Big Bush Fires.

Word comes to The Times from Stoney Lake that the bush fires on the Dummer shore are doing much damage. As an instance of how these fires originate we were informed that a party lit a fire to cook dinner, on an island in the lake a few days ago. They left without putting the fire out, with the result that it spread and soon enveloped the whole island, destroying some fine trees and vines. There certainly should be more care exercised by campers.

A Plague of Ants.

All over the city complaints are heard of a plague of ants. They are invading the houses, getting in the food and generally proving a nuisance. All sorts of remedies are being advised, but a local druggist says that one of the best is a mixture of tartar emetic and sugar. This, if placed in a saucer, usually tempts the ants and then makes them so sick that they promptly disappear from the house and apparently tell their friends to do likewise.

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Dillon.

Mr. Burnham who is very busy, requests The Times to state that when Mr. Dillon names half the committee of reference as proposed and puts up his money, he will do the same. Mr. Dillon is unknown to the Conservative candidate and is expecting too much when he expects to be allowed to run the whole affair. The Secret Councils of Vigilance referred to are not lay councils and this may help Mr. Dillon to understand. A copy of Mr. Burnham's reply to Mr. Dillon's challenge was sent to the Examiner, who promised to print it, but hitherto it has been overlooked. A copy of this statement has also been forwarded to the Examiner.

Borden Here To-morrow.

Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader will arrive from the West at 11.28 a.m., and will be met at the station by a reception committee, and will be escorted about town. He will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Kendry, where he will remain until five o'clock, when a luncheon will be given in his honor at the Oriental Hotel. From seven to eight o'clock, a reception is to be held at the Oriental, the 57th Band being in attendance and the big mass meeting at the Opera House will follow. The speakers besides Mr. Borden will be Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. E. A. Peck, Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., and others.

A Bad Pair.

Two young men named Jas Wright and Ernest Lowes were arrested at Hogan's Hotel, East City, on Monday, charged with the theft of $10 from a young man named James Rivers, who came to the city from Minden. It appears that Rivers was on his way to look at the saw mill in East City, and was accosted by the pair, and in some way they managed to get away with his wad. Most of the money was secured and returned to Rivers. The two prisoners were locked up until the 24th, when they will be sentenced.

AT YOUNG'S POINT.

Mr. Burnham Holds Mass Meeting Last Night.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, Liberal-Conservative candidate, held a meeting last night at Young's Point, which was largely attended, the hall being filled to the doors. Farmers drove into the village from miles around, in order to hear Mr. Burnham's views on the questions of the day, and more especially in regard to reciprocity.

On being introduced by the chairman, Mr. Burnham said that it was a mystery to him that so far it had not been explained why the Canadian Government, without consulting anybody at all, had negotiated a Pact and tried to force it on this country without the knowledge or consent of the Canadian people. There could be no question that it was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's pet scheme, and what was behind it would remain for the history of subsequent years to show. So far as the speaker was concerned he was unable to believe that Sir Wilfrid had wholly in mind the trade interests of Canada when he pushed this Pact through. The circumstances were still more suspicious when he wished to do it without going to the people. The pact was not in the interests of the Canadian employer or wage-earner, since the rivalry of the United States was greater than Canadian industries could stand. We were unable to bear it not on account of the difference in price to the consumer, but on account of the more rapid turn over and the larger capitalization of U.S. concerns. This was an age of trusts in all branches. Trusts had secured a firm grip on the United States, and were looking with watering mouths upon the greater natural resources of Canada, which remained to be exploited. Should these greater natural resources be then for the benefit of Canada or the United States? President Taft has also said that the present is a proper time to detach Canada from the British Empire. This is no mere insinuation. It is laid down by President Taft in those exact words. It is a challenge to the people of Canada, which there is every indication they will promptly respond to. As for the farmer, with possible a few minor exceptions, he stands to loose immensely by the Pact. Let us take a few examples. Last year the American farmer shipped thousands of tons of hay to Canada; hundreds of thousands of bushels of potatoes; immense quantities of fresh vegetables; tens of thousands of bushels of apples. In the language of The Moline Daily Despatch: "There are only a few items of agricultural produce that Canada takes from us in the natural state. With the entire omission of the duty it is reasonable to expect that our market in Canada for these products will be vastly increased." This journal then goes on to point out how in cattle, sheep and hogs they will be able to supply all Canada. It is impossible, the speaker concluded, for anyone to make out a case in favor of the Reciprocity Pact for Canada. There may be a few things in some localities that by reason of geographical position will have some small advantage, but in the vast total there is no comparison whatever. The United States will collar us body and bones. When the rights of foreign nations to participate in the Reciprocity Pact were also taken into account, it would be seen that the United States was really endeavoring to form a gigantic trust of nations to break up the British Empire and force Britain to heel up to the United States. It would then be necessary for Canada to join the United States or take the natural consequences. This was in the speaker's opinion the real object of the Pact on the United States' side.

Addresses were also delivered by Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., and Mr. E. A. Peck, the Conservative candidate for the Ontario legislature. The meeting broke up with cheers for the King, Mr. Borden and the candidate.

SEWER CONTRACTORS HAVE MADE NO MOVE

At the special meeting of the Council, held on Monday evening, Mr. Ed. Conroy, the contractor for the South City sewer, was given yesterday to make up his mind as to what he is prepared to do in regard to completing his contract. At five o'clock yesterday, the Times called up the City Hall, and was informed that nothing had been heard from Mr. Conroy. It is altogether likely, therefore, the work will be proceeded with by the city, and the cost charged up to the contractor.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

CITY TAKES OVER WORK OF SOUTH CITY SEWER

Mr. Edward Conroy, the contractor having made no further move in the matter of completing his contract with the city for the completion of the sewer in the south end, the work has been taken over by the corporation, and will be pushed forward with vigour. Mr. Edward Wade, the well known contractor, has been put in charge by the city, and the cost will be charged up to Mr. Conroy. Mr. Wade is the right man in the right place, having had a long experience in work of this kind. To The Times, Mr. Wade said that he would soon have the work in satisfactory shape, and had no doubt of being able to make a first class job of it.

In another column Mr. Wade is advertising for men, and as soon as he gathers a sufficient number together, which will probably be to-day, operations will begin in earnest.

HIGH COURT OF FORESTERS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS

The Court met promptly at nine o'clock yesterday morning, and at once proceeded to business.

Standing Committees.

The Standing Committees of the High Court were appointed as follows:

Finance—F. Abbott, A. Dynes, W. H. Benson, T. Wood, S. Halliday.
State of the Order—A. Martin, W. G. Rook, A. J. Harvie, Martin. Douglas.
Beneficiary—Bro. Little, A. Woonton, S. Gray, F. C. Taylor, C. J. Jackson.
Appeals—W. E. Fulton, J. Fields, A. N. Wickett, E. K. Barnsdale, S. A. McNutt.
Mileage and Per Diem—A. E. Dupend, A. Lafleivre, W. Harris, H. Porter, H. Smith.

Reports of Committees.

Redistribution, Appeals, Finance, and Beneficiary Fund presented reports which were discussed and in some cases, after alterations, adopted.

The resignation of Bro. W. J. Vale, P.H.C.R., chairman of the Laws and Judiciary Committee, was received with regret.

The Finance Committee report showed satisfactory balances to the credit of the Sick and Funeral and Management Funds, notwithstanding the heavy drain through sickness in the former.

The Beneficiary Fund Committee's report was of the most favorable description, and spoke in appreciative terms of the manner in which it had been administered, and of the successful efforts to place it in a position of perpetual solvency. During the term 784 new policies had been written up. The chief recommendations of the committee were that the fund be placed under the supervision of the Organization Department, and that the agents be paid an increased rate of commission for policies secured.

Old Age Pension Fund.

A long and interesting discussion took place on the subject of an old age pension fund in connection with the order. The idea met with a most favorable reception and was ably championed by Bro. A. Dynes (Hamilton). The point at issue was how to provide funds to create the fund. The debate culminated in a resolution "That this High Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters is of the opinion that the time has now arrived for the establishment of an Old Age Pension Fund, and that a committee be appointed to formulate a plan to that effect and report at the next High Court meeting."

Delegates Pleased.

The High Court adjourned at 3 p.m. Tuesday, to participate in a visit to the famous Lift Lock on the invitation of the Mayor and Council. This wonderful demonstration of engineering skill was a matter of intense interest to the visitors. At night they were entertained by a moonlight excursion which was well attended and greatly enjoyed. The delegates appreciate very greatly the many courtesies extended to them, and the plainly apparent efforts to make their visit to Peterborough an enjoyable one.

The Union Jack.

One thing that has been noticed, however, is the absence of the Union Jack. Not one has been seen except the one flying at the Collegiate Institute. At one hotel, where a large number of delegates are quartered, a flag was secured and floated, but it was taken in by the proprietor, who stated that the flying of it might give offence to some people. The delegates wonder who these people are.

The nominations to fill the various executive council offices were received during the morning session.

The Court then adjourned for lunch.

A SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

Hon. J. R. Stratton Holds aBig Meeting in Smith Township.

The campaign which Hon. Mr. Stratton is conducting is meeting with unqualified success. On Tuesday night a large audience greeted him in North Monaghan, and last night another enthusiastic meeting took place in Middleton's School House, Smith, which was crowded to the doors.

Mr. Stratton was in good form and spoke vigorously and to the point, being accorded a splendid reception. He spoke of his twenty-five years' faithful service to the public and of his help and encouragement of all good objects and causes in West Peterborough. He also referred to the free list and showed them where they would save duty in large chunks and get a market that would put the the middleman in his place.

Mr. Stratton stated that the farmers have not only a 2½ per cent. reduction of duty on their farm implements, but the biggest, nearest, dearest free market in the world for their surplus products. You are helped both ways, in the tools of trade and the fruits of labor. This Government of ours has spent millions of dollars subsidizing Atlantic steamships to make the trade path smooth and straight to the British market. It spends hundred of thousands more maintaining trade ambassadors in various parts of the world. Is it to be charged with disloyalty because it opens up a new market to the south? And are the farmers to be charged with it to, because they take advantage of it?

Who ever heard of a true Briton being made disloyal through his stomach? Why that's the way to every man's heart. If you want to keep him contented see that he is well fed.

After taking the farmers through the familiar figures relating to cattle, sheep, lambs and hogs, Mr. Stratton dropped into a few remarks about horses. As has been said before, the candidate knows a good deal about horses. He buys hay at $14 a ton, which he is free to confess would bring $23 in Rochester. The farmers are interested in horses because there is more profit to be made on a horse than on any other live animal on the farm. Reciprocity means that at least $30 will be added to the price of horses valued at $150 and 25 per cent. to those that are worth more. This gain doesn't take account of a keen market. It is the bare saving in duty.

"Burns and Sheppard of Toronto, are opposed to reciprocity," remarked Mr. Stratton. "Of course they are. They're in the wholesale horse trade. They want to keep the price of a span of Clydesdales at $700. But what does Mr. Yeager, who is one of us say? He says he can get twelve and fourteen hundred dollars in Buffalo or New York for the same team Burns & Sheppard pay $700 for. Mr. Yeager is like yourself. He wants the United States market. He wants to get that extra seven hundred dollars.

From wheat Mr. Stratton passed to barley. "And there's not a farm in Peterborough County that won't take in from $300 to $500 more profit than it is doing. What's more, there isn't a farm in Ontario that hasn't put 25 per cent. on to its price since reciprocity was first broached."

Why, everything hangs on the farmer. Watch how bankers, financiers, manufacturers, merchants hold their breath until they know whether the crop is good or not. If it isn't a good crop, take note of the tight money, the hard loans, the factories on short hours, the insolvencies among merchants, the idleness among workingmen. If the crop is good, see how business perks up all round. Suppose the Northwest farmer gets $250,000,000 for his grain this year. See the millions of it that will come back to buy the manufactured goods which keep the merchant in business and the working man in work."

The meeting closed with three hearty cheers for Laurier and the King, and Mr. Stratton.

LATEST POLITICAL NEWS FROM ALL OVER CANADA

TWO INDEPENDENTS WITH CONSERVATIVE LEANINGS ARE PLACED IN THE FIELD.

R. L. Borden and Mr. Sifton to Speak at Brockville—Hon. Mr. King Nominated—Liberals Support Independents in the West—Great Activity in Both Camps Throughout the Whole Country.

Independent candidates for parliament were placed in the field in Saskatoon and in South Toronto. In the latter constituency, D. C. Hossack, the Independent, favors Mr. Borden's platform almost exclusively and the same is true of Mr. U. M. Beaumunk, the Saskatoon Independent, except that he favors reciprocity.

In MacDonald constituency, Manitoba, the Liberals have united to support the Independent farmers' candidate against the latter member, W. D. Staples, in a desperate effort to wrest the constituency from that popular Conservative.

Brockville.

Mr. R. L. Borden's meeting in Brockville next Monday is arousing a good deal of interest in the district. Brockville is opposed to reciprocity as are all the Canadian towns along the American border.

Mr. John Webster, the Conservative candidate is having a busy campaign. He spoke at the R.C. picnic at Rockport, and on Saturday evening he will speak for Dr. Edwards at Inverary in Frontenac County.

Talking to The Journal yesterday, Mr. Webster said: "Our people here are still loyal and will stand for Canada for Canadians, for the Empire and God."

Leeds.

Mr. George Taylor, the Conservative member of many Parliaments, and very nearly the father of the House in that respect, has mapped out for himself a great programme. But he has reserved two dates within the next few days. He will attend Mr. Borden's meeting at Brockville on August 28th, and on September 1st, he will speak for Mr. Pardee at Newburg in the riding of Lennox and Addington.

Mr. Taylor reports that his County will go Conservative as usual.

North Waterloo.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King was nominated this afternoon by the Liberals of North Waterloo. Dr. Mayer was nominated by the Liberals of South Waterloo meeting at Galt.

South Toronto.

At a meeting of the South Toronto Reform Association the nomination of Controller Ward as Liberal candidate was endorsed. The candidate in his address said it was time Toronto had a man on the Government side in Ottawa, so that the city could get some of the money now being spent on Montreal harbor. The Laurier Government was, he said, spending $10,000,000 on the Montreal harbor and not a cent on the needs of Toronto.

The entry of Mr. D. C. Hossack into the field makes it a three-cornered fight in South Toronto, and a harder fight for Mr. Claude McDonnell, the Conservative candidate.

Dufferin.

D. B. Brown of Orangeville, was elected on the first ballot by the Liberals of Dufferin, as candidate in opposition to John Best, Conservative.

Brockville.

News was received at Brockville last night at Conservative headquarters that Hon. R. L. Borden has definitely decided to speak at Windsor, and the time of his visit is set as September 16. It is expected that Mr. Borden will be accompanied by Hon. Clifford Sifton, and, if possible, the two distinguished parliamentarians will be induced to make at least one address in South Essex, before returning East.

Dr. Beland, the new Postmaster-General is announced to speak here shortly in the interests of Hon. G. P. Graham.

South Leeds.

Firman Cross, of Lansdowne, president of the Reform Association, is mentioned as the probable opponent of George Taylor, in that constituency. The convention meets Wednesday at Delta.

Pontiac.

Mr. Gerald H. Brabazon, the Conservative candidate, was busy campaigning in Quyon and the lower end of the county yesterday. He states that he met with great encouragement.

Provencher.

The Conservatives of Provencher, Man., yesterday chose Major J. A. F. Bleu as candidate to oppose Dr. J. B. Molloy.

MacDonald.

Mr. J. S. Wood, Independent farmers' candidate in the constituency of MacDonald, nominated at Carman on August 11, has been endorsed by the Liberals of the constituency. The Independent convention, which chose Mr. Wood, was a unit on the reciprocity issue and the formal Liberal convention held in Winnipeg on Saturday for the purpose of naming the Government's candidate was likewise a unit in the decision that there should be but one reciprocity candidate in the field in opposition to W. D. Staples, the late member and again the Borden nominee.

Saskatoon.

The farmers of the constituency of Saskatoon nominated E. N. Beaumunk, of Dundwin, to run as an Independent candidate in the coming election. He will make a strong run being an experienced stumper. His platform is almost identical with Mr. Borden's, except that he favors reciprocity.

Halifax.

The reported change in control of the Halifax Morning Chronicle is exciting much comment, and is given credence in many circles. This paper was formerly edited by Hon. W. S. Fielding and has always been strongly Liberal in policy, so any change at this time should have an important bearing on the impending elections.

ANOTHER BIG U. S. RAILWAY MAY REDUCE NUMBER OF MEN

Chicago, Aug. 23. E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railway, said last night that unless business conditions improve, it will be necessary to reduce the 6,000 employes of that company.

"Prospects for any substantial betterment in the general volume of business are not bright in my opinion," Mr. Ripley said. "The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Inter-mountain rate cases already has had a sentimental effect that has not been beneficial."

U. S. FARMERS RUSH TO CANADA

North Portal, Sask., Aug. 23.—The stock yards for the last week, and at present have an appearance of the rush of spring. There are prairie schooners, covered wagons and vehicles of various types to be seen around all en route for the Canadian Northwest, and to-night for the first time since spring every ban is filled as well as the corrals. This is owing to the almost total failure of crops in Dakota.

SIR WILFRID COMING BACK

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will put in the week of September 4th in Ontario, with meetings at Alexandria, Cobourg, Collingwood, Sudbury, Stratford and Windsor.

PASTOR STOPS BOXING BOUTS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 23.—There will be no boxing bouts staged at the Unity Methodist Church carnival here to-morrow night. This announcement was made early to-day following a vehement protest from the pastor of the church against the action of the committee which programed the fights and obtained permission from the police to stage them. The preacher said that he would consider resigning if the boxing matches were staged. The committee at first determined to stand pat, but finally yielded.

WAITED AT THE CHURCH

Montreal, Que., Aug. 23.—It developed this morning that there is a sad tale of waiting at the church behind the disappearance of the man known to different people here as Dr. Charles A. Ackroyd Osborne, M.D., R.C.S., and plain Charles Osborne, a silk importer with an office down town.

The bride-to-have-been was a prominent society lady whose home is in Sherbrooke street west. Wedding invitations were out for the ceremony which was to have taken place in Christ Church Cathedral on Monday afternoon, and the wedding supper was to have been at the Windsor. On Sunday it was hinted to the girl's friends that the bridegroom was missing. It was found that his office was closed up, and that he had disappeared without a clue as to his fate. He had secured the engagement ring from the girl previously by saying he wished to have it altered to fit her better.

LABOR WAR IN BRITAIN AGAIN MENACES COUNTRY

HALF A MILLION MEN MAY BE CALLED OUT IF LIVERPOOL TRAMWAYS DO NOT REINSTATE STRIKERS.

Liverpool Papers Urge the Reinstating of the Men as the Best Means of Restoring Peace.

Liverpool, Aug. 23.—A serious crisis in the Liverpool strike situation has developed, and a big national strike is again threatened. The Liverpool Tramway Committee has refused to reinstate 250 men now out on strike and the Strike Committee have issued a manifesto to all transport men to remain out, and have appointed Tom Mann and two other members of the Strike Committee to proceed at once to London to confer with members of the Railway Servants' Union, executive and representatives of the Mining Engineers' Federation. The object of the conference is to call out all railway servants and transport workers, and the men in control of engines in the collieries.

WOULD INVOLVE HALF MILLION.

In the event of a national strike being declared in sympathy with Liverpool tramway men, over 500,000 men would be involved.

Troops and mounted police guarded twenty truck loads of food on the way from London to the North-Western station this morning. A load of food was attacked by hungry men and women yesterday, and two sides of beef stolen.

REINSTATED MORE MEN TO-DAY

London, Aug. 24.—Progress toward a settlement of the labor troubles at Liverpool was made to-day when the chairman of the Tramway Committee reinstated a number of strikers on his own responsibility. The dock men are still out, pending a settlement with the tramway men, but the railroad men of Liverpool are resuming work in increasing numbers.

To-day's action of the chairman of the Tramway Committee in taking back some of the strikers will lead, it is believed, to an early and complete agreement by all parties to the dispute.

The weekly traffic returns of the big railroads testify to the enormous losses resulting to the companies from last weeks' railway strike. For instance, the London and North-Western Railway report show a decrease of $505,000 in the week compared with the corresponding week of 1910.

PRISONER, MAKING SLIDE FOR LIBERTY, IS ELECTROCUTED

San Quentin, Cal., Aug. 23.—With his prison garb hidden by clothing made from a prison blanket, the body of James B. Clifton, a life term convict in the State Penitentiary was found to-day, dangling among the wires at the top of a power circuit pole just outside the prison wall.

With a broomstick and a length of rope the man had constructed a sliding seat swinging from the wires, leading to the top of a prison building.

LAUNCHED INTO SPACE.

Some time during the night he launched himself on his slide to liberty, but 4,000 volts passed through his body, burning out his life before he reached the pole.

Clifton was sent to prison from Oakland for the attempted murder of a captain of detectives.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis will sympathize with them in the death of their little son, Gerald James, who passed away at the family residence, 147 Lake street, on Tuesday evening. Interment will take place in the Little Lake cemetery this afternoon.

Margaret Fitzgerald.

After a long and painful illness extending over a period of five years, Margaret Fitzgerald, of Hamilton, passed away on Tuesday night. Death was due to heart disease.

The deceased, who was 51 years of age, was formerly a Peterborough resident, but for a considerable period has resided in Hamilton.

She is survived by one sister living in Toronto, and three brothers, all of Otonabee.

The remains were conveyed to Peterborough by the C.P.R. 11.26 train yesterday morning, and after service in the Sacred Heart Church, was interred at St. Peter's cemetery.

ZAM-BUK CURES SUNBURN.

Neglect of a sunburn on face, arm or neck often leads to the after growth of skin which is freckled or coarse; and this is particularly distressing to ladies. Timely application of Zam-Buk and regular use of Zam-Buk Soap will prevent this. Zam-Buk is a herbal balm, which soothes and cools the burned skin, and assists nature to replace the damaged tissue with soft, velvety skin. Zam-Buk Soap is specially made for tender skins.

Zam-Buk is also good for stings, scratches, heat sores, blisters on hands or feet, and all skin injuries. Applied to these it quickly stops the smarting, and ensures quick healing. As it is free from animal fat, and mineral coloring matter, it is particularly suited to the delicate skin of babies suffering from heat rashes, chafed places, etc. Sold everywhere by druggists and store-keepers. Zam-Buk Soap 25c tablet, or box of 3 for 70c.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1909 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 30th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. TWO IRISHMEN TAKE THE PLACE OF FRENCHMEN ON BOARD.

And as a Result There is a Faction Fight in the Catholic Order of Foresters.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—A serious breach is threatened between the Catholic order of Foresters and the 22,000 Quebec French-Canadians belonging to the organization as a result of the replacing of two French Canadians in the Supreme Council of the order by two Irishmen at the International Convention, which was held at Cleveland, Ohio, last month. The local French-Canadian Foresters are greatly worked up over the matter, and claim that the action was taken because their delegation, with the exception of four or five, refused to sanction the increase on the insurance rates which had been made by the order.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

A FEARLESS NEWSPAPER PROPRIETOR.

The name of the Montreal 'Witness' has long been synonimous with purity and independence in journalism. Established in 1860 by the late John Dougall it is still conducted on the principles laid down by its founder, by his son Mr. John Redpath Dougall, M.A., the present editor and proprietor. The aim of the Dougalls, father and son, has been to issue a clean, readable newspaper which, no head of a household need fear to place in the hands of his or her children. Everything calculated to diminish respect for the nobler and better things of life and anything likely to have in itself a tendency, even though remote, to undermine good morals is vigorously excluded from the columns of the 'Witness'. Mr. Dougall claims for his paper absolute independence of all classes, creeds and parties, and makes no secret of his intention to comment, adversely if need be, on anything affecting the community at large, or any considerable section of it, which he does not think is going to make for the moral or material well-being of the people. This is the unalterable policy of the 'Witness' even though the proposal adversely commented on may emanate from a party to which it has given a general support. The independence and fearlessness of the 'Witness' has almost passed into a proverb and even those who are opposed to the policy advocated by the paper are generally ready to admit that it is advocating the genuine opinion of its proprietor. There is no lack of pluck or consistency on the part of the 'Witness' in fighting for any cause which Mr. Dougall considers to be just.

Mr. Dougall was born at Montreal in 1841 and has been connected with the 'Witness' since its establishment, when as a boy he assisted his father in producing the paper. He was educated at Montreal High School and at McGill University, being a graduate of the latter. He has taken a lifelong and prominent interest in temperance and in social and moral reform work and is honorary president of the Dominion Alliance and president of the Boy's Home and Boy's Farm, Montreal.

Publish My Letter The World Over

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in The Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing, pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

MR. BOURASSA'S BRITISHISM.

Mr. Bourassa waving the Union Jack would be an inspiring spectacle to more than that Lachine audience of Saturday if Mr. Bourassa were agreeing that Canada ought to pay its share for maintenance of the Union Jack.

But the point to which Mr. Bourassa is willing to wave the flag is only the Canadian border.

If somebody attacks Canada, Mr. Bourassa is willing to fight.

But he is not willing to see Canada fighting alongside her British sister countries.

He might assert that he is, under conditions. But he would not mean it. He could not mean it. He has brains. He knows that Canada could not under modern conditions of war fight alongside her sister nations unless she previously qualified herself to take part in fighting. And Mr. Bourassa opposes all such preparation.

Cheer for the Union Jack and button up your pockets! Such is Mr. Bourassa's cry.

Such regard for the Union Jack is like the regard for himself of a man who declares himself ready to fight if anybody should try to cut his throat, but is willing to sit peaceful while anybody tries to cut the throat of his blood relatives.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

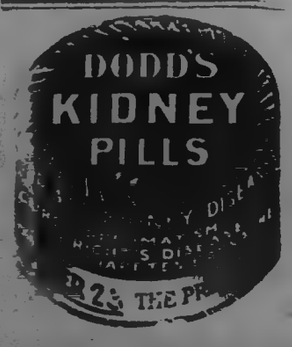
WHY THE ANIMALS QUARRELLED

In the early days all the animals lived together in peace, but at one time the dogs became hungry, and killed some hares. They were called to account, and though their excuse of hunger was accepted, they were told that henceforth they were to eat only fallen animals, and a license to this effect was given to them.

The sheep dog, as the most reliable, carried the license, but in autumn he was so busy that he asked the cat to mind it, and the cat put it in a cupboard in his house.

One day the dogs found a pony that had fallen down, and before it could get up they sprang upon it, killed it, and ate it. The other animals complained, but the dogs said they had simply carried out the terms of the license. They were told that the permission was only to eat fallen animals that were dead, and they were asked to show the license, but it could not be found, for the mice had eaten it. This made the cat so angry that ever since cats have eaten mice, and the dog was so angry that the cat had lost the license that ever since dogs have been the enemies of cats.

But when one dog sees another in the street, or anywhere else, it always runs up and asks if it has found the license.



DRESS REFORM FOR MEN

A New German Scare.

The latest German scare takes the form of an attempt to reform men's clothing. A society organized in Berlin aims at abolishing trousers, substituting knicker-bockers, while coat and waistcoat are to give way to a sort of loose blouse hanging well down to the knees. Linen of all sorts is to be discarded. There seems to be a lack of German thoroughness in these proposals. Why should the loose blouse come to the knees, if the knickerbockers are to be worn? Or why the knickerbockers, if the upper garment is to come to the knees? What is really needed is a blanket, which can be worn short or long, and moulded into any form that may suit the taste of the wearer.

But reform in men's clothing is not likely to be revolutionary. Its progress is one of evolution, like that of the British constitution. Freedom broadens slowly down from precedent to precedent. The silk hat gives way to the fedora, the hard, unyielding straw to the easy Panama. The tightly buttoned coat with tails is worn only upon State occasions, as if to keep us in mind of the bondage of the past, and of the maxim that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. There was a time when trousers clung to the skin one season, and the next flapped idly like sails on a listless sea. There was a time when a man who wanted easy clothing all the time was sternly informed that they were not worn that way this season, and meekly submitted to the decrees of fashion. But now the rebels have the upper hand. They boldly telephone to the tailor to make another suit of clothes "like the last."

We have thus achieved self-government in the sober British fashion. And in clothes, as in politics, order and freedom go hand-in-hand. The result of liberty is sobriety. The exuberance of youth will occasionally find expression in socks of orange and green, while middle age will indulge in a red waistcoat. But these are merely innocent saturnalia, giving vent to that strain of wildness which lingers in all of us.

HE WAS KEPT WAITING

Senator John Sharp Williams was once made executor of a wealthy man's estate, all of which had been left to his only son. The father had kept this young man, who was just turned 21, in pretty close leash during his youth, and it was with eyes bulging with expectancy of a good-far-flung fling that the son called on the executor a few days after the funeral to learn when he was coming into his kingdom. Senator Williams relates: "I haven't qualified as executor yet, Bob," I told him, "but come around in a week or so and you can get what you want." Promptly on the dot Bob turned up. "The period of advertising for claims against the estate will not expire for a fortnight yet," I told him this time, "so I cannot legally pay you anything until then. Drop in in a couple of weeks and I'll fix you out." Bob swallowed his disappointment and took his departure. At the end of a fortnight he promptly appeared again. "Sorry to disappoint you a third time, Bob," I said, "but there have been some purely formal claims filed against the estate that can not be disposed of until next month's term of court. If you'll call after that you can get all the cash you want, but I really don't see my way clear to pay out anything until these matters are disposed of. Come back in a month and it will be all right then." Bob moved slowly to the door. With his hand on the knob he turned to me. "Mr. Williams," he said, sadly, "do you know sometimes I'm right sorry the old man died!"

Actors Don't Grow Old!

An actress, at the recent luncheon in New York of the Actors' Church Alliance, said of dramatic criticism: "There is one part of dramatic criticism that strikes me as cruel. I refer to the criticism that reproaches an actor or actress with growing old. It is very hard to be reminded of one's age. One is conscious enough of that, dear knows, without being told about it in the papers. Such criticism," she continued, "are almost as bad as Lord Lacland. Young Lord Lacland came over to New York and proposed to a rather elderly heiress. She refused him. 'I am sorry, Lord Lacland,' she said, 'but I can never be anything more to you than a—' 'Just my luck!' he interrupted, reaching for his hat and stick. 'And I've got two grandmothers already.'"

The Cost of Navies

The British naval estimates for this year are exceedingly large. It is the intention to appropriate $75,000,000 for new construction. This sum of money will provide five dreadnoughts, three protective cruisers, and a number of torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. News also come which says Austria-Hungary is to spend within the next few years $75,000,000 in naval construction; and this is regarded as peculiarly significant inasmuch as Austria-Hungary is Germany's ally. At the present time British tonnage is 436,000 tons; that of German is 297,000 tons; next comes France with 173,000 tons; and the United States is in the next position with 136,000 tons.

FRENCH HOUSEWIVES

Their Failing Pointed Out.

The Paris correspondent of the "Morning Leader" says that the French housewife, who has always been held up as a model to her English sister in the matter of housekeeping, appears to be not altogether deserving of that honour. It is true that this is not always her fault, as a large proportion of the married women in Paris have to go out to work during the day, the husband's earning not being sufficient, in many cases, to make both ends meet.

Nevertheless, the remarks of M. Charles Driessens, who, so long ago as 1889, founded a free school for housewives at St. Denis, come rather as a surprise. He says that the majority of French housewives are ignorant of the nutritive value of different foods—that they are imbued with all sorts of prejudices and believe, for instance, that meat is very nourishing, while vegetables are not so.

He declares that they know nothing of the art of preparing tasty dishes from ordinary materials, or of using up remnants, and especially they do not know how to buy either because, going out to work, they have not the necessary time for intelligent shopping and the drawing up of a menu, or because they do not possess the rudiments of the culinary art to the extent of enabling them to make tasty vegetable dishes. To save time they go out and buy chops and steaks—an uneconomical proceeding—and cook them in a hurry, all of which, according to M. Driessens, is bad.

Motorcyclist a Hero

The value of the motorcycle squad of the Leavenworth, Kan., police department was given a practical demonstration when one of the motorcycle officers was enabled to save a boy from burning to death by being able to reach the scene of the accident promptly. The city dumpling around had been smouldering for some days, and numerous holes had been dug in an effort to reach the fire. While playing near one of these holes, Frank Romain, eight years old, fell into it. Other boys telephoned to police headquarters and Motorcycle Officer Fitch reached the place within three minutes. He pulled the suffering boy from the burning hole, placed him on the handlebars of his machine, and rushed him to a physician, thereby saving his life.

MEDICAL SCHOOL IN CHINA

IRISHMAN AT BISLEY PERFORMED GREAT FEAT

At the Bisley meeting just concluded a wonderful feat was performed by Maurice Blood, of the Irishmen's Rifle Association, who won right off the reel the Bass, the Edge, the Halford Memorial, and the Wimbledon Cup. No man has before carried off all these trophies. He used throughout the Canadian Ross rifle and ammunition of the match rifle pattern.

A Religious Difficulty.

Sandy M'Pherson, in a moment of abstraction, put half a dollar in the collection plate last Sunday in mistake for a penny, and has since expended a deal of thought as to the best way of making up for it.

"Noo, I might stay awa' frae the kirk till the sum was made up; but, on the other han', I wad be payin' pew-rent a' the time an' getting nae guid o' it. Losh! but I'm thinkin' this is what the meenister ca'a a 'religious deeficulty'!"

The city boys go away to the country to fish. The girls don't bother. They can stay at home and angle with their eyes.

Just because fortune may turn a man down that is real excuse for some people to turn up their nose.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

TO THE ELECTORS
—OF—
EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

FOUR MORE STORIES

Winnipeg Depot Does Not Provide Sufficient Accommodation.

Despite the fact that the new depot of the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railway companies at Winnipeg was designed on a scale contemplated to accommodate the full clerical forces of the two lines for some years to come it has been found now that the staffs of the many departments have taken possession of their new offices that the rapid increase in business has far exceeded expectations, and ultimately it is planned to add four more stories which will provide a total of 200,000 square feet of office space. The whole suite of offices in the Union station is completed, and very little remains to be done to the traffic parts of the vast building. The iron structure for the covered permanent way is in position, but the superstructure has yet to be added.

The new terminals and depot have been constructed to provide for the accelerated development of Winnipeg as a traffic centre, and throughout the palatial building is a credit to the western metropolis.

Three Indian Heroes.

During the stormy days of the first week in April of this year, a big steamer called the Iroquois went down out on the Pacific coast. And when the waves were lashing the ill-fated Iroquois, and the fatal moment came, and men began to gently urge shrieking women into frail life-boats, three Iroquois Indians, William Tzouhalem, Bob Klutwhalem, and Donnet Charley launched their dug-out on the wild beach, and fought their way to drowning passengers. The story of how they rescued three out of the storm cauldron, at great risk to their own lives, was told before the justices who are investigating the wreck of the steamer Iroquois. The three heroic braves stood up in court and heard the praise of Mr. Justice Martin upon their conduct

"We will recommend that they be given the Humane Society's medal as a token of the appreciation which all must feel at such an exhibition of bravery."

X-Rays and Consumption

Every year medical science discovers a new use for the X-Rays. In the early detection of the presence of consumption in the human body and the location of the exact position of the disease the X-Rays are now considered indispensable in the London hospitals. Before the sounds obtained by tapping on the lungs, listening through the stethoscope, and even the wonderful tuberculin test can prove the presence of the tubercule bacillus, the X-Rays, says a London medical authority, can warn the examining physician of the undermining process which is going on deep in the lungs. So accurate have been the results obtained by this method that a careful X-Ray examination of the chest is now the routine treatment for all new lung cases, and in the London hospitals alone over a thousand consumptive patients have been examined by this means. Thus in cases where the disease is only suspected its presence or absence can be readily ascertained, and presumably also this examination will enable the physician to form an opinion as to whether the progress of the disease has been arrested.

They Love Each Other

Booth Tarkington was talking in Indianapolis about the stage. "There were two actresses in an early play of mine," he said, "both very beautiful; but the leading actress was thin. She quarreled one day at rehearsal with the other lady, and she ended the quarrel by saying haughtily: 'Remember, please, that I am the star.' 'Yes, I know you're the star,' the other retorted, eyeing with an amused smile the leading actress's long, slim figure; 'but you'd look better, my dear, if you were a little meteor.'"

Ancient Greek and Automobile.

"How many people owning or driving automobiles realize how much the magneto of to-day owes to the ancient Greeks," said Charles Spitdorf in a recent interview. "The name magnet as we know it in conjunction with the magneto dates back to the 11th century coming from the Greek Shepard Magnes, who tending his sheep on the sides of Mount Ida, often noticed the attraction of his iron staff to certain large stones which we of the 20th century and drivers of automobiles know as lodestones. "Thus from Magnes the Greek and the 11th century comes magnet and magneto, known to every autoist of the 20th century."

Not Up To Date.

Sir Patrick Spens, London surgeon, praised at a dinner in New York the abundant and timely reading matter that American physicians have in their waiting-rooms. "The English physician offers his patients reading matter, but I am afraid it isn't always up to date." Sir Patrick smiled. "One of your American millionaires consulted me in Harley Street last month. He was kept waiting about an hour. When he finally entered my inner office he looked very much bored. 'I see by your papers, doctor,' he said with a yawn, 'that it is rumored that two Dayton men, Orville and Wilbur Wright, can actually fly.'"

Why Not Let Him Grumble?

There is one privilege, which men will cling to long after they have given women the right to vote, and that is their own inalienable, natural born right to grumble. The man who doesn't grumble has something radically wrong with him, observed a careful student of the trousered species. Women are always miserable with their grievances, but men are blissfully contented over them. Give a man a good, sound grievance and a comfortable chair in which to air it, and no one need fear the distinction of clubs or other male loafing places.

Is it proper, by the way, to say to an unpopular monarch: "Get in out of the rain?"

PUGET SOUND TRADE

Customs Report Shows Record Imports for Past Fiscal Year — Trade With Canada.

The customs business of the collection district of Puget Sound for the fiscal year ending June 30, broke all previous records for imports, which reached a total of $36,654,676, according to the report of the collector of customs.

The exports amounted to $39,135,571. The imports show a gain over the previous year of $7,774 184, and the exports a gain of nearly $10,000,000. More than half of the exports were received at Seattle, and a third of the exports of the district, which consists of 18 shipping points, went from here.

Of the imports, $25,876,424 came from Japan, while the exports to that country amounted to $9,793,000, leaving a balance in favor of Japan of $16,053,000. During the year, British Columbia was the best patron of the district, it having purchased goods valued at $12,405 190. Imports from British Columbia reached $4,819,219. The exports to British Columbia are the largest in the history of the district, being an increase of more than $4,000,00 over any other year. The imports from the Canadian province, however, showed a decrease of $1,000,000.

Alaska is an important factor in the business of Puget Sound, as shown by the report of the collector of customs. During the year the district shipped north goods valued at $12,000,000. Hawaii is credited with $3,561,000.

The collections in this district from all sources during the year amounted to $1,752,163.

Motorcycle Touring.

Long distance travelling by motorcycle is attracting wide attention of late, several trips around the world having been announced, as well as numerous tours of more than one thousand miles. Three young men of Philadelphia — Lewis Stern, Julius Stern and Adam Gimbal — are now making a 3,000-mile trip through Europe, to cover two months' time. Frank Troller, of San Francisco, is traveling around the world on a motorcycle. Carl and Anchor Sorenson, of Racine, Wis., have just completed a 3,000-mile ride through the west; and Captain Volney E. Davis, of the San Francisco Motorcycle club, has just reached New York, having established a new transcontinental record by riding from ocast to coast in twenty days. A Newark bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacDougall, are now enjoying a honeymoon astride a motorcycle; and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Bradner, of San Francisco, recently enjoyed a similarly novel honeymoon trip.

Preparing Calgary Immigration Hall Plans at Ottawa.

The official announcement has come from Ottawa that plans for the new $35,000 immigration hall for Calgary are being prepared, and that the excavations and construction of the building will be started without delay. The new building will be erected on First street west, opposite the present immigration hall, and will accommodate over 100 persons. It will supply a much-needed want, as with the big rush of immigration that is morally certain to take place next year There will be plenty of families in need of cheap lodging and even where possessed of savings not in a position to pay, say, $2 a-piece at the hotels, while to board at the restaurants would, in their cases, be equally imprudent, financially. And these, of course, are a class of people that Alberta desires to encourage in every way, so that it is pleasing to announce that by next spring, according to government promises, there should be an immigration hall that will be a credit to this city, and that will give population elements of the province cheering first impresions of Calgary.

Hail!—and Reign!

The populace crowded around Caesar clamouring for their mighty hero.

"Caesar," spoke up the appointed one, "wilt thou be our king?"

"Nay, my faithful followers, I cannot," answered the warrior.

"Hail, all hail to Caesar," bellowed a voice in the crowd. They all hailed.

"Let us beseech of you, Caesar, take the crown," pressed the speaker.

"My dear citizens and loyal compatriots, I cannot do this thing that you ask of me; the time is not ripe."

"Hail, all hail to Caesar," again spoke up the voice from the crowd. They all hailed as before.

"Now, our Caesar," said the speaker, "we have all hailed; it is up to you to reign."

"What Bust!"

Dr. Brown, a dignified and somewhat portly gentleman, had been commissioned to buy a shirtwaist at a bargain sale which his wife was unable to attend. The task was a novel and not wholly congenial one, but he finally got the attention of a saleswoman and made his wishes known.

"What bust?" she asked.

The doctor glanced around with nervous apprehension.

"Why—er—I didn't hear anything!"

Halves, Mister.

It was at a theatre in Dublin. The king, aged and infirm, was blessed with two sons. He was pacing up and down the stage with a wearied look, exclaiming aloud: "On which of those two sons shall I bestow the crown?"

The house was nearly brought down with laughter, when a little man in the gallery stood up and said: "Treat 'em fair, guv-nor. Can't yer give 'em half-a-crown apiece?"

Some Porcupines

George Gould, at a dinner at Georgian-court, said of a suspected gold mine: "Gold mines are like human beings — they can't be judged by their appearance. You know what Frank R. Stockton used to say about judging by appearance: 'Don't trust a man because he carries a silk umbrella — he may have left a cotton one in its place.'"

Reply to Mr. Stratton

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. Stratton has begun the campaign by making an issue of the papal decrees. I had not intended to refer to them on the political platform but now must of necessity do so. Three-fourths of the Examiner's report of Mr. Stratton's speech at 4th line Smith, is devoted to Ne Temere. He scoffs at Ne Temere. He jeers at the synods, presbyteries, conferences, &c., for knocking at the wrong door when they look to the Dominion Government for redress. He falls back upon the Minister of Justice's evasion of the issue and seeks to put responsibility on the provinces. But that the issue lies with the Dominion Government and with it alone in the matter, is plain. Nothing is plainer. Bigamy is a charge that a man or woman has been married twice, illegally. It is a charge that like all other criminal charges can be tried by the criminal (federal) law of Canada only, and the provinces have no say in it whatever. The validity of a marriage therefore rests with the Dominion Government alone, and it knows it. A province can direct the mere form of marriage but nothing more. The whole question is precisely like that of the franchise. The provinces say who may vote in this election but the Dominion Government regulates and rules everything with reference to it but that. Ne Temere, however, ignores all Governments. But Ne Temere is only a straw. The real decree is the one against Protestantism. Modernism and Protestantism are the same thing, and the Pope has condemned them both to utter extermination. There is no evading that fact. So much in reply to Mr. Stratton on the religious question. I will now reply to what he has to say on Reciprocity, leaving the Farmer's Bank for some other occasion. I will reply, however, not in my own words, but in the words of President Taft himself, and in them alone. I believe that reciprocity will wreck our home market, but if any man can go and vote for reciprocity in the face of these words of President Taft, then let him do so. I can say no more. These are President Taft's words :—

"I have said that this was a critical time in the solution of the question of reciprocity. It is critical because unless it is now decided favorably to reciprocity, it is exceedingly probable that no such opportunity will ever again come to the United States. The forces which are at work in England and in Canada to separate her by a Chinese wall from the United States, and to make her part of an imperial commercial band reaching from England around the world to England again by a system of preferential tariffs, will derive an impetus from the rejection of this treaty, and if we would have reciprocity with all the advantages that I have described, and that I earnestly and sincerely believe will follow its adoption, we must take it now, or give it up forever."—(From the speech of President Taft at the joint banquet of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association held in New York on April 27th, 1911.)

And here follow President Taft's own words from the article on reciprocity written by him in Leslie's (New York) Weekly of August 10th, 1911, (a copy of which is in my possession) :—

"The United States exports to Canada a great many more horses than she imports from Canada. She sends to Canada a much larger amount of potatoes than she receives from her. The United States exports to Canada about fifteen times as much of meat and dairy products as Canada exports to the United States.

"The only real importation of agricultural products that we may expect from Canada of any considerable amount will consist of wheat, barley, rye, and oats. The world price of these four cereals is fixed abroad, where the surplus from the producing countries is disposed of, and is little affected by the place from which the supply is derived."

"A very material benefit to all the farmers of the country, especially the stock and cattle raisers and the dairy farmers, will be the by-products of bran and shorts from the flour mills likely to follow the free export of wheat from Canada to those mills. These by-products are now so scarce that many farmers are unable to procure them. What is true of wheat is true of the other cereals."

Yours, &c.,

J. H. BURNHAM.

AT YOUNG'S POINT.

Mr. Burnham Holds Mass Meeting Last Night.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, Liberal-Conservative candidate, held a meeting last night at Young's Point, which was largely attended, the hall being filled to the doors. Farmers drove into the village from miles around, in order to hear Mr. Burnham's views on the questions of the day, and more especially in regard to reciprocity.

On being introduced by the chairman, Mr. Burnham said that it was a mystery to him that so far it had not been explained why the Canadian Government, without consulting anybody at all, had negotiated a Pact and tried to force it on this country without the knowledge or consent of the Canadian people. There could be no question that it was Sir Wilfrid Laurier's pet scheme, and what was behind it would remain for the history of subsequent years to show. So far as the speaker was concerned he was unable to believe that Sir Wilfrid had wholly in mind the trade interests of Canada when he pushed this Pact through. The circumstances were still more suspicious when he wished to do it without going to the people. The pact was not in the interests of the Canadian employer or wage-earner, since the rivalry of the United States was greater than Canadian industries could stand. We were unable to bear it not on account of the difference in price to the consumer, but on account of the more rapid turn over and the larger capitalization of U.S. concerns. This was an age of trusts in all branches. Trusts had secured a firm grip on the United States, and were looking with watering mouths upon the greater natural resources of Canada, which remained to be exploited. Should these greater natural resources be them for the benefit of Canada or the United States? President Taft has also said that the present is a proper time to detach Canada from the British Empire. This is no mere insinuation. It is laid down by President Taft in those exact words. It is a challenge to the people of Canada, which there is every indication they will promptly respond to. As for the farmer, with possibly a few minor exceptions, he stands to lose immensely by the Pact. Let us take a few examples. Last year the American farmer shipped thousands of thousands of bushels of potatoes; tons of hay to Canada; hundreds of immense quantities of fresh vegetables; tens of thousands of bushels of apples. In the language of The Moline Daily Despatch: "There are only a few items of agricultural produce that Canada takes from us in the natural state. With the entire emission of the duty it is reasonable to expect that our market in Canada for these products will be vastly increased." This journal then goes on to point out how in cattle, sheep and hogs they will be able to supply all Canada. It is impossible, the speaker concluded, for anyone to make out a case in favor of the Reciprocity Pact for Canada. There may be a few things in some localities that by reason of geographical position will have some small advantage, but in the vast total there is no comparison whatever. The United States will collar us body and bones. When the rights of foreign nations to participate in the Reciprocity Pact were also taken into account, it would be seen that the United States was really endeavoring to form a gigantic trust of nations to break up the British Empire and force Britain to heel up to the United States. It would then be necessary for Canada to join the United States or take the natural consequences. This was in the speaker's opinion the real object of the Pact on the United States' side.

Addresses were also delivered by Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., and Mr. E. A. Peck, the Conservative candidate for the Ontario legislature. The meeting broke up with cheers for the King, Mr. Borden and the candidate.

A Plague of Ants.

All over the city complaints are heard of a plague of ants. They are invading the houses, getting in the food and generally proving a nuisance. All sorts of remedies are being advised, but a local druggist says that one of the best is a mixture of tartar emetic and sugar. This, if placed in a saucer, usually tempts the ants and then makes them so sick that they promptly disappear from the house and apparently tell their friends to do likewise.

Wm. Armstrong, a drunk, was sent up for 15 days at the Police Court yesterday.

BUY
ROYAL PORCUPINE
Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES HENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe that Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 195 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THUSDAY AUGUST 24 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Couldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

A Footway over C.P.R.

The resolution of Ald. Anderson, regarding a footway over the C. P. R. bridge is a move in the right direction. If the Company will agree to allow one to be built, it will be of great service to hundreds who reside on the east side of the river. The council is doing the right thing on one side of the track, outside the high girders, so that there would be absolutely no risk to pedestrians by passing trains.

Many Typhoid Cases.

The fact that typhoid fever prevails to an alarming extent at Lakefield and other points on the waters above, should warn us to beware of contamination. Typhoid germs are not easily destroyed, and they unfortunately thrive in water. There are also a number of cases in this city, evidently caused by germs probably taken into the system in drinking water. People would be comparatively safe if they boiled their drinking water.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY

Whether Sick, or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked quite right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed—Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom of stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A Serious Reflection.

As will be observed in our report of the proceedings of the High Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters complaint is made that a Union Jack is nowhere to be seen in Peterborough. This is rather a serious reflection on the patriotic spirit of our citizens. We would suggest that the city hall and Public Library should fly the Union Jack on every day in the week.

Short of Help.

There is a scarcity just now of printers in Ontario, due no doubt to the large amount of extra printing required for the elections. The Times is a sufferer, just now, on account of two members of its staff being on the sick list.

Spiritualists and others desiring to form a Home Circle for mutual advancement would they kindly apply to Box 1168, Peterboro.

Quiet Home Wedding.

The home of Mrs. Elizabella Menzies, 18 Stewart street, was the scene of a quiet home wedding yesterday afternoon, when Miss Lillian Menzies was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Frank White, of Havelock, by Rev. Chas. Carpenter. The bride, who was very popular amongst a large circle of friends, was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. White left on the 4.28 C.P.R. train on a trip to the coast.

Prominent Cheese Maker Dead.

Word was received yesterday by Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie of the death of Mr. James Whiten, the well known cheese man, who passed away yesterday morning at his home in Wellman's Corners, Ont. The deceased was a popular member of the Peterborough Cheese Board. The late Mr. Whiten was one of the first dairy instructors, and has always taken a keen interest in the industry. His many friends and acquaintances of Peterborough, especially those connected with the cheese business, will regret to learn of his demise.

A Fine Display.

The exhibition took place on Central Park, where six lines of hose were laid in quick time. Under Chief Howard, who probably has no superior in Canada as a fire fighter, and Assistant Chief Menzies. Our firemen have attained a high standard of efficiency. The exhibition was also witnessed by his worship Mayor Morrow and members of the fire, water and light committee as well as by a large number of citizens.

WHY I AM AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—"I see you don't believe in this Reciprocity, Mr. Webb. I think it is a big question myself. Why are you so much against it?". This to me from a friend whom I met the other day, and as I explained, my views to him, it struck me I might help some who were undecided and wavering, halting between two opinions, to come to a decision on this important subject, if I just stated plainly and in a straightforward manner, why I am against "Reciprocity". Briefly put I am against this Reciprocity pact because I honestly and firmly believe it is against the interests and the highest aims of Canada. During the past few years this Dominion has grown by leaps and bounds—it has prospered in a way that is really wonderful. Look at it in any way you will you must see how Canada has prospered and is prospering. Look at the way it has extended its lines of railways, at the great increase in the traffic carried over these railways. Look at the marvellous growth of its cities, how a hamlet or village two or three years back, is now a thriving, growing and prosperous township. The increase in its ocean trade, the extension of its docks, the many signs of its growing factories and manufacturies. The way its population is going up by leaps and bounds, etc., etc., and in the many signs, plain to everyone of the rapid growth and prosperity of this Dominion. Now all this you will readily admit is very plain and what is just as plain, if you think at all, is that all this rapid growth, this great increase in its prosperity, has come to pass without the aid of Reciprocity, has it not? NOW IF CANADA HAS PROSPERED SO WELL WITHOUT RECIPROCITY WHY HAVE IT? If we refuse this Reciprocity what is there to stop us from keeping on growing more and more prosperous. We know the same conditions of to-day have made Canada what she is and will keep on making her more and more a great and prosperous country. We are certain of that because the proof of it is with us, our present growing prosperity. Well, why change a system that has proved so successful for what is really, after all, an experiment. Why in fact, give up a well-tried and successful plan for an experiment. You remember the fable of the dog carrying a piece of meat over a stream. As it crossed the stream it stopped to look in the water. The shadow of itself and the joint showed in the water and you know the rest, the shadow joint in the water looked so much bigger than the one it carried and the dog dropped the joint and grabbed at the shadow. Just so, the shadow looked bigger alright but alas for the dog it was only a shadow. Now you have as much grey matter in your head as I have and so I need not point the moral, need I? Now, a great deal is made by the Liberal party about the American market and how this Reciprocity will open it up to Canada. Send us back to power they say and we will by giving you Reciprocity, give you the American market, which the present tariff closes to you. Will it. What are the American farmers and manufacturers doing, while Laurier and his party are giving their market to Canada? Are they all going to sleep, think you, or perhaps just to oblige Laurier & Co. they will all go out of business, shut up shops and leave their market open to Canada. This tariff is a wall keeping you out of the American market, says the Liberal party. Very well, knock down the wall and what will happen? Do you expect the manufacturers and farmers of America will receive you with open arms, and kill the fatted calf in your honor? You know they will not. Instead, they will do as they always have done compete with you in their market. Do you think they will let you undersell them, or let you capture their market. You know your American friends better than that. In one breath the Liberal party tell you that the farmers and manufacturers will get higher prices in the markets over the line, and that the consumer will have to pay less for what he buys. Now if the farmer and manufacturer are going to get more money for their goods by taking them to the States, how do you figure they will sell them cheaper to you. Now you farmers if the American market will give you higher prices, how is it the American farmers don't get rich on such a good market. That they don't we have abundant proof. The number of farmers in the States who are giving up their farms is enough proof that their own market (made so much of by the Liberals) is not good enough for them, and if it is not good enough for them, where do you come in. The tillage of the state of Vermont alone has decreased twenty-three per cent. in the last ten years. All over New England you find abandoned farms. In the last ten years in New England the farms abandoned total 20,549,000 acres. The decrease in Massachusetts is 9 per cent. in New Hampshire 14 per cent. Now think what this means when you hear of this wonderful American market and ask yourself if a market that cannot make its own farmers pay their way is of any use to you. Now what about the other side of the question. This wall Laurier wants to knock down he says will let you into the American market. He doesn't think it worth while to remind you it will also let Americans into your own home market to compete with you. You know American ways of competition, don't you? Now these are a few of the reasons why I am against Reciprocity, and why I believe honestly you should be against it if you study your own interests. Space forbids me to enlarge further now, but in another article I will give some more reasons why I vote with Burnham and Borden against Reciprocity.

Percival G. S. Webb.

LIVERPOOL TRAMWAYS COM. CONFER WITH MEN

Liverpool, Aug. 24.—The Liverpool Tramways Committee decided to reinstate the 250 striking tramway men as and when required and to the satisfaction of the general manager. It is understood from reliable source that the non-union men will receive a bonus before their places are taken by the strikers. The decision will go before the Strike Committee, and it is believed will be accepted and the National strike averted.

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN'S APPEAL TO HIS COUNTRY

London, Aug. 24.—Joseph Chamberlain has contributed a notable preface to Archdeacon Cunningham's book, "The Case Against Free Trade." The veteran statesman says:

"The future of the empire lies henceforth not in power to annex new territory but in the capacity to unite the existing Dominions and to develop the resources of the existing Dominions. To it all, our efforts should be directed while the Empire is still plastic."

In another part of the preface he writes:

"The great Dominions are willing. We alone refuse. They open the door to us. In return we slam it in their faces."

The article calls for the admiration of The Morning Post, which describes Mr. Chamberlain as "successor of Chatham, the only living man who has the power to stir the British people to the depth of their imperial instinct."

HON. GEO. P. GRAHAM WILL VISIT, CITY ON THURSDAY NEXT

The Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, will visit Peterborough on Thursday next, and will address a mass meeting of the electors of East and West Peterborough in the Opera house in the interests of Mr. Stratton. Mr. Graham, is without doubt, one of the most popular members of the Cabinet, and he is regarded as one of the most capable ministers. He will, we are sure, receive a cordial welcome to Peterborough, not only by Liberals, but also by those who differ with him politically. He is a good speaker, and will present the Government's side of the public questions in a plain and business like manner. In view of the fact that it is under Mr. Graham's administration that the Trent Canal is being rapidly developed. The electors will naturally feel disposed to give him a good hearing.

The meeting will also be addressed by Mr. F. D. Kerr, Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P.

PUBLIC OPINION

ENGLAND VS. THE UNITED STATES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—It has been pointed out in the Canadian House of Commons by one of its most distinguished members that during the past six years Great Britain has bought from Canada nearly $300,000,000 worth of goods more than we bought from her. But at the same time we have bought from the United States nearly $600,000,000 worth of goods more than the United States bought from us. The markets of Great Britain are of far more value to Canada than the markets of the United States. Canada has spent nearly a billion of dollars on railways and canals to promote interprovincial and European trade. Is this enormous sum to be wasted in order that we may hand over our country and its resources to American exploitation, that American mills may grind our wheat and American lumbermen possess our forests and American politicians control our fiscal policy?

Loyalist.

A ROADWAY OVER NEW DAM.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice that it is proposed to arrange with the Seymour Electric Company for a public roadway over the new dam which they propose to construct at Auburn. I think, Sir, that if this can be done at a reasonable cost it will be well worth the money. A road over the river at Auburn would bring a lot of vacant land into the market, as it were, and make it much more valuable. By thus increasing its value, a largely increased revenue will be derived by the city in the shape of taxes.

I am sure, when the whole matter is thus considered by the ratepayers, the money will be cheerfully furnished.

THE LAKEFIELD POWER.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by the report in your paper of the Council proceedings, that we are soon to hear from the engineer who is to report on the cost of the proposed purchase and development of the Dickson Company's power at Lakefield.

Now, Sir, I would not desire to discredit the report in advance, but if it is true that the engineer is really an employee of the Cedar Rapids Company, (who are said to be the owners of the Seymour Electric Company I think the Council has made a grave blunder. The report of course, may be alright, but it is hardly business, to accept it as such, if the above is true.

Ratepayer.

MR. BURNHAM BACKS DOWN.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Mr. Burnham is evading my challenge. He insists on appointing clergymen as judges, and he desires four. He is not willing to accept a layman whose official position renders him above suspicion. Besides, I am willing to let a fair-minded Protestant act as sole judge, but he refuses. He wants clergymen, but why, is inconceivable, as it is pretty well known here that Mr. Burnham does not frequent churches, even on Sunday, except very, very, very occasionally. But, if he wants clergymen for his two let him appoint them, and if he wants four judges, let there then be four, but I do not wish to drag clergymen into this affair. For my judges therefore, I am willing to choose laymen. I shall ask Mr. G. N. Gordon, barrister, a Protestant, and Mr. John O'Connell, of the Cordage Company, to act for me, I would not be afraid, however, to leave the decision to any fair-minded Protestant, such as T. F. Matthews, or E. A. Peck, because it is my opinion Mr. Burnham knows as well as I, that there is no such secret vigilance committee in existence. This is not the first time Mr. Burnham has made a false statement.

He pretends to not know me, but I assure him there are many prominent men in this city who do. He probably does not know that I am a Conservative in politics, (or that I was foolish enough to vote for him last election) thinking he was struthful man, and a representative Conservative. But I am sorry to say that now I believe him to be neither Conservative or Liberal. He is a distarber of the peace and harmony which has, for so many years, existed in this city. So, now, Mr. Burnham, name your bank manager and your judges and put up your one hundred. Mine are ready.

Dennis Dillon.

Hundreds Turned Away From Big Borden Meeting in Opera House

MR. BORDEN GAVE MASTERLY ADDRESS—EXCEEDINGLY OPTIMISTIC AS TO RESULT OF ELECTION.

Messrs. Andrew Border, M.P., Dundas, J. H. Burnham and J. A. Sexsmith Also Spoke and Received Demonstrative Reception

The Conservative leader has no cause to complain of the character of the reception tendered him last night. It was enthusiastic and although Mr. Borden's voice was not in the best condition, his address was listened to with marked attention, and was frequently punctured with storms of applause.

The distinguished visitor's glowing tributes to Mr. Burnham and Mr. Sexsmith as worthy standard bearers in the two Peterborough ridings met with demonstrative approval from the vast audience. The former, he said, was in the fight to win this time. His frank and manly speech stamped him as a fitting representative for West Peterborough in the next House of Commons. As to Mr. Sexsmith, he contended that he deserved the continued confidence of East Peterborough. During his several terms in the House of Commons he has represented his constituency most worthily. He has always spoken well and to the point, and his opinions have at all times been listened to with marked attention and respect on both sides of the House.

Turning to the campaign in general, the gifted leader was exceedingly optimistic as to the results. "There is," he said, "to-day a spirit of faith, hope and confidence invigorating the Liberal Conservative Party, that has not been in evidence the past fifteen years. And thousands of Liberals have severed their allegiance with Sir Wilfrid Laurier in opposition to the reciprocity pact." Another sign of the times, he offered, is the tone of the Liberal press. Whereas in 1904 and 1908, they at least treated the Conservative Party in a decent patronizing way, to-day they are furious because they know perfectly well that they are fighting a losing battle. Then there are in Ontario six Cabinet Ministers holding portfolios in the Federal House, not one of whom holds a safe seat, excepting Sir Richard Cartwright.

The Conservative leader spoke for over an hour to an eager and appreciative audience. There were frequent interruptions by applause, and Mr. Borden's many cogent arguments were quickly taken up. He declared that public opinion had forced the Government to adopt many features of the Halifax platform of 1907, and that the Conservative party, by its guiding influence in that direction, had safe-guarded the interests of the public.

Again Mr. Borden handled the reciprocity pact without ceremony, and his earnest appeal to the young men of Canada to preserve the national type of citizenship to the mothers who found a pride in their Canadian homes and to honest, independent Liberals, received loud and continued applause.

In conclusion, for the first time from a public platform, Mr. Borden quoted from a pamphlet, entitled "Judge for Yourself," and issued by an association of Minnesota manufacturers, with a view to influencing public opinion in the States in support of the reciprocity pact. The main argument used in this pamphlet is found under the heading of "Stop the Leaks," a summary of which concluded that the American North-Western farmers need markets, but if manufacturing concerns are wiped out then prices would suffer. The pamphlet concluded that the big leak to be stopped was the moving of American industries to Canada, 750 of which are located here to-day, and the adoption of the reciprocity pact would effectually stop any further leakage from the United States to Canada in this respect, to the betterment of the American people in general. The idea in the States, Mr. Borden asserted, is to create a growth of American manufacturers, turn out finished products from Canada's superior raw material, and leave this country a damaged reputation for inferior products.

On resuming his seat Mr. Borden received a tremendous ovation. The immense audience rose to their feet, cheered wildly, and sang with heart and voice "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," accompanied with the waving of miniature Union Jacks, each person in the audience having been furnished with one by the committee in charge of the proceedings.

THE HOUSE.

The capacious Opera House was crowded from the ground floor to the upper gallery and standing room was at a premium. The occasion was graced by the presence of hundreds of ladies, and every wing of the stage was filled with enthusiastic visitors, who had found their way around by the stage door.

The following campaign mottos:—"Canada For Ever," "What We Have We'll Hold," "Canada for the Canadians," "Borden, Burnham and British Connection," "Sexsmith, the Farmers' Candidate."

An orchestra was in attendance.

Among those invited to a seat on the platform were Messrs. W. G. Howden, Reeve of North Monaghan; W. H. Denham, T. F. Matthews, W. H. Hill, Robert Fair, T. E. Bradburn M.P.P., Jas. Thompson, M.P.P., L. M. Hayes, Ald. Bradburn, ex-Ald. Phelan, J. J. Lynch, W. C. Ackerman, Harry Adams, Joshua Smithson, Otonabee; James English, Ald. Buller, T. H. Hooper, T. T. Milburn, Smith; Joseph Mills, Dr. Cameron, T. B. Connor, J. T. C. Lang, Chas. Nixon, John Edgar, Rev. Mr. Bonner Gilmour Memorial Church, Smith; J. J. Preston, M.P., T. B. Collins, Millbrook; W. S. Given, Millbrook; Chas. McNeil, Gavan; Ex.-Ald. Batten, John A. Firth, Jas. Lancaster, Otonabee; R. M. Waddell, W. H. Moore, K.C., Ald. Kernaghan, Dr. Boucher, J. J. Turner, Jr., Joshua Collins, Wm. Croft, Dr. Ames, Dr. Greer, Ald. Graham, Ald. Morgan, Jas. Edgar, Chas. Rishor, R. C. Braund, T. J. Braund, Geo. Batten, Frank Schneider, F. H. Dobbin, R. J. Munro and others.

During the evening, Mr. Samuel Nesbitt of East Northumberland put in an appearance.

Mr. Borden was presented with a beautiful bouquet by the little daughter of Dr. Amys.

Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., made a very acceptable chairman, indeed.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM.

Mr. J. H. Burnham was the first speaker, and met with an intensely enthusiastic reception. His address was a masterly effort and won demonstrative applause throughout. And when, in reply to the Examiner's charge that he had not been of any use to the community, the Conservative candidate exclaimed that for every light Mr. Stratton had placed upon the canal, he (Mr. Burnham) had, as founder of the Children's Aid Society, placed out in adoption one poor, little, defenseless child, the endorsation of the big audience was prolonged and ear-splitting. Continuing, Mr. Burnham, in part, said:

The Examiner has a great deal to say of Mr. Stratton's usefulness to the Riding, that he has got so much for it and that he is of such a stirring and persistent energy that he is likely to be of much greater service to it than I can be. It has for years described me as a mere useless dreamer and worse. I am about tired of these attacks, but I am not going to ask one human being to vote for me for what I have done for this Riding. It is, however, but a common and I think, a mean prevarication for the Examiner to say that I have not been of use and I think very material service, not only to this Riding, but to the country at large. The Examiner knows perfectly well that a sense of common decency ought to preclude my referring to a society which I had the honour of founding in Canada—the Children's Aid Society, which has been of immense value not only to this Riding, but to the country at large. But let no man vote for me on that account, not one. I regret more than I can tell that repeated and lone-continued attacks of this sort by the Examiner to which I never referred in this way before, have driven me at last to the desperation of self-defence. I hope my antagonist, Mr. Stratton, can say always the same. He has done much good and no harm I hope. And when he and I come to depart this life I hope it may be said of us both that we belonged to no company or corporation which brought poverty and tears and ruin of scores of widows and orphans, but that on the other hand regardless of our own wealth of our own political interest, and our own show we sought always—not sometimes, but always—the comfort and happiness of those who are too young or too old and too defenceless to do it for themselves. It is in furtherance of a plan now to aid the old that I am so strongly advocating the introduction of the state pension system into Canada as it has been introduced into Britain and Germany. It has not pauperized the people there as the Examiner loves to pretend it will do here. It is a system that has given hope and happiness and good cheer to thousands who after a life of toil find themselves but poorly provided for in their old age. Why should the state not pension its aged? Must all the plums go to the grafters and the already rich? There seems to be no dread on the part of the Examiner that they will be "pauperized" by all the plums they get. No. They are never tired of getting rich and richer and bragging of their riches. I say, let the toiler have a chance. Annuities are insurance that must be paid for by the individual. Pensions are not paid for by the individual but by the State which sets aside a fund of a few millions, the interest upon which, provides her aged not with charity, but with a sustenance, which as citizens of this country, they have already earned. It is time that the people — the plain people—of this world had a chance and I am making this pension system the chief new item of my address. And if I am elected, and if Mr. Borden is elected, I can promise you that in a few years the Examiner will have the opportunity of saying, whether it avails itself of that opportunity or not, that Burnham belonged to few wrecked and defunct companies or banks but that he spread contentment and happiness where others sometimes mixed their good deeds with ruin and dismay. I hope this is no unworthy ambition on my part.

MR. J. A. SEXSMITH.

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, the Liberal Conservative candidate, was received with hearty applause.

This was the first time Mr. Sexsmith had had an opportunity of addressing a mammoth audience, and he manfully rose to the occasion. He congratulated the ladies upon their evident interest in the campaign, and offered that the greatest asset Canada has is its people, for the character development of whom the ladies are largely responsible.

He referred to the reciprocity pact, and told the audience that under the pact Canadians were asked to sell their products in open competition with the world and to buy necessities from a highly protective foreign market. He would like the Liberal leaders to explain the actual benefits to be derived by Canadians in general by the reciprocity pact, and could not see their consistency in assuring the farmer of higher prices and the consumer of cheaper living, at the same time. (Laughter.)

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

Mr. W. H. Moore here read a lengthy address of welcome to Mr. Borden, in which confidence was expressed in the leader's statesmanship, and appreciation of his personal qualities that will lead a united Conservative Party into power on the 21st of September.

MR. R. L. BORDEN.

As Mr. Borden arose to address the gathering there was a sudden outburst of spontaneous enthusiasm, which did not end until finally the Conservative Chieftain, in his good-humored manner, raised his hand and asked the audience to desist.

In opening his remarks Mr. Borden referred to the fact that his voice had become somewhat strained owing to the heavy work of the last few days and this fact he said would prevent him from speaking as long as he otherwise would have. Mr. Borden, however, said he realized that the sympathy of the audience was with him, as they felt as he did, that what ever damage had been wrought to it, had been wrought in the fight for a good cause. He was glad to be present in Peterborough and to assist the Conservative candidates in East and West Ridings of Peterborough, whom he knew would receive in no uncertain terms the support of their electors at the coming elections The 21st day of September, said Mr. Borden, would be a memorable day this year for he firmly believed that on that date West Peterborough would be redeemed. Messrs. Burnham and Sexsmith, he said, were worthy candidates. They were responding to the call of duty. Mr. Borden pointed out, but in addition he drew the attention of the electors to the fact that there was a duty attached to them also—to work with a will and vote for the Conservative candidates and Canada for the Canadians.

Dissolution of Parliament.

Proceeding the speaker dealt for a few moments with the dissolution of Parliament and referred to the Government's action in allowing the House to be dissolved just when serious charges against one of the Ministers of the Crown were being investigated as an absolute contempt of public opinion. No precedent for this, the speaker said, had ever taken place in the history of the Dominion Parliament and he felt that the action of the Premier should be opposed by all well thinking people.

Mr. Borden then branched off on to the question of reciprocity, which he said had been made the leading issue in the campaign. He referred to the statement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, made at Simcoe, in which it was said that the Government had always intended to bring the question of reciprocity before the people.

"That statement," said the speaker, "lacks the essential element of truth and if I had Sir Wilfrid Laurier on this platform at the present time I would tell him that to his face."

Mr. Borden went on to explain that

ISLANDS HOTEL BURNED GUESTS IN WILD PANIC

Clayton, N.Y., Aug. 23.—The hotel Frontenac, the largest in the Thousand Islands, was laid waste by fire last night. It is owned by Charles Goodwin Emery, the wealthy New York tobacco man. The structure was built about twelve years ago at a cost of $350,000. It is situated one mile from Clayton, and is the most fashionable hotel in the Islands. The hotel soon after the discovery of the fire, was alive with half-clad guests—hysterical women and men in bath robes.

Trial of the Camorra—The Porter's Statement Aids in Bringing the Cuocolo Murders Home to Nicolo Morra.

Viterbo, Aug. 24.—Pellecci, owner of the house occupied by Maria Standardo and alleged by the State to have been the resort of criminals, testified to-day at the Camorra trial that the home was one of the worst type. Pellecci's lawyer, Mazza, corroborated his client and added that when he had advised the landlord to turn the women out and seize her household effects, a mob of ruffians had gathered at the place and Maria threatened to have the lawyer assassinated if she was disturbed.

Mazza caused sensation by asserting that in June 1906, a short time before the murder of Gennaro Cuocolo and his wife and long before a confession had been made by Gennaro Abbetemaggio, the porter had told him that Maria's home was frequented by Nicolo Morra, one of the alleged assassins. The porter further confided that he had seen Morra enter the place on the night of the crime, carrying a bundle. The witness said that he believed that the porter knew all about the murders but was restrained from giving evidence against the accused Camorrists because of fear of the criminal organizayion.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA:

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes; to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 30th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

HON. WM. LYON MACKENZIE KING.

Few of the younger generation of Canadian public men have crowded so much important work into such a short period as has the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, C.M.G., M.P., P.C., Ph.D. A grandson on the maternal side of William Lyon Mackenzie and gifted with not a little of the patriot's genius, it is not to be wondered at, he should make his mark in the social and political affairs of his native land at an age when most young men have as yet scarcely turned their thoughts towards the serious things of life.

After a brilliant university career at Toronto, Harvard and Chicago, he joined the editorial staff of the Toronto "Globe" and later returned to Harvard as Instructor in Political Economy. During this period we also find him acting as special Commissioner of the Canadian Government to inquire into methods of carrying out Government contracts in Canada and Europe, an appointment due to the keen interest he had displayed in labor matters and his distinction as a political economist. In 1908 he was elected to the Dominion Parliament as member for North Waterloo, having in the meantime held several important government appointments, including editor of labor 'Gazette' and Deputy Minister of Labor from 1900 to September 1908; Registrar of Boards of Conciliation and Investigation, 1908-9; Secretary of the Royal Commission to inquire into industrial disputes in British Columbia, 1903; represented Canadian Government in England on question of alleged misrepresentations to immigrants in 1906; Chairman of Royal Commission to enquire into conditions of employment of telephone operatives, 1907; Royal Commissioner to asses losses of Japanese residents of Vancouver, B.C., in anti-Asiatic Riots, 1907; Royal Commissioner to enquire into the methods by which Oriental laborers have been induced to come to Canada, 1907; Royal Commissioner to assess losses of Chinese residents of Vancouver, in anti-Asiatic riots, 1908; representative of the Canadian Government sent to England to confer with the British authorities on the subject of immigration to Canada from India, 1908. In the latter year he also acted as Royal Commissioner to inquire into conditions of employment of operatives in the cotton industry, while in 1909 he was appointed by the Imperial Government one of the British delegates on the International Opium Commission, held at Shanghai, China. He was president of the Canadian Club of Ottawa, 1904-5 and in 1909 was appointed Minister of Labor for Canada.

Mackenzie King's success in all these important missions has marked him out as one of the greatest living Canadian authorities on social and labor problems. The suppression of the Opium traffic is another matter with which he has been prominently identified and of late the traffic in other drugs including cocaine has come within the sphere of his activities and he is largely responsible for recent preventitive legislation under this head.

Mr. Mackenzie King was born at Berlin, Ont., in 1874 and is unmarried.

JUDGE LAFONTAINE, of Montreal.

The liquor question is a live issue all over Canada to-day, but in no place more so than in Montreal, where the License Commissioners have adopted a policy of license reduction in the city limits, and have announced that those who have been lax in obeying the law in the past must be those to suffer the consequences in the future.

On this stand the Commissioners have been supported by the public generally, by the Government, by the Dominion Alliance, the Anti-Alcoholic League, and the better class of saloonkeepers themselves. In the fight against the dives and rum shops, which have been straining every nerve and pulling every wire to keep the white parchment which admits of their selling liquor, none has been more active than Judge Ulric Lafontaine, the President of the Anti-Alcoholic League, an organization which is earnestly working against immoderate use of liquor. The Anti-Alcoholic League embraces all creeds, all nationalities, and all tongues. Here French-speaking and English-speaking citizens alike line up in a common cause.

Judge Lafontaine was born in the village of St Edouard Napierville, as was his father before him. From his name one might suppose that he is of French origin; but if you go back far enough you will find that there is more German and Scotch blood flowing through his veins than there is French.

LIVER LAZINESS

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in yellow boxes, 25c per box, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Morning Times

FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1911.

MR. BORDEN'S VISIT.

The meeting last night, if it meant anything, it demonstrated the fact that people are in earnest in endeavoring to understand the political issues now before the electorate, and more especially in regard to reciprocity.

Mr. Borden states that in his opinion a reversal of policy would mean loss of work and the locking up of factories. The farmer, would lose, because his ready market would be withdrawn. The consumer would be unable to buy to the former extent, and local paralysis at least would ensue.

Mr. Borden dealt also with the view that in the reciprocity agreement would be found a check upon the operations of the trusts and monopolies. Better, he argued, deal with the trusts through legislation passed by the Parliament of Canada than to enter into a compact which would expose the country to the power of trusts having their heads and their hearts in the United States, beyond the control of the Canadian government.

These are considerations which it is the duty of the people to ponder over deeply.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Saving the Postage.

A dressmaker had sent her servant to post a letter and was anxiously waiting her return.

"Did you post my letter all right, Mary?" she asked, as the maid-of-all-work entered.

"Oh, yes, ma'am!" replied Mary, holding a penny out to her mistress.

"What is this for?" again asked the fair employer. "I gave it to you for a stamp."

"I didn't have to use it, ma'am. I put the letter inthe box when nobody was looking," replied the innocent Mary.

A handy margin guide and pad holder.

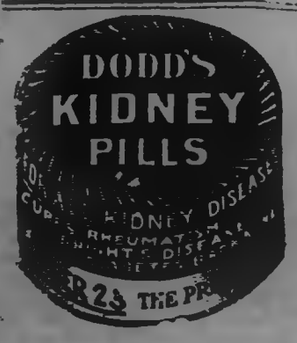
Nothing adds more to the neatness of the many documents that still must be handwritten than true margins. A rubber band run longitudinally along the left edge of the pad makes a handy guide which can be moved at will. Frequently blanks are needed from the printer in a hurry and he has no time to pad them. In such cases the rubber band also holds the sheets in place and in no way interferes with the writing.

Interior Decorators

She had lured him to one of those artistic cafes where luncheon is a teaspoonful of pepper soup and a glass of water with a roseleaf in it, and he felt aggrieved. Salad arrived.

"It's water-cress, I think," she diagnosed.

"Looks more like Southern smilax to me," he disagreed. "That's the trouble—the waiters all think they're interior decorators."



$25 REWARD

It having come to my ears that certain statements have been circulated throughout the riding that I have paid money corruptly for electoral or other purposes, at any time, I hereby offer the above reward for information leading to the conviction of any person making or circulating such a statement.

CANCER AND THOSE WHO ARE LIABLE

Some Interesting Statements as the Result of Recent Research.

One of the most interesting statements in Dr. E. F. Bashford's striking report to the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, as recorded in The London Express, is that peculiar customs of the people render them especially liable to cancer.

Dr. Bashford mentions specifically the practice of eating very hot rice in China, the use of the kangri in Kashmir, and the chewing of the betel-nut "It is reasonable to suppose," he says, "that the frequency of cancer would be diminished if such practices were discontinued, and it is also reasonable to assume that the introduction into England of these exotic customs would greatly increase the frequency of cancer in this country."

It is not only abroad, however, that customs conductive of cancer prevail. An Express representative who called at the laboratories of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund was informed that to smoke short clay pipes of the "cutty" or "nose warmer" description is to run the risk of contracting cancer. "Such pipes get very hot, and the clay often sticks to the lips," it was stated. "Any smoker who wishes to run the least possible risk of this dread disease should taboo such pipes.

"Alcoholic excess, which may lead to irritation of the stomach, is another practice which introduces the risk of cancer. Curries and highly-seasoned food generally, if taken habitually, are also a source of danger."

There are a number of trades in Britain which render the workers more liable than usual to cancer. The workman who runs most risk is probably the chimney sweep, whose body becomes covered with soot.

"Unless the sweep is extremely careful to keep his skin thoroughly clean, the aniline products in the soot will cause irritation, which may end in cancer," the newspaperman was informed.

"The coal miner, on the other hand, may get covered with black dust and look exactly like a sweep, but he runs no risk. The maid who cleans the grate, however, should take great care to keep her hands and face free from soot.

"In the same way, workers in aniline factories run considerable risk, and all persons who make use of X-rays are particularly liable to cancer."

THE MAGNIFYING EYES OF THE CAMEL.

A writer in an American magazine says:

One of the camels—the seven were lying just beyond the circle of firelight — rose complaining. Mustafa's Ahmed slipped away upon his duty. Presently I heard his guttural cawing to get the camel again to rest; but the beast would not down, and must be beaten — the boy meanwhile mouthing great curses. I wondered that a being so small should without peril to himself strike a creature like this with his fist, continuing all the time within reach of teeth and hoofs.

'I will tell the khawaja,' replied Mustafa, 'a most curious and interesting thing about this.'

Ahmed had mastered the camel and now came to his place.

'The khawaja has observed,' Mustafa continued, 'that a child may beat and command a camel. It is not because the camel is stupid, nor yet because he is timid: it is because of a wise provision whereby God suited him to the weakness of men. The camel's eyes are like magnifying glasses, and increase the stature of his master seven times; wherefore he is obedient to this gigantic-appearing creature.'

In Damascus, too, I heard this superstition.

THE SCHORFHAIDE

Within the Imperial preserves, where the Kaiser and his guests have secured 500 deer in one day in the Schorfhaide, which each year toward the month of November becomes the meeting place of thousands of stags. The annual assemblage on the Schorfhaide has taken place every autumn for centuries past. Mention thereof has been found in documents more than a thousand years old. All sorts of theories have been put forward to account for it. Some natives say that the animals meet to decide matters affecting the leadership of their various clans. It seems hard to account otherwise for the attraction which brings stags and their mates from Galicia, on the Russian border; from the Liechtenstein game preserves south of Vienna and from the still larger estates in Hungary belonging to the Archduke Frederick, all the way to the Schorfhaide.

Sumptuary Laws of Capetown.

Capetown once lived under so severe a code of sumptuary laws that anything like display was restricted to the Governor and his immediate circle. Thus runs Article VI. of the Dutch laws against luxury and ostentation: 'No one less in rank than a junior merchant and those among the citizens of equal rank and the wives and daughters only of those who are or have been members of any council shall venture to use umbrellas.' In practice this restricted the possession and use of umbrellas to about fifty persons in Capetown.

A Lesson in Politeness.

A pretty story about the delicate wit of Mrs. Taft has recently amused Washington society.

Mrs. Taft, at a diplomatic dinner, had for neighbour a distinguished French traveller, who boasted a little unduly of his nation's politeness. "We French," the traveller declared, "are the politest people in the world. Everybody acknowledges it. You Americans are a remarkable nation, but the French excel you in politeness. You admit it yourself, don't you?"

Mrs. Taft smiled delicately.

"Yes," she said. "That is our politeness."

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

POWER OF ELECTRICITY

Effect of Electricity on School Children.

A rather remarkable experiment has been carried on for some years in one of the public schools of Stockholm, Sweden, to test the beneficial influence of electricity on the development of the human body. Two groups each of twenty-five children, as nearly alike as possible in general health, and size and weight of the individuals, were given instruction in two rooms, both being equal in size, ventilation, lighting and exposure. But the group in one of the rooms was continually exposed to the influence of eletric currents, while the other group was not.

Now, after three or four years of the tests, it is claimed that the "electrified" children have outstripped the other group, growing faster, putting on weight quicker, developing better appetites and showing more physical resistance. As a whole, the mentality of the electrified group was the greater, as backwardness in the majority of cases is the result of some physical defect.

EDISON'S RULES OF LIFE

Expects to Reach One Hundred and Fifty.

"Why don't you try to invent an airship?" Thomas Alva Edison was asked recnly

"Why don't I try?" responded Mr. Edison. "Why, I did try thirty years ago. I looked into it from every side. We knew then the principles of gliding just as you have them now, but we didn't have an internal combustion engine."

Speaking on his rules of life the great inventor said:

"With my system of living I expect to live 150 years.

"My system is based on proper living, sleeping and clothing.

"I am in bed six hours, all of it good, solid sleep. It's enough.

"I don't ever intend to retire. Work has made this earth a paradise for me, and I don't believe there is any paradise up above.

"My body and I are still keeping at it for about eighteen hours a day, and I seldom get tired.

"I am better able to keep working now than when I was twenty-five.

"This earth is a cinch if you take it right

"Agreeable work never hurt any one. I am no exception.

"I am not an individual; I am an aggregate of cells.

"When I have any spare time I study music.

"I eat as much as I want, but that is very little—half a handful of solids at each meal."

Don't put off a bit of work, do it now! It doesn't pay to shirk, do it now! If you want to fill a place, and be useful to the race, just get up and take a brace, do it now! Don't linger by the way, do it now! You'll lose if you delay, do it now! If the other fellows wait, or postpone until it's late, you hit up a faster gait—do it now!

Felling Trees by Wire.

A machine recently invented in Germany by Hugo Gantke substitutes a steel wire for the axe and the saw in felling trees. The wire is about one millimetre in diameter, and is kept in rapid motion by a small electric motor placed at a sufficient distance to be beyond the radius of danger from the falling trees. The swift motion heats the wire, and it cuts with great facility, producing a slight carbonization of the wood. A trunk twenty inches in diameter can be severed in six minutes. The cut can be made at the level of the ground, or even below it if the surrounding soil is removed.

TO THE ELECTORS

—of—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 329 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows:—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are:—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM,
New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT,
New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR,
New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS,
Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

Just the Sort of Case That Proves to the World That the Best Liniment Ever Made Is

NERVILINE.

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person that has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton. "I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life to lift great weight, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, and muscular pain."

LETTER NO. 4769.

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than Nerviline—over one million bottles used every year—better try it yourself. 25c or five for $1. At all dealers or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

CAN WEIGH THE SOUL

It Tips Beam at Ounce To Ounce and Quarter.

Dr Duncan MacDougall, of Haverhill, Mass., who has long been a student of psychical phenomena, declared his belief, in an interview here that the human soul weighs from one half ounce to nearly an ounce and a quarter, and further that the soul substance is blended with the protoplasm of the brain and spinal cord in life.

Dr. MacDougall says it has been his experience in a dozen instances to watch a dying man or woman stretched on a bed that was part of a delicately adjusted scale, and to hear, as the patient's last breath leaves the body, the noise of the dropping out of the weight.

Again, sitting in a darkened room, he has watched a strong ray of pure white light rest along the body of a dying man, covering him like a silver bar from feet to head, and over the face. Dr. MacDougall believes that this ray of light is the "soul substance."

HOW INSANITY IS PROPAGATED

(1) Insanity will be inherited by all the children if both parents are insane.

(2) When one parent is insane and the other is normal, but has the insanity taint from one grandparent, half the children will be insane and half will be normal, but all will be capable of transmitting the insanity taint to their descendants.

(3) If one parent is insane and the other is normal and of pure normal ancestry, all the children will be normal, but they will be capable of transmitting the insanity to their descendants.

(4) If both parents are normal, but each inherits the insanity taint from one grandparent, one-fourth of the children will be normal and will be incapable of transmitting the insanity to their progeny; the remaining half of the children will be normal, but will transmit the insanity taint to their offspring.

(5) Both parents being normal, one having a pure normal ancestry and the other with the insanity taint from one grandpatent, all the children will be normal, and only half of them will be capable of transmitting the insanity taint to their descendants.

(6) When both parents are normal and of pure normal ancestry, all the children will be normal, and will not be capable of transmitting an insanity taint to their progeny.

For the sake of simplicity and brevity the word "insanity" has been used in the foregoing paragraphs to include feeble-mindedness as well as certain — but not all — forms of mental disease.

Lighthouse Without a Keeper

"What do you think of a perpetual lighthouse, needing no keeper and yet as regular in its flashes of light as one maintained by the Government" says a writer.

"This natural light never fails, and that means much for navigation. It is a volcano on the Island of San Salvador. This volcanic lighthouse is about eight miles inland from the port of Acajutla. It is a veritable pillar of cloud by day and the flash of its light by night has been valuable to mariners for years. It can be seen far out at sea and a burst of flame has gone upward every seven minutes without the variation of a second for many years.

"A lighthouse fee is collected of all vessels that put in at the harbor nearest the volcano and no skipper objects. He knows that the volcano is more reliable than the lighthouses kept by human beings on other coasts and the novelty of the light is worth the price charged by the Government."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

It is reported that Mr. T. L. Wilson of Carbide Falls has discovered a means of obtaining nitrogen from the air and thereby producing a fertilizer of great value. Heretofore the production of nitrogen of this character has only been possible through the use of legumes, such as alfalfa, clover, vetch, field peas and locust trees. It is said that Mr. Wilson has spent 15 years in experimenting and has expended thousands of dollars in the effort to secure nitrogen from the air. The report states that he is now arranging to dispose of his valuable carbide interests in order that he may devote his entire time to the development of the new idea.

Gun Removes Stumps

The latest use to which a gun has been put is clearing land of stumps and trees. It is the invention of F. de Briere von Krukow, a Danish gun manufacturer now in Canada. His gun contains a dynamite chambere, with a striking pin and the outside has a deep screw cut in it. A hole is bored in the stump and the barrel of the gun screwed in. A string is pulled and the gun is discharged, tearing the tree up by the roots. The Colonisation Department has a number in use and reports favorably on them.

A Perfect Invention

Dr. Arthur William White, of Yale, delights in telling his experience with an inventor of the unlettered-genius type who came to the professor with a model of a perpetual-motion machine.

"H'm; looks plausible," observed Dr. White, "but it wont' work. What are you going to do about gravity?"

"Gravity!" said the visitor scornfully. "Te'll wit' gravity; we'll us plenty o' grease."

HUMIDITY IN THE CANAL ZONE

Owing to the excessive humidity on the Canal Zone, good housekeepers turn an incandescent lamp inside their pianos at all times to prevent the wires from rusting.

SWARM OF BEES.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—A curious incident occurred here to-day, when a swarm of several thousand bees, supposed to belong to the Experimental Farm, attacked a grocery store owned by George Hopper, in the centre of the city, a couple of miles from the farm, and took possession.

Several children were stung, and business had to be suspended while the bees sampled everything sweet in the place. Rev. G. Watt Smith, of the First Congregational Church, who is himself an apiarist, finally succeeded in luring the visitors into a large box, solving the problem for the store keeper.

HOW TO ACT IN A RAILROAD WRECK.

What should one do when a train runs off the track? Fall on the floor and grasp the frame of the seat? Few would be apt to act thus, and yet it is the proper and safe mode of procedure, we are told by a correspondent. Above all things, says our mentor, don't stand up and scream! Most passengers leap to their feet and do not hold on to anything; consequently they are tossed about like peas in a bag, with what results may be imagined. The writer begins by narrating an experience of his own when a train left the rails. He says:

'When the tumult began a passenger stood up and shouted at the top of his voice: "What's the matter?" repeating the unanswered query several times. I knew what was the matter, but had no leisure to explain, and just dropped upon the floor and grasped the frame of my seat and held on, taking the jolts as rigidly as possible. Hat-racks, hand baggage, seat cushions, splintered head lining, and miscellaneous articles began to fly about, and I found the seat frame afforded some protection from the missiles that damaged some exposed limbs.

'The tumult could not have lasted half a minute, but it seemed a long time till the end came by the car turning over with a terrific jolt. At that instant, the man who had shouted so vociferously "What's the matter?" was shot through the window like a huge torpedo. Most of the people who had been on the upper at the Army athletic meeting; and the dure, we are told by a correspondent, car turned over. I was on the lower side, and settled softly upon the head lining when the car came to rest.

'I had been in a similar accident once before and knew, not only what to do, but kept my attention upon what the other passengers were doing. Most of them stood up or sat without holding fast to the seats, so that they were thrown about by the plunging and jolting of the car. Then a mass of human beings seemed to drop from the higher to the lower level when the car went over. Many of them were badly bruised through being pitched about, pains that might have been avoided had they dropped upon the floor and clung to the seat frames.

'It is difficult instructing persons how to do in case of the derailment of a train they are riding in, but sound advice is to drop upon the floor, preferably in the aisle, or cling to the seat frame. The impulse to stand up and howl should be restrained. In a former derailment accident that I experienced a woman on the seat opposite to me stood up and proceeded to scream. I shouted to her to sit down on the floor, but she paid no attention, and when the car fell over on its side she was projected upon me like a pile-driver weight. She was nearly as big as a cow, and the impact of her body almost finished my career.'

Great Lawyers Who Never Were Silk.

Some of the most eminent forensic and judicial luminaries have never been numbered among his Majesty's counsel learned in the law. Brougham and Denman, and O'Connell at the Irish bar, were never King's Counsel. Brougham and Denman were refused silk gowns by Lord Eldon owing to the implacable hostility of George IV. O'Connell, although the head of the Irish bar, was refused a silk gown after the carrying of the Catholic emancipation act, which was in large measure the result of his exertions. Subsequently they all obtained patents of precedence, O'Connell's patent giving him precedence immediately after the Irish law officers of the Crown. They were, strange to say, Queen's Council. Brougham and Denman re Attorney-General and Solicitor-General to Queen Caroline, and O'Connell was the Irish Attorney-General. On the death of the Queen they resumed their stuff gowns and practised at the Outer Bar. The 'Law Reports' of the time noticed this fall in rank of Brougham and Denman, who, they record, 'appeared in less distinguished robes.'

A Pretty Custom.

Princess August Wilhelm, wife of the Kaiser's fourth son, has set herself the task of reviving one of Germany's oldest customs, that according to which newly wedded couples immediately after the marriage ceremony plant a couple of oak saplings side by side in a park or by a roadside of their native town.

The town of Mulchausen, in Thuringia, is the first to respond to the Princess's appeal. A municipal official appears at the church door after every wedding and invites the bride and bridegroom to drive with him in a carriage to a new road near the town and there plant oak saplings.

The tree planting idea was started by a former rector of Brandenburg with the object of repairing the ravages caused by the Thirty Years' War. The elector forbade young persons to marry until they had planted a number of fruit trees.

Royalty In a 'Bus.

In these democratic days, when a royal personage, as I once heard a country girl say of the late King, 'walks about just like a gentleman'—or a lady, it is interesting to note a quaint little story in the current number of that useful magazine, 'National Health.' Referring to the desirability of travellers by tube railways and other popular means of conveyance being particular about cleanliness in their dress and habits, the writer says:

'Lords and laborers must travel side by side. Not very long since we ourselves saw the Duchess of Argyll riding in a Hammersmith bus, and her Royal Highness was so familiar with such conveyance that when she reached Kensington Palace, the conductor being engaged in collecting fares, she herself gave the correct pull to the bell to notify the driver to stop.

Bocker—Yes, and I don't know which has the better yell.

IN THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD.

DISCOVERING AFFECTING CLAY ROADS

By Using Pottery Methods a Smooth and Dustless Road Can Be Made.

A roadmaking discovery, which, if the claims made for it can be substantiated, is of national importance, has been made by an Ontario man, who for some time has been residing in the west. The discovery has been submitted to the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Like many other important inventions, it is a by-product of another. The inventor was interested in the pottery trade, and produced and patented a compound intended to temper clay for the manufacture of brick, tile, and other products. Its effect is to overcome the alkali, which to a greater or less extent is present in all clays. As alkali is responsible for cracking in drying and checking and melting in firing, a saving of waste is made, and firing may be proceeded with more rapidly when the danger of melting is eliminated.

When he got this length the potter began to experiment on the effect of the treatment of clay roads. After experimenting he asserts that a relatively inexpensive treatment of a clay road would transform such a road into a smooth, noiseless, and dustless one that would not absorb moisture and would therefore give forth no mud. The effect of the compound is to close the pores, and one treatment would last for years.

Uncovering an Ancient City

One of the most remarkable discoveries in connection with exploratory work on the sites of ancient cities is reported from Africa where the ancient Ethiopian capital Meroe has been partially uncovered. The first modern knowledge of these ruins was gained in 1772, but it is only within the last year that real exploratory work has been carried on. Great temples, royal palaces, and public buildings have been restored to view and the value of the gold recovered alone is said to be almost equal to the cost of the expedition. Tombs were found in the city of an unknown type. These were securely cemented down and for a long time they baffled the excavators. At last a plan was devised for opening the tombs and thousands of vases were brought to light, as many as thirty or forty being found in a single chamber. Some of these were of thin pottery decorated with paintings in colors. Tombs of soldiers were found to contain weapons of iron, and in a few cases the frame of a decayed wooden bed could be traced. In all cases the vases and dishes seemed to have contained drink and food when first placed in position.

A HOME MADE ELECTRIC SIGN

One ingenious druggist uses some very effective electric signs of his own making.

He first secured some black, opaque paper. On this he drew the letters he wished to appear on the sign — then cut them out with a sharp knife. On the back of the cut-out letters he pasted colored transparent paper. Next he secured some heavy white glazed cardboard, cut it into strips and pasted it around the edge of the back paper, thus making a frame for it. This was then hung up in the shop and an electric light placed behind it.

The cut out portion was thus prominently displayed in letters of fire, being readable at a considerable distance. Several of these signs with the display letters of each in different colors make a very effective display and rivet the customer's attention.

A sign of this nature does the work of a more expensive one and can be made at small cost.

Iron Ore Resources of the World

The report of the International Geological Congres on iron ore gives the total amount of the actual known reserve of the world as 22,048,000,000 tons, of which 12,032,000,000 is in Europe, 9,855,000,000 in America, 260,000,000 in Asia, 136,000,000 in Australia, and 125,000,000 in Africa. Of the 22,468,000,000 tons of iron ore, the proportion of iron is 10,192,000,000 tons, of which 5,154,000,000, or more than half, is available from the 9,855,000,000 tons of iron ore in America.

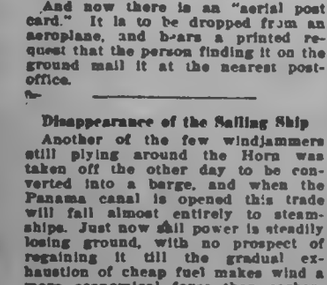
And now there is an "aerial post card." It is to be dropped from an aeroplane, and bears a printed request that the person finding it on the ground mail it at the nearest post-office.

Disappearance of the Sailing Ship

Another of the few windjammers still plying around the Horn was taken off the other day to be converted into a barge, and when the Panama canal is opened this trade will fall almost entirely to steamships. Just now sail power is steadily losing ground, with no prospect of regaining it till the gradual exhaustion of cheap fuel makes wind a more economical force than carbon. At present the sailing ships only keep what it is not worth while for steamships to take, but there are enough such odds and ends to keep the seas dotted with sails for a long time to come.

Burmese Ingenuity

Eastern ingenuity is often diverted into curious directions. The Burmese use a junk on the Irrawaddy, so rigged and with sails so secured that it can run only before the wind. It is particularly adapted to local conditions. As roads were till comparatively recent times, unknown in Burma, river navigation was of particular importance as a means of communication. Unusually there is considerable difficulty in ascending a river. This is not so on the Irrawaddy, for the winds blow almost constantly dead against the current.



WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

A SUCCESSFUL FINANCIER

An example of what well-directed brain power accompanied by energy, pluck and perseverance may accomplish is afforded by the remarkable advance of Mr. Edward Rogers Wood of Toronto. From a small beginning Mr. Wood has worked his way steadily upward and onward until he is now general manager of two leading Canadian financial institutions, the Central Canada Loan & Savings Co., and the Dominion Securities Corporation. Besides this he is vice-president of the National Trust Company, and a director of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, the Canadian Bank of Commerce, the Western Assurance Company, the Canada Life Assurance Company, the Sao Paulo Tramway, Light & Power Company; the Mexican Light and Power Company, and other important corporations and industrial undertakings. Not a bad achievement, certainly, for a man only forty-five years of age who started life as a telegraph operator. But then was not his father Irish and was he not born in Peterboro', two facts over which he had no control but which have evidently had their effect in guiding this successful financier to fortune and a foremost place in the commercial life of Canada.

Mr. E. R. WOOD, Toronto.

Mr. Wood is a most enthusiastic supporter of the Y. M. C. A. and is President of the Toronto Association.

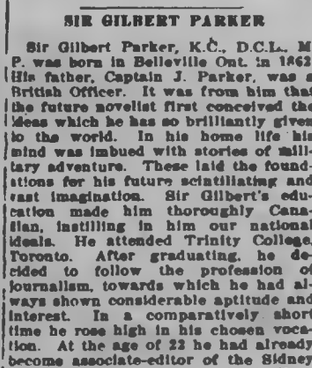
His home is at Queen's Park, Toronto.

SIR GILBERT PARKER

Sir Gilbert Parker, K.C., D.C.L., M. P. was born in Belleville Ont. in 1862. His father, Captain J. Parker, was a British Officer. It was from him that the future novelist first conceived the ideas which he has so brilliantly given to the world. In his home life his mind was imbued with stories of military adventure. These laid the foundations for his future scintillating and vast imagination. Sir Gilbert's education made him thoroughly Canadian, instilling in him our national ideals. He attended Trinity College, Toronto. After graduating, he decided to follow the profession of journalism, towards which he had always shown considerable aptitude and interest. In a comparatively short time he rose high in his chosen vocation. At the age of 22 he had already become associate-editor of the Sidney Morning Herald, Sidney Australia.

Even such interesting and absorbing work as one has on a daily paper could not satisfy the latent novelist. Drawn by the lure of travel and adventure he visited and indeed studied the South Sea Islands, the Far East, Europe, Egypt and what he enjoyed the most Northern Canada. In his wanderings he found many of the leading ideas of his novels which have so won the admiration of the English speaking reader.

Although very prominent in the world of letters, Sir Gilbert Parker had not come before the world in general, prominently, until he intatest and organise the first Imperial Universities Conference in London in 1903.



SIR GILBERT PARKER

It is by his novels that Sir Gilbert Parker has won for himself such a high place in the affections of all Canadians. His works are very numerous and display a creative genius of distinguished ability. They are replite with origional ideas and character types, so skilfully portrayed, that they seem to live before the eye of the reader.

Amongst his novels dealing with Canadian life and people in most famous are the "Right of Way", the "Battle of the Strong" and the "History of Old Quebec."

Canada is indeed proud of her son who has done so much towards the intellectual advancement of his native land.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 196 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO, FRIDAY AUGUST 25 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Couldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

W. J. KERR, LIMITED,

Naples a Big City.

Rome, Aug. 23.—Results of the census taken in June, thus far made known, show the following approximate populations in four cities:—Naples, 750,000; Milan, 615,000; Turin, 429,000; Genoa, 240,000.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

RESCUED FROM GREEK BANDITS

Berlin, Aug. 23.—A despatch from Saloniki, Turkey, to-day, states that Dr. Edmund Richter, the German engineer who was captured by Greek bandits and held for a ransom of $225,000, has been rescued on the Greek frontier and is returning to Saloniki.

Dr. Richter was engaged in mapping on Mount Olympus in the wild frontier regions between Turkey and Greece under the auspices of a German geographical society when he fell into the hands of the brigands on May 25. The capture took place inside Turkish territory and his escort of Turkish Grenadiers were killed. Letters from Lalios, the bandit leader, demanding a ransom were delivered by Turkish villagers.

The German Government acted promptly and a small army of Turkish soldiers were sent in pursuit of the bandits. At the same time representatives of the German Government and of the Geographical Society scoured the Mountains, taking with them the gold for the ransom of the Doctor. For weeks the search was without result.

Recently news despatches stated that pursuit had been abandoned as it had been learned definitely that Richter was held in Tirnavos on Greek territory in the house of one Delyannis. The despatches also insisted that Dr. Richter had been captured not by ordinary mountain brigands, but by the "Greek National Society," and that the affair was an incident of the band warfare between irregular detachments of Greeks and Bulgarians.

The ransom, it was assumed, was destined to further the partisan warfare breaking out anew in Macedonia.

Choose Liberal to Oppose Gilbert.

Kingsey Falls, Que., Aug. 23.—A nomination of unusual interest took place yesterday afternoon, When the Liberals of Drummond-Arthabasca chose a candidate despite the fact that Mr. A. Gilbert had been a supporter of the Government on all issues since his famous election.

The straight Liberal convention was held yesterday at Kingsey Falls, when Mr. Ovide Brouillard was unanimously chosen to oppose Mr. Gilbert who is again in the field, this time as an Opposition candidate.

Mrs. McAllister wore a stunning gown of white marquisette embroidered in blue, with touches of black, while her sister, Miss Barnett, was charming in a hand embroidered white frock. The guest of honor looked very lovely in a pale pink satin with lace trimmings and large pink hat. In the dining room Mrs. Lawford Richardson poured tea from a daintily appointed table centred with a huge bowl of white sweet peas. Mrs. J. Gracey cut the ices and others assisting were Miss Briggs, Miss Corbould and Miss Josephine Martin. Mrs. McAllister also entertained at dinner on the same evening for Miss MacGowan and Mr. Ballock; covers were laid for ten, several additional guests coming in for bridge later. Miss Barnett of Renfrew, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Balmer McAllister, for the past six weeks, left for home on Tuesday afternoon.

OBITUARY

Josephus Giles.

It is with regret that we have to chronicle the death of Mr. Josephus Giles, an old and esteemed resident of North Monaghan, who passed away at his home "Fairview," yesterday morning at nine o'clock. During Mr. Giles' residence of over 40 years, in the township, he made himself universally respected and beloved by his many amiable qualities. Not only was he popular in the community in which he resided, but he was also well known and esteemed by hundreds in this city. He carried on a very successful business as market gardiner and thus came in contact with many people. He was sixty years of age, and was born in Cobourg. When he was only one year old, his parents moved to Peterborough, where Mr. Giles resided for over twenty years, finally moving to North Monaghan, where he permanently located. He was a member of the Christian Science Church.

He is survived by his wife and family of three sons and two daughters, George J., of Edmonton, Alta., Mrs. Jas. Akey, Peterborough, Miss Erminia, Clifton E. and Manson at home. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, at 2.30 o'clock to Little Lake cemetery. Service at the house at 2 p.m.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The A. O. F. Elect Officers and Transact Other Business.

The following officers were elected by the High Court of Foresters now in session here :

H.C.R.—E. Ramsay, Montreal.
H.S.C.R.—W. R. Woodstock, Toronto.
H.C.R.—H. C. Wilson, Toronto.
H.C.M.E.—Dr. L. Seacourt, Brantford.
H.C.S.W.—A. Webber, Winnipeg.
H.C.J.W.—A. Martin, Hamilton.
H.C.S.B.—H. McPherson, London.
H.C.J.W.—J. R. McWilliams, Peterborough.
Auditor—F. Abbott, Meaford.

The discussion of the report of the committee of the state of the Order, was resumed this morning. The Chief Ranger suggested that the books of the Order be examined when necessary. This suggestion was unanimously adopted. It was also decided to appoint a representative at Winnipeg to take charge of the work in the Western Provinces.

The election of the Laws and Judiciary Committee and the selection of the next meeting place of the High Court took place yesterday afternoon.

A number of Toronto and other delegates, who are staying at the Montgomery House, say it is one of the most patriotic hotels in town, it being the only one to raise the Union Jack.

Bro. W. J. Vale, P.H.C.R., withdrew his resignation as chairman of the committee and the following members were elected : W. J. Vale, Toronto ; W. Douglas, Owen Sound; J. Hoggarth, Hamilton; W. Richards London; H. Chick, Toronto.

London, Ont., was selected as the next place of meeting by a large majority over Brantford and Toronto.

During the counting of ballots, the discussion of the committeesreport on State of the Order, was resumed, the High Chief Ranger speaking on the advisability of appointing inspectors to examine court books, where and whenever necessary. The suggestion carried.

The recommendation of the Finance committee that the management try to raise to meet the necessary expenses of the organization department, was carried.

Mrs. Rookwood, High Chief Companion, Companions of the Forest, visited the High Court, and was introduced by S.H.C.R. elect Woodstock, and met with a most cordial reception. In well chosen phrases she extended the hearty greetings of the C.O.F. and bespoke for it the assistance (not financial) encouragement of the A.O.F. At the conclusion of her remarks she presented Supt. of organization, F. G. Batt, with a badge of honor, in recognition of the services that he had rendered thereunder.

At the opening of the afternoon session, Chief of Police Thompson, and Chief of the Fire Brigade Howard paid the High Court a visit and on behalf of the city officials presented High Chief Ranger elect Ramsay with a beautiful silk Union Jack. In a very pretty speech, Bro. Howard (both chiefs are members of the Order) stated that the presentation was made in order to remove any wrong impressions as to the loyalty of the City of Peterborough, whose residents he assured them, were thoroughly British and loyal.

The H.C.R. elect in accepting the beautiful flag, expressed his sincere pleasure in doing so, and in return presented both gentlemen with the Honor Badge of the Order.

Bro. Williams, S. Sec'y, was granted a well deserved three months leave of absence amid enthusiastic cheering of the delegates. The appointment of District Chief Rangers resulted as follows :

District No. 1—W. Faisy, Halifax, N.S.
No. 2—No recommendation.

The recommendation of the Finance Committee that $100.00 be paid to the organization of each new court in the North West, subject to the approval of the executive council was adopted.

The recommendation to abolish the Laws and Judiciary Committee was defeated after considerable debate.

The report of the Laws and Judiciary Committee is now under consideration.

MR. STRATTON AT FRAZERVILLE.

Is Accorded a Good Reception by the Electors.

The meeting held last night at Frazerville in the interests of the Hon. J. R. Stratton was largely attended, people driving in for miles around. Mr. Stratton was, as usual, in the best of spirits, and delivered one of his telling speeches, which reached the hearts and conscience of his large and appreciative audience. The points brought out were so clearly defined and so well put that they were easily understood. The reciprocity issue, taken from a farmer's standpoint, was splendidly demonstrated by Mr. Stratton as well as by the other speakers present.

Mr. Stratton reminded his audience of the service which he had given the people of South Monaghan in the past, and how he had been the means of improving the shipping facilities on the river by the construction of wharves. He had always done his best for them, and he asked in return that they would give him their support on the present occasion.

Mr. Stratton's address was frequently punctured with applause. Other speakers followed, after which cheers were given for the King and for Mr. Stratton.

HUNDREDS TURNED AWAY

had it not been for the Conservative members in the House the Laurier Government would have passed the reciprocity measure by a temporary parliamentary majority. "We stood for the rights of the Canadian people," said the speaker, amid deafening applause.

Growth of Canada.

In passing the Conservative Chieftain touched upon the growth of Canada's prosperity during the last 50 years and praised the early Canadians for the manner in which they had built up a United Canada, despite the obstruction of the people to the South. There was a time in Mr. Borden's opinion when Canada would have done very well with reciprocity. This was before they had the great home market, however ; before they had the British market to take their supplies. When the United States threw down the gauntlet to Canada in 1866, Canada, not in a fighting spirit, but with faith and confidence, picked it up, and since accomplished a work of nation building which in the world's history has never been equalled. "Canada has triumphed," asserted Mr. Borden, as his hearers applauded : "and in the face of discouragement has grown so that she is now recognized as a power that has to be reckoned with."

The speaker dealt with the arguments put forth by Sir Wilfrid Laurier regarding the markets of the United States being opened to Canada and in this connection pointed out that it was impossible to sell products in a market where there was already a surplus of the same products. The Liberal Ministers, Mr. Borden said, were becoming slightly twisted in their arguments. One was telling his hearers that reciprocity would reduce the prices of foodstuffs in favor of the laboring man. Another in a different section of the country was telling his hearers that the prices to the farmer would be increased. "This is a most remarkable agreement if it can do both these things," the Chieftain jokingly remarked.

Liberal Tactics.

In tones that showed his utter contempt for the campaign tactics of the Liberal party, Mr. Borden referred to the fact that many Liberal speakers are attempting to raise class against class and interest against interest ; trying to instill into the minds of the farmer that the man in the industrial life is his enemy, and that there is a divergence of interest between the two. The former, Mr. Borden thought was being taught that to close up the factories and to send the Canadian workingman abroad was to benefit him.

"The interests of the farmer and the interests of the working man are one," said the speaker.

Speaking of the words used by Mr. Taft, who said that Canada was at the parting of the ways, Mr. Borden said that on different occasions he had asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier to give his conception of what Mr. Taft meant, but as yet he had heard no explanation from the premier. Mr. Taft, in the opinion of the speaker, did not use those significant words without meaning. Canadians knew one path, that of the past, and looking out along it, they could see closer co-operation of the Dominions and of the Motherland. This was one of the two ways that Mr. Taft meant. What was the other ? The speaker also pointed to Mr. Taft's statement when he said that the tie binding Canada to the Motherland was light and almost imperceptible and that unless the reciprocity treaty was consummated there would soon be an Imperial bond of trade reaching from England around the world to England again. Taft knew that Canada was bound to form a part in this Imperial bond and he also knew that if the bond was ever to be broken, it must be broken now.

More Power to Trusts.

In Mr. Borden's opinion reciprocity would simply add to the power of the American Trust. When our tariff wall was raised he said the power of the American Trust was broken. The reciprocity pact, he believed, exposes the Canadian farmer to the competition of the world in what he sells and he still has the same old taxation on what he buys. The farmers, he said, have just as much right to have a home market as the manufacturer.

In closing Mr. Borden spoke of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement that the annexation bug was beneath the serious thought of sane people, and that the Conservative party doubted the loyalty of the Canadian people.

"If we did we would never have forced Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Government to appeal to the people," declared the speaker amid great applause. "We believe that the people of this Dominion will stand behind us. In the opinion of the speaker the Conservative party had done its duty The decision he said, was with the people and the question as to what Canada will be or will not be rests with them. "I love the British flag, were the speaker's closing words "and may it please God to have it wave over us forever." (Cheers.)

MR. ANDREW BRODER, M.P.

Mr. Andrew Broder, M.P., of Dundas, was irresistibly humorous, but his witty address was found to be exceedingly applicable to the issues at stake. He characterized the reciprocity pact as a measure hatched in a foreign nest and warned Canadians against raising the bird. Of course, he said, a 90 million is a good market to have in sight if they are all hungry, which is not the case. He figured that of the 90 million American people, 31 million are farmers and dependents ; 20 million live adjacent to farms, 30 million live in the Southern States, of which six millions are colored. This he argued would leave Canada with but a market of 9 million to cater to.

The original treaty with the States cannot be taken, he offered, as a safe criterion for a satisfactory working of the present reciprocity pact. Conditions were different then. From '54 to '56 a Russian war was in progress, which of course, boosted wheat up to $2 and $2.50 a bushel, sold to the Empire. With the termination of that war, however, there was ushered into Canada and the States the greatest financial panic we have ever known. Then came the American civil war from '61 to '65, which again produced an era of prosperity for the Canadian people. He warned his audience that by the proposed treaty Canadians would lose the identity of their products, the best of which would be converted by the States into finished commodities and branded as American. Keep, he urged, your distinctive place in the markets. As to prices, the States have 49 million hogs and Canada three million, whose hogs are going to rule the price. Hundreds of thousands of American eggs come into Canada in one month—because they are cheaper here according to the Globe's arguments. (Laughter). Again, why should we give Americans $6 worth of pulp wood, out of which to make $40 worth of paper ? Can't we make that $40 here ? And does the same principle apply to all Canadian raw material ? Of course, admitted the speaker, it is good to be on friendly relations with the States, but the safest way to keep their respect and friendship is to have no entanglements.

In conclusion of a lengthy speech, replete with humorous anecdotes Mr. Broder contended that Sir Jas. P. Whitney had given Ontario the best Government it ever had, and he had every confidence in Mr. R. L. Borden doing likewise after September 21st.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, cheers and tigers for the distinguished visitors and speakers, and three good rousing cheers for the ladies, proposed by Mr. Borden.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

25 KILLED, 50 INJURED IN WRECK AT MANCHESTER

LEHIGH VALLEY TRAIN, A DOUBLE HEADER, RAN OFF AT MANCHESTER, N.Y.

Left Buffalo Early Yesterday—Doctors Rush to the Scene—Left the Track Near a Bridge.

Manchester, N.Y., Aug. 25.—It is reported that four cars on train No. 4, eastbound, were derailed on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Manchester, Ontario County, this afternoon, and that many passengers were killed and injured.

The first report said that 25 persons had been killed and that double that number had been injured. Doctors and wrecking trains have been sent to the scene.

The train is said to have been well filled among the passengers being a number of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, who have been attending the annual encampment in this city.

The train tore down the telegraph wires seriously interfering with communication, and it was some time after the accident took place that news of it reached the city.

A telephone message from Canandaigua reports 25 killed and 50 injured. The train jumped the track near a bridge, which spans Canandaigua outlet in the heart of the village of Manchester. The accident occurred at 12.30.

A DOUBLE HEADER.

The train which was wrecked, was the Black Diamond Express and was made up of fourteen cars. It left Buffalo at 8 o'clock this morning. All of the cars were filled and, because of the heavy traffic, the train was double headed with two engines attached.

The latest report received says that four of the cars went over the bridge, which is east of Manchester, and that they were badly shattered by the drop. The railroad officials are rushing nurses and doctors and nearby farm houses are being transformed into temporary hospitals.

A long distance telephone message said that four of the cars left the track and ran about 80 feet down an incline to a pump house on the creek bank. The bed of the stream is about 18 feet below the tracks. The stream is dry during the summer months.

TWENTY-THREE KILLED, TWENTY-NINE INJURED

Posen, Prussia, Aug. 25.—A newspaper here prints a report that twenty-three persons were crushed to death and fifty-nine injured by the falling of a church at Vinlew, near Wongrowitz, during a service. There is no confirmation of this report.

BIG WARSAW MEETING.

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., Holds Record Meeting at Warsaw.

A big and enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Mr. J. A. Sexsmith was held last night in Warsaw town hall, which was crowded to the doors. The farmers of East Peterborough gave their representative a rousing reception and applauded the remarks of the speakers to the echo as point by point was made against the government and against reciprocity.

Mr. Haughton Lennox, one of the chief lights of the Opposition, and member for East Simcoe, was present, and gave a vigorous address of about an hour. He dealt with the matter of the Grand Trunk Pacific scandals, the over classifications, on which he is an authority, and with the Oliver $69,000 campaign fund scandal. He told about the revelations that Oliver had in the last election received $69,000 in a campaign fund from some United States source. Where did it come from?

Mr. Lennox told of the hasty dissolution of the house, so hasty that even the Liberal members of parliament did not know, that it was coming. The distinct pledge of the government had been violated by this hasty dissolution, decided on at a cabinet meeting, at which it was admitted there was a warm quarrel. Why was the house so suddenly brought to an end? Was not the Laurier government afraid that the Oliver investigation on the succeeding Tuesday would create a sensation? Did it not decide that it was better to spring a dissolution on even the Liberal members, rather than risk the exposure of tremendous importance it feared would come first?

Mr. Lennox dealt with the national aspect of the reciprocity agreement, with the high-handed attempt of the Laurier Government to force the pact on the country, reversing its fiscal policy, without even the consent of the Liberal members of parliament. He told of the determination of the opposition that the people should have an opportunity of voting on it, and said that if Canada settled down to free trade with the United States, it was settling down to a continentalism that must bind this country to the United States for all time, because we would not be free to reverse that policy when the United States found it working so well.

Mr. Sexsmith made a strong speech full of practical points for the consideration of the farmers. He handled reciprocity from purely the economic side, showing that the letting down of the bars would simply open the good Canadian market to a flood of cheap American products, besides letting in free the products of many other countries that Canada could not compete with—countries like Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Sexsmith showed where, in spite of a duty, a train load of Australian butter was dumped into Canadian markets this spring. He showed where 200,000 dozen eggs were brought in in April and March, in spite of the duty. He showed how it would be possible for the American farmer with his greater resources, and his cheaper production, to undersell the Canadian, and in a free trade market, as conditions are now, the Canadian farmer was going to lose, and lose heavily. Mr. Sexsmith dealt in most emphatic manner with many questions arising out of the reciprocity pact, and his points appealed in striking manner to the farmers. Being a farmer himself, and knowing exactly what he is talking about, and not relying merely on newspaper price quotations, but using government statistics, Mr. Sexsmith is proving to the East Peterborough farmers at least that the Rich American market will really, in practice, mean a rich Canadian market for the Americans and other outsiders.

The meeting was closed by James Thomeson, M.L.A., who dealt in an able way with the adverse features of reciprocity. The chairman was Michael Barr, and the audience sat listening eagerly until the close of the meeting after eleven o'clock.

By motion the thanks of the High Court were given to Bro. F. J. Batt, Supt. of Organization, for his strenuous efforts to advance the interests of the Order.

It was also ordered that in future the reports of the various district Chief Rangers, must be in the hands of the Permanent Secretary not later than July 15th, preceding the date of the High Court meeting in order that they may be placed in the hands of the delegates with the other reports.

ONLY ONE FAMILY AFFECTED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I have no doubt that it is your desire that your columns should carry the news to your readers in a form as nearly correct as possible.

The statement in your issue of a few days ago, that "Typhoid fever exists to an alarming extent in Lakefield" is, however, hardly borne out by the facts, as any typhoid that exists here is confined to one dwelling.

In a community the size of Lake field, with its large traffic of tourists going and coming, it is not surprising that a few cases of fever will develop occasionally.

We are not unmindful of the importance of proper care and attention to the public health in this connection, but think that in fairness to Lakefield, your readers should know the true condition of things. I remain,

Yours truly,
E. A. Tanner,

Reply—The Times is only too pleased to publish the above letter. The information regarding the prevalence of typhoid fever in Lakefield came to us from a source that we regarded at the time as reliable.—Ed. Times.

The instructions to M. Cambon contain, according to an earlier announcement, the maximum terms which France will offer to Germany in order to reach a settlement.

IMPORTANT BEARING.

The council convened at 10 o'clock under the presidency of the Premier, and immediately began a consideration of the instructions which had been submitted to President Fallieres at Rambouillet yesterday by the Premier.

The Ministers entered the Cabinet room at the Ministry of the Interior in a spirit of much gravity, for it had been felt throughout the week that the decision of the Cabinet today would have a serious import for France.

The session of the council lasted for two and a half hours, and adjourned to meet on Aug. 31st at Rambouillet under the presidency of President Fallieres.

NOT AN ULTIMATUM.

Although the instructions cannot be regarded as suggesting an ultimatum yet an important step has been taken toward a rupture or an accord depending upon how the German Government receives the proposals.

The instructions endeavor to phrase the French conception of Germany's position in Morocco and authorize Ambassador Cambon to offer specific parts of French Congo in exchange for the absolute recognition by Germany of French rights in Morocco.

It may take a long time for either side to say the last word in negotiations such as these, but should they be interrupted after Ambassador Cambon re-opens the discussion in writing with Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter, the German Minister of Foreign Affairs, a new International conference might follow or a long period of strain and suspence in which neither power did anything except glare at each other.

SOUND OF MUSKETRY.

Both France and Germany are carrying on war preparations, and each power appears willing that the other should know it. Doubtless as a diplomatic manoeuvre there is a little rattling of the sabre to show mutual earnestness.

Nevertheless in a time of tension such as this was must be among the contingencies considered by statesmanship. The word "war" is used more frequently this week in the conversation of serious Frenchmen than it had been used in any previous period since 1906. Generally it is used interrogatively in the sense that "Can it be possible that we must fight?" and "Is Germany pushing us into war?"

JURORS SAY GIRL WAS MURDERED

Beamsville, Aug. 25.—The inquest into the death of Edna Comfort and her son, Roland, whose bodies were found in the reservoir some time ago, was resumed here yesterday afternoon and a verdict of murder was brought in by the jury. Provincial Detective Miller has been working hard day and night on the case, but in spite of his efforts the evidence brought to light as yet does not disclose the guilty parties.

GERMAN WILL STICK TO HIS GUNS

Welland, Ont., Aug. 25.—Wm. M. Munroe, Conservative nominee for the Dominion Parliament, announced to the Conservative party leaders this morning that he had decided to withdraw his name as the Conservative candidate. This means that there will be no Conservative in the field.

It is learned that W. M. German has decided to stick to his anti-reciprocity guns at the Liberal convention to-day. This likely means that the election will be between Mr. German and another Liberal.

DUKE'S VISIT TO UNCLE SAM.

Likely to Take Place Next February, Says English Paper.

Birmingham, Aug. 25.—The London correspondent of the Birmingham Daily Post wires that the Duke of Connaught is likely to pay an official visit to the United States of America which would please both the American and Canadian Governments. He will not be limited to Washington, but will visit several great industrial centres. The visit will probably take place next February.

Grief Led to Suicide.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 25.—Antli Lentoe, Finlander, committed suicide in his home on Watson street yesterday. His wife died very suddenly about noon and grief over her death caused him to suicide an hour later.

AFTER THE 57TH BAND

The 57th Regimental Band has been asked to fill another week's engagement at Scarboro Beach, commencing September 3rd. This is a very flattering compliment to bandsman Gliddon and his men, and further goes to show that this musical organization is one of the best in Canada. The 57th Band filled a week's engagement at Scarboro Beach last month and made a decided hit with the Toronto citizens and visitors to the Beach, and the press spoke in glowing terms of the efficiency of the band.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance.

VIOLENT CIRCULAR AGAINST VACCINATION.

League Begins a Strenuous Campaign in Montreal—Police Interfere.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 25.—"Citizens, awake, awake,

"Refuse to be vaccinated.

"Your health and your liberty are imperilled."

Fifty thousand circulars bearing the above heading in bold type over a startling warning against the evils of vaccination are now being distributed broadcast through the city. They represent the opening volley fired by the newly-formed Anti-Vaccination League of Canada in the war which they have declared on vaccination in Montreal.

Chief of Police Campeau has given orders that the circulars be suppressed and this morning he instructed all his men to arrest anyone found distributing the leaflets.

The officers of the league, however, claim that they are within their rights in distrubting the circulars.

The local police chief claims that the circulars, which is in both French and English, is liable to inflame the minds of the more ignorant citizens and cause disturbances.

MR. BORDEN AT HASTINGS

ADDRESSED APPRECIATIVE ASSEMBLY FROM VERANDAH OF HIS HOTEL.

Received Hearty Cheers—With Fiscal Independence Gone, There Will be No Holding of Political Affiliations.

Hastings, Ont., Aug. 25.—Mr. R. L. Borden addressed a large company of citizens and farmers from the verandah of the Royal Hotel here this morning while en route to Warkworth where he speaks this afternoon.

To the accompaniment of hearty cheers, Mr. Borden asked his hearers to view the reciprocity pact as an infringement on Canadian prededent and an unsafe and positively dangerous experiment.

"When your commercial and fiscal independence is gone," he said, "you can rest assured there can be no withholding of your political affiliation."

HAZARDOUS VENTURE.

Mr. Borden spoke of the success in building up a prosperous nation under the policy of protection, and asked what possibility of benefit could accrue from a hazardous venture into free trade.

The aim of the United States as expressed by the President was to withhold Canada from the Imperial family of nations, and no other meaning than that could be adduced from the American interpretation of the pact. Mr. Borden asked the ladies present if they cared to exchange the ideals of citizenship prevailing in Canada for those of the country to the south. He was roundly cheered as he departed in an automobile for Warkworth.

RAN DOWN A STEAMER

German Battleship Hessen Sinks a Swedish Steamer—All Rescued.

Kiel, Germany, Aug. 25.—The German battleship Hessen while executing manoeuvres with a torpedo boat flotilla in the outer bay last night, ran down and sank the small Swedish steamer Askersund. The crew of the steamer was rescued and no one was hurt. The battleship was not damaged.

ADMISSION: Afternoon 5. Evening 10c.

THE VESSEL APPARENTLY WENT DOWN WITH CAPTAIN VENT AND HIS WIFE, WHO LEFT FAMILY OF FOUR.

A Sailor Also Left Four Children—Little Hope Left—Captain Dean's Story of Disaster.

Midland, Aug. 25.—Capt. Vent and his wife, who it is believed were drowned with eight men on the tug Albatross, leave four children. Charles Oliver, another of the victims, leaves four children. A few persons are clinging to the hope that the tug went ashore on some island, and having no yawl, the crew are unable to make their plight known, and must await the succor that will come later on. This view of the situation, is however, hardly borne out by the facts as known. The Martin had in tow, in a tremendous sea, a big barge and the barge sprung a leak and foundered, sinking so quickly that those on board the tug had no time to cut the tow line, and thus save their craft from being dragged down with her consort.

CAPTAIN DEAN'S STORY.

The story of Captain Dean, master of the barge Albatross, is to the effect that the tug was laboring fearfully, with lights out, and that the distance which separated the craft, 250 feet, was too great for communication, even with the megaphone, so loud was the roar of the tempest. He tried in vain to signal the tug before he and his fellows on board the sinking barge climbed into their little yawl and cut adrift. Into this 13 foot boat, a mere skiff, seven people piled, braving a sea running mountains high. With but two oars and they not mates, with only a frail girl using a tin pail to bail, the seven weathered the furious gale and were saved. The staunch little tug built to stand a sea, new and well equipped and manned, was, it is believed, not equal to the fury of the storm, and sank into the depths, blotting out nine or ten lives. A yawl from the tug was later found floating and was the means of saving those on the Albatross as their own yawl was over-loaded.

NEW RACE IN ARCTIC

New York, Aug. 25.—A race of people who had never before beheld a white man or an Indian has been discovered in the Arctic regions of British Columbia by Vilhjmar Stefansson, leader of the American museum scientific expedition which left here April 1906, according to a letter received from him in Brooklyn to-day.

NEVER SAW A WHITE MAN.

In his letter, which is dated "Mouth of the Dease River, Oct. 18, 1910," and is the first intelligence received from the party within a year Stefansson says:—"It doesn't look on the map that we have done much, we have had predecessors in Delphin and Union Straits—ours is merely the first winter journey and the first land journey. Ethnologically, we have done something, however, and geographically, too, for we have discovered people in a region supposed to be uninhabited and have lived a few months among people who had never seen a white man or an Indian (though they had heard of both) and did not even know I was an Eskimo—so little were they informed on what white men are like. We have discovered Eskimo (in speech and habits) who are Scandinavians in appearance.

A GREAT MYSTERY.

"This find is the beginning of the solution of one of two problems:—"What became of some of Franklin's men?" What became of the three thousand Scandinavians who disappeared from Greenland in the fifteenth century?"

DIFFERENT TYPES.

"Or, if neither of these questions is to be answered, then we have introduced a new problem of scientific interest: Why do some of the people of Victoria Land differ markedly from the rest of their race? Why are they so European in type?

"Besides this discovery, which was a chance happening, we have done our routine work as well as we could. We have discovered no large, unknown rivers, but we have discovered the non-existence of a stream which the maps make the size of Hudson river—when the River La Ronciere disappears from the map I shall feel I have done some house-cleaning.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industtial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA :

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of th a growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI

Archbishop Bruchesi's name will always be associated with the Eucharistic Congress of 1910 as it was through this exertions this great display of Roman Catholic zeal and power was held for the first time on the American continent. When the carrying of the Host through the streets of London in connection with the Eucharistic Congress of 1908 was prohibited by the British Authorities, Mgr. Bruchesi asked that the Congress of 1910 be held in Montreal so that

Mgr. PAUL BRUCHESI,
Archbishop of Montreal.

the world might see the public exhibition of the central element of Catholicism on British soil. His request was granted and the Archbishop worked with might and main for two years collecting funds and making other necessary preparations for a big demonstration of the loyalty of French-Canadian Catholics to their Church In this he was successful and the Eucharistic Congress held at Montreal in September 1910 was a gorgeously spectacular affair on which a huge sum was spent.

The Province of Quebec is the most Catholic part of North America and the official church authorities with the many religious orders in the provinces control a vast amount of valuable property. Church building and the establishment of Catholic schools and religious houses has been very active during recent years, but the province has not made anything like the industrial and commercial progress the other parts of Canada have been making. In fact, though the oldest part of Canada, the longest settled, and the nearest to Europe, besides possessing great natural resources, it is regarded as the most backward of all the provinces.

Right Rev. Mgr. Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, is of Italian descent on his father's side and French-Canadian on the maternal side. He was born at Montreal in 1855 and appointed Archbishop in 1897.

PIONEER, NEWSPAPER PROPRIETOR AND NOVELIST

Robert Lorne Richardson is one of those lucky people who reached Winnipeg in the early eighties. The first feint flushes of the great dawn which was so soon to rise on the vast unpeopled prairies of the Great West, were then making themselves visible to the far-sighted few who laughed to scorn the ominous predictions of nervous stay-at-homes and struck out towards the new lands the Canadian Pacific Railway was bringing within reach of the older world. There were many optimists amongst those plucky pioneers who turned their face from the old homesteads and cities of the East, westward to the Red River and the plains of Manitoba; but not one who looked with more hope and courage to the future than the young journalist from Toronto, who landed at what is now the third city of Canada, in 1882.

As Mr. Richardson's birth took place in 1860 he was not long out of his teens when he started for the West. He was born at Balderson, Lanark county, Ont., on a bright June day of that year and began his career as a newspaperman on the Montreal 'Star' at the age of eighteen. Two years later he went to the Toronto 'Globe' whence after a further period of two years he removed to Winnipeg. He established the Winnipeg 'Tribune' in 1890 and is still editor and proprietor of that progressive and influential newspaper. He spent eight years in the House of Commons until defeated through the inevitable swing of the political pendulum in 1904. He is the author of two popular novels: 'Colin of the 9th Concession', published in 1903, and 'The Camerons of Bruce', published in 1906.

TOO HOARSE TO SPEAK

An American Doctor Tells of the Grand Results Achieved With "Nerviline."

"I had a patient with Quinsy that I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat, huskiness, throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well-known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon, and night Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by continuing the treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsilitis and similar conditions."

NERVILINE CURES QUINSY

Not a druggist or doctor who has examined the formula of Nerviline, who won't tell you how good it is—why it contains the best medicaments known to science and for general family use has no equal.

WHAT IS THE COST.

The answer to this question is that the cost of a Canadian Government Annuity depends upon four things: 1st, the age of the applicant; 2nd, the amount of Annuity required; 3rd, the age at which the Annuity is to commence; and, 4th, the plan on which the purchase is made. Tables which answer these questions have been published by the Department and may be had on application. Annuities are payable for life, but for a small additional payment may be guaranteed for a number of years certain, not exceeding twenty, so that should death occur before the guaranteed period expires the Annuity would be continued for the remainder of the twenty years to the Annuitant's legal representatives. By the latter plan the return of a specific sum is assured. Any other details of this important Annuity plan may be had on application to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa. $100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CANADA'S CONSUMPTION OF TIMBER.

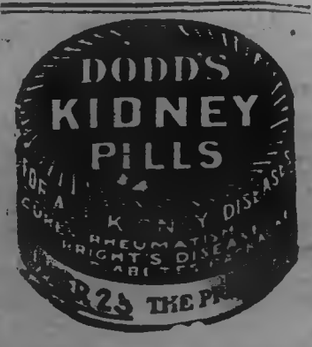
Big Increase in 1910

Statistics of the lumber purchases by furniture and car manufacturers in C in 1910, have been compiled the forestry branch of the department of the interior. 117,893,000 board feet of timber were used worth $2,987,210, at an average value of $15.26 per thousand.

Of this 65 per cent. was native wood at $20.82 per thousand while the imported wood cost $33.86 per thousand. Ontario was the principal consumer, using over 50 per cent. of the total amount. About one third was used in Quebec and the remaining 75 per cent. was consumed in Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island used a negligible quantity. The timber used in Ontario, both native and imported, was more expensive than in the other provinces, while Nova Scotia is a particularly cheap lumber province.

Yellow pine and oak are the most important species used by these industries, forming over one-third of the total consumption. It is regretable that all of the yellow pine and 95 per cent. of the oak has to be imported from the United States. Great credit will be due to any manufacturer who supplants these two species with native wood. However, the next ten species in importance, maple, birch, spruce, pine, basswood, elm, ash, beech doughs fir and hamlock are native woods and practically make up the remaining two-thirds of total consumption. Thirteen other species are used in small quantities.

Statistics of various industries thus collected are expected to be a benefit to private owner, timber seller and manufacturer by giving a better understanding of volume of business done, value of species and market.



IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

THE TELEPHONE LABORATORY

Something of the Wonders of Your Phone.

The casual user of the telephone who lifts off the receiver and talks to a friend miles away, has little idea of the wonders of telephony or of the labor necessary to maintain an up-to-date service.

The "telephone laboratory" is one of the busiest places in the world. It is here that the problems of telephony are worked out and means devised to improve and develop the system to meet future demands upon it.

Her any day one may see two experts in a room 15 or 20 feet wide and two or three times that length, talking with each other over circuits a thousand miles long. The equivalent of twenty miles of cable is contained in a box no bigger than an ordinary travelling bag, and 600 miles of pole line is represented by the contents of another box not as large as a dress suit case, while the entire apparatus at the central office, so far as it affects the individual subscriber's telephone line, is compressed into a couple of square feet.

With this equipment and two standardizing telephone instruments, conversations over hundreds of miles are carried on within the four walls of this laboratory, one of the workshops of the central engineering force of the system.

Every detail of a long distance circuit from the subscriber's phone at one end of the line to that at the other end, with all the central office and overhead and underground construction that connects them, is reproduced with scientific exactness. By these means new devices and apparatus are tested, proposed improvements investigated, and the scientific theories involved in transmission and operation worked out. This may be done for the purpose of studying some minor bit of mechanism, of determining, for instance, the relative merits of two forms of the relay coils which automatically work the signals on the switchboard, or of learning the effect on a conversation of having one sort of equipment at one end of the line and another sort at the other end, or for any of a hundred other purposes.

White Nile and Its Sudd

Sudd of the White Nile, which is to be manufactured into fuel, consists mainly of papyrus and 'um soof' reed, with masses of earth clinging to the roots. It accumulates in great blocks twenty feet thick, over which a man can walk. The effect of these blocks upon the river may be illustrated by the fact that when clearance operations were carried out after the fall of the Khalifax to the noval of one block alone brought the fall of the river above down by five feet in four days. When another burst the floating vegetable matter took thirty-six hours to pass a given point. One block removed later was seven miles long. It was found impossible to blow up the sudd, which was too elastic, so that the explosive only made holes in it. The method was to burn the surface matter, dig great trenches in the remainder and then tug with a steamer.

Siam's Exports of Birds' Nests.

The nests of a species of birds belonging to the family of swifts, and inhabiting the islands off the coast of Siam, are delicacies which the Chinese consider very fine in the making of soup. The demand for the nests in Hongkong so exceeds the supply that the prices range from $15 to 25 per pound, according to quality, while the average price for the total annual product is about $7 per pound.

The export of bird's nests from Siam during the last year amounted to 17,787 lb., valued at $19,848, most of which was used by the Chinese cities. The nests consist almost entirely of the salivary secretion of the birds, whose glands are much more developed than those of the ordinary swifts.

Sugar from Palm Trees.

The palm tree which yields wine and alcohol is now being looked to as a possible source of supply of sugar as well. Indeed, it is said, that in Cambodia $30,000 worth of sugar is produced annually from this source. As the palm will grow anywhere in the tropics, the tree may become an important element in the world's sugar supply.

SWARM OF BEES.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—A curious incident occurred here to-day, when a swarm of several thousand bees, supposed to belong to the Experimental Farm, attacked a grocery store owned by George Hopper, in the centre of the city, a couple of miles from the farm, and took possession.

Several children were stung, and business had to be suspended while the bees sampled everything sweet in the place. Rev. G. Watt Smith, of the First Congregational Church, who is himself an apiarist, finally succeeded in luring the visitors into a large box, solving the problem for the store keeper.

Speeding up the Telegraph Service

Anything that short-cuts communication quickens business. The telegraph companies have recently introduced two speed-giving improvements.

Belvidere Brooks, the new general manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, recently completed arrangements with the telephone companies whereby messages may be dictated over a telephone to the nearest telgraph office. The telegrams are charged up on the monthly telephone bills and collected by the telephone company; or if one is using a public station, the cost of the message is added to the fee for toll.

The new "lettergram" transmits fifty words at the old ten-word rate. The distinction from the telegram is that lettergrams are transmitted only at night and are delivered in the morning by telephone, by messenger or by mail. Since this innovation, the companies have had to increase their operators in every large city and lettergrams bid fair to supplant to some extent, the use of private codes, so reducing the liability to misinterpreted information or instructions.

The Earth's Core.

At a meeting of the Seismological Association at The Hague, Prof. Weichert asserted that his studies of the varrying velocity of earthquake tremors passing through the interior of the globe led to the conclusion that the earth consists of a central core of iron or steel about 5,580 miles in diameter surrounded with a stony shell 930 miles in thickness.

Between the outer solid rind and the inner layer of rock covering the metallic core he thinks there is a layer of liquid or plastic material lying a little less than twenty miles below the surface of the earth.

New York to Paris by Aeroplane

Recent successful flights by aeroplane from Paris to Madrid, and from Paris to Rome, have led the Springfield Republican to suggest that the next venture in this direction may be a flight from New York to Paris by way of Behring Straits and Siberia. If such a run is undertaken it will probably be by relays of aeroplanes with one covering the first stage in the journey, a second the next, and so on. It is pointed out that in the old days of the "pony express" across the great plains of the United States, before the building of railroads, some remarkable records were made by relays of riders, but that a team of aviators could do better still.

Tin in Rhodesia.

An expert is said to have discovered great deposits of tin near Salisbury, Rhodesia. It is, says a correspondent of the Standard of Empire, the desire of the owners to grant options over the ground rather than undertake development work themselves, and there is reason to believe that within a few weeks the whole of the ground may be taken over on option by leading Johannesburg houses.

New Zealand's Sulphur Island

One of the most extraordinary islands in the world lies in the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand. It is called White Island, and consits mainly of sulphur mixed with gypsum and a few other minerals. Over the island, which is about three miles in circumference, and rises between 800 and 900 feet above the sea, there continually flots an immense cloud of vapor attaining an elevation of 10,000 feet. In the centre is a boiling lake of acid charged water, covering fifty acres, and surrounded with blow holes from which steam and sulphurous fumes are emitted with great force and noise. With care a boat can be navigated on the lake. The sulphur from White Island is very pure, but little effort has yet been made to procure it systematically.

A new departure in the manufacture of the worumbo pele cloth is a plaid black, making it reversible, an innovation that promises to be successful.

Artificial Leather

A prize of 5,000 francs has been awarded to a Belgian inventor, Louis Gevaert, for an unusually superior artificial leather. The process consists in the more or less intimate impregnation of stout cloth with tannic albuminoid substances. Shoes made of this are said to possess not only the resitance and elasticity of natural leather, but its durability of wear. Moreover, they are much cheaper, costing, including manufacture, only 4 francs, (about 80 cents) and being sold at about 6 francs per pair.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest mone makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,

"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and on-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY, Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN, Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN, New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

SYDNEY BERNHEIM, New York, Bernheim & Loewenthal, Counsellors at Law.

JACOB RAPOPORT, New York, Jacob Rapoport & Co., Merchants.

HAMILTON KILGOUR, New York and London, England, Mining Engineer.

WARREN N. AKERS, Wilmington, Del.

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

DO YOU USE PILLS ?

IF IN DOUBT ABOUT THE RIGHT PILLS TO USE READ THE FOLLOWING LETTER CAREFULLY :

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity, as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating Pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills ; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

History of Conservatives and Other Efforts to Obtain Reciprocity

A correspondent writes to the Winnipeg Free Press :

"Can you tell me how many different pilgrimages have been made to Washington (both Conservative and Liberal), asking for reciprocity ; the persons who made them, and the different years. Is it true that Sir Charles Tupper at one time offered inducement to Washington by throwing in the Canadian fisheries ?"

The chronological record of the journeyings to Washington of Canadian public men to secure, if possible, the enactment of a reciprocity measure is given below ; also the parliamentary overtures with the same end in view :

1865. A. T. Galt, (Con.) visited Washington unofficially, and subsequently he and W. P. Howland went on an official mission, to secure, if possible, an extension of the reciprocity treaty, which had been denounced by the United States. It was in this year that the Canadian Government appealed to the Home Government to use its influence at Washington "to avert what would be regarded as a great calamity."

1868. A standing offer of reciprocity on the lines of the 1854 treaty, was incorporated in the first tariff law passed by the Dominion Parliament.

1869. Sir John Rose, (Con.) Finance Minister of Canada, went to Washington and tried, unsuccessfully, to negotiate a reciprocity treaty.

1870. Canadian tariff amended, but standing offer of reciprocity retained.

1871—Sir J. A. Macdonald, (Con.) on the occasion of the drafting of the Washington treaty, sought, unavailingly, to reopen the question of reciprocity.

1874. George Brown, (Lib.) went to Washington and negotiated a treaty in natural products and in a selected list of manufactures. Treaty rejected by the United States Senate.

1879. Standing offer of reciprocity incorporated in the National Policy (Con.) tariff. By this the Canadian Government took power to take off the duties on United States products by order-in-council in the event of the United States Congress doing likewise.

1888. Sir Charles Tupper, (Con.) went to Washington commissioned to negotiate a reciprocity arrangement, approaching as nearly as possible that of 1854. As a consideration Sir Charles offered all privileges enjoyed under the fishery articles of the Treaty of Washington. This would have opened the Canadian fishing waters to United States fishermen.

1891. Sir Charles Tupper, Sir John Thompson and Hon. George E. Foster (Con.) twice visited Washington. They made what Sir Charles described as "an unrestricted offer of reciprocity."

1893. Onofficial overtures. Sir John Thompson, (Con.) speaking in April, 1894, said he had taken occasion to let the United States know that Canada was prepared to negotiate a reciprocity treaty.

1894. Revision (Con.) of the tariff. Standing offer of reciprocity with the United States retained in a modified form.

1896. Unofficial discussion of trade matters by representatives of the Liberal Government.

1898. Unsuccessful attempt of the Joint High Commission, sitting first at Quebec and afterwards at Washington, to negotiate a reciprocity treaty.

Such is the record. It shows clearly enough that over a long period of years Canada was keen and the United States was reluctant, to enter into an arrangement for the interchange of natural products. The United States' position, which was stated repeatedly, was that the proposed interchange would operate almost wholly in the interests of Canada ; they, therefore demanded, as compensation, the access to the Canadian market for United States manufactures. This was the rock upon which practically all these negotiations split. Edward Pirritt, in his book, "Sixty Years of Protection in Canada," published as recently as 1908, said : "The American position has undergone no change since 1859. The United States Government has never varied from the position that if Canada desires reciprocity she must be willing to make concessions to American manufacturers."

The fact that reciprocity is now within reach of the people of Canada and with no concession to United States manufacturers, is due entirely to President Taft's repudiation of the historic United States policy. One has only to read the furious attacks in the United States Senate upon the agreement by the protectionist Republican senators to be convinced that the real Republican sentiment is as hostile to-day as it ever was to reciprocity in natural products only. Nothing but an astonishing succession of events made possible the offer which the United States now makes us. If we reject it, it is not probable the opportunity will recur within our lifetime.

The attitude of some Canadians now, is that, having at last, after half a century of delay, got the United States in the mood to make a trade agreement with us of the kind we have consistently urged, we should reject the proposition on the ground that there must be some sinister reason for the United States' change of mind. The suggestion is not reasonable nor business-like.

LONG CRUISE TO SEEK A DOCTOR

Steam Whaler Sebastian Voyages Five Days With Injured Japanese to Get Medical Assistance.

For five days the steam whaler Sebastian chased about the northern coast of British Columbia recently in search for a doctor. A Japanese employed at the whaling station at Rose Harbor, while sewing a patch brought back the needle with a jerk and poked it into his left eyeball. He was hurried on board the Sebastian and Capt. Anderson started for Bella Bella, where the nearest doctor was understood to reside. When the Sebastian arrived it was found that the doctor had gone off with the whites to the Rivers Inlet salmon canneries and his whereabouts on the inlet was uncertain. The Sebastian then started back to the islands, Capt. Anderson thinking to encounter the Princess Beatrice at Rose Harbor. The C. P. R. steamer was late and the Sebastian started off again. Then her propeller became loose and the injured Japanese was landed at Jedway. After five days of cruising a doctor was found at Queen Charlotte city and after receiving medical treatment the Japanese was sent south on the Princess Beatrice. Part of his eye has been removed.

Branch Banks Curtailing Loans in West.

Recent reports from the West indicate that the leading Canadian banks, with a view of getting ready to handle the bumper wheat crop that is expected, are curtailing their loans just as rapidly as possible. Such action has already caused quite a little disturbance at some points because it has affected real estate booms.

To say that the action of the banks has been decidedly unpopular throughout the Western country is to put it mildly, mainly because the majority of the people out there have got so accustomed to trading on other peoples' money that they fail to realize that the banks have the right to curtail their lines of credit.

During the next few weeks the action of the banks will likely cause a good deal of inconvenience, but, as they figure it out, it is more important for them at the present time to get ready to handle the actual needs of the Western country, even at the cost of a temporary setback to the land boom that has affected almost every section.

THE MINSTREL BOY DIES AT A GREEN OLD AGE

An aged wandering singer, rhymster and story teller, who was said to be a descendant of one famed in the days of minstrelsy, died recently in the hospital in County Meath, Ireland. He was the last of the old school of so-called poets who lived by story telling and verse making at farmhouse firesides. His name was Thomas Smith, and, according to report, one of his ancestors wore cap and bells and served as a jester to a prince. In his boyhood Smith, it is said, wore a faded doublet of alternating stripes of yellow and blue, which had been handed down to him as a relic of his great-grandfather's fame as a countryside funmaker.

His stories for the most part had to do with the fairies, and always presented the good fairy in the part of straightening tangles and easing the path to happy marriage. His visits throughout the country were made with scheduled regularity, and an evening with the poet was the occasion for a gathering of young folk. Like most poets he was not thrifty and died poor.

LUMBERMEN ORGANIZE

Consolidate All Coast Manufacturers' Associations—Presidents to Work Out Details.

At a recent meeting of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association a plan for the consolidation of all the lumber manufacturers' associations of the Pacific coast was ratified. The new organization will be formed from the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' association, the Southwestern Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association, and the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association and will be called the West Coast Lumber Manufactures' association. The presidents of the three associations are given to work out the details of the union. As a preliminary step in the uniting of these associations the executive committees of the Pacific coast and the Oregan & Washington associations lately reported that the inspection bureaus had been joined.

LONG ODDS FOR HIM.

J. W. Colt, the horseman, had a jockey who was sick. He told the boy to go to town to a certain doctor for some medicine.

When the jockey got back Colt asked him: "Did you go to that doctor?"

"No, sir. When I got there I found it said, 'Hours, one to two,' on his door."

"Well, what difference did that make?"

"Why, Mr. Colt just across the street there was another doctor that had on his door, 'Hours, twelve to one; and I took the long odds."

IN THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD.

SOME WONDERS IN NATURE

Being Driven Out of Paradise Has Been Man's Salvation.

I look out of my window and see the tide in its endless quest, racing up and racing down the river; every day, every night, the year through, for a thousand, for a million years it goes on, and no one is the wiser, yet the tides have played their part in the history of the globe.

But Nature's cradle keeps rocking after her child has left it. Only the land benefits from the rain, and yet it rains upon the sea as upon the land. The trees ripen their fruits and their nuts whether there is any creature to feed upon them, or any room to plant them or not. Nature's purpose (more anthropomorphism) embraces them all, she covers the full circle, she does not need to discriminate and husband her resources as we do.

The animals are so wise in their own way, such a success, without thought, yet so provocative of thought in us! They are rational without reason, and wise without understanding. They communicate without language and subsist without forethought. They weave and spin and drill and bore without tools, they traverse zones without guide or compass, they are cunning without instruction, and prudent without precept. Animal behavior is much more like the behavior of natural forces than is that of man: the animal goes along with Nature, borne along by her currents, while the mind of man crosses and confronts Nature, thwarts her, uses her, or turns her back upon herself. During the vast eons while the earth was peopled by the low orders alone, Nature went her way. But when this new animal, man, appeared, in due time Nature began to go his way, to own him as master. Her steam and her currents did his work, her lightning carried his messages, her forces became his servants.

Man's Mastery Over Nature.

Man's mastery over Nature has made him the victim of scores of diseases not known to the animals below him. The artificial conditions with which he has surrounded himself, his material comforts, his extra-natural aids and shields, have opened the way to the invasion of his kingdom by hosts of bacterial enemies from whose mischievous activities the lower orders are exempt. He has closed his door against wind and cold, and thereby opened it to a ruthless and invisible horde. Nature endows him with reason, and then challenges it at every turn. She puts a weapon into his hand that she has given to no other animal, and then confronts him with foes such as no other animal knows. He pays for his privileges. He has entered the lists as a free lance, and he must and does take his chances. For the privilege of fire, he pays in the hazard of fire; for the privilege of steam, he pays in the risk of steam; for knowing how to overcome and use gravity, he pays in many a deadly surrender to gravity. He shakes out his sail to the wind at the risk of the wind's power and fury. So always does the new gift bring new danger and new responsibilities.

Man is endowed and blessed above all other creatures, and above all other creatures is he exposed to defeat and death. But the problem is not as broad as it is long. The price paid does not always, or commonly, eat up all the profit. There has been a steady gain. Nature exacts her fee, but the service is more than worth it. Otherwise man would not be here. Unless man had been driven out of Paradise what would he have come to? The lower orders are still in the Garden of Eden: they know not good from evil: but man's evolution has brought him out of the state of innocence and dependence, and he is supreme in the world.

The Uses of old Rope.

Old rope, like old tin cans and other things generally considered as waste, has its special market and uses, and in every seaport the collecting and classifying of old rope is an important business. Rope covered with heavy applications of tar or graphite is even more valuable to-day for making oakum than lightly tarred material, while hemp rope with the original heavy coating of tar worn off by weathering is often used for bag paper. A small percentage of untarred hemp rope, used in its prime for hoisting and other such purposes, is being converted into cigarette paper in Europe. Scraps and waste from old tarred rope, and also old oakum removed from the seams of ships, are now used for making boards.

The Correct Time.

Professor Turner had been spending a vacation in Egypt to supervise the erection of a telescope at Helouan. Captain Lyons, who was in charge of the instrument, said that he had found that at noon every day a gun fired, and was anxious to know how the system worked. Accordingly, he interviewed the gunner and asked how he knew when to give the signal.

"Oh, I look at my watch," said the official.

"And how do you correct your watch?" asked the captain.

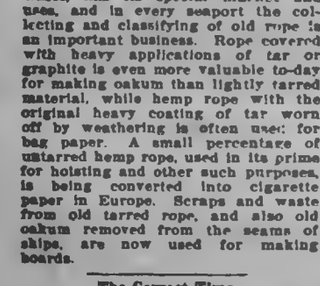
"I take it to the maker in Cairo and he tells me the error."

Forthwith Captain Lyons interviewed the watchmaker and asked him how he checked the error of the watch.

"I get the correct time from the gun," said that simple craftsman. And thus time was told in Egypt.

Importance of Bird Preservation

Dr. David Starr Jordan, President of the Audubon Society of California, has said: "I believe that the preservation of the bird is one of the most important matters of public interest claiming our attention, far outweighing in real import most of the questions upon which we spend our time and strength."



WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

Mr. H. B. AMES

Born in Montreal of American parents in 1863, few Canadians have shown a stronger desire to preserve this great Dominion as a self-governing nation within the British Empire, than Herbert Brown Ames, B.A., M.P.

Mr. Ames was first elected to the House of Commons as member for the St. Antoine division of his native city in 1906 and was re-elected at the general election of 1908. He had previously won distinction as a member of the Montreal City Council, bringing to bear on the duties of that office a spirit of enterprise and sense of public duty, combined with wisdom and foresight which have been distinguishing features of his career. Elected an alderman in 1898 he did not relinquish the office till his nomination to Parliament in 1906. As member of the Council of Public Instruction for the Province of Quebec, an office he has held for a number of years, Mr. Ames has been a distinct success, and his opinion and advice on Educational matters are eagerly sought.

In politics he is a Conservative and though born of American parents and educated in the United States, he is a powerful and unceasing advocate of keeping Canada Canadian in the broadest and best sense of the term. In the world of commerce he is best known as a director of the well known Ames-Holden Company, Limited, shoe manufacturers etc. of Montreal.

Mr. P. D. ROSS.

A name which has been prominent in Canadian journalism for many years is that of Mr. Philip Dansken Ross, B.A., better known as P. D. Ross, proprietor of the Ottawa Journal. Born of Scotch parentage in Montreal in 1858, Mr. Ross graduated from McGill University and entered the journalistic field in 1879. In 1882, when only twenty-four years of age he became assistant editor of the Toronto 'News'. Three years later we find him back in his native city as managing editor of the Montreal 'Star'.

It was at this time that Mr. Ross turned his thoughts towards the then small but rapidly progressing capital city of Canada and the following year saw the establishment of the paper which has since acquired such prosperity and influence. Mr. Ross has seen Ottawa grow from a small town to a great and wealthy city occupying an enviable place amongst the big centres of industrial activity and progress in the country. With the growth of the city his newspaper has grown, steadily and uninterruptedly, and today the voice of the Ottawa 'Journal' is heard and respected in the highest councils of the land. Mr. Ross spent a year in the City Council of Ottawa and for a much longer period has held office in the City's Board of Trade. He has also found time to engage in politics and sport and has been president of the Ottawa Conservative Association and the Royal Canadian Golf Club.

Mr. P. D. ROSS, Ottawa.

"Did your husband bring home any fish?"

"No," replied young Mrs. Torkins. "I understand Charley had had luck on this trip. He got into a game of cards and lost the money he took with him to buy fish."

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 197 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY AUGUST 26 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Tear out and send to-day.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

YOUNG BANKER DEAD.

Ford Williamson, of the Dominion Bank Staff, Dies at Huntsville.

Huntsville, Aug. 23.—This morning at 3 o'clock, the death occurred of Mr. Ford Williamson, son of J. A. Williamson, of Lindsay. The young man was manager of the Dominion Bank at Harpeler, before he came here in broken health two months ago with his father-in-law, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, K.C., of Belleville. He was well known in banking circles, and filled positions at Toronto, Strathroy and Stratford. The body is being taken to Belleville to-morrow, where burial takes place.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WAS RESCUED.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—A despatch from Saloniki, Turkey, to-day, states that Dr. Edmund Richter, the German engineer who was captured by Greek bandits and held for a ransom of $225,000, has been rescued on the Greek frontier and is returning to Saloniki.

Dr. Richter was engaged in mapping on Mount Olympus in the wild frontier regions between Turkey and Greece under the auspices of a German geographical society when he fell into the hands of the brigands on May 25. The capture took place inside Turkish territory and his escort of Turkish Grenadiers were killed. Letters from Lalios, the bandit leader, demanding a ransom were delivered by Turkish villagers.

The German Government acted promptly and a small army of Turkish soldiers were sent in pursuit of the bandits. At the same time representatives of the German Government and of the Geographical Society scoured the Mountains, taking with them the gold for the ransom of the Doctor. For weeks the search was without result.

Recently news despatches stated that pursuit had been abandoned as it had been learned definitely that Richter was held in Tirnavos on Greek territory in the house of one Delyannis. The despatches also insisted that Dr. Richter had been captured not by ordinary mountain brigands, but by the "Greek National Society," and that the affair was an incident of the band warfare between irregular detachments of Greeks and Bulgarians.

The ransom, it was assumed, was destined to further the partisan warfare breaking out anew in Macedonia.

Kingsey Falls, Que., Aug. 23.—A nomination of unusual interest took place yesterday afternoon. When the Liberals of Drummond-Arthabasca chose a candidate despite the fact that Mr. A. Gilbert had been a supporter of the Government on all issues since his famous election.

The straight Liberal convention was held yesterday at Kingsey Falls, when Mr. Ovide Brouillard was unanimously chosen to oppose Mr. Gilbert who is again in the field, this time as an Opposition candidate.

McClellan, the Superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal by whose kindness the splendid Government steamer "Bessie Butler," was placed at their disposal. The street railway wharf was reached about eleven o'clock.

Also Objects to Street Poles.

Peterborough is not the only place that has to overcome the street pole nuisance. Kingston also has a forest of telegraph poles disfiguring the streets of the city, as the following from The Standard would indicate: There is a growing feeling of indignation and resentment in the city, that the telegraph and telephone poles on the newly paved street should have been allowed to stand; and the general opinion expressed is that a strong effort should be made to arrive at an agreement with the companies in respect to the streets yet to be paved, so that the wires might all be put underground.

Letter too Personal.

The Times is in receipt of a letter giving "An Englishman's Views on the election in West Peterborough. The article is written and signed by a well known and highly esteemed citizen. Nevertheless, it is of too personal a nature to publish. Charges are made against the Liberal leaders in this riding which might be difficult to prove in case of an action for libel. The Times in all cases, tries to be fair, and cannot, we hope, be accused of lack of courage in proclaiming what it believes to be right, regardless of consequences. However, there are occasions when "discretion is the better part of valor," and when it is better to avoid legal entanglements even at the sacrifice of our better judgment.

THREE CHEERS FOR CRICKET

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 25.—The cricket's once doleful fiddling now is music to the ear of the farmer of the Northwest. M. P. Somes, grasshopper expert for the State Department of Entomology, after a summer-long investigation in the grass-hopper infested districts of Minnesota, and the Red River Valley, declares that the cricket has an insatiable appetite for grass-hopper eggs and is eating them by the millions. The female grasshopper for several weeks now has been depositing her eggs in the ground. The cricket, according to Mr. Somes, has a peculiar aptitude for finding these deposits and a ravenous maw after he once gets his mandible into the egg pod.

The extermination of the grass-hopper, which destroys thousands of acres of grain in the Northwest, seems to rest with the question of providing more crickets.

The discovery is looked upon as an important one by entomologists and by crop experts.

NORTH MONAGHAN MEETING.

Mr. J. H. Burnham Holds Meeting in May's School House.

The meeting held last night in May's School House, North Monaghan, was largely attended, the Reeve, Mr. W. G. Howden, occupying the chair. The meeting was quite demonstrative, the speeches being applauded from time to time.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. delivered a spirited address, dealing mainly with reciprocity from a farmers' standpoint.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, on rising was greeted with applause. He started by remarking that no one listening to Mr. Borden last night could fail to be impressed with the failure of the Laurier Government to grasp the full meaning of what they were doing. Had the government consulted people, experts, farmers, or anybody but the Cabinet, they would have surely been able to learn something to their advantage. It is a mystery that cannot be explained on any reasonable ground and now when Laurier was forced to go to the country he can't explain. The pact is just a mass of inconsistencies and absurdities. How can Canada compete with the U.S. market, when the U.S. has an enormous surplus itself of food products? Some slight show of argument is put up with reference to barley but what is the truth about barley? The Government returns for 1910 and 1911 show that there were actually imported into Peterborough hundreds of thousands of bushels of barley in those years. Was that because Canada is a poorer market for U.S. barley than the U. S.? Take wheat. Taft says in his famous letter that the price of wheat and other cereals is fixed at Liverpool. And we shall lose the by-products as food for cattle, into the bargain! Are you prepared also to place Canada in the fiscal control of the U.S.? And of her great trusts? The only good thing about the pact, and it is frequently urged by the Liberal speakers in defence of it, is that it can be possibly readily terminated It should never have been begun. Canada has outgrown any benefit that reciprocity could ever have had for her. We must keep cultivating our trade with our best customer outside of the home market, viz., Great Britain. But why do not the Liberals tell the whole truth about reciprocity? If it is to benefit the consumer, how is it to be done? Let us hear more about that. Mr. Burnham also read extracts from President Taft's speeches showing how the U.S. were to reap the benefit all along the line and Canada little or nothing. What defence could be made of the Laurier attempt to hand over our pulp wood to the U.S.? It was astounding that such athing could be thought of for one moment. Hon. Mr. Graham, who will be here next Thursday asks "who ever heard of taking the tax off food raising the price of it?" That also is your answer. Who ever heard of a reciprocity pact like that in question raising the price of food products? Do not go past that question and that answer. Mr. Graham smashes the pact to pieces by that one blow. The same reasoning demolishes the wider market story. If the U.S. and Canada, both with a surplus, raise more than at present, the price must go down, must it not? This is not good for the farmer, and would appear to be good for the consumer, but where has the wage-earning consumer disappeared to meanwhile? He has been swamped by American competition and dumping, and will be found most likely tramping the pike in a vain search for work or else going to U.S. where they will have increased the number of their factories to supply the defunct Canadian home market.

Mr. Burnham spoke for nearly an hour, going into the various issues of the campaign, especially in regard to reciprocity, in which the speaker endeavored to show that the pact was a myth.

Mr. Soden made a splendid address dealing with the danger of the loss of the control of Canada's waterways if the reciprocity pact was allowed to carry.

During the course of the evening, Mr. Burnham was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by charming little Winnifred Cooper, daughter of Mr. Frederick Cooper.

Other speakers addressed the meeting, after which the usual cheers were given for the King and Mr. Burnham.

AT THE PARSONAGE.

Tea and Coffee Habit no Longer.

"Wife and I had a serious time of it while we were tea and coffee drinkers. "She had gastritis, headaches, belching and would have periods of sickness, while I secured a daily headache that became chronic.

"We naturally sought relief by drugs without avail, for it is now plain enough that no drug will cure the diseases other drugs (tea and coffee) set up, particularly, so long as the drug which causes the trouble is continued.

"Finally we thought we would try leaving off tea and coffee and using Postum. I noticed that my headaches disappeared like magic and my old 'trembly' nervousness left. One day wife said, 'Do you know my gastritis has gone?'

"One can hardly realize what Postum has done for us.

"Then we began to talk to others. Wife's father and mother were both tea and coffee drinkers and sufferers. Their headaches left entirely a short time after they changed from tea and coffee to Postum.

"I began to enquire among my parishioners and found to my astonishment that numbers of them use Postum in place of tea and coffee. Many of the ministers who have visited our parsonage have become enthusiastic champions of Postum." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.

MR. STRATTON AT FRAZERVILLE.

Large Attendance and Much Interest Manifested.

The meeting held last night in the interests of Hon. J. R. Stratton at Frazerville was large and enthusiastic. The speakers were listened to with marked attention, and frequent bursts of applause. Mr. Stratton was in his usual happy mood, and delivered a stirring address, covering the main issues of the campaign. He dealt with the reciprocity manner in a way that seemed to appeal to his audience, and he endeavored to show that the adoption of the proposed trade agreement between Canada and the United States would be of inestimable advantage to the people of this country, particularly the farming community.

Mr. Stratton was followed by other speakers, who also showed the advantage that reciprocity would be to the farmer.

The meeting brokw up with cheers for the King and the Liberal candidate.

1760 NAMES REGISTERED, BIG RUSH SATURDAY

1760 names were registered during the four days' registration last week. The big rush was on Saturday when both parties worked at break-neck speed to get their men in. The Conservatives claim about 1201 of the names registered, while the Liberals claim about the same number. One side must have been kindly drawing them for the other.

ATWOOD COVERED 12000 MILES IN CROSS-COUNTRY FLIGHT

New York, Aug. 26.—Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, who concluded his record-breaking aeroplane flight from St. Louis to this city yesterday, planned to leave to-day for Boston by train. The birdman has given up his intention of flying to-day from Governor's Island, where he ended his 1265 mile flight.

"My aeroplane was not protected from the rain last night," said Atwood to-day, "and I find that the engine is rain-soaked. Besides, this fog is so thick that it would be a dangerous flight over the harbor, so I have decided to start at once for Boston by train."

Atwood is beginning to feel that he has honors enough and indicated that he may retire from aviation.

A summary of the finish of Atwood's St. Louis to New York flight follows: Distance covered in air line 1265 miles; total distance including detours around New York and other places 165 miles; started from St. Louis at 8.05 a.m., Aug. 14; finished Governor's Island 2.38 p.m., Aug. 25; flying time for entire trip 28 hours 31 minutes; number of flights en route 20; average distance of each flight 63½ miles.

Atwood beat previous world's record by 101 miles, not crediting him with the extra 100 miles which he claims for detours.

CHANGED CONTRACTORS.
Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I understand that a couple of Protestant contractors were employed to do a job for a certain institution, and after starting they were dismissed and the work transferred to a Roman Catholic contractor. While some may regard this action as a private matter in which the public are in no way concerned, it nevertheless should be known if religion is to be the essential element in securing a contract as it too often is in getting a government job.

CURRENT RELATIVE PRICES IN CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.
Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Last spring President Taft transmitted to the Senate a report from the Tariff Board giving amongst much other information on Canadian trade (especially pulp wood, wood pulp and news print paper) the current prices in Canada and the United States of wheat, barley and food products of the farm, including meats, poultry and eggs, dairy products and vegetables. Prices in Canada run as high and in some instances much higher than they do in the United States for dressed poultry, new laid eggs, milk, apples, beans, beets, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, hothouse cucumber, lettuce, parsley and tomatoes, onions parsnips, spinach, squash turnips, etc.

If farmers favor reciprocity because they suppose that higher prices will be obtained for the products of their farms they are supposing something that has no foundation in fact. If anything happens in the way of change in prices the change is likely to be downward instead of upward. The wholesale price of beans at Ogdensburg, N.Y., last January was $2.00 per bushel; in Prescott, Ont., it was $2.50. American potatoes were $1.30 per barrel; Canadian $1.45. In Buffalo, N.Y., apples sold at $5 per barrel wholesale; in Toronto the price was $6.00; onions were 14 cents a bushel higher in Toronto than in Buffalo; white hothouse tomatoes were 15 cents a pound higher and celery 35 cents per dozen higher; in Ogdensburg, hay was selling at $17.00 a ton when in Prescott, Ont., it was $18. Corn was 54 cents on the American side and 60 cents on the Canadian; Oats were 3 cents per bushel higher on this side of the line.

It is very evident from the above figures that our farmers will have nothing to gain but something to lose from reciprocity. But this question of prices is not the issue. Reciprocity is one of those dynamic issues that work political revolution. When it has bitten enough into the public conscientiousness, it will produce a nation wide upheaval. The sentiment for Reciprocity in Canada is feeble even amongst its most ardent advocates when compared with the sentiment in favor of fiscal independence and British connection. When the advocates of reciprocity in this country once get their eyes open to the fact that that is the beginning of the end of our own control of our own affairs, of our allegiance to the British Empire and the breakup of all our traditions and time-honored customs; the price of peas and beans will appear a very small matter indeed to get excited about. The one hope for our age and country lies in a faithful allegiance to the Mother Land whence comes all that is best and most precious in our common life.

HOW TRADE AGREEMENT READS.
Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—For the benefit of the readers of The Times, I would ask you to kindly give the following a place in the columns of your valuable paper. One clause of the proposed agreement reads as follows:

"It is distinctly understood that we do not attempt to bind for the future the action of the United States Congress or the Parliament of Canada. But that each of these authorities shall be absolutely free to make any change of tariff policy or of any other matter covered by the present arrangement that may be deemed expedient. We look for the continuance of the agreement, not because either party is bound to it, but because of our conviction that the more Liberal trade policy thus to be established will be viewed by the people of the United States and Canada as one which will strengthen the friendly relations now happily prevailing and promote the commercial interests of both countries."

This should set at rest the statements of the Conservative press that the reciprocity agreement once entered into, will have to be continued.

AN EXPLOSION KILLS FIFTEEN

New York, Aug. 26.—Cable despatches from Port Limon, Costa Rica, tell of the loss of fifteen lives in the explosion of a powder magazine at San Jose. The dead include two army officers, three soldiers, and ten civilians.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the carelessness of a soldier, who lit a fire with which to melt lead for casting little images of saints which he sold to eke out his scanty pay.

LIGHT FROSTS IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 23.—Light frosts in Saskatchewan and Manitoba Forecast—Decidedly cool, with local rain and danger of frost Sunday. Saskatchewan and Alberta Northerly winds, gradually clearing with danger of frost.

The general weather conditions over the three Northwest Provinces are mostly discouraging, particularly for gree crops, such as we have in Saskatchewan. The forecast does not show material improvement.

Lecount wires from Regina, Sask.: Wheat maturing rapidly. Think there is no danger of frost even to-day, unless rains occur. Many farmers are preparing to cut wheat Monday. The crop is rapidly getting away from frost.

Private message from Canadian Northwest says: Looks like dangerous frosts in Alberta and Saskatchewan to-night. These are expected in a large district, where John Inglis says wheat won't be ripe for ten days yet.

TWENTY-SIX ARE DEAD IN MANCHESTER WRECK

MANY BODIES ARE STILL UNIDENTIFIED—ONE CANADIAN KILLED AND FIVE ARE INJURED.

How the Only Outside Eye-Witness Rescued Many From the Wreck—Disaster Was Caused by Defective Rail.

Manchester, N.Y., Aug. 26.—Twenty-six are dead, half a dozen more lie at death's door and sixty-three others crowd the hospitals from Canandaigua to Rochester to-day according to latest figures, as the result of the wreck of Lehigh Valley train No. 4, eastbound behind two powerful locomotives, on a trestle spanning Canandaigua outlet yesterday.

A 90-pound rail on the 400 foot bridge shattered into 17 pieces and showing defects in manufacture marked, the investigators say, and explains the cause of the disaster.

So far most of the 26 persons who met death among the splintered mass of wreckage, 50 feet below the trestle have been identified. Four of these, three of whom have been identified, are at Rochester. The other 22 with the unknown, lie in the Shortville morgue in rows, in eight pine boxes waiting identification and transportation for burial.

WERE PREPARED.

S. S. Uncle and Mrs. S. S. Uncle, of Smithville, N.J., evidently prepared for a violent death, for on the woman's corset and on the man's necktie were sewn hand-written tags marked: "In case of accident notify operator at Smithville, N.J."

Five bodies remain to be identified. One is a man, one a six-year old boy

COLLAPSE OF GRAND STAND CAUSES SCORE OF INJURIES

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 26.—A score of persons were injured, four seriously, to-day, when sections 84 and 110 of the road race grand stand collapsed.

The accident happened after the last car in the Elgin Cup race, driven by Ralph Mulford, had gotten away a few moments. Among the injured were: Mrs. Ray Graham daughter of Senator William Lorimer, and daughter-in-law of Andrew Graham, recently a candidate for Mayor of Chicago, and Mrs. Charles Coey, Chicago, whose eye was badly bruised and her ankle twisted. Mrs. Graham's leg was broken. This injury and two others of a similar nature, were the only serious ones.

The race was stopped at the end of the first lap and those who were unable to walk were removed to the field hospital in ambulances.

NAVAL MONSTER LAUNCHED

Quincy, Aug. 26.—New standards in naval architecture and construction, particularly in size, are set by the Argentine Republic's new super-dreadnought battleship Rivadavia, which was launched at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., today.

When completed the ship will have a displacement of 25,600 tons, approximately 1500 tons heavier than the greatest projected sea-fighters of the United States, and the Lion, Great Britain's new queen of the sea.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE."
SO HARSH AND DRASTIC ARE MANY PILLS AS TO SERIOUSLY INJURE HEALTH.
In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgasive pills.
"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels, and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. In explaining my situation to a friend, he advised a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exert on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines, freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regaining natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills wereat work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."
For bowel disorder, sick headache, cobstipation, liver and stomach derangements, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

PITTSBURG NINE IN TORONTO

Toronto, Aug. 26.—President McCaffery, of the Toronto Ball Club received a wire from Pittsburg Saturday evening, stating that the Pirates would be here to fill their exhibition date on Thursday. This will be good news for the fans, as it was thought that Pittsburg would be unable to come. Marty O'Toole, the highest-priced pitcher in baseball will come along, and also his battery-mate Kelly, who was with him when he did much phenomenal work for Mike Kelly's St. Paul team of the American Association. Honus Wagner will be another of the big stars to come north. Mooney Gibson, the London (Ont.) boy, whose good work when Pittsburg won the world's series was the talk of all baseballdom, will be here on Thursday. Camnitz, Babe Adams and Fred Clarke are a few of the other Pittsburg stars.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE COMMITS FIVE MURDERS.

U. S. RAILROADS EXPECT PERIODS OF DEPRESSION

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—(Special)—The World learned to-day that Canadian immigration agents in the United States are being besieged by railway men who have been released by the United States railroads.

The United States railways in the work of retrenchment and in preparation for the threatened industrial depression are laying off men in thousands.

These men want to come to Canada where the railways are at present prosperous.

RAILWAY STRIKE WOULD INVOLVE 25,000 EMPLOYES

Chicago, Aug. 26.—A conference has been arranged between Vice-President Jules Kruttschnitt of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways and the president of the trade unions involved in the labor dispute of shopmen employed by the Harriman lines to be held at San Francisco, on Saturday, September 2, at which another effort will be made to avoid the threatened strike of 25,000 railway workers.

J. W. Kline, international president of the Blacksmith's Union, to-day said, "The calling of a strike of the shopmen on the Harriman lines, depends on what is done at the conference to be held at San Francisco. We insist that the federated body of workers be recognized by the railroads."

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

ON THE ROCKS THREE TIMES IN TWO DAYS

The Troubles of a Navigator on a Trip to Buckhorn.

On Wednesday last, a party composed of Mr. A. E. Belcher and Geo. Wilson, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mr. W. Malone of New York City, chartered the gasoline launch of Mr. Albert Nurse, North Monaghan, and started on a cruise of the Kawartha Lakes, intending to go to Orillia and return. They ran along all right until Stoney Lake was reached, when they missed their course and got into upper Stoney Lake, where they ran on the rocks, tearing the shoe off the boat. This necessitated a stop of a few hours for repairs. Returning they had almost reached Buckhorn, without accident, when they again bumped on the rocks, this time injuring the wheel. It required considerable time for repairs.

The party decided that it would not be wise to pursue their journey further in that direction, and decided to return. They were just entering Clear Lake on their way down when once again they met with misfortune, the man at the wheel taking the wrong side of the buoy, and again they were high and dry on the rocks. Here again several hours were consumed in repairing the damage, when another start was made for Peterborough, where the party arrived Friday last.

During the trip they were forced to "dry dock" the boat three times, entailing much labor, help having to be secured on each occasion to pull the craft out of the water.

Mr. Belcher, who called to pay his respects to The Times on Saturday, said that the party had decided to make Rice Lake the scene of their activities on account of the fact that there were so many rocks in that lake. They left in that direction on Saturday, but whether they reached their destination or not we are unable to say. If the party are fortunate enough to escape the few boulders that mark the river bed on their way, they will doubtless reach the lake in process time. Should they be lucky enough to do so, they will remain there a month, and will make a point of confining their manoeuvres to the middle of the lake so as to avoid any possibility of further accident.

GET POWER.
The Supply Comes From Food.
If we get power from food why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of skilfully selected food that exactly fits ave requirements of the body.
Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer.
"From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously, for a long time from stomach troubles," writes a lady from a little town in Missouri.
"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heartburn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed.
"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed.
"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heartburn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 pounds, my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts food did it." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.
A ten days' trial will show anyone some facts about food.
Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PRICE OF FOOD FORCED DOWN.

Increased Cost of Eatables Causes Widespread Agitation in Northern France and Belgium, and the People Hand Out Summary Treatment to Provision Dealers.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The increased cost of food has wildly agitated Northern France and Belgium. High feeling is especially marked in the smaller cities and towns.

Public assemblages around the market places in the French towns of Charleville and Valenciennes, and the Belgian town af Verviers, this morning caused the prices of all eatables to be reduced.

The police at Verviers protected the butter sellers from an exasperated crowd until the price was lowered four cents a pound.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keek quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

TO CANADIAN CATHOLICS.

Papal Encyclical Urges Them to Eradicate Differences of Opinion.

In a Papal encyclical received this week from Rome Pius X. urges the Roman Catholics of Canada to eradicate whatever differences of opinion that still exist among them through diversity of race and language.

He expresses approval of the Plenary Council of Quebec, and directs the clergy to admonish unceasingly all Roman Catholics to show themselves such not only in private but in public also, so that the spirit of their religion may pervade public life as well as the family circle and individual conduct.

The letter emphasizes the duty of all who have the care of souls "to watch with care that the teaching of religion be never wanting in elementary schools," and the Catholic faith should receive still further training in the Catholic High Schools and Colleges, so that they may in later life associate with their non-Catholic fellow citizens without spiritual danger and by reasoning with them be able to dispel from their minds prejudiced opinions.

The Brains of John Bull's Junior Partner

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

There are all sorts of funny readings abroad about the firm of John Bull Unlimited, and especially about the Old Fellow himself. He seldom takes a good look at himself, and until lately he hasn't cared a gramme what other people thought of him.

John Bull has regarded himself as a good-natured soul who is taking care of a few bits of land scattered around the globe in the interests of civilization generally—a sort of political philanthropist. The other fellows in the International field don't regard him in that light. They think he is a grasping old codger who, instead of being satisfied with control of nearly all the strategic strongholds of land and sea power, puts up an awful howl as soon as anybody else looks around for a second-rate coaling station, or a bit of rock from which his traders may saunter into a hitherto undiscovered market.

What these people are most puzzled about is the way this old John Bull keeps the affections of his children, who have become his partners. "Why," they say, "he used to declare that they would soon leave him, and here they are closer than ever to the Old Gentleman with the side whiskers and the peculiar pants."

Just so. The way the British Empire keeps together is a regular Chinese puzzle to all sorts of clever statesmen. They can't make it out at Washington. Sometimes we can't quite make it out ourselves—this loose, strong, splendid partnership that girdles the world and has none of the ordinary forces of Imperial compulsion about it. The Dominion is one of the junior partners.

"Junior Partner" hasn't a very cock-a-whoop sound. It is a bigger name than it looks. Mr. Sifton, in a memorable speech against Reciprocity in the House of Commons put the fact more picturesquely: "The Rising Hope of the British Empire." You know firms with the junior partners become the Pillars of Reliance. The John Bull Unlimited is one of them.

Canada is a miracle within the Empire, as the Empire is a miracle among the nations of the earth. The impossible has been achieved. They used to say that you could not allow an overseas Dominion of the Crown to have responsible government in exactly the same way as the United Kingdom. They said that a Colonial Governor should not be compelled to accept the advice of his Ministers when they had a majority of the popular House. But these things are done and the Imperial bond is closer and warmer than it has ever been.

All this means that the obligation upon Canadian statesmanship is more subtle and tremendous than it has ever been. We have established a Department of External Affairs to handle our peculiar three-cornered relationships, but this Department is not specially charged with the duty of keeping our internal population well informed about the niceties of our external relations.

You cannot expect a farmer in the Saskatchewan valley to be well informed about the possibilities of trouble that may lie within our connection with India, Australia and South Africa. He is the great statesman who, knowing all the intricacies of statecraft, which he cannot publish, can guide the great body of public opinion aright on the big, underlying principles which dominate national action.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship—I mean statesmanship; not the erection of a post-office here, of a bridge there, and the handing out of a job somewhere else—must be directed to making clear the two-fold, fundamental basis of our national progress—the development of Canadian commerce in Canadian channels, and the extending of the right idea of Canadian national prestige, in its relation to international and inter-Imperial affairs.

Here is something to cling to—that the English-speaking peoples are the great potentiality in the modern world. They are broadly divided into the Empire and the Republic. In the re-adjustment of influence that is taking place within the Empire Canada is rapidly advancing towards the first place.

Canada has the advantage of being alongside of the United States. From being neglected by Downing Street and regarded by the United States as a very poor relation to be acknowledged by a cup of cold water and a few kind words, she is regarded with almost jealous anxiety by the United Kingdom and the United States. The remarkable spectacle has been seen of the President of the United States going up and down his country beseeching the people to make a deal with Canada which would secure commercial union with and give to the United States control of the wheat trade between Canada and Europe.

The position of Canada between the United States and Great Britain is the position of the boy in the middle of the see-saw who sends the parties at the end of the plank up and down as he wills.

Canada was growing along splendidly from this point of view. The only transcontinental railway of America was ours as a means of expanding our trade in our own way. The Government undertook a second transcontinental, and is heavily aiding a third.

The brains of Canadian statesmanship were required for the fulfilment of the national policies, which were undertaken with so much care and foresight. We needed time to consolidate our forces and to bring into national sentiment the aliens to our genius. Instead we are invited to reverse our method for one which the shrewd, experienced leaders of the Republic are sure will deflect the lifeblood of commerce into their arteries, and make our future commercially subsidiary to theirs.

They have warned us. It is time we warned ourselves.

THE CARICATURE

Its Influence on the Public Mind

A correspondent makes a timely suggestion as to the influence of caricature in turning boys from the farm. It cannot be questioned that false representations of any class have an effect on the public mind. People accept the distorted personality in order to enjoy the joke. Those who create caricatures and make jokes have consequently a wide influence. If we leave out the important element of mirth they spread abroad in a too serious world they have a bad influence, for they give false views of classes of people and of institutions. The farmer, the Irishman, the Dutchman, the Jew, the mother-in-law, the old maid, the suffragette, the small boy, all have afforded and still afford themes for the caricaturist and the joke-maker. These draw false pictures to excite mirth, and the more clever their work the more lasting are its impressions. The farmer of the melodrama, the cartoon, and the joke column has no real existence. The language of the farmer and of his family is quite as grammatical as that of the average city home. There is no farming type, and just as much individuality and diversity among farmers as among any other class. The virtues, the graces, the accomplishments, and the mental acquirements are quite as prominent among the rural as among the urban population.

The stage Irishman and the stage Dutchman are equally non-existent, but people accept them for the jokes that can be made at their expense. They are raw material for the joke-writer and cartoonist. When a joke with the semblance of novelty comes forth it is distorted by many professionals and applied to each and every class with which the humorist takes liberties. The Jew is now a favorite peg on which jokes are hung, and he is quite as false a picture as any of the other creations. The character attributed to him is entirely misleading. While most Jews have keen commercial faculties, they are also freely charitable, generous, and devoted to sane enjoyment of all the healthy pleasures of life. The mother-in-law, the old maid, and the suffragette of the humorists have no existence. They are purely imaginary creations accepted for the amusement they afford. The childish joy inspired by Punch and Judy on their mimic stage must be supplied in later life by creations quite as unreal, but clothed with a deceptive semblance of actual life.

TRAINING THE CHILD

"Let The Punishment Fit the Crime"

I have had a large and varied experience in dealing with children, both as a teacher and as a mother. Two rules which I have followed closely have been of inestimable value to me. The first, some advice given to me by an old gentleman who had been a teacher in the early part of the nineteenth century, was this: "Be very careful what command you give, but be sure if you give one that your words are always obeyed. Be gentle but firm."

Secondly, this motto has always been my guide: "Let the punishment fit the crime." A punishment a child realises that he deserves and feels as a direct consequence of his actions is always more effectual than one he feels is an injustice to him. Vice versa, the same system should be carried out in regard to rewards for good conduct. If he is angry let him stay by himself until he is in a proper state of mind to associate with other people. If his behaviour away from home has not been satisfactory, debar him from going anywhere "until he is sure that he can be a little gentleman of whom his mother may be proud." On the other hand, if his manners are pleasing allow him some special privilege, "because you were so proud of him the last time he accompanied you," etc.

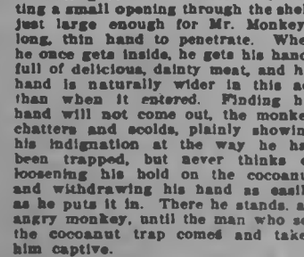
A child thus dealt with comes to appreciate the fairness of those who control him and realises that he himself is responsible for the privileges granted or denied him.

Catching Monkeys

In the Phillippine Islands, the natives catch monkeys in a curious way. The monkeys are fond of the meat of cocoanuts, which grow as plentifully there as apples do in our country. They are lazy, though, about gnawing through the outer bark, and will only do so when exceedingly hungry. The natives take advantage of their greed and indolence by cutting a small opening through the shell, just large enough for Mr. Monkey's long, thin hand to penetrate. When he once gets inside, he gets his hands full of delicious, dainty meat, and his hand is naturally wider in this act than when it entered. Finding his hand will not come out, the monkey chatters and scolds, plainly showing his indignation at the way he has been trapped, but never thinks of loosening his hold on the cocoanut and withdrawing his hand as easily as he puts it in. There he stands, an angry monkey, until the man who set the cocoanut trap comes and takes him captive.

Satisfaction

Once while stopping at a country inn, Stephen Incledon, an eminent English tenor of other days, quarreled during the evening with an army officer. He imagined he had closed the controversy by going off to bed, but the officer, left downstairs to brood over his wrongs, thought otherwise. Making his way to Incledon's bedroom, he found the singer fast asleep. Waking him, the officer demanded satisfaction. "Satisfaction?" murmured Incledon, sleepily. "Well, you shall have it." Whereupon he sat up in bed and sang "Black-Eyed Susan" in his best style. "There," he said, lying down again, "my singing of that song has given satisfaction to thousands, and it will have to satisfy you!" And he turned over and went to sleep.



"SHE BURNS GREEN".

How the Phrase Came to Be a Classic Yell Among Prospectors.

Although the prospector is generally supposed to be associated with the search for precious metal his attention is by no means confined to that. A writer in the Los Angeles "Times" tells of a group of valuable claims in the Silver Mountain mining district, which includes the whole of Black Mountain.

It was long considered worthless until an up-to-date prospector recognized it as 'cement rock', the principal ingredient from which Portland cement is made.

Another example is furnished by the discovery of borax in Death Valley, one of the most valuable strikes ever made in California. The discoverer, Aaron Winters, was at that time living in a lonely little shack on the Amargosa flats at the south end of the valley.

Thither, attracted by the light, came one night a vagrant prospector from Nevada. He had with him a sample of borax brought from a small deposit across the border. This Winters instantly recognized as being the same curious stuff which he had seen lying in great beds in Death Valley, but of which he had never known the name.

Adroitly questioned the wanderer explained to Winters the simple but little known test for borax. No sooner was their visitor safely gone than Winters and his wife, carrying food and water, a pick, a saucer and a bottle of alcohol, set out on foot northward into the valley. At night fall the next day they arrived at the "first of the strange beds.

Without even waiting to moisten his parched throat Winters fell upon it with pick and bare hands till a little of the surface crust was removed. He scraped up a handful of the loose stuff, piled it in the saucer, moistened it with alcohol and struck a match. An instant later he hurled his hat in one direction, his pick in another, and seizing his wife, waltzed that astonished lady round the strange, flickering flame, whooping: 'She burns green, Rosie! She burns green!'

Winters realised a fortune from his discovery. Even to-day the man of the valley, lighting upon something new heralds his find with the classic yell, 'She burns green!'

Long Speeches.

M. Jaures is not at all pleased with the proposal before the French Chamber to limit the duration of speeches to ten minutes. All that really need be said on most matters could, if the speaker clearly grasped his subject, be spoken in ten minutes, but probably the Socialist leader is jealous of the latitude recently allowed the Austrian Deputy Kotlorsch, who spoke for three hours. But his record is beaten by an instance in England, when an opponent of O'Connell obstructed one of his bills by speaking for eight hours. Senator Summer at the time of the American war of secession, delivered an oration lasting eleven hours. At the Assembly at Bordeaux in 1871 the Mayor of Strasburg brought about his death from the exhaustion followed upon his speech.

THE LATE KING OF SIAM

The late King of Siam, whose full title was Somdet-Phra-Paramindmaha Chula - Longkorn-Chula - Chom-Klao, was one of the eighty-four sons of Maha-Morgkut. He had completed the fifty-eighth year of his life and the forty-third of his reign, the longest in the history of the nation. He was considered one of the broadest minded and most cultivated rulers of the far East. Under the tuition of an English governess in the royal household he learned to speak English and French perfectly. He instituted numerous reforms in his Government, abolished slavery, lowered the taxes, opened up canals for irrigation and transportation, instituted a superb system of highways for the development of commerce, built telegraphs and hospitals, guaranteed religious liberty, reorganised the army and built a navy of twenty vessels. Though Siam is an autocracy, the king was democratic in his spirit and gathered about him a Cabinet Council of six royal princes and thirteen ministers of state.

If I Should Die To-night.

(Revised Version.)

If I should die to-night
And should you come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die to-night
And you should come in deepest grief and woe
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe"—
I might arise in my large white cravat
And say, "What's that?"
If I should die to-night
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,
Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel—
I say, if I should die to-night,
And you should come to me and there and then
Just even hint 'bout payin' me that ten
I might arise the while;
But I'd drop dead again.

Free Fare, Little Salary.

In some foreign countries a liberal allowance in the way of travelling expenses makes a meagre salary a respectable one. In Italy, for instance, the journalist, with barely one or two exceptions, works for a salary which we pampered ones in Canada would laugh at. But he has his compensations. He—and not only himself, but his wife and family, too—travels free on all the railways, whether the journey is on business or not. If he wishes to go to the theatre, and to take his friends, he has only to ask, and the requisite box or stalls are at his disposal—and that, however humble his professional rank may be. On the whole, the Canadian journalist prefers not to be paid in this kind.

MIGRATION OF BIRDS

One of the Great Marvels of Nature

One of the greatest marvels in connection with the changing seasons is found in the migration of birds which spend the winter season in South America and the nesting season in the Arctic circle. Different species of birds follow different routes of travel. The golden plover, which nests along the Arctic coast of North America, begins its trip southward by a short run to the Labrador coast. There it fattens for several weeks on abundant native fruits and then flies across the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Nova Scotia. From this point the plover usually takes a straight course of 2,400 miles, without pause or rest, along the east side of the Atlantic ocean to South America. If tempests arise the birds may take temporary shelter on the New England coast, or may rest for a few days in the Bermudas, or at the lesser Antilles, 600 miles from the mainland of South America. These are, however, merely emergency stopovers to be resorted to only in the case of storms. The plover, after wintering in Argentine finds its way back to the Arctic by an entirely different route. On its return journey it travels across the northwest of South America and the Gulf of Mexico to the coast of Louisiana. Thence it moves up the Mississippi Valley and by early June is again in the nesting place on the Arctic coast. Most of the other feathered migrants in their journeys north and south take a land route all the way save across the comparatively narrow Gulf of Mexico. Thousands of birds perish from the storms during the journey, while others kill themselves by dashing against lighthouses. A red light or a rapidly flashing one will repel the birds, but a steady white light, piercing storm and fog, proves irresistible. From whatever direction birds approach such a light they turn to windward, and then, flying against the wind, seek the object of their infatuation. The larger part do not strike with sufficient force to injure themselves, but, like great moths, they flutter in and out of the light's rays, and finally settle on the platform or framework to await the abatement of the storm or the coming of sufficient daylight to enable them once more to take their direction.

INVENTS "FIRST AID" TO HOBBLE SKIRTS.

Alexander Jameson Calhoun, of Bloomfield, N.J., has invented a device which he says will assist women wearing hobble skirts in getting aboard trains. The device, which is worked by hydraulic pressure, consists of an iron jack to which is attached a cushioned chair worked by two levers. The "lift" is placed in front of the platform of the car. When the woman is seated in the chair the operator presses a handle which lifts the chair up in line with the platform of the car. He then works a lever which extends the chair straight out and lands the passengers on the platform of the car. It is said persons are lifted to the platform quicker than they can climb the steps.

Bloomfield women who have tried the "lift" say they hope it will be placed in all stations. At most country stations the platforms are very low, which makes the first step of the car about eighteen inches from the ground.

Oiled Paper Umbrellas of the Japanese.

The umbrellas used by the Japanese are similar in all respects to the paper parasols that are common in this country, except that the Japanese treat their material with a vegetable oil which renders it impervious to moisture. The oil is obtained from the seeds of a plant (Perilla ocimoides) cultivated in some parts of Japan. A bushel of the seed produces about a gallon of oil, and the crop amounts to $350,000 bu. annually. The oil is boiled and, when cool, is applied to the paper umbrellas with a piece of cloth or waste. The umbrellas are then exposed to the sun for five hours.

The oil-paper is also used in making lanterns and for window panes. The paper lantern is in common use in Japan for lights on trains and wagons, and as a hand lantern like the tin lanterns here. Oiled paper is used instead of window glass in practically all of the native houses throughout the empire.

TO THE ELECTORS

—OF—

EAST PETERBOROUGH

FELLOW ELECTORS:

At the Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party of East Peterborough, held in the village of Norwood on July 27th, 1911, my friends, unsolicited, again conferred on me the honor of again selecting me as a candidate for the House of Commons.

During the past three years you have had opportunities of judging of my fitness and worthiness for the position.

The arduous duties of a member of Parliament I have honestly and faithfully, and to the utmost of my ability, endeavored to fulfil.

Both in the House and out of the House I have been unceasing in my efforts to promote the best interests of that Riding which I had the honor to represent.

Many questions of vital importance have come before the House during the last Parliament, some of which have been of particular interest to the agricultural classes of the country.

Being a practical farmer myself and representing a riding mostly rural, I have studied and watched closely any legislation affecting agriculturists, believing as I do that anything that is of benefit to the farmers and labouring classes will work out to the great advancement of the country at large.

On the great subject now agitating the minds of the people over the whole Dominion, viz., that of reciprocal trade with the United States, you are acquainted with my views.

After months of laborious study on the subject—After a trip to the United States in order to satisfy myself as to farming conditions in that country, I here repeat that neither statistics nor actual conditions warrant me in thinking that the Canadian farmer will gain anything by such a pact.

On this subject I hope to have an opportunity of addressing you at a public meeting.

I now appeal to all my friends, and all those who desire honest administration of public affairs, and who are in sympathy with the Liberal-Conservative platform, to rally to my support and promote an active campaign in my behalf and thus for better government.

Thanking you for past support, I am,

Your Obedient Servant,

JOHN A. SEXSMITH.

ROYAL PORCUPINE

Quoted at 32 to 33 Cents

The stock of the Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co., we believe, will prove to be one of the greatest money makers in the wonderful Porcupine district.

Every day brings forth further evidence that the Porcupine Camp is destined to become the richest gold region in the world, and Royal Porcupine should soon take its place at the head of the great producing mines in this section.

Porcupine has the indorsement of the world's greatest authorities in gold mining, who concur in the opinion that never before have such rich showings been seen covering so great an area.

The Property

is located in the township of Tisdale and consists of eight full claims, embracing 320 acres. It is particularly well located, being only one-quarter mile south of the Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., and one-half mile south of the Hollinger mine, for which it is claimed there is $10,000,000 in sight. Engineers report that the Royal Porcupine property is in the famous ore zone, being on the same ledge as Hollinger and having the same formation.

A telegram from the engineer in charge of the property bears out this statement. It is as follows :—

"Porcupine, Ont., June 19, 1911.

"Vein uncovered twelve feet in width. Excellent ore body. Shaft being sunk on this vein. Property in every way most favorable.

(Signed) "JULIUS MESSER, M. E.,
"Engineer in charge of property."

Thirty men are now employed, and work on the shaft will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Four veins, varying from 12 to 100 feet in width, have already been uncovered. Assays have been made which show $50 a ton.

Royal Porcupine Gold Mines Co.

is capitalized for $3,000,000 ; par value of shares $1.00. Full paid and non-assessable. No personal liability.

A glance at the list of directors will show the class of men who are putting in their money and time to make this one of the greatest mines in the Porcupine Camp. The directors are :—

JAMES KENDRY,
Peterboro, Ontario ; ex-Member of Parliament, President Auburn Woollen Mills.

T. E. BRADBURN,
Member Parliament, Peterboro, Ontario ; Private Banker.

ARCHIBALD L. ALLAN,
New York, Hiram Walker & Sons.

JACOB RAPOPORT,

Remember, that our judgment on Hollinger, Dome Extension and Vipond was correct, and we believe the Royal Porcupine will prove one of our best investments.

The Hollinger stock was originally offered at $3.50 and now sells at round $15.50, and Dome Extension was first offered at 40c., and now sells at around 84c.

Royal Porcupine stock may be purchased through any member of the New York Curb Association, or we will be glad to execute your orders.

Washington, Aug. 25.—From September 1 to 4, hoboes will gather here in two halls, for a "convention of the unemployed," according to plans perfected to-day by J. Eade Howe, St. Louis millionaire tramp. The meetings will close with a public gathering on Labor Day. To-day Howe tried to get the railroad companies to place flat cars at the disposal of the sons of rest. Among those who will address the convention according to Howe, is vice-president Sherman.

HOW 'LLOYDS' BEGAN

Founder of Enterprise Was Coffee House Keeper Whose Shop Vessel Owners Frequented.

Primarily 'Lloyds' is a corporation employed in marine insurance and having a world wide agency for the collection of marine intelligence. Incidentally other insurance is taken. 'Lloyds' had its origin in the enterprise of Edward Lloyd, a London coffee house keeper, whose place, opened in 1688, became a resort for ship owners and ship captains. So much was learned of marine matters and so general became the interest in this information, that in 1692 an office was opened in Lombard st., and shortly afterwards 'Lloyd's News', a paper issue three times a week and devoted to shipping news, made its appearance.

Adverse criticism of the paper by the British government, coupled with a demand for an apology for an item of news which appeared in the paper, decided Mr. Lloyd to discontinue the publication. The insurance feature of 'Lloyd' originated from a method of mutually insuring of 'underwriting' each other's shipping risks by the owners frequenting Lloyd's establishment. Their method of doing this was to subscribe or 'underwrite' their names to a document which stated the amounts that each was willing to give in the event of disaster to the risk.

The present system of 'Lloyds' does not differ in any essential particular from the method employed at the beginning, but it is much better organized and the business has been vastly increased in volume. Its radius of operation now practically covers the whole world.

PUCCINI ON "LA TOSCA"

Signor Puccini, the composer, refers his strangest musical reminiscence to Milan. Unknown as he supposed himself to be, he attended in that city a production of his own opera, "La Tosca."

"'La Tosca' was received warmly by a crowded house. The applause was almost frantic. In fact, a young lady seated on my left got so annoyed because I didn't clap and shout that she rebuked me, a frown wrinkling her pretty brow.

"'Masterpiece?' said I, and I laughed sarcastically. 'Masterpiece? O, dear!'

"'Don't you like the music' she demanded, in amazement.

"'No,' said I. 'It's the work of an amateur.'

"'You know nothing of art,' she cried, 'or you wouldn't talk like that!'

"'Oh, don't I?' said I. And then I proceeded to prove to her, according to the laws of thorough-bass and counterpoint, how poor a work 'La Tosca' was. I told her this aria suggested Verdi, that chorus was a reminiscence of Bizet. In a word, I knocked my own music into a cocked hat.

"When I had finished the young lady said:

"'Is that your real opinion — your sincere conviction?'

"'Absolutely,' said I.

"'Very well,' she said, with an odd little laugh; and at breakfast the next morning the first thing I saw in my newspaper was the headline, 'Puccini on Tosca."' And there I read, word for word, my remarks of the night before. The young lady, a musical critic, had recognised me. When I thought I was gulling her, she was gulling me."

The Mutton and the Fan.

It is the custom in Paris for the cook to do all the marketing. This adds considerably to the cook's income; for every dealer allows her five centimes — one cent — on every franc — or twenty cents — she spends. So French cooks insist on their marketing prerogative, and the mistress who denies it to them is deemed a very mean, small, niggardly sort of a person. A person of this sort, an elderly woman, was in the habit of doing her own marketing in a long duster. The duster hid her purchases. It prevented her, while usurping her cook's rights, from being detected in the act. As the woman, one hot morning, was walking homeward in her duster from the Marche St. Honore, she stumbled in the Rue Hyacinthe, and a leg of mutton fell and rolled across the sidewalk. A passing stranger picked up the leg of mutton and returned it with a bow and smile. "Permit me, madam — your fan," he said.

IT WAS A SURPRISE

"We have the surprise beautifully planned," said young Mrs. Westerleigh to the guests, "and Frank doesn't suspect a thing. I think he has even forgotten that to-day's his birthday. He will get home from the office at about seven o'clock. Then he always goes upstairs to take off his coat and put on his smoking jacket for the evening. When he is upstairs I will call out suddenly, 'Oh, Frank, come downstairs — be quick! The gas is escaping.' Then he will rush down here and find the crowd of friends waiting for him."

It went exactly as planned. Westerleigh came home at the regular hour and went directly upstairs. The hidden guests held their breath while Mrs. Westerleigh called out excitedly, "Oh, Frank, come down quick. The gas is escaping in the parlor."

Every light had been turned out, and the parlor was in perfect darkness. There was a rapid rush of feet down the stairway, then a voice said, "I don't smell any gas."

"Better light the jet," Mrs. Westerleigh suggested tremulously. "Here's a match."

The match was struck, and suddenly the room was flooded with light. Everybody screamed. The hostess fainted. For there in the center of the room stood Westerleigh, attired only in a natty union suit, with a fresh pair of trousers carried over his arm.

THE NAME OF AMERICA

United after Amerigo Vespucci an Italian Sailing Under Flag of Spain.

In the interesting town of St. Die, in French Lorraine, there was recently held a celebration of special interest to people of this side of the world, and in a lesser degree to Spain and Italy. It was in honor of the four hundredth anniversary of the publication there of the geographical work by Martin Waldsemuller, in which America was suggested as the name of the New World.

There have been many theories and much controversy as to the origin of the name America, and not a few have resented the slight which was put upon Columbus in this connection. Some have denounced Amerigo Vespucci — who, like Columbus, was an Italian sailing under the flag of Spain — for "stealing" the glory due the real discoverer.

But the chief wrong, if any was done, was committed by the German geographer in the book which was published in 1507, and on the map which he published a year or so later. On that map the name America was applied, however, only to the southern part of the New World. The northern part was called Parias.

It is possible, perhaps probable, that the mainland of America; and it was Vespucci who grasped the important fact that a new continent had been found, and not simply a part of Asia. Of that fact Columbus died in ignorance.

But rightly or wrongly, the name of Amerigo Vespucci, trader, traveller and writer, was given to the New World, and given to remain forever. And now a lofty tower rises among the hills of Lorraine to commemorate the suggestion which resulted in the designation.

A Great Man

We cannot look, however imperfectly, upon a great man, without gaining something by him He is the living life-fountain, which it is good and pleasant to be near; the light which enlightens, which has enlightened, the darkness of the world; and this not as a kindling lamp only, but rather as a natural luminary as I say, of native original insight, of manhood and heroic nobleness, in whose radiance all souls feel that it is well with them.

Successful Soldier of Fortune.

Gen. "Kaid" Belton, the young English soldier who led 67,000 troops to a victory which placed Mulai Hafid on the throne of Morocco, is visiting this country He won his commission at the age of twenty-one for gallantry on the field during the Boer war, attributing his success in that particular engagement to "your Yankee rapid-fire guns." He was the youngest captain in the army at twenty-three. In 1903 he went to Morocco and cast his fortune with Mulai Hafid, the pretender to the throne, who was finally successful.

Kissed 286 Babies and Coaxed $27,500

After kissing 286 babies, ranging in age from six months to four years, and consecrating them to the "cause of Zion," Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor to John Alexander Dowie, stood by a barrel in Shiloh Tabernacle lately and watched his disciples toss $27,500 into it a "sacrifice offering."

Voliva kissed all of the infants and consecrated them in exactly 45 minutes. Sunday was the annual consecration at Zion, and in the line of men and women that contributed to the "sacrifice fund", were 2312 persons.

SON OF GOVERNOR TOILS

Work in the harvest field at $2 a day was started lately by Edward Hay, son of Governor Hay, who, aside from his official position, is reputed to be in the millionaire class.

It was the intention of the Governor to keep his son, who is eighteen years old, at Olympia this summer, but young Hay found it "too slow" at the State capital, he says, and left for the East Side After spending Wednesday with his uncle E T. Hay, in Spokane, he left at night for the Big Bend, with the announced intention of hiring out as a harvest hand for the summer.

Edward Hay graduated from Saatlunk Military Academy at Faribault, Minn., last month, at the head of his class.

The Fountain at the Corner.

Beranger is best known for his bacchanalian songs. One night he was at supper with Dumas, the elder. The younger Dumas, who was present, was passing through his college course and at that period was exhibiting those characteristics which unfortunately developed in later life. Noticing that Beranger had drunk only water, he somewhat indiscreetly asked, 'Where do you obtain, M. Beranger, all the wine which we find in your songs?"

The poet's reply was, "From the fountain at the corner, my boy, and you would do well to make that the source of your inspiration."

The Real Thing in Spice.

John Lane, the well-known publisher, said at a literary dinner in New York: "As an editor I find nobody so persistent as the amateur contributor. If the amateur were half as ingenious in writing his material as in trying to land it he would become a Dickens in no time. An amateur said the other day to an editor I know: 'Allow me to submit this bear story.' 'My readers don't care for bear stories,' said the editor. 'They want something spicy.' 'But this,' said the amateur, "is a story about a cinnamon bear."

If I Were Farming Again

By ARTHUR HAWKES.

A rather inconsequent slogan was concocted in a Montreal newspaper office the other day and telegraphed all over the country as the battle-cry of the Liberal party in this election. It is "Let the farmer have his turn."

When clever politicians conspire to make a slogan they generally make a mistake. The cleverer the politicians the bigger the mistake.

The slogan doesn't really hit off the situation, except from the point of view of those who, like Sir Wilfrid, have decided that they want Free Trade as it is in England. Sir Wilfrid's speeches in the West last year frequently contained this doctrine. If you are for unconditional free trade it is no use trying to make out you are for the National Policy. So you mustn't talk about letting the farmer have his turn—as if he were not capable of taking care of himself. To have free trade as it is in England means that wages would have to come to the English level, and the power of wages to buy grain produce would be correspondingly weakened.

Half the controversy that troubles the world arises not because people give different answers to the same question, but because they ask different questions, and they approach public affairs from different points of view. In this Reciprocity business one man sees only a few schedules. Another discerns a change in the temper of the national life.

Many people tell us that the farmer thinks of nothing but price. I believe they are mistaken. Important as the price is. I am very chary of talking to farmers about their relationship to a commercial-political question, because, having left the farm, I leave lecturing to farmers to those who know nothing about farming except what they see in the papers and observe from train or automobile. The best I can do is to size up the situation as I believe I would if I were farming again, remembering the long days of toil, the short nights of rest, the aching limbs and hardened hands, that used to belong to one's daily rustle with the earth.

The farmer who takes wide interest in public questions is the man above all others who should be able to grasp the great forces that originate and govern political action, because he is detached from many petty things that afflict city people, and because his closeness to nature helps him to discern the processes of national change and growth which are always behind political action. In politics—not the fussy little manoeuvreings between rivals for office that we sometimes dignify by the name—it is dead true that whatsoever a country sows that will it also reap.

Another consideration that would influence me, I think, as a farmer having to decide my attitude towards a vital national question would be the knowledge that most likely some, if not most, of my children would leave the farm, and that I should be ambitious for them to achieve the best possible result in other walks of life, and I should remember that nearly all the best services of the nation have been performed by rubes who were raised on the farm.

I would have a peculiar interest in the development and dignity of my province and of my country, from a patriotic point of view. I should know that in the building up of Canada the climactic factor has played a vital part. Just as the far north of Canada is the backyard of the southern portions of the Dominion, so, unless there has been something to check the flow of trade south across the boundary line, instead of there being big cities in Canada manufacturing for the farmers, and buying his produce at good prices, our industrial centres, without which no country can be really prosperous, would have been in the United States.

I should inquire how the United States had become such a great manufacturing country, and should read carefully what Mr. James Wilson, the Scotsman who is Secretary of the Agriculture of the United States, has said:—

The American farmer brought about the building of the American factory because he wanted a home market. The home market is the best to be found anywhere, because our people live well and are all able to buy the best farm produce, that is, all who are willing to work. It may be said, without much exaggeration, that the American farmer is responsible for the upbuilding of the factory. He has voted steadily for half a century to give protection to the extent of the difference in cost of production between this country and any country that desires to sell in our markets. Was that right or wrong? Was it wise for the farmers to do that? There was no market at home. They wanted a market as near the factory as they could bring it.

Having read that I would dig into the Dominion Government reports, which show that in 1909 prices received by the farmer had risen over those of the ten years before 1899, like this:—

Grain and fodder, including thirteen selected standard commodities, 49.9 per cent. Cattle and cattle products, hogs and hog products, sheep and sheep products, fowl and turkeys, 46.6 per cent. Dairy products, 33 per cent.

And that the price of goods the farmer has to buy have not risen to an equal extent, as this list shows:—

Woollen goods, 28.3 per cent.; cotton goods, 25 per cent.; boots and shoes, 25 per cent.; metals and implements, 2.4 per cent.; imported goods—decrease, 4 per cent.

The staple lines, which represent over 90 per cent. of the farmer's expenditure, have only increased 14.3 per cent., while the goods he sells have increased 35.7 per cent.

COPENHAGEN'S FRESH FISH

Brought to One's Door Swimming About in Tanks of Water.

When a person buys fresh fish in Copenhagen he really gets it. More than that he gets uncontaminated fish. The sewers used to empty into the sea at the nearest convenient points. Now the sewage is collected into a main trunk line and carried two kilometers out to sea before it is released.

Thus there is longer any contamination of the harbor or the sea front. They not only puts an end to the nuisances that used to arise, says the 'Lancet, but enables boats full of live fish to come close to shore and right into the town by means of the salt water canals.

In the manner at least the smaller fish are kept alive until the moment they are sold. Any number of wooden boats are pierced with holes and filled with fish; these boats just float on the surface of the water, and the living fish is taken out of them when wanted.

But as every one cannot go to the water's edge to buy fish there are water tanks on wheels and the live fish are brought to the doors of the people's houses. The principal fish market was built by the municipality and is let to a wholesale fish salesman.

It is delight to see how clean and bright these premises are kept. There is no spreading the fish on slabs so that dust and dirt may settle on them. Very pretty tessallated tanks are filled with running water, and here the smaller fish swim about. The larger fish such as cod or halibut, are too cumbersome to keep alive, and are therefore placed in the cold storage rooms.

Not only are the fish fresh, but they are generally very well, sometimes even artistically cooked. At Copenhagen the domestic servants' trade unionists instituted a school where members of the union are taught how to be clean and neat, how to sew, to wash and starch, and above all how to cook. A little restaurant is attached to this school where any one can have a cheap meal, thus giving the pupils an opportunity of exercising their art.

The trade union, while insisting that a good servant shall earn from 25 to 30 kromer (a kromer equals 1s. 2d.) a month and pay half a kromer subscription to the union, does at the same time endeavor to render her fully competent to accomplish her work. Also by providing sleeping accommodation it helps to prevent servant girls falling into bad company or suffering undue hardships when out of employment.

In the same way there is an old frigate moored in a canal close to the most fashionable centre of the town. Here there is a school for ships' cooks. On board a ship with the limited space such as prevails at sea young folks try their 'prentice hands at making dishes such as are served to passengers on sea voyages. There is an awningon the deck, tables are laid out, and numerous inhabitants of Copenhagen take their meals there; for they are both varied and inexpensive. Thus fully qualified cooks are being prepared for the sea.

Multiplying on the Fingers

We shall never be in danger of forgetting that our ancestors did their sums on their fingers so long as arithmetic retains the word 'digits.' But modern civilization knows nothing of the elaborate development of this method. It takes a Wallachian peasant to multiply 8 by 9 on his hands. This is how he does it. The fingers of either hand, beginning with the thumb, stand for the numbers from 6 to 10. So the ring finger of the one hand and the middle finger of the other are struck out to represent 8 and 9. Counting the fingers remaining on the side furthest from the thumbs he finds them 1 and 2 respectively, and 1 multiplied by 2 gives him the units of his product—2. Then he counts from the thumbs to the struck out fingers inclusive, finds them 3 and 4, adds these and gets 7 for his tens. Answer—72. All this to avoid knowing the multiplication table beyond four times four! Try it as a game.

PREVENTION OF FOREST FIRES

That it is only by observance of the utmost care that forest fire outbreaks can now be avoided in certain dangerous districts, is pointed out by Commissioner W. C. Gladwin, of British Columbia:

"In some districts," says the Commissioner, "the conditions existing at present are such that, should a fire originate, it will only be with the greatest difficulty that great loss will be prevented. The department, of course, has a considerable force of rangers out patrolling the various districts night and day, but one careless individual may cause all their efforts to count for naught and start a fire occasioning heavy loss in lives and property."

"This fact cannot be too frequently impressed upon the public mind, particularly in the dry season of midsummer," he adds.

The Marberless

Ah! there be souls none understand;
Like clouds, they cannot touch the land,
Drive as they may, by field or town;
Then we look wise at this and frown.
And we cry, "Fool!" and cry, "Take hold
Of earth and fashion gods of gold!"

Unanchored ships, they blow and blow
Sail to and fro, and then go down
In unknown seas that none shall know,
Without one ripple of renown.
Poor, drifting dreamers sailing by.
They seem to only live to die.

Call these not fools! the test of worth
Is not the hold you have on earth.
Lo! there be gentlest souls sea-blown
Now it may be the reason is
They touch on fairer shores than this.

The Best Medium for Reaching Investors in Eastern Ontario

VOL XXXIV NO 198 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY AUGUST 28 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18.000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WAS RESCUED.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—A despatch from Saloniki, Turkey, to-day, states that Dr. Edmund Richter, the German engineer who was captured by Greek bandits and held for a ransom of $225,000, has been rescued on the Greek frontier and is returning to Saloniki.

Dr. Richter was engaged in mapping on Mount Olympus in the wild frontier regions between Turkey and Greece under the auspices of a German geographical society when he fell into the hands of the brigands on May 25. The capture took place inside Turkish territory and his escort of Turkish Grenadiers were killed. Letters from Lalios, the bandit leader, demanding a ransom were delivered by Turkish villagers.

The German Government acted promptly and a small army of Turkish soldiers were sent in pursuit of the bandits. At the same time representatives of the German Government and of the Geographical Society scoured the Mountains, taking with them the gold for the ransom of the Doctor. For weeks the search was without result.
